HURRAH !

The people of Canada received with cheers, outspoken or suppressed, the announcement that the income tax still to be paid on the 1943 tax, will not become due until August 31st. This was news of a high order. Millions who had been disturbed when they discovered that they had to pay more than they had calculated to make a complete return, and wondered where the money was coming from, are now jubilant because of the four months' respite.

This was a strategic move. We can very well imagine that had the hard-pressed wage earner struggled to meet his full and final 1943 obligation on his 1943 tax bill, he would have found it difficult to support the forthcoming war loan as generously as he would have liked to do.

Now with the holiday from taxes, and the immediate pressure from the Income Department lifted, the public will be in a better frame of mind to meet the new appeal, and financially much better able to support it.

We do not want to be called a kill-joy and yet it is well to remind our readers that it would be better not to put off wrestling with the income tax forms until the holidays come in August. We cannot think of anything more designed to spoil a vacation, than that.

TOWN LOSES PROMINENT CITIZENS

Last week saw the death of a number of citizens, all within a comparatively few days. Two of these had played an important part in public affairs.

Mr. Alpine Woods will be remembered by his fellow-citizens because of his long and valued service to the School Board and the Children's Aid Society. For over twenty-five years Mr Woods served these two institutions. As a member of the School Board and then for long its chairman, Mr. Woods made a keen and intensive study of education in Ontario and of the School Law. He became a recognized figure in the administrative circles of educationalists. He was not a voluminous contributor to debates on all subjects, but he knew his education and educational law, and when he spoke on these matters he did so with authority and conviction. He was invariably listened to, and his judgment was respected. Though relieved of active responsibility in more recent years, yet Mr. Woods never lost his interest in the schools and in the changes and developments in the methods of education.

As President of the Children's Aid Society, Mr. Woods showed another side of his nature and gave evidence of his public interest. He was deeply concerned with the welfare of underprivileged children and gave endless time to guiding the affairs of the society. In both these areas, Mr. Woods revealed a kindly and generous interest in youth. He will long be remembered among his many other contributions to the town life for these two particular forms of public service.

It was strange that Mrs Hooper, for nearly forty years secretary of the Children's Aid Society, of which Mr. Woods was a former president, should have passed away within so short a time of Mr. Woods' passing. Mrs. Hooper, though handicapped by ill-health for some time, continued to give her services faithfully and diligently to the Children's Aid. She had an intimate acquaintance with the subject and knew the situation in the town and county, accurately. She had used her knowledge to good effect.

Mrs. Hooper was a devoted church worker. For twenty years as President of the W. M. S. of Grace United Church, she was brought into close contact with the Leaders of the Church, where she was well known and highly esteemed. Mrs. Hooper never lost her interest in the great missionary enterprises of the church, and through the years gave notable leadership to the women's work of the community, and more particularly of Grace Church.

The Church, Social Agencies, and indeed every good cause, will miss the active support of these two, who for years could be counted on to give leadership whenever the occasion demanded.

CHURCHILL ON THE AIR

Prime Minister Churchill's statement on Sunday, had been awaited with expectancy and hope. The tension in the United Nations brought about by the impending invasion, made the people more than usually eager to hear what the Wartime Premier of Great Britain had to say on the subject. They were not disappointed — at least not in the aspect of his speech which dealt with the military situation. The review of the progress of the war was encouraging—too often we are apt to forget that this is a global war. Only as we see it through the eyes of one who can see the situation as a whole do we properly apprehend the marvellous and almost miraculous change between the relative positions of the Nazis and the United Nations. The brief, vivid picture the Prime Minister painted of the progress that had been made by the military forces of the United Nations, was necessary, particularly for us in Canada, who have had our eyes fixed on the situation in Italy for some months. To see the picture and see it whole, as we did on Sunday, is to enable us to put various parts in their proper perspective. The overall picture as shown by the speaker, was extremely bright.

The Prime Minister did not dabble in direct prophecy. He told us there would be an invasion; that there would be feints at different points so as to confuse and baffle the enemy; as to where these points were, or when the invasion would begin, the Premier did not even hint.

The Speaker paid well deserved tributes to the various branches of the service, reserving for the Russians his special word of praise. He spoke in the highest praise of the devotion, skill and ability of the forces of the U.S.S.R. and of Premier Stalin in particular.

When the Premier dealt with domestic policies, however, he was not quite so happy. He showed evident annoyance at his critics, and seemed to feel the strain of the criticisms that had been levelled at his party. The Prime Minister outlined what had been done for post-war Britain; what was planned and what, he hoped, would be achieved. From this distance the plans which the Premier enunciated, looked encouraging They held out promise that the Britain of to-morrow would be a different Britain from that which we had known in the past — better education, better housing, better opportunities, more social security. It is an amazing accomplishment that in the midst of the greatest struggle through which the Mother Country has ever been called upon to pass, so much should have been done for the future well-being of the country.

Only on occasion did Premier Churchill rise to the heights of oratory, of which he is capable. He seemed tired, and no wonder — and while the people in Great Britain may not have liked all he had to say on the domestic policies, we here at a distance, gained hope and encouragement, and experienced a real lift as we caught something of his spirit as he delineated past achievements, and hopes for the future.

V

A SERIOUS DEVELOPMENT

The Bill passed in the Ontario House, last week, to put a curb on statements and printed notices prejudicial to race and religion, was finally amended, so that it could be used to curb a growing intolerance against certain groups in Ontario. For its final form it was not so serious to freedom of speech as it appeared to have been in the first reading of the Bill. There can be no serious quarrel with the Bill as it becomes law.

But now, a more serious sequel to this Ontario action is before the Dominion House Mr. MacInnes, a C.C.F. member from British Columbia, has presented a Bill known as "Bill 37, An Act to Amend the Criminal Code." The main section 318A (1) of the proposed Bill, reads as follows:—

"Everyone who prints, publishes, issues, circulates distributes or otherwise disseminates any book, newspaper periodical pamphlet, picture, paper, circular, card letter, writing, print, publication or document, or who gives utterance in public to, or permits to be published broadcast or otherwise disseminated statements or words containing any material, report or statement of a nature intended or likely to excite any person or body of persons belonging to a certain race or professing a certain creed, to hatred, contempt, discrimination ridicule, insult or injury on account of such race or creed, thereby tending to create disharmony, unrest or disorder among the people or to incite a breach of the peace, is guilty of an offence." . . . . Then follow the penalties.

The motives behind this may be legitimate. The author of the Bill may have in mind that such an amendment would make it a crime for anyone to say a word against the Japanese of British Columbia, or against the Jews. But the Bill is much more all-embracing than that. We can well imagine that a body of censors could invoke the law in the event that any paper or periodical, or any letter to the editor, criticized the beliefs of any group. That would be only the beginning. We all know where this sort of thing leads to. It would be only one step further to make it a crime to attack the political beliefs of a person or party and we would have full-fledged Fascism in this country. The price of freedom is eternal vigilance. We must never let even these seemingly harmless bills, with the general purpose of which we may be in agreement, to get on our statute books. This Bill should not be allowed to pass. We suggest that those who love freedom in this area, and who believe that we are fighting for freedom of speech, should let their representative in Ottawa, know their views.

In all fairness it should be stated that there is one claim in the Bill which is designed to exempt the expression "in good faith" of expressing his opinion. Nevertheless, the persons who will decide what "in good faith" means will be the police, or the courts.

No! We had better leave well enough alone. While we dislike intolerant statements and deplore them, yet the attempt to crush intolerance by the force of the State, is a rather risky business

CHILDREN'S AID AT WORK

This is a Series of Articles Concerning Children's Aid Work — Prepared by the Association of Children's Aid Societies of the Province of Ontario.—Article 4

In this series of articles we have been looking backward to the dawn of the Children's Protection Movement in Ontario and following its development through the past half-century. We have emphasized and re-emphasized the democratic nature of the Children's Aid Society in your own and every community. We must never forget that with great wisdom, vision and high social intent our Children's Aid Societies were founded as organizations to be placed in the hands of the people of our communities.

This work of protection of children sprang from the hearts and was developed by the efforts of good and tender men and women. Legislation followed and the Children's Aid Society emerged as the instrument for the carrying out of the ideal that every child has a birthright in a civilized society!

Let us put it this way: The organs for the carrying out of the work are the Societies; the structure of the whole enterprise is the legislation that defines the powers and purpose of the Societies, but the life-blood that flows through the whole organization of protection is your zeal, your interest, your concern and your support of your Children's Aid Society.

In a later article we shall show what the public spirited lover of children can do for his or her Children's Aid Society by serving on its boards or one of their committees; how such people can broaden and extend its services, strengthen the hands of its trained and paid officials and enlist the whole-hearted co-operation and intelligent understanding of other men and women of the community.

It is the intention now to give as clear a picture as is possible in a brief space of some of the various functions performed by your Children's Aid Society under Ontario statutes. Under the Children's Protection Act the Society is constituted the specialist in guardianship, being legally appointed to appraise and determine the suitability of a child's own natural guardians.

Let us review a typical case that came before one of the Societies: Here we have a married couple with three children ranging in age from two to six years. Neither are vicious, but they are irresponsible lazy and thriftless to the point that their children are being neglected and suffering. The man has lost one job after another, due to inefficiency. What he does earn he and his wife spend in the beer parlour. At the time the Society is called in by neighbours the man has lost his job; nearly all the furniture has been sold; there is scarcely any food in the house, the gas and electric power have been cut off and the children are sleeping on bare floors. But these parents are not actively unkind to their children, who obviously have affection for them. Is there any hope of salvaging this family? Certainly not without a very severe discipline and surveillance! The Society decides to charge them both with neglect and bring them into court, applying for temporary wardship of the children. Pending the dispsition of the case father and mother are detained and finally both placed on probation. They are told they must be able to show a rehabilitated home and a sincere desire in keep their parental responsibility before their children will be returned to them. In this case the couple did make amends. They went to work, re-established their home and today, under the watchful eye of the Society, have their children back with them. Had they straightened up the children would have had to be made permanent wards.

Can a Society remove children from their home? Yes. It can and must by evidence and procedure information that these children are in unfit hands. Court action is taken and the judge or magistrate decides whether to commit them to the Society, either permanently or temporarily. "Ward care" — that is, the over-all cost of maintenance in foster home or institution — is paid for under statute of the municipality. What this guardianship implies in the moral, physical and spiritual care of these little future citizens will be discussed later. It involves the whole policy of Children's Aid.

The Unmarried Parents' Act gives the Society very definite powers. These make it obligatory for it to act as a protective agent to any child born out of wedlock and, lacking the protection it is entitled to, wardship action is taken. Another function is to contact the putative father and arrange for maintenance of his child. But outside of its statutory obligations, there is always assumed by the Society a service in helping to re-establish the unmarried mother.

Close follow-up work is not only socially sound and humane, but financially advantageous to the public. A second child, under such circumstances is nearly always a public charge — and so the liabilities increase!

So,we come back again to the part the men and women of every community can and should play in their Children's Aid Society. Prevention and more prevention is becoming the keynote in every enlightened community. First in the interest of the child's happiness and well being — that must always come first! Secondly as a matter of dollars and cents.

A COUNTRY EDITOR SEES Ottawa

WRITTEN SPECIALLY FOR THE WEEKLY NEWSPAPERS OF CANADA
by JIM GREENBLAT, Editor of the SUN
SWIFT CURRENT, SASKATCHEWAN

Tradition was upset when for the first time in history a woman was called to act as Speaker of the House of Commons. Mrs. Cora Casselman, Liberal member for Edmonton East, did it gracefully. Anyone who has seen this striking-looking motherly Parliamentarian in the House would agree she would do honour to the Speaker's throne. Patriotic slogans on envelopes should be kept off letters going to prisoners of war, because the German Reich has advised it will confiscate such. This warning comes from the Post Office department. . . . National Selective Service officials say that shortly a Dominion-wide survey is to be made of all male employees between eighteen and thirty-five years. Reason: to locate persons evading call-up regulations. . . . Soon 30,000 government employees will have undergone the X-ray check-up to determine prevalence of tuberculosis.

Now that shipping from the West Indies is somewhat improved the question is often asked why more sugar is not brought into the country. We sought an answer and got this from the Consumer Branch in Ottawa. When rationing began, shipping difficulties caused short supply. The world pool of sugar which stood at two million tons a year was down to half that at the end of 1943. From this pool Canada must import fourfifths of her sugar supply. The world pool was set, of course, by Great Britain, United States and Canada. The United States needs 800,000 tons for one thing alone, for industrial alcohol used in production of high priority war and civilian materials such as synthetic rubber. And with each piece of territory liberated, the demand on the sugar pool increases and when freedom comes to Europe as a whole the need will be more desperate.

From the Dominion Department of Agriculture comes this item importantly to many areas in Canada. Farmers who supplied milk to cheese factories before September 30, 1943, and who are now selling to fluid milk distributors, creameries, and to concentration plants are required to resume deliveries to cheese factories as soon as possible. The Agricultural Food Board says that those farmers who were selling cream to creameries, or milk to concentration plants before September 30, 1943, are required to resume sales to their former markets. Other dairy products manufacturers between now and April 30th Purchasers of milk are responsible for making these adjustments.

Since meat rationing was suspended farmers can slaughter livestock without permit for direct sale to any household consumer for personal or household consumption; but they cannot sell direct to butchers or quota users such as hotels and restaurants without permit, and they have to continue to stamp meat slaughtered and comply with previous defatting regulations.

Farm workers who have moved from their homes to essential employment during the winter will be drifting back shortly now. It is being worked out — by regions — by the Selective Service people so that the men will be getting back to each area when they are needed. Valid to April 1st some 73,149 permits were granted to farm workers to engage in other industries. Except where provincial officials agree to certain extensions after April 1st, they will be returning before then. The United Nations are looking to Canada for tremendous quantities of food and agriculture will have to maintain all the manpower possible.

Recent consolidation of Mobilization regulations brings in another group of men. In future a married man who is not supporting or maintaining his wife or children is liable to get his call if he is within the age group in which single men were liable —that is, if he was born in any of the years between 1906 and 1912 inclusive—providing he has not reached the age of 38 years.

What next? The R.C.A.F. is now training pigeons as paratroopers. Birds will be dropped in metal watertight containers linked to a small parachute when searching aircraft have located stranded airmen but cannot get to them directly. The birds can be sent back by the airmen with messages on their needs and condition.

If you wonder why stocks of dry white beans, yelloweye beans and dry whole split peas in Canada have been frozen by the Prices Board the reason given is the necessity of ensuring that supplies are available to the Department of Munitions and Supply for ships' stores and other priority users. The humble bean and pea will become important in your garden this summer.

Farmers can use their own trucks to haul farm material or farm products anywhere. The regulations limiting the use of private commercial trucks to a 35-mile distance from their home address without special permit does not apply to farmers using their own trucks. By April 1, when the new gasoline ration year starts the Prices Board figures that every milk-transporting truck except that of the farmer hauling his own product will be under licensed permit. On the basis of these permits the gasoline requirements of each route will be calculated, for the protection of the dairy industry as a whole. According to the Board estimates, zoned collections have resulted in reductions up to 44 per cent in number of trucks used, with consequent large savings in gas, rubber and equipment.

First Experiments With Blood Plasma Took Place Seven Years Ago

It was during the reign of Louis XIV of France that doctors first experimented with blood transfusions. The first experiment was with a dying boy in Paris. According to the story, the King's personal physician introduced lambs' blood into the boy's veins, and within a short period of time the lad recovered. This started the popular animal to man transfusions which caused many deaths and which were finally ended by a ban of both the church and government. For two hundred years medical scientists didn't know why transfusions killed some people and revived others. At least not until a scientist working in the United States discovered that there were four different types of human blood — O, A, B, and AB. When the blood of an 'A' type person was mixed with that of a 'B' type the red corpuscles stuck together and the person, as likely as not, died.

The first experiments in developing blood plasma, which is the liquid part of the blood that remains after the red and white corpuscles have been removed, took place in 1937. By 1939, a process for drying blood plasma into powder form was developed. Today, using plasma, it is no longer necessary to match the blood of the patient before giving a transfusion. The story of Red Cross blood plasma is a familiar one to Canadians, for each week one or more hundreds of them enter the doors of the blood donor clinics and willingly donate a pint of their blood which will eventually go to the wounded on the battlefields.

The blood is first put into a machine, something like a cream separator. This machine separates the plasma from the red and white corpuscles. The plasma is then frozen solid and the water is removed by a vacuum process. By this time it is in the form of a golden flakey powder When it is required for use, sterile water and the powder are simply mixed together and the transfusion given as usual.

The Blood Donor centres in the larger towns and cities ensure a regular supply of this plasma. But many smaller towns and villages, particularly in Ontario, just as they do their share, had no call from the Red Cross forgetting a transfusion of the Blood Plasma which regularly visits more than Ontario towns and villages more than 2,000 residents and received each week

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, APRIL 2ND, 1944

"SAUL BECOMES A NEW MAN"

Lesson Text: Acts 9: 1-9, 13-19.

Having spent the first quarter of this year on the Life of Jesus, we now pass into the area of history where we see the Gospel making its first great impact on the pagan world. Its impact was on individuals, and its progress, its amazing achievement through those early days of Christianity was through converted chanced men. These men, moving under the spell of a new life, with conviction, with passion, and with burning zeal for the cause, touched the whole life of the ancient world.

The story of Saul is one of the most fascinating in all history. Here a man well trained in the Jewish traditions, a champion for Judaism, a champion of his faith against any encroachment on its claims and powers almost overnight turned his back on all he had held to be true, embraced Christianity and went forth a flaming evangel for the Christian Way of Life.

The change in Paul's life was sudden, but the causes were many and cumulative. no doubt extending over a long period of time. He saw Stephen die; that made a deep impression on him. It is not sure just what the immediate effect was; we are not told. But Saul saw a good man, who being stoned to death, prayed for his persecutors. That was so different from the pagan spirit he had known, that he never quite got over it. From then on he was battling with himself. His conscience once aroused, never let him alone. And then the climax came. He was smitten when on the road to Damascus whither he was bound as a persecutor of the Christians. The battle had been won. Paul was, from then on as Christian He never did things by halves. He became the greatest interpreter of Christianity to the pagan world that has ever lived. Under his organizing genius, his statesmanlike planning, his dynamic moving preaching, churches began to spring up here and there all across the ancient world. When he died, Christianity had been established as a world-wide religion.

We have need to learn the importance of this. Many of us had forgotten it until quite recently a new Christian group appeared on the scene, and spoke and acted as to the power of God to save. We must never forget that it is that from our Sunday there graduate, year after year, our churches young people who become church members. It must mean all depends on the impact which Church makes on the life of the child. There are many ways to build the Kingdom of God. It must never forget that.

Some churches think the way into the kingdom is in one way, another. There are those who that a child unfolds religiously like a flower, and grows naturally into Kingdom. Others insist on a change, a conversion, a definite change. A real church must make room for both, and perhaps the last decade or two, as a natural reaction against some extreme forms, emphasis has been all on the former idea. Perhaps the time has come to insist that a Christian must have a changed person He must be born again. The lines of demarkation between the Christian and the man of the world, have become blurred in recent years. A healthy distrust of the necessity of knowing that they have been saved, and that they are doomed, and that they can only be saved by a Saviour, who died down church rolls but might be a stronger and more effective church.

Anyway, when we look at Paul's experience and realize what he accomplished, it makes us wish that if the world might not be a new Kingdom of God, if each of us were to his gifts, consecrated the same devotion as he did Christ whom he met on the Road.

I.O.D.E. SALVAGE RELIEF FUND

On Friday evening, March 24th, the ladies of the I.O.D.E. met at the Ahtikra rooms and packed nine boxes of warm clothing, among which were 32 quilts. A letter has been received from headquarters stating the first two shipments of clothing shipped through the local Chapter of the I.O.D.E. have been received and are being hailed and labelled for Ahtikra. The response has been most generous from the citizens of Napanee and the rural districts. It may be of interest to know that the following articles have been shipped to Russia: 865,462 items of clothing, over 15,000 of which were blankets and quilts, 14,000 sheets, towels, and other bed linen. The adoption of cities and towns will unquestionably go a long way toward alleviating some of the distress and will at the same time strengthen the bonds of friendship and understanding between our people.

MEAT SALE REGULATIONS FOR FARMERS CLARIFIED

The Prices Board points out that during the suspension of meat rationing, a farmer or a person who raises live stock can slaughter (or have slaughtered for him) without a slaughtering permit live stock raised on his own premises for direct sale of meat to a household consumer for that consumer's own household or personal consumption. Such meat need not be stamped. However, a farmer cannot sell meat to any other class of buyer without a slaughtering permit.

It is further stressed that a farmer selling beef, lamb or veal to household consumers must offer standard retail cuts and, in the case of beef, must indicate the quality—commercial, plain, cow and bull or better. As for pork, a farmer can sell it in any form he chooses.

THE MIXING BOWL
By ANNE ALLAN

Hello Homemakers! Some girls wear smart print dresses all day, some wear war - service uniforms, others business plaids, and others denim jeans. Their problem is shared by every woman—how can they keep their clothes in order. They want an answer to, "Which, one of my dresses is clean, pressed and ready to wear?"

It's true that regular care makes the problem easier. That is: always use a hanger for your clothes, turn inside out and air them frequently, brush daily, and keep fasteners sewn on securely.

But to be well - groomed send them to the dry cleaners regularly — never let pressing take the place of laundering or dry-cleaning. Keeping clothes clean and fresh is one of the first rules for looking well dressed, as well as for making clothes last longer.

Then press often, to keep looking well groomed Begin with the sleeves. It is easiest to press them on the right side; but, of course you should use a pressing cloth to prevent shine. If you have a sleeve board or an ironing board with a narrow end, you can easily press the thick cap of the sleeve over it. Otherwise, roll up a small Turkish towel and slip it inside the shoulder and the cap of the sleeve, and press these sections. Then move the towel down and press the sleeve. This will avoid creasing. Turn the dress inside out. Now press the fabric itself. In pressing woollens or crepe weaves, use an up-and-down stamping motion to prevent stretching; but with smooth fabrics press with an ironing motion. Never forget to press the seams flat, for this is what gives your dress a trim, well-tailored look. Now turn to the right side, and finish pockets, double thickness, and trimmings, using the pressing cloth to avoid shine.

Keeping trimmings trim. Collars and cuffs and dickeys make us trim and spruce-looking when they are crisp and immaculate. Use starch to keep them perky Put about two tablespoons in a gallon of water and dip in after rinsing—and iron the pieces while still damp.

To keep that original, snowy look with white accessories use a bleach. Do not use bleach on silk or wool. Follow directions on the bottle of bleach for the right amount. Soak the pieces for fifteen minutes and rinse several times.

Before you wear a new dress or coat, go over all the buttons with strong thread. Another tip on good grooming is to keep hat veils pressed, belts clean and unrushed.

Take a tip:

1. Don't drop your iron.
2. Don't chafe the cord.
3. Don't use a cord with a loose plug.
4. Dont let starch or soil collect on sole plate.
5. Don't let cord touch hot iron.
6. Don't leave connected when not in use.
7. Don't iron over buttons and fasteners.

OBITUARY

THOS. H. HUFFMAN

Thos. H. Huffman, a well known resident of Napanee for the greater part of his life, died on Saturday, March 25th, at Kingston General Hospital after a short illness. He had not been in good health for the past five years, but had been able to attend to his business until three weeks ago, when he was taken seriously ill. He was removed to the hospital in Kingston about two weeks before his death.

Mr. Huffman, who was in his 72nd year, was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Huffman, Hungerford township, Hastings County, but had lived nearly all his life in Napanee. BRAY CHICKS
Prompt Shipment

Unusually heavy hatches allow us to say, definitely, that if you order your Bray Chicks (either day - old or started) right away for prompt shipment, we can probably fill your order without delay.

That is more than we can prophesy for later in the season. Advance orders have been extremely heavy for later delivery.

But we can supply a lot of good Bray Chicks right now. And right now is a mighty good time to start chicks. Experience tells us that the highest egg prices of 1944 will be realized in September, October, November. Good Bray Chicks started now, and reared right, should be in nice production just when prices are soaring. If you take started chicks, of course, they will be laying that much larger eggs, and cashing in on the wide-fall premiums for egg size).

Just to make sure, in ordering, name a second choice on breed, grade and date of shipment. (We'll do our level best, of course, to give you your first choice).

Manuel Mallaburn, [illegible] Head, Ont — Bray Chicks are the best I have ever had, was very fortunate in being able to get them.

Pat Dap-R-[illegible], South Point, Ont.—"Your chicks [illegible] were really something to be absent. I lost just a few, what were left were wonderful."

Mr. J. L. [illegible], Station, P.Q. — "Out of 400 chicks I received I [illegible] good health [illegible] have turned out very profitable birds."

Mrs. Amy Tomkins, Pine Hills, N.S. — "Those chicks were the best I ever ordered. I am very pleased with them."

James N. Jones, South Side, N.B.—"I think there is no other name you should have added, and that is 'Bray Chicks'. You have my order for laying chicks. I have never been disappointed."

"Oh, animals," said the candidate, in obvious relief. 'I thought you said 'admirals'."

OBITUARIES

THE LATE MRS. ALICE HARRIS

Mrs. Alice Harris, eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carle passed away at her home in Napanee on Friday, March 3rd, in her 76th year. For about nine weeks she had been confined to her room on account of a heart condition.

She was born in Moscow. At the age of about 26 she went West where she was united in marriage to the late Silas Harris, of Carievale, Sask. Three years later she was left a widow, so she returned to her home at Moscow where she lived until 26 years ago when with her mother and brother she retired from the farm, to Napanee.

She was a member of the Quaker Church and was a devoted Christian. She will be greatly missed by her many friends.

She leaves to mourn her loss a daughter, Mrs. Milton Lasher, eight grandchildren, one great - grandson and one sister, Mrs. James Kennedy of Westbrook, Ont. The funeral was largely attended. The sermon was preached by Rev. G. Kelly, assisted by Rev. G. Burtch, Rev. F. Dunning of Stockdale, and Rev. G. Sedore of Free Methodist, Napanee. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Wagar and Rev. F. Dunning sang "Will the Circle be Unbroken." Following the service the body was conveyed to Riverside vault.

The pall-bearers were nephews of the deceased: Kenneth, Roy, James Jr., Cecil and Nelson Kennedy, and Harry Ball.

In Loving Memory

SCRIMSHAW — In kind and loving memory of our dear father and grandfather Alfred Scrimshaw, who passed away suddenly six years ago on Sunday, April 3rd, 1938.

He did not fail to do his best.
His heart was true and tender;
He worked hard for those he loved,
That's something to remember.
He bade no one a last farewell,
He said good-bye to none;
The angels suddenly stretched wide
A loving voice said "Come".
Sadly missed and ever remembered
by Daughter, IVA
and son-in-law, HENRY.
13a Grandson, BILLIE PAGE

HARTIN — In loving memory of Christie Hartin, who passed away, April 1st, 1943.
Sadly missed by 13ap WIFE and FAMILY.

ORSER — In loving memory of Helen Frances Orser, who departed this life, March 28th, 1940.
The one we loved has gone to rest.
Her fond, true heart is still;
The hand that always helped us
Now lies in death's cold chill.
Ever remembered by MOTHER.
13ap SISTERS and BROTHERS.

Counsel (persisting): You've heard what the last witness said and yet your evidence is to the contrary. Am I to infer that you doubt her veracity?"

Polite Young Man (waving a deprecating hand): Not at all, I merely wish to make it clear what a liar I am if she's speaking the truth.

He jests at scars never felt a wound.

JUKES - SEWELL

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Sewell, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Boston, to Mr. William Jukes, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Jukes, took place in St. George's Church, St. Catharines, on March 11th, the Rev. W. E. Bagnall officiating.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. A. A. Marshall the bride wore a gown of ivory satin, a finger-length veil, and carried a bouquet of roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Florence Sewell as maid of honor, and Miss Roberta Marshall as flower girl.

The former wore pink net with blue accessories and the latter blue taffeta. Each carried an old-fashioned nosegay of roses and forget-me-nots.

Mr. E. Herrington of Niagara Falls was groomsman, and the ushers were Mr. J. Sewell and Mr. D. J. Stansfield.

Later a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Boston, where Mrs. Jukes assisted Mrs. Boston in receiving the guests. Following a short stay in Rochester and Buffalo, Mr. and Mrs. Jukes will make their home in St. Catharines.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Taylor, Belleville, Mr. and Mrs. H. Tate, Mr. and Mrs. D. Sandison and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Sandison, Brantford; and L.A.C. Olsen, of Windsor.

The school teacher was telling his class a Bible story.

"Elijah built an altar and piled wood on it," he said, "then he cut up the bullock in pieces and laid them on top. Next, he ordered the people to fill their barrels with water and pour it on the altar. Now, can anyone tell me why all this was poured over the bullock on the altar?"

Up spoke a bright boy from the back of the class.

"To make lots of gravy," he said.

Q. Where do I go to convert my preserves coupons into vouchers to buy maple syrup by mail?

A. You should apply to your Local Ration Board and take your ration book with you.

Q. When I went to the grocers' to buy canned blueberries, he wanted me to surrender preserves coupons for them. I thought canned blueberries were off the ration. Is that not correct?

A. Yes, canned blueberries are temporarily off the ration until next July 1st.

Q. I dislike entrusting my ration books to the children and when I gave them two loose coupons to buy a pound of butter, the dealer refused to accept them. Was he right in doing so?

A. He was perfectly right. He would have broken the law if he had accepted them and you also violated the ration regulations in having them presented to him. Trafficking in loose ration coupons is forbidden.

Q. My cousin in the country wants to make a present of a gallon of maple syrup of his own production. Can he legally do so?

A. Casual gifts of rationed goods are permissible.

Q. Is tinned baby fruit rationed?

A. Yes, tinned baby fruit is rationed at the same value as tinned fruit, that is 20-oz. per D coupon.

Q. Since canned rhubarb and canned crabapples are off the rationed list, does that mean that rhubarb jam and crabapple jelly are off, too?

A. No, rhubarb jam and crabapple jelly are still rationed.

Q. I understand that canned blueberries are no longer rationed does that include blueberry pie filler?

A. Blueberry pie filler as well as canned blueberries is off the ration until June 30th.

SILLSVILLE W. A.

The members of the Sillsville W. A. and their husbands, were delightfully entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rod Sharpe on Thursday evening, March 23rd. The men had a game of euchre while the ladies held their meeting.

The president, Mrs. McLean, opened the meeting with an interesting reading, followed by the reading of the scripture lesson by Mrs. Harold Hough and all repeating the Lord's Prayer. It was moved by Mrs. D. W. Young that we extend a vote of appreciation for the splendid reports Mrs. Morley White gave; a report on repairs to be made on the parsonage at Conway. Mrs. Rod Sharpe put on a quiz contest. Money made out of the euchres held in Sillsville hall amounted to $41.00 and one more to hear from. We are sending $10.00 to the Minesweepers Fund, and cigarettes to our boys overseas, and other articles to places where they are most needed. We are purchasing print for tops for quilts. We decided to put on a play in the Hall which would be one way to make money for our needs. Pie and sandwiches were served. The amount made at the meeting, $4.75. The next Red Cross meeting will likely be in Sillsville Hall.

TRINITY W. M. S.

The March meeting of Trinity W. M.S. was held in the school room on March 24th. The president, Mrs. Switzer, opened the meeting with a hymn followed by repeating the 23rd Psalm and the Apostle's creed, in unison. The secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and approved. Miss B. Hawley and Mrs. W.A. Ashley were appointed delegates to attend Belleville Presbyterial to be held in Belleville in April. Mrs. Switzer announced the Easter meeting would be held April 21st. The guest speaker will be Miss Freethy, of Montreal. Eleven new members were welcomed into the society. A paper on temperance was read by Miss E. Parks. The offering was [illegible] M. B. Reid. [illegible] held in memory of [illegible] members. The meeting was under the [illegible] Fellows and Mrs. Morley White took the [illegible] the afternoon was "The Gathering Together." The devotional exercises were given in a most pleasing manner by Mrs. Price. The fourth chapter of the study book was given by Mrs. Morley White. The closing "God Hath Said" was sung by request by Mrs. [illegible]. A poem on India was read by Mrs. Calvert.

Mrs. Wilson closed the meeting with a hymn and the Mizpah benediction.

New Hydro Rural Rates Reduce Your Bills

Note the saving you will obtain under the new rate of 4c 1 6/10c, and ¾c in the following examples showing comparative quarterly bills for several commonly used quantities of energy:

Where Old Rate Was 4c, 2c, ¾c

STANDARD FARM SERVICE			HAMLET 2-WIRE SERVICE
3 Months' Kilowatt Hours	YOUR BILL AT Old Rate	YOUR BILL AT New Rate	3 Months' Kilowatt Hours	YOUR BILL AT Old Rate	YOUR BILL AT New Rate
150	$ 8.60	$ 6.56	100	$ 6.93	$5.52
300	11.52	8.86	200	8.87	7.54
600	17.35	13.53	300	10.82	9.10

These examples illustrate the savings you will secure in your H[illegible] bill in Rural districts where the old rate was as shown above. The amounts shown are for quarterly net bills, including Dominion Government War Tax. The reduction in your bill in a district having a high old rate (such as 6c, 2c, ¾c or 5c, 2c, ¾c) will be proportionately greater than the examples shown above.

Please note that the service charge for farms is discontinued. The minimum bill for such consumer is $6.56 per quarter, for which amount up to 168 kw.-hrs. can be used. In a district having a former rate of 4c and 2c, this same amount would have cost the consumer $8.29.

Hamlet consumers have the service charge cut in half, but the minimum bill is $4.87 per quarter, for which they can use an amount of 83 kw.-hrs. In a district having a former rate of 4c and 2c, this amount would have cost the consumer $6.46.

These explanations are given to help you understand the new rates. In our next advertisement, we will discuss for your benefit, the UNIFORM RATE. In the meantime, if you need further information, please ask your Rural District Superintendent.

Why VICKS VAPORUB Is So Good
For Relieving Miseries of Childrens Colds

More than two generations ago—in grandmother's day—mothers first discovered Vicks VapoRub. Today it is the most widely used home-remedy for relieving miseries of children's colds. And here is the reason . . .

The moment you rub VapoRub on the throat, chest and back at bedtime it starts to work two ways at once—and keeps on working for hours! It's ease coughing spasms, help loosen cold-clogged upper breathing passages, relieve muscular soreness or tightness. It promotes sleep. Often most of the misery of a cold is gone by morning! That's why VapoRub is so good to use at the first sniffle or sneeze. Try it!

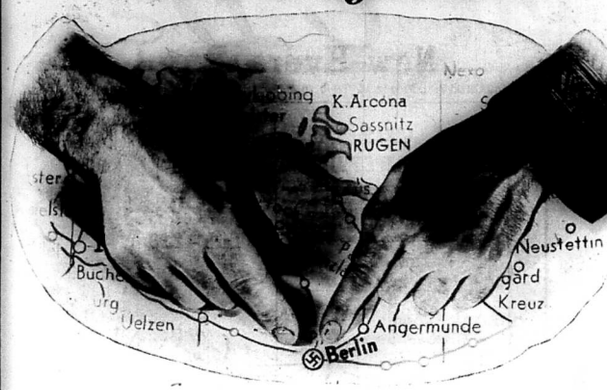
First Objective



IN these decisive months all Canada's effort is concentrated on one great objective—the attack that is to destroy the Nazi menace and all that it represents. Years of work have gone into its preparation. The best of our young men are staking their lives on its success.

We in Canada must support and strengthen this attack with all our effort. This one purpose must command our work, our minds and our hearts.

We must not permit any scramble for private gain or individual selfish ends, to distract us from our main task. If we concentrate on seeking, individually or jointly, higher prices, higher pay or higher profits, we shall be diverting our attention from the main task at this critical time. We shall also endanger the stability of prices which we in Canada have achieved after great difficulties—a stability that is essential to efficiency and fairness in war, and to peacetime prosperity afterward.

Our young men are fighting for a Canada and a world in which all men can have faith, hope and security. Each of them wants to come back to a job—or a farm—with a future. We at home must keep secure for them a strong and stable foundation on which alone a post-war period of promise and achievement can be built.

This advertisement is one of a series being issued by the Government of Canada to emphasize the importance of preventing further increases in the cost of living now and deflation later.

MOTHER CORNER

On Wednesday evening, Mrs. Geo. Daverne, Miss Jane Light, Mrs. Bertha Maracle, Mrs. George Fisher, went to I. F. S. Airport at Deseronto to take the accustomed seats in the Mother's Corner. Shirts were mended, ripped coat sleeves, linings stitched back in place, and bundles of socks made wearable, during an evening of pleasant conversation with the airmen, with a background of radio music, interspersed with piano playing, the click of two table-tennis games and the excited laughs and shouts from a group who were playing off a table-hockey finals, complete with timekeeper and clock. This game, reminiscent of Foster Hewitt's "he shoots, he scores," evidently had all the thrills and breath-taing excitement of a National Hockey championship game. Mr. Douglas Scott, the Y.M.C.A. Supervisor, showed the "Mothers" the newly equipped craft shop, in which so many boys are interested, and then accompanied them to the mess hall for refreshments.

Also three framed water colours, donated by Joan Watson, of Toronto, now in the Victory Loan Office window — tickets at 15c each or two for 25c — and proceeds for war work. Members of the I. O. D. E. are selling these tickets, or they may be obtained at the Thursday war work meetings.

On Saturday, Patrol Leader John Simpson, Bob Hall and Fred Luby, of the Napanee Boy Scouts, collected 740 lbs. of salvage for the I.O.D.E. Not nearly enough people are contributing salvage. Salvage barn, sidlated on Graham Street, between John and East Streets, is always open for people who can conveniently take in their own salvage.

Points Worth Remembering in Getting Ration Books

Belief that the great majority of consumers, from past experience, are thoroughly conversant with most of the details of the approaching distribution of No. 4 ration books was expressed to-day by the Local Ration Board which, however, stressed the following points which they should bear in mind.

The new books must be obtained on one of the dates on which distributing centres will be open in the different municipalities. Failure to get them at that time will mean that the consumer will be without ration coupons until at least April 17, as no late applications will be honoured until that date. The new ration books will in use before April 17th.

Consumers should watch very closely for newspaper advertising giving the location of their distributing centres and the dates and hours on which they will be open. These will frequently vary from place to place according to local conditions and arrangements. Because centres in one community are open on a certain day is no guarantee that those elsewhere will also be open, nor in any case will they be open throughout the entire week of March 26th.

The No. 3 ration book, with the red application card at the rear properly filled out and signed by the book-holder, must be presented before a No. 4 book can be issued. Book-holders are particularly requested to fill in the space marked "county". Parents or guardians may sign for children and illiterates may make their mark in the presence of a witness.

Ration books belonging to a household may be presented by any adult belonging to it. Each book-holder must however, complete and sign his or her own application card. In rural areas, an adult may be similarly entrusted with their responsibility on behalf of neighbors, but here again individual book-holders must personally complete and sign their application cards.

Unless they wish to do without sugar for home canning (or, alternatively, the preserves for which canning sugar coupons will be valid) book-holders should on no account surrender or destroy their No. 3 ration books. The first 10P coupons in them will be good for the purchase of canning sugar and meat coupons from No. 41 will also possess value in the event of meat rationing being resumed.

Immediately on receipt of their No. 4 books, consumers should fill out all the spaces on the cover and also fill in the spaces on each sheet of coupons. In addition, they should keep a separate record of the serial numbers of their books. This will be of the greatest value should the books become lost or mislaid. Consumers should also advise their Local Ration Boards whenever there is a change of name or address. Regulations require surrender of ration books whenever the holder dies, joins the armed forces or leaves Canada.

Mrs. Hobson was going away for the week-end.

"Do you remember what time my train leaves tomorrow," she asked her husband.

"Sixteen hours, seventeen minutes, and thirty seconds from now dear," he replied.

On the Home Front too...

● When a gun goes into action every man has a job to do. Seconds count, and team work gets results.

Training . . . endless training . . . gets efficiency that makes each man part of a perfect machine.

But something more than efficiency is needed to make a top-rank fighting unit. There must be loyalty . . . that spirit of responsibility that each man feels toward his mates.

We've got efficiency on the farm front . . . we're producing more, and with less help to do it. Keep up the teamwork that will make each one of us go all out to support our men on the fighting fronts.

We too, are part of a fighting unit . . . citizens of a nation at war. We must not let our men on the fighting fronts down.

Invasion means high tension on the fighting fronts . . . combined operations . . . thorough team work in every detail. And that call for greater action comes back to us at home. We have a job to do here, too. We must all buy Victory Bonds. We have a responsibility to our mates on the firing line. We can't let them down.

And the job that we are asked to do is . . . save more, and lend more to our country. We are asked to let our country have the use of money that we do not need now. We will have the money later on to improve our farms and to buy stock and equipment; for new barns and silos; for new furnishings and conveniences for our homes.

Be ready to buy more Victory Bonds.

HOME AND SCHOOL ASSOCIATION MEET

The regular monthly meeting of the Home and School Association was held at West Ward School on Wednesday afternoon, March 29th.

An interesting feature of this meeting was a debate by pupils of the Grade VIII. The resolution for debate was "Resolved that in the past hundred years, war has done more good than harm."

The affirmative side was upheld by Norman Hendricks and Myron Mills. The negative side was taken by Yvonne Larocque and Betty Wright. The judges, Mrs. C. D. McLellan, Mrs. Harry Morrison, V. O. N., and Mrs. F. B. Elliott, gave their decision in favour of the negative side.

Miss J. Turner, teacher of Grade VIII, deserves much credit for the directing of these pupils. Their thoroughness of preparation, arrangement of material, soundness of argument, and reliability of evidence as well as skill in rebuttal were highly commendable. There was an error in announcing the decisions. The total score was in favour of the negative side.

REV. W.E.L. SMITH WRITES FROM ITALY TO SELBY FRIENDS

The following letter was received by the Selby Red Cross from Rev. W. E. L. Smith, a former pastor of Selby United Church, now with the Canadian Army in Italy:

Italy, January 30th, 1944

Dear Mrs. Henderson:

Will you please thank the members of the Selby Red Cross for that fine parcel that came to-day. I think it was most kind of you to think of me. As the absence from home draws out longer and longer, such remembrances are the more appreciated.

Just now we are at a higher altitude, with snowdrifts around us and white mountains to look at. We have made a small farmhouse our quarters for the time being, and after November and December spent in holes in the mud or in ditches, this is unaccustomed luxury. For the time being we are away from mined rotations and are on what is called Middle East. This consists mainly of fresh food, and is much more plentiful. We are fortunate in getting oranges as part of our ration.

December was a busy month for Canadians here. The fighting was hard and the weather bad. It takes it out of men to have to go through that, week after week. In this country, too, the danger of disease is always present. Once you get an infection in the blood it continues week after week. I got one at Christmas time and it is still running.

The country people try to make the best of things. The women do quite a business washing clothes for the troops. As there is nothing here for the boys to spend money on, they have plenty to pay these women well. When you see what war does to a country one is thankful that it has not come to Canada.

So far I see no sign of the schools opening here. The children are everywhere, and most of them look undernourished. Italy lags far behind in cleanliness too. That is partly because water is scarce in the dry season.

In my own work there is always plenty to do. If we are fighting there is first aid to give to wounded men and then to take them back to dressing stations. This regiment is usually widely dispersed so that even the visiting requires much time. As for Sunday services it is seldom that I can reach all groups on the Sunday, so there are usually services through the week. New reinforcements just up from the base are apt to look on church parades as an imposition, but after a man has been in action and not knowing if he will live to survive, or not, he has an interest.

Please remember me to my old friends at Selby.

Very sincerely yours.

Waldo Smith, Chaplain,

LARGE CONGREGATIONS HEAR FORMER MINISTER AT TRINITY CHURCH

Rev. W. R. Tanton Preaches at Anniversary Services

Two excellent sermons were delivered on Sunday by Rev. W. R. Tanton, Smiths Falls, who was the special preacher at the 106th anniversary services of Trinity United Church. Very fine music by the choir, under the direction of Mrs. J. E. Madden, with Corporal Harvard, R.C.A.F., as vocal soloist at the morning service, and Sgt. Skitch, R.C.A.F., violin soloist. In the evening, added greatly to the success of the day. Attendance, both morning and evening, was large.

Rev. G. M. Chidley, the minister of the church, was in charge of the services. He was assisted, morning and evening, by Rev. C. D. McLellan, minister of Grace United Church, and in the morning by Rev. Dr. A. J. Wilson, Toronto, Editor of the United Church Observer.

At the morning service the choir sang the anthem, "Be Ye Faithful", with Mrs. R. L. Miller and Mrs. Harold Denison as soloists. Corporal Harvard, R.C.A.F., sang "The Palms" following the offertory.

In the evening a ladies' trio sang "Ave Maria", and the choir's anthem was "O for a Closer Walk with God", in which Mrs. Denison sang the solo parts. Sgt. Skitch, R.C.A.F., played violin accompaniments for the choir's numbers.

MR. TANTON'S ADDRESSES

Mr. Tanton's address in the morning was based on Moffat's translation of a text from Nehemiah, "Is a man like me to run away?" The words were spoken by Nehemiah after he had returned to aid in the restoration of Jerusalem about 2500 years ago and were in reply to advice that he seek safety from enemies who again threatened the city. Nehemiah's decision to stay in the face of danger was the result of the conviction that he had the great tradition of Jewish history to uphold, as well as a great need to give physical leadership to his people and to assume a spiritual responsibility for them. Christ also, said Mr. Tanton, was faced with the same temptation to run away when beset by enemies and physical danger. In the decision of Nehemiah, and of Christ, to finish their missions in spite of imminent peril, there is an example and a challenge to christian people to-day to remain steadfast and to continue in their efforts to make the church and christianity effective.

Using Moffat's translation of words of Jesus found in St. Luke's Gospel, "I must journey on, to-day, to-morrow, and the day following", Mr. Tanton spoke in the evening on the subject, "The grace of going on".

Christ knew Mr. Tanton said, the peril which faced him if he remained in Palestine, but despite that knowledge he set his face toward Jerusalem, where he was crucified. He knew he was sent to establish the Kingdom of God on earth and to destroy the old order. He knew the only way to achieve his purpose was by sacrifice.

There can only be progress, Mr. Tanton said, if there is an intelligent understanding of the past and a reverence for it. No one can be true to the past until it has been surpassed and some advance has been made. Satisfaction with things as they are is often sinful, but a discontent and a yearning to bring about a better condition is divine. Jesus had two main reasons why he was determined to go on and not try to escape peril to himself. He knew there was a definite spiritual purpose in his being and on earth, and he was filled with a sacrificial spirit to fulfil that purpose. He knew he must carry out his father's plan to build a better world, free from injustice, in which there would be fellowship and a spirit of brotherhood among men.

Mr. Tanton asked if the church of to-day was ready to take its place in making a better world, even to the point of showing the sacrificial spirit of Christ. There is a danger, he said, of the church becoming complacent and satisfied, and he urged church members to awaken to the needs of the day and to sacrifice to the utmost that the church might go on, to-day, to-morrow, and the day following.

LIONS ENDORSE MEMORIAL HOSPITAL IN NAPANEE

Club Asks Public Meeting be Called to Discuss Project

A new hospital at Napanee to serve the whole county was proposed at the meeting of the Lions Club held Monday evening. A committee of the Club headed by Rev. C. D. McLellan, after consulting the Medical Association of the County and the Minister of Health, Dr. Vivian, reported in favor of the Lions Club standing behind such a project. A recommendation to ask the Mayor and the Warden to call a public meeting, at which all interested organizations would be represented, was adopted. A number of recommendations to be submitted to the public meeting were also adopted. Among them was one to make the hospital a memorial to the men who gave their lives on active service in defense of freedom and justice.

The chairman of the committee, Mr. McLellan, gave the report, and the other members of the committee, Dr. Beattie, Dr. Ellicott, G. F. Smith and Geo. Daly, spoke in support of the report.

The President, Ryerson Humphrey, presided.

Firemen Present Former Chief With Gift

On Friday evening, March 31, C. W. Conway, ex-Chief of the Napanee Fire Brigade, was guest of honor at a social evening for the members of the brigade, held at the home of H. W. Vine, Bridge St.

The members of the brigade made a presentation of a table lamp to Mr. Conway, who recently retired from active duty, after being on the force for 36 years and being Chief for the past several years.

Mr. Conway, in accepting the gift, gave some very interesting reminiscences of his experiences throughout the years. A social hour was spent and refreshments were served.

The Last Supper

In Milan, on the monastery wall.
The master painter chose to fresco all
Those faithful followers of Our Blessed Lord
Seated with Him, at meat, around the Board.
He finished James, with gentle, youthful face,
A body beautiful, and full of grace.
Matthew and Andrew, Philip, and the rest,
And John, who laid his head on Jesus' breast.

Daily, to Santa Maria delle Grazie,
That dark and ancient-beamed refectory.
On sandaled feet the aged Prior came
To view the growing picture with acclaim,
And wonder at strange pots of fragrant paint
With which Da Vinci coloured many a saint.
"You have not done the Judas," said the priest.
"The base betrayer at the Lord's Own Feast
Who grasped the money-bags, and vainly tried
His secret from the Son of God to hide!"

The artist smiled, as calmly, stroke on stroke,
He built his picture, then he turned and spoke:
"Pray, Reverend Father, do not bid me speed;
The mind is ever master of the deed;
Impatience is the foe of all true art,
And one must paint what is within the heart!
The two still-empty spaces at the Board,
Will be completed: Judas and Our Lord;
The face of Judas, which I have in mind,
Must portray all the baseness of mankind . . ."

Deep, troubled furrows lined Da Vinci's face;
He stopped to study John's appealing grace
Long and intently, knowing that to stand
In contemplation, staying of his hand
To view the startled gesture of each saint,
Was necessary as the brush and paint.

The Prior gone, Da Vinci pondered long
Over an ever-growing, long-felt wrong
Done by a friend; and though he oft had tried,
He could not overcome his angry pride.
"Revenge!" The thought appealed. Fist-clenched he Recalled the visage of his enemy.
"Here, frescoed on this old refectory wall,
This man shall stand as Judas So that all
The world may see and hate!" Thus, in the end,
His anger grew more bitter toward his friend.
For, as he worked and inspiration came,
It seemed this man and Judas were the same.

At last the task was finished to his mind.
"And now the Christ," he planned. "That tender, kind
And lovely countenance in the central place!
Surely no man can picture such a face!
I am unworthy!" Months and months he tried,
And finally, in desperation, cried:
"I have made James the Lesser and Saint John
Too beautiful for man to gaze upon;
To paint a face and form more lovely still Has never yet been done, or ever will!"

So nine years passed. He laboured, sorely tried,
Because the Prior was dissatisfied
And chided him that sands of time had run
And still the face of Christ remained undone—

He tossed and turned upon his couch, awake
Longing and eager for the day to break.
At last he slept, and in his fitful dream
He saw a radiant light, a golden beam
Of heavenly moonlight near his curtained bed;
A dim white form was standing at his head.

"Forget thy hate. Forgive thine erring friend,
'Ere all this torture can be at an end!"
He saw the form, the feet, the pleading hands
Of Him who walked the Galilean sands,
The Christ, who, hanging on the cross had said:
"Father, forgive them," then the lovely head
In startling beauty, came upon his sight
Clear-cut and radiant, though it was night.

A slow wind stirred the curtains. Morning crept
To touch Da Vinci's eyelids as he slept
A child-like sleep; his tired, sensitive hand
Still held the charcoal On the bedside stand
The guttering candle burned, which he had placed
Beside him, ere Christ's countenance he traced,
Before he dropped in deep, refreshing rest,
With a changed heart within his humble breast.

Da Vinci rose, and to his labour went
As one partaking of the Sacrament.
With careful brush he toiled through all the day,
From Judas wiping all the lines away;
Then, in the place of him whom he'd despised,
He saw a cunning stranger-face arise—
A face unknown. His pulsing heart was warm
Towards the friend whom he had planned to harm.
Blest, swift contrition wrapped him like a cloak,
As, to his soul, the Holy Spirit spoke.

"Sweet Christ, forgive," he murmured brokenly,
"No task is blessed except approved by Thee.
Man's greatest effort futile is, and weak,
Unless his soul be still to hear Thee speak."
Before the sun had set, he sought in tears
The man whom he had shunned for many years,
Old wounds were healed. With penitent surprise,
His friend found understanding in his eyes.
Love often turns to hate through man's mistake,
But hate may turn to love for Jesus' sake.

Months later, as his brush with tender stroke
The splendour of Christ's countenance awoke,
The eyes took life, the wond'rous loving glance,
The beauty of the brow's supreme expanse,
The resignation, as the Master said:
"There shall be one with whom I break this bread
Who shall betray Me." Surely, week by week,
Da Vinci must have heard his Saviour speak.
So real was his faultless artistry
One heard the startled question: "Is it I?"

The sunset lit the monastery floor,
The Prior came to watch, his duties o'er.
And on his knees fell, lost in holy awe
And wonder, at the miracle he saw;
For as Da Vinci worked, his countenance shone,
And lo, the face of Christ transformed his own!

About 25 Holstein-Friesian breeders were out to the annual meetin on Saturday last, in the Agricultur Boardroom.

It is o particular concern to breeders of pur bred cattle, depending a great de on the New York market for the sales. However, it was felt th breeders of grade cattle cannot a ford to neglect this serious problem It would be well to think about takin advantage of the benefits of the calf hood vaccination policy and take im mediate steps toward cleaning u their own herd for the sake of the own income, to say nothing of th menace to neighboring herds.

Other topics discussed by the members were the virtues of R.O.P. testing and keeping records, the need for accurate registration papers, th inaccuracy of which often holds u export sales, and the need of mor paid up members in the Club, made up of Holstein breeders and anyon interested in the breeding of pur bred Holsteins in this County.

THE SLOT MACHINE

The Ontario Government has taken a firm hand with respect to slot machines. The problem of the slot machine has baffled the law enforcement officers for a long time. Now the matter has been settled in a thoroughgoing and efficient manner. It is illegal to hold one. There is no property interest in them. Any slot machine can be confiscated and the owner has only one recourse, and that is to prove that the machine is not a slot machine. This should put out of business one of the most pernicious forms of gambling to come into the Province.

Now that the Drew Government has set its hand to this matter, it is to be hoped it will go further and take active measures to prevent the gambling which has taken on such large proportions at our Fall Fairs. At these fairs the amusement companies are supposed to keep away from all gambling devices, but anyone who visits the Fall fairs in Ontario knows only too well that there are all sorts of gambling activities carried on by the amusement companies. These managed to take out of the community large amounts of money, by means of these games of chance.

Of course, it is natural that commercial interests will try to capitalize on the gambling proclivities of people when the gambling habit is fostered and cultivated as it is in so many instances by the almost universal way in which the public is led to take a chance on this and that and the other. Those who are interested in the welfare of youth cannot but be apprehensive at the prevalence of opportunities held out to youth to make money easy. Fundamentally the practice is wrong. Perhaps a real bit of education on the subject is what is most needed — th esort of education that will stir men's consciences.

ONE SMALLOW DOES NOT MAKE A SUMMER

One swallow, or robin for that matter — does not make a summer. We make the mistake almost every Spring, of thinking that it does. We hear the robins and we are quite sure that Summer is here. Our memories in this and in most other matters are notoriously short. Last year and the year before and the year before that, we vowed we would never be led to conclude that Summer was here—or even Spring—when we heard the robins. Well then, when we do hear them, all our fine promises vanish like snow from a deck. One thrill or chirp from a robin, one fine warm day, and we feel like getting off the double windows, letting the furnace out, and puttering around the garden.

Well the inevitable happens—Spring is an uncertain jade. No sooner has the robin returned and everything seems set for a spell of Spring when down drops the thermometer and with it our spirits, and along comes the snow and our promises never again to bank on the robin are reaffirmed.

But we have to go through April, through the wet and the slush, and the change of temperature. It is the same every year, and we might as well get used to it—though we never do. However, in a week or two, or three or four, we will forget all about this uncertainty as we watch the tulips and the daffodils and the hyacinths and the crocus coming into bloom. Anyway, in spite of all our disappointments with the spring weather, the sap is running and we are sure of a bit of taffy and a taste of syrup—if we can get the ration cards. There are some compensations for the vagaries of a Canadian Spring.

THE FATE OF THE JEWS

No more tragic or pitiful story of human suffering has ever been written than that which has been recorded on the pages of Jewish and world history during the past five years. Subjected to every indignity, hundreds of thousands tortured and killed by the most scientifically inhuman methods, the record is one that future generations who view them in their proper perspective will read with a sense of shame and horror. The Nazis have, ever since they came to power, used every device that the ingenuity of man could provide to break the spirit of the Jews, to humiliate and exterminate them.

There was one ray of hope. Under the Balfour Declaration of 1917, the Jewish people were promised the opportunity to establish a national home in Palestine. In May of 1939, the Chamberlain Government repudiated the arrangement — the cancellation of the right of Jews to enter Palestine was to take effect on April 1st, 1944. At that time, the present Premier of Great Britain denounced the appeasement policy of Chamberlain in no uncertain manner. Leopold Amery, Hubert Morrison and other leaders in the British House of Commons backed up Winston Churchill in his endeavour to have the measure defeated. But the motion carried, and the Jews, as at April 1st of this year, are forbidden to migrate to Palestine without the consent of a majority of the Arabs.

This is a sad situation. Why it has been permitted no one can tell. What influences have been at work in the British Cabinet to prevent the Prime Minister from doing what he pleaded with the Chamberlain Government to do, is not apparent. At all events, the one hope of the Jewish people that they could have a city of refuge, a place which they can call their own, a state which is their homeland, has been denied them by action of the present British Government. Loud and long expressions of sorrow and grief over the plight of the Jews, have a rather uncertain ring in the light of failure of the British Government to repudiate the appeasement policy of Chamberlain.

All over the English speaking world an effort has been made to bring the British Government to the place where it would implement the Balfour Agreement, but without avail. Civic bodies, prominent citizens, churches and church groups have done their best, but to all such, officialdom has turned a deaf ear.

Dr. Norman McLean, former Moderator of The Church of Scotland, has written: "It is abundantly clear to the unbiased mind that Palestine cannot be entrusted to the rule of the Arabs. That would be as if wild Pathans were entrusted with the government of India, or the Eire Republican Army with the sovereignty of the British Empire. Knowledge cannot be made subject to ignorance, nor culture to fanaticism. No country can be safely entrusted to those to whom massacre is a means of government.

"It is otherwise with the Jew. For in an age of indifference he has cherished the ethical ideals of his race, and has never forgotten that the Jew gave the world standards of conduct which men have so often honoured with their lips and have disregarded in their acts. The legal code of the Mosaic Law has been the foundation of every legal system of the Western world. From the desert Moses still moulds and shapes the lives of Teutons and Celts . . . For 1,000 years of blood and fire the Jew has thrown himself on the divine justice and walked humbly with his God . . . I cannot even imagine the Jews in this our day throwing away the ideals of their fathers and turning themselves into oppressors and law-breakers."

The time will come when future rulers of Great Britain will look with shame on the present evasion of duty and in a spirit of humiliation and justice grant that these people, whose only sin is the accident of birth, be allowed their place among the peoples of the world, with a homeland of their own.

A GREAT MAN

The death of Brigadier Wingate in an aeroplane crash in Burma, is a loss that cannot be overestimated. A great many stories of this unusual man were in circulation. Cousin of the late "Lawrence of Arabia," Wingate was himself a legendary figure, even while alive. Out of the mess of legendary and half-legendary material which had been gathered around "Wingate" a recent writer, Charles J. Rolo, has given the complete picture of this man and his exploits in a book just off the press, "Wingate's Raiders." It is an amazing story of a young man still in his twenties, who has had a career that puts in the shade some of the figures of legend and story. Early in 1942 he led a force of British troops into the jungles of Burma. There, behind the Japanese lines, this group of intrepid, well trained jungle fighters, cut communications, harrassed the enemy and beat the Japanese at their own game. Consistently refusing to be drawn into a fight, these raiders flitted from place to place upsetting the plans of the enemy and filling them with terror and fear.

The food and provisions were dropped from aeroplanes, regularly. Small patches would be carved out of the jungle and a radio message sent out giving location and a list of supplies. These were then dropped by parachute and the raiders were off again on another exploit. This kept on until the Monsoons threatened and the raiders were left to get out of the country on their own. They had to live on the country as they travelled; many died, but those who survived were living skeletons when they reached civilization. They had learned the art of jungle fighting at the hands of a young man of ability, courage and imagination.

Wingate was a bit of a mystic. He has been compared by many with an Old Testament prophet. He was a deeply religious man, with a burning passion and a sense of Divine mission. But he was no fanatic. The success of his raid into Burma was not due to chance. Every possible contingency had been anticipated, and his group of hand-picked men were ready when the test came. Their training was as rigorous and as exacting as that to which any army was ever subjected.

Now he has been killed. He is one of the great war casualties. His place will be hard to fill. And yet, in the experiment he made, he was able to fire others with his enthusiasm and with his confidence and faith. The lessons he learned were learned by others, too. Some jungle fighter, a pupil of this unusual man, will carry on where he left off. Though Wingate has gone, the methods he inaugurated and the manner of their accomplishment will form the pattern for the United Nations in their present struggle in Burma and in other struggles which will follow when the final test comes and the Nipponese are forced out of Burma.

Frost Budget Endorsed C.C.F. Division Downed

Debate Ends With Vote 50 to 27 Against Opposition Bloc— Great Post-War Plan

The Ontario Legislature by a vote of 50 to 27 has endorsed the Drew Government budget.

When the budget debate was concluded last Tuesday the C.C.F. Opposition moved an amendment to the budget brought down by Hon. Leslie Frost, Provincial Treasurer. The amendment was quickly defeated with the Liberals and Labor-Progressive members lining up with the Government against the C. C. F.

It was the third time since the session opened and the second within 24 hours that the opposition has caused a division vote in the House. On all three occasions the government emerged victorious.

A motion to have the House go into committee of supply to consider the budget report was carried by 50 to 27.

Premier Drew in concluding the budget debate said it was not his intention to draw out the debate any longer. He said that in view of the fact that his remarks would revolve around education it would be best to delay making his comment until the section on education came up in the estimates.

Referring to postwar rehabilitation the Premier said the $100,000 set aside for planning and development was simply for the expenses of the new planning department.

The Premier said the four year plan of the highways department, for instance, involved an estimated cost of $191,000,000.

The planning and Development Department would produce plans for housing, reconstruction, etc., on which suggestions of every member would be welcome, he said.

"There is one glory of the sun, and another of the moon and another glory of the stars; for one star differeth from another in glory. So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption; it is raised in incorruption." With this analogy Paul deals with the great problem of immortality. He says in effect that the stars and the sun, indeed all the manifestations of nature, have a magnificence all their own, and yet they are all different. The glory of the moon is not the glory of the sun, and the glory of the sun is not the glory of the stars. So the glory of the physical body is not the same as that of the eternal spiritual body. When we die our bodies go back to the earth our spirits, which are our real selves, go on. That was what Paul meant when he spoke of the corruptible putting on the incorruptible.

One of the greatest losses to our religious life within the past quarter of a century has been a waning faith in immortality. Rarely does a person hear a sermon on the subject, unless it be at a funeral service. The humanistic philosophy which placed the human being at the centre of the universe is, to a large extent, responsible for this waning faith in immortality. The modern man thinks all too little about the future life. The result on our whole social and economic organization is inevitable. When men and women live only for the present, they become selfish, hard, and exacting. Our civilization is a result of this surface view of life.

Perhaps one of the results of this present struggle will be a return to a more deep, more realistic view of immortality. To be sure a faith in a future life raises many problems, but to deny that faith raises even more problems. We cannot prove the immortality of the soul as we prove a problem in mathematics. It is not demonstratable by any rules of logic. It is a matter of faith. It is an affirmation of faith. But that does not detract from its reality. There are many other matters we cannot prove but the truth of which there is no denying. The knowledge gained by a living faith is as real and as vital for the believer as though it were as demonstrable [illegible] make four.

One of the features [illegible] tated against a [illegible] immortality of the [illegible] we have spent [illegible] about it. After all we [illegible] admit that immortality [illegible] and then go on and live [illegible] of immortality, rather [illegible] time in useless [illegible] ject. - "I know that my Redeemer liveth," was the affirmation of Job. How did he know? Well, I know the man born blind - that is, once I was blind. Now I [illegible] arguing, no attempt at [illegible] just affirming a deep and [illegible] against which there [illegible] argument.

What difference does it [illegible] whether I believe or not? That is the legitimate question [illegible] place it gives us a peace [illegible] and a sense of the dignity and [illegible] of life, that we can get on [illegible] basis.

Not only so, but a faith in [illegible] ality enables us to live as in the [illegible] of eternity. If this is all; if [illegible] end of the day we believe [illegible] "gas," as rubbish to be [illegible] we live only for the things [illegible] present. Our plans are made [illegible] world for here and now. But [illegible] in the permanence of life we [illegible] all our actions all our [illegible] and colour all our plans and [illegible] ments. Only let us live in the [illegible] of eternity and there can be [illegible] way measures, no slighting of [illegible] ing our work, no selfishness and [illegible]

Paul believed in immortality [illegible] over which he gloried most [illegible] fact that Jesus, by His death [illegible] surrection had conquered [illegible] death. That is the Christian [illegible] that is our hope, and in [illegible] of that, we live and move and [illegible] our being.

Easter brings a reaffirmation [illegible] that faith. It is no accident [illegible] Easter comes in the spring. [illegible] there is new life everywhere, [illegible] the whole earth comes to life [illegible] full of promise and hope. [illegible] Providence of God Easter comes [illegible] the spring, and brings from [illegible] sure a confirmation of the [illegible] hope in the resurrection of the [illegible]

"If You Can't Go Active Go Reserve" Still Holds Good!

THIS WAR IS FAR FROM WON YET; TOO MANY OF YOU FAIL TO REALIZE THIS. REGARDLESS OF WHAT YOU THINK ABOUT THE NEED FOR THE RESERVE ARMY, OUR MILITARY LEADERS HOLD IT TO BE A VERY VITAL ORGANIZATION IN OUR WAR EFFORT; AND WE HAVE AGAIN BEEN URGED TO BRING OUR UNIT UP TO STRENGTH. IT IS POINTED OUT TO US THAT THE NEED FOR A STRONG WELL-TRAINED RESERVE ARMY IN CANADA IS GREATER NOW THAN AT ANY TIME SINCE THE WAR BEGAN. SOME TIME IN THE NEAR FUTURE CANADA'S ACTIVE FORCES MAY BE DRAINED FROM THE COUNTRY; THEN WILL BE THE TIME FOR THE ENEMY TO START AN ACTIVE CAMPAIGN OF SABOTAGE AND DESTRUCTION OF OUR WAR PLANTS AND TRANSPORTATION SYSTEM. THE PRESENCE OF A WELL-TRAINED RESERVE ARMY WHICH CAN BE CALLED OUT QUICKLY IN ANY EMERGENCY WILL BE AN IMPORTANT FACTOR TO BE TAKEN INTO ACCOUNT WHEN HE IS MAKING THESE PLANS.

YOU OWE IT TO YOURSELF, YOUR FAMILY AND YOUR COUNTRY TO BE TRAINED AND READY TO PLAY YOUR PART AS A MAN IN ANY EMERGENCY THAT MAY ARISE.

NOT MANY OF YOU CAN HONOURABLY SAY THAT YOU CAN'T GIVE ONE NIGHT A WEEK TO YOUR COUNTRY. THIS LETTER IS TO YOU! NO ONE IS TOO GOOD TO BE A SOLDIER; DON'T LOOK AROUND FOR SOMEONE ELSE TO GO FIRST BUT COME TO THE ARMOURIES ANY TUESDAY OR THURSDAY AND OFFER YOUR SERVICES.

WE HAVE THE MEN AND THE EQUIPMENT; IN FACT THE MOST MODERN EQUIPMENT OBTAINABLE TO TRAIN YOU. YOU WILL FIND IT INTERESTING AND AT THE SAME TIME YOU WILL KNOW YOU ARE DOING YOUR DUTY.

This is one in a series of messages explaining problems of electric supply to farm and hamlet consumers served direct by The Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario.

Uniform Rural Meter Rate Anywhere in Ontario

Our last advertisement illustrated the reductions which will apply to farm and hamlet services in most areas in the Province. Herein we give some of the reasons for and benefits of the new Uniform Meter Rate.

The cost of rural electric service is made up of two main parts:

(1) The cost of providing electricity in bulk at convenient central points (substations);

(2) The cost of distributing this electricity from these substations to the user.

Since electricity cannot be stored, it is necessary to provide lines made up of poles, conductor, transformers, etc., to carry the electricity from the substation to the consumer so that each user will have service available at the flip of a switch. To the cost of building these lines must be added the cost of maintaining and operating them.

Electric service rates originally included a Service Charge to cover the cost of distribution, plus a meter rate to cover the cost of the bulk electricity at the substation. The Province was divided into a number of rural power districts created around available substations without particular regard to township or county boundaries. Each of these districts had its own meter rate, varying from a high of 6c, 2c and 3½c to a low of 2½c, 1½c and ¾c.

During the past twenty years many complications and inequalities have arisen in trying to maintain the identity of these districts. Therefore in order to provide suitable service to all at the lowest and fairest cost, the 120 Rural Power Districts have been combined into one Provincial Rural Power System with a Uniform Meter Rate of 4c, 1-6/10c and ¾c. Now, all Rural Power Consumers anywhere in the Province pay the same meter rate. This Uniform Rate represents a reduction in most of the old districts and an increase in only a few districts formerly having a very low rate.

These explanatins are given to help you understand the new rate. In our next message, we shall discuss, for your benefit, the MINIMUM BILL. In the meantime, if you need further information, please ask your Rural District Superintendent.

THE HYDRO-ELECTRIC POWER COMMISSION OF ONTARIO

In order to have a complete understanding of the new rural rates we suggest you clip and keep these explanations.

After six months at a new factory, the superintendent developed a feeling that he wasn't popular, so he called aside an old worker. "Bill," said the superintendent, "how is it the men don't seem to like me? Why, at the last place they gave me a silver tea pot when I left." "Only a silver teapot?" said the candid worker. "If you'd only leave here we'd make it a whole silver tea service."

Magistrate's Court

In the Magistrate's Court Monday afternoon, Gerald Courneya, manager of the Queen's Hotel, Tamworth, pleaded guilty to assaulting Walter McDonald, and was fined $15.00 and costs by Magistrate Garvin.

Mr. J. M. Simpson, K.C., who appeared for Mr. Courneya, stated to the Court that he had advised Mr Courneya to enter a plead of guilty because technically he was guilty of the offence, although the injuries inflicted on Mr. McDonald were not the result of action by Mr. Courneya. Mr. Courneya, in his evidence, stated that McDonald and R. Boomhour were wrestling on the floor in the beverage room of the hotel on Tuesday night, March 14, and that he left his duties in the tap-room and separated the two men. Shortly after, they got into a fight again and Mc-Donald was also in a fight with S. Storrings. The men were pulled apart by some of the other patrons of the beverage room and there was a general mix-up. Then McDonald started to fight with him, Courneya said, and he struck McDonald with his fists but did not cut him. McDonald fell to the floor, where there was considerable broken glass and somehow, in the mix-up, he sustained cuts on his face, which required several stitches to close and also lost two front teeth. During the fracas McDonald was rendered unconscious by a blow, but regained consciousness some hours later after being put to bed in the hotel, following treatment by Dr. Hunt, of Marlbank.

The Magistrate advised Courneya that, although it was his duty to keep order in the beverage room, he should seek police aid if there was disorder in the hotel. Mr. Courneya explained that the only constable in the village was working in Kingston and the nearest police officer is in Napanee.

Francis McAlister, Bath, charged with assault, was remanded for hearing until April 13th.

OBITUARIES

LATE MRS. THOMAS WOODS
(Contributed)

Brownsburg, N.Y.—One of the most respected and beloved residents of Brownsburg was removed by death, in the person of Mrs. Thomas Woods. Mrs. Woods had been in failing health for some time, but for the most part was able to enjoy home life and the visitations of relatives and friends. Of a cheerful disposition and keen mentality, these visits to her were a great pleasure and were shared equally by those from far and near who frequented her home. In her 90th year, having reached her 89th birthday on March 1st, Mrs. Woods possessed a buoyancy of spirit which characterized her long life. After being confined to bed about two weeks, she passed peacefully away on Thursday morning, March 16th.

Formerly Miss Annie Mariah Moore, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Moore, of Napanee, Ont., Mrs. Woods with her former husband, the late George Woods, came to Brownsburg from Napanee forty-four years ago, also their daughter Evelyn Victoria, now Mrs. Paul Martin, of Brownsburg. In 1907 Mrs. Woods, widow of the late George Woods, married Mr. Thomas Woods Brownsburg, and with her husband moved to Stanyerville. They returned to Brownsburg two years later, where Mr. Woods built an attractive home and there they lived through the intervening years.

Mrs. Woods will be greatly missed from the circle of life in which she made so large a contribution.

The funeral was held Saturday afternoon from her late residence to the United Church of which she, with her husband, had been a staunch and active member. The service which was largely attended was conducted by her minister, the Rev. S. J. Pike, who spoke in high terms of the deceased as well as words of comfort to the bereaved. Many of the floral tributes — including beautiful wreath specially contributed by the neighbors, and one by the Senior Ladies' Auxiliary of the United Church, to which she belonged and who always remembered her birthday by meeting at her home and presenting an appropriate token.

She leaves to mourn her loss her devoted husband, a daughter, Mrs. Paul Martin, of Brownsburg, and adopted daughter and son, Miss Ethel at home and William, of Montreal, seven grandchildren and eleven great-grandchildren; also a brother, Mr. Moore, of Napanee, Ont., as well as seven nieces and three nephews to all of whom the community extends its heartfelt sympathy.

NAPANEE BOYS PRIZE WINNERS IN BIRDHOUSE CONTEST

Sponsored by the Lennox and Addington Fish and Game Protective Association and with the co-operation of Mr. Albert Hill, Principal of the West Ward Public School, many local boys were prize winners at the Annual Bird House Building Contest held by the Kingston Rod and Gun Club at the LaSalle Hotel in Kingston, on Thursday, March 30th. Through the kindness of Messrs. S. Goodridge Chas. Walters and Harry Vine many of the boys were taken down to the Show and all report a very interesting and profitable entertainment. This was the first year the boys from the Napanee District entered the contest and the enthusiasm displayed in taking up the work speaks well for any future events of such kind in this locality. A pleasing feature of this work was the talent in design and the care in construction shown by the boys which speaks well for the training they get in the schools.

It was hoped that the houses could have been on display locally but circumstances prevented a showing in Napanee. Many were sold at the show further encouraging the lads in the work, besides bringing them good prizes.

The lads had 26 entries and those entering one or more were G. Storey, D. Clarke, I. Wagar, B. Pretts, K. Storey, D. Pettit, R. Mowers, D. Johnson, H. Grass Bob Hall, Paul Ketcheson, R. Knapp, M. Thorpe, C. MacGarvey, D. Dish, H. McGreer, W. Huffman, F. Dibb and R. Babcock. The prize winners were: Paul Ketcheson, who won the Challenge Cup for the Best House in the Show, presented by Mr. Peters, president of the Kingston Rod and Gun Club; special prize to D. Pettit; prizes for age group: I Wagar, B. Mowers, B. Pretts, D. Clark, K. Storey and Bob Hall. A team prize of a Sunshine baseball and bat, was also won by the school for the greatest number of entries.

The performance was staged in the Airmen's Mess Hall, with Flight Lieutenant Woolley, Adjutant acting as Master of Ceremonies.

Prizes presented included a photograph album from Shiteh Studios to L.A.C. Richard Wood for his classic rendition of "Danny Boy"; a pair of wallets donated by Mayhew's Jewellery to Corpl. THE LATE ROBERT RENNIE

The funeral of the late Robert Rennie, who passed away at his home on Prince Street, Desoronto, after a two weeks' illness, took place on Wednesday afternoon with Canon C. E. S. Radcliffe conducting the service at the house and grave.

Deceased was born in Fredericksburgh, almost 80 years ago, son of the late John Rennie and his wife Margaret Grenet. He was married in 1895 to Eleanor Bowen, daughter of the late William Bowen and his wife Sarah Porte who then resided where Dawson's Camp now stands.

They went to live on the farm now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Clement, Desoronto Road and resided there for 43 years, coming to Desoronto one year ago, owing to Mr. Rennie's failing health. Two children were born to them (Marion) Mrs. Joseph Goold, who passed away about twelve years ago, and Thomas, who died when only four years of age.

Besides his widow, a granddaughter, Betty Goold, nurse in training at St. Catharines, survives. One of a family of thirteen only two remain, sister, Mrs. R. J. Kelton (Agnes) of Vancouver, and one brother (Alex.) of Pearson, Manitoba.

Bearers were all former neighbours of the deceased when he lived on the Desoronto Road: Henry Clement, Percy VanVlack, Herbert Aylsworth, Claude Thompson, Clinton and Ross Rendell. Among the beautiful floral tributes received was one from Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Goold, Buffalo, N. Y., and Betty Goold, St. Catharines. Interment was made in the Desoronto Cemetery near where he had spent much of his life. Many neighbours and friends followed him to his last resting place.

Control of silk, nylon, rayon, hemp sisal and their manufactures is being transferred to the Prices Board.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

This column is sponsored by the Regional Office, Wartime Prices and Trade Board. Questions on price control, ration regulations and other Wartime Prices and Trade Board rulings should be mailed to: Information Branch, Wartime Prices and Trade Board, Victoria Building, Brockville, Ont.

Q. Are the first ten F coupons in the No. 3 ration books to be used only to buy canning sugar?

A. Consumers who prefer to use them for the purchase of preserves will be allowed to exchange them, after they have become valid, for preserves coupons. The exchange is to be made at Local Ration Boards.

Q. My landlord gave me notice to vacate a self-contained apartment on the ground that he intended to occupy the premises for a year. Within a month he re-rented the accommodation. Is this permissible?

A. No. Your former landlord has evidently violated the rentals regulations. Please furnish the nearest office of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board with particulars.

Q. Will it be possible to obtain more electric stoves this year?

A. Yes. Arrangements have been made to manufacture a limited number of them, as well as more range-tes and grills. They may not however, reach the market for some time.

Q. When buying tooth paste or shaving cream, is it necessary now to turn in empty tubes?

A. This is no longer required, but everyone has been asked to do so voluntarily so that the metal content of the used tubes may be available for salvage and re-use.

Q. Are visitors from the United States allowed to apply for canning sugar?

A. Yes. They will be permitted to apply to Local Ration Boards for canning sugar and obtain it as long as they specify their need for it.

Q. I had a soldier for six meals. May I apply for extra rations on that account?

A. I am afraid not. You receive one sugar or one tea or coffee or one preserves or two butter coupons for every nine meals served to service men. It is better to wait until the extra ration cards they give you have a number of meals divisible by nine before applying for such rations.

Q. Does the absence of an application card from the new ration books mean that there will be no more rationing after they have lapsed?

A. Not necessarily. The cover of the new books can be used in lieu of an application card, and this will save paper.

RATION COUPON CALENDAR

BUTTER — Coupons 54, 55 and 56 are now valid and will expire April 30th. Coupon 57 will fall due April 13th.

SUGAR — Coupons 14 to 29 (inclusive) are now valid and will remain so until declared invalid. Coupons 30 and 31 (No. 4 book) will fall due April 13th.

PRESERVES — Coupons D1 to D16 (inclusive) are now valid and will remain so until declared invalid. Preserves coupons 17 and 18 (new book) will fall due on April 13th.

TEA OR COFFEE — Coupons 14 to 29 and E1 to E6 are now valid and will remain so until declared invalid. Coupons T30 and T31 (new book) will fall due April 20th.

CANNING SUGAR — Spare F coupons 1 to 5 (inclusive) in ration book 3 will fall due May 25th and spare coupons F6 to F10 on July 6th, for the purchase of sugar for home canning at the rate of one pound per coupon. On application at Local Ration Boards after they fall due they may be converted into preserves coupons.

EVAPORATED MILK — Application may be made to Local Ration Boards for special G coupons for the purchase of evaporated milk or partly skimmed evaporated milk for infant feeding or medical cases. Such applications for those over two years of age must be supported by medical certificates.

NEW RATION BOOKS START ON APRIL 13TH

The first of the coupons in the new No. 4 ration books to fall due will be sugar and preserves coupons that become valid in the hands of consumers on Thursday, April 13. These are the red sugar coupons 30 and 31 and yellow preserves coupons 17 and 18.

The last of the coupons in the No. 3 book will fall due on the same day, when consumers will be obliged to carry both their No. 3 and No. 4 books with them if they wish to buy all the rationed goods to which they are entitled. This will be butter coupon No. 57.

The Local Ration Board points out that sugar, preserves and tea or coffee coupons belonging to the No. 3 book and as yet uncashed will continue to possess value for the purchase of rationed goods until they have been declared invalid. Due notice of such date of expiry will be given well in advance.

There is another important reason why consumers should retain their No. 3 books and should not allow them to become lost or mislaid. It lies in the fact that the first ten spare F coupons in that book are to become valid at later dates for the purchase of sugar for home canning. The first five of these will fall due May 25 and the second five on July 6th. Each of these 10 coupons will have a value of one pound of sugar for home canning purposes.

ONTARIO JUVENILE CRIME INCREASES

Toronto, (C.P.) — The annual report of the Commissioner of the Ontario Provincial Legislature, said that in the year ended last December 31 "there was an increase of 69 per cent. in the number of juvenile offenders between the ages of 10 and 16 years who appeared before the courts, there being 597 as against 353 in 1942."

"Much has been said and volumes written regarding the present problem," the report said, "but until parents are made to realize the first responsibility in training their children is theirs and not the state's, the church's or the school's, there is little hope of improvement."

The report said that in 26 crashes of R.C.A.F. planes, 27 persons were killed.

CHILDREN'S AID AT WORK

This is a Series of Articles Concerning Children's Aid Work — Prepared by the Association of Children's Aid Societies of the Province of Ontario,—Article 5.

The last article outlined some of the statutory duties of the Children's Aid Society in every community — responsibilities which are defined under the Children's Protection Act and the Unmarried Parents' Act. But it must be clearly pointed out that the very first effort of the Society is to keep the child in its own home and to raise the standards of that home to make this possible.

Failing this, legislation, as has been shown, provides the Society with legal instruments to investigate cases of cruelty and neglect on a very broad basis. If it becomes necessary the Society obtains evidence and lays charges in court and thereafter, upon the Judge's or magistrate's order, assumes guardianship for a child, either on a temporary or permanent basis. In such cases the child becomes a permanent or temporary ward of the Society which acts toward him in every respect as his natural parent.

What is the concept of these responsibilities of guardianship by the Society toward a little boy or girl whose own parents are either dead, or unworthy and incapable of giving them their birthright as Canadian citizens?

Let us inspect for a moment the "Canadian Children's Charter" which has recently been prepared by the Montreal Council of Social Agencies. It is the hope of the Council that this Charter will receive the endorsation of the Canadian Child Welfare field as a dynamic instrument for policy and publicity. Its value lies in its positive and simplified statement of every child's right and every citizen's duty. It states in the plainest possible terms the concept of the Children's Aid Society as to the rights of all children and certainly of those who come under its care. Here it is:—

"LET US ENSURE TO EVERY CHILD IN CANADA"

1 A HOME where he is wanted and loved.
2 ADEQUATE FAMILY INCOME, decent housing in good surroundings, nourishing food, suitable clothes.
3 GOOD HEALTH by providing sufficient medical, dental and mental health services;
4 OPPORTUNITIES FOR SPIRITUAL GROWTH and the development of sound values in preparation for responsible citizenship.
5 WHOLESOME PLAY in his home and in his neighborhood.
5 EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES suited to his needs.
7 EMPLOYMENT, when he is ready at work for which he is fitted and in which he can grow.

Reference was made in Article four to the vision shown by pioneers of the child protection movement in Ontario. In clear and unmistakeable language they stated that the ideal of care for children coming under the responsibility of the Children's Aid Society was to establish them in foster homes, temporary institutional shelter only being provided until such arrangement could be made. At the founding of the Hamilton Children's Aid Society in 1894 the Hon. John Gibson, who framed the Children's Protection Act, made special reference to this provision in the legislation.

So that we find in the earliest days of the child protection movement a modern concept being advanced — that the ideal is to provide the neglected, abandoned or abused little boy or girl with the nearest approach to a natural home and loving parents. One of the greatest responsibilities of any Society is to find good foster homes for their wards and thereafter to constantly visit these homes in the interests of both the child and the foster parent. In many Societies we find a Foster Parent's Association part of the whole organization. This is a democratic body, officered by the Foster Parents themselves and in constant touch with the Society, which often makes available lectures, discussion groups, etc., which are welcomed by the parents and are successful in promoting the highest and most intelligent standards in child care.

In other words, the child must never be placed out and forgotten or only casually visited by his Society. The Society has the responsibility for being as a parent to the children committed to its charge—of providing through its staff and foster homes the love and affection which the children have missed in their own homes and of striving by every means to create and sustain in the children that sense of security which is so essential to their normal development and which has either been seriously shaken or is missing altogether in their lives."

Volumes could be written about thousands of our foster homes in this province. There can surely be no higher function that good citizens can perform in society than to take under their roof a child deprived of everything he should normally have and give to him the love, the care, the opportunities and the standards which will not only make him happy, but will give to the community a healthy, good-principled, useful citizen later on. Thousands of foster parents are doing this for our children of Ontario today. And we need still more foster homes!

The utmost care in selecting the foster home, a sense of comradeship established between the big family of foster parents and the society, mutual confidence and esteem between the Society's staff and the parents and their foster children is the ideal of the good Society. This ideal goes far beyond the demands of legislation. It requires the highest social and spiritual principles on the part of experienced and qualified social workers. It requires the active support, encouragement and intelligent understanding from you—the men and women of the community— who through membership on the Board and Committees can help to set the standards for your Society. The next article will deal with adoptions.

INTERESTING LETTER COVERS 4 YEARS OF ACTIVE SERVICE

PTE. MARLIN WRITES FROM ITALY

The following letter, from Private D. F. Marlin, now in Italy, to his mother, Mrs. J. Claire, Deseronto, was brought in by Mrs. C. C. Young. Pte. Marlin is a son-in-law of Mrs. Grace Young, South Napanee.

Italy, January 2, 1944.

Dear Mother and All:—

A few more lines to say I am fine, and hope this finds you in the best of health. I wrote you last night and as a result I have nothing much to write about this evening, unless I give you an idea of what it has been like for us this past four years, — a sort of a four year story.

After leaving home in 1939 we had a lovely trip by train to Halifax where we were put aboard the ship in a hurry and anchored out in the harbour for four days before sailing. I sent you a telegram from the docks. As we moved across "The Pond", we saw several lone ships which were all accounted for, and on the fourth day out we had a bit of excitement as we saw what looked to be a submarine on the surface, but which turned out to be a whale, my first view of one. On Christmas Eve, we had all the Christmas decorations up and a sort of concert which was very good. Our Christmas dinner was very good, but for some it was spoiled due to the fact we were in the midst of a real good storm, and for the next two days we were not allowed out on deck. Two days before, we came to shore a plane came out to escort our convoy in as there had been a submarine seen in our area. Nothing happened until one evening just after dark we could see the outline of land and were soon sailing along a river which turned out to be the Clyde. We spent the last day of the year in Scotland anchored in mid river. What a lovely sight to see, —honest to goodness land.

We went ashore in the evening and travelled all night and part of the next day till we arrived in Aldershot, it was a lovely place, "so we thought then."

Finally we had orders to pack. It was exciting for us as we were sure that we were on our way to France, but instead we found ourselves in the Midlands, where we were billeted in private homes, and it was one of the best places we ever were, as the people used us as if we were their own.

Then again we had a hurried move, it must be France this time, but "no" it was Aldershot again.

A few weeks later we had to pack again, and this time we heard it was France for sure, but when we arrived near Dover word came through to go back as Dunkirk (our port in France), was then covered with R.A.F. boys trying to be evacuated. So again we returned to Aldershot, but once again we started and this time we landed at Brest, in France, where we boarded a train for Paris, (I had a whole box car to myself). Going up the line we met train load after train load coming back down the line, we found out why — Jerry was in Paris. We stopped about thirty miles out of Paris and returned to Brest (on the double), but most of the ships had gone so we all crowded on the three that were left and after looking back at old Brest, we sailed back to England.

We next moved to Surrey, a lovely county in the south of England, and for a year all our schemes, route marches, inspections etc. were doubled over and over again. From here we saw the Jerry planes come over by the thousands and had our first casualties.

We next moved to Sussex on the south coast, a wonderful part of England, and for another year we patrolled the beaches, ever on the alert for Jerry to come over but he was too wise.

Another move, and this time it was again to Scotland where we went through invasion training and believe me it was tough at times.

We boarded a big ship equipped to carry troops and to land them by small L.C.V.'s and after spending nearly a month on it we sailed out to sea and formed a convoy, and started for "God knew where we did not." After some days of this we could see we were heading south, and we were all a wonder what part of the world we were going to invade, and everyone was giving his idea of where it was. The fifth day the Captain had us all out and told us after some speech that Sicily was our objective, a few let out cheers others had a very pale look about them, and we were all very excited. Our convoy passed Gibraltar during the night and we could see the lights on shore. Next morning we were well into the Mediterranean Sea, and from then on other convoys fell in with us until as far as you could see were ships—what a wonderful and awe inspiring sight. Night came and with it came the wind and by the time we were about eight miles off the Sicily coast, it was so rough that the whole thing looked as if it could not be done but we got our orders to move off so we went in single file to our small craft and were lowered to the water below a wave hit our boat and I thought the bottom was gone but we managed to pull away from the Mother ship. As we were around in circles waiting to head for shore I could see hundreds of boats doing the same thing. Excitement ran high for we were all realizing that this was real, and that in a few hours we would be on enemy soil trading shots with Wops and Jerrys and knowing that we would not all be able to see the sun rise that morning. We finally heard the order to make ready to land then we all checked our ammunition and made sure our guns were loaded and ready to fire and by then the boat touched shore and down into the water to our waists and waded to shore and threw ourselves down into firing positions with water lapping at our legs, so far we were in luck and no shots had been fired, but I for one was shaking just as hard as if there were a million shots going. To think we were on enemy soil — what a thrill — the first to be on enemy territory. In the next few seconds not a sound could you hear till one of the sigs. whispered and said he just heard the news on the wireless he carried that the troops had landed in Sicily and we had only been on shore about seven minutes. All of a sudden a tremendous explosion took place on my left as our hangator tubes blew up the barb wire entanglement on shore, soon we were running through the gap taking up positions on the edge of a grape patch amidst some bamboo and then the firing started but it did not last long as Jerry had left the Wops to guard the shore and being Wops, they took out for the hills and daylight found us marching down the shore road. Our casualties were only two—what a landing! We organized and moved inland and for the next few days we spent our time marching further inland, only a few snipers to hold us up. We had only a few run-ins with the Wops but had a few casualties and by then the Italians were coming in by the hundreds, beaten and ragged. We then ran into our first of the Jerrys, the Herman Goering Panzer Division and had a few dough goes but we still pushed them back, town after town fell into our hands until we got to the centre of Sicily. We moved through the Jerry's lines one night to take one of the highest hills on the Island. We were cut off for two days on the hill ((Assors) with no food but after taking a big pounding our supplies came through and once again we were ready to push on. We passed through the R.C.R.'s on Saturday night late and went on across country, and just before daylight two figures were seen a few yards ahead of us and when they were challenged they broke out into German and all hell broke loose. We had just about walked into a trap for an hour before daylight the air was lit up by tracer machine gun bullets, and rifles, then as it grew light they started to throw mortar after mortar at us, it sure was a tough spot, a few of our lads had got in and Jerry was dug in on us so orders came through to retire. As I was runner, I had to get over to where the Captain was lying and after taking a deep breath I started on the run across open country with Jerry's bullets digging up the sod all around me, I only got about half way when a Jerry got his sight on me and let'er go and it tore through my muscle above my elbow and glanced off a rib, it turned me completely around and for a few seconds I was too dazed to move, then I grabbed my arm and tucked it in my shirt so it would not dangle and started out as the Company was moving back. A few feet further on three mortar shells dropped six feet in front of us and blew us end over end and my chum along side of me received a nasty cut above the eye and I received a cut on the hip. Eventually we got out and a jeep took us to the first field dressing station where they patched me up and shipped me back to Siracusa, where our stretchers were put aboard planes and they flew us to Tunis, Africa, where I spent two days, then they flew us to the 15th Canadian General Hospital where I spent the next two months under the good care of hard-working Canadian nurses—they are a wonderful bunch of workers. From there I went to the holding unit and eventually returned to Sicily but our book had already gone into Italy, so a week later I was in Italy with them where again I was into the lines and we pushed in through the mountains until we took Campobasso and on to Molese, then a good rest and moved from there to where we are now pushing—slow but sure.

I hope it has been interesting Mother, for after all I am not an author. Pte. Young and I are the only ones from home and we are together most of the time.

Well Mother give my love to Jean and Sally and may God bless you all at home.

All my love and kisses,
Your loving son,
FLOYD

So often now— NAMES MAKE SAD NEWS*

● The names in this newspaper that interest you most are names of boys you know who are on active service . . . boys from this community. You used to read their names in school reports, in church and Sunday school items, in news of sport. You read these names today in news from the fighting fronts. So often now these names make sad news.

Let's do all we can to hasten the day when our newspapers can tell of happy things.

Yes, we can do something to hasten that glad day.

When we do this job we help to win victory sooner. We help to end the war sooner. And we do something to benefit ourselves.

The job that we are asked to do is to save our money and lend it to our country.

As each new fighting front is opened more money is needed. More people must be ready to furnish this money.

More Victory Bonds will be issued. Those who have not bought Victory Bonds before must buy them. Those who have bought bonds must buy more. We are not asked to give . . . we are just asked to lend. We will have money for things we plan to do, after the war.

Dedicate yourself to this war effort . . . something you can do . . . one thing you must do. Your help is urgently needed.

P.O. E. A. GRANGE PRESUMED DEAD

Pilot - Officer Edward Alexander McDougall (Alex.) Grange, 26, son of Mrs. Grange and the late E. W. Grange, 15 Blackburn avenue, is now presumed dead, according to the latest R.C.A.F. casualty list. He had been reported missing last August.

Pilot Officer Grange spent three months in a British hospital following a plane crash in June, 1941, in which two members of his crew were killed. After a remarkable bone grafting operation was performed he insisted on returning to active duty in November, 1942, and the following February joined a Lancaster crew as navigator. He took part in 23 operational flights over Germany and Italy including the first shuttle flight last June to Algiers bombing Friedrichshafen on the way and Spezia in Italy on the way back.

Pilot Officer Grange was born in Ottawa and attended Lisgar Collegiate. He enlisted in May, 1940 immediately after graduation from Trinity College, University of Toronto, and proceeded overseas in March, 1941.

In addition to his mother, he is survived by a brother Capt. Sammy Grange, overseas.

Miss Helen Grange, Napanee, is an aunt.

WHY MEAT COUPONS IN NEW RATION BOOKS

When the Number Four Ration Books were finally approved last December and their printing was started, there was absolutely no indication that the rationing of meat would be temporarily suspended. Hence the appearance of sets of meat coupons in the books. It is quite possible, however that before the No. 4 book outlives its usefulness, three sheets will be required for the purchase of meats.

Furnace Gas Blows Pipes Apart

On Monday night, about 10 o'clock, the firemen were called to the Bank of Montreal building on Dundas St., when smoke was seen in the offices and rooms above the bank. On investigation it was found to have been caused by the furnace which had been fixed for the night and apparently generated considerable coal gas and when it ignited the door of the furnace was blown open and a couple of elbows became separated, allowing the smoke to fill the cellar and the rooms above. No damage resulted.

APPEAL MADE TO URBAN CENTRES FOR FARM HELP

COMMUNITIES ASKED TO FORM COMMITTEES TO ENLIST VOLUNTEERS

An urgent appeal to the mayors and reeves of urban municipalities and the Chambers of Commerce, Boards of Trade, Service Clubs, and Church organizations and other groups to form local committees for the enlistment of volunteer farm workers, has been issued by Alex. Maclaren, Director of the Ontario Farm Service Force.

"We will need more help than ever before," said Mr. Maclaren, in appealing for the organized co-operation of all citizens. "And we can only secure it if citizens in places of authority and leadership will devote themselves energetically to setting up effective committees to handle the job."

Mr. Maclaren said officials of his department are available to assist in the formation and operation of local farm help committees and that inquiries should be made to the Ontario Farm Service Force, Parliament Buildings, Toronto.

"This is a most important and necessary type of war work," said Mr. Maclaren. "And every community should be preparing now to do its utmost to help the farmers during their busy seasons of haying, hoeing and harvesting."

On the way back to the fire hall, the firemen were again called to put out another grass fire near the Rose-Miller Biscuit factory. Several of the men lost articles of clothing hanging in the room, but the blaze was soon extinguished.

DIRECTOR OF EDUCATION ANNOUNCES DETAILS RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Two Periods Each Week to be Devoted to Instruction

Dr. J. G. Althouse, Director of Education for the Province of Ontario, announced on Monday of this week, details in connection with religious education in Ontario schools, proposed in the recent session of the Legislature, by Premier Drew, the Minister of Education.

Dr Althouse stated that there will be two periods per week devoted to religious education, in addition to the daily religious exercises in which no instruction is included.

"Provision will be made to excuse from the religious instruction, or from the religious exercises or from both, the children of parents or guardians who object, on conscientious grounds, to having their children take this training," Dr. Althouse said.

The proposed course in religion has been developed in the light of experience in other Canadian Provinces and in Britain, he said, and paid high tribute to the co-operation of the clergy in lending assistance to shaping the course.

He said that "very little would be left to the individual teacher" in handling the religious courses, and that it had been left by the Department of Education that "both the course and the method of teaching should be clearly outlined in a text guide, in a manual available to all who are interested."

"A further reason for such detailed prescription is that teachers already certificated have not had the advantage of special training for religious instruction," he explained.

"New teachers starting next year through the training schools will be trained in religious instruction," he revealed. "But next year the course will be given by the present teaching staffs."

Extend Federal Labor Code to All Workers In Ontario

Protection of Existing Rights Assured — Relations Board Replaces Labour Court — Other Major Measures

Extension of the new Federal Labor Code to all workers throughout the province, and the establishment of an Ontario Labor Relations Board to take place of the Labour Court were major measures to be introduced in the Legislature last week by Hon. Charles Daley.

While the Labor Relations Board will be comprised of six members an chairman, the Labour Relations Board Act 1944 can include municipal corporations, school boards or any board or commission set up by municipal corporations which has the power to pass by-laws.

Inclusion of these boards or commissions would be to bring their own initiative. Mr. Daley told the Legislature.

Assuming the head office of the Labor Board will be in Toronto board members may hold sessions in any part of the province likely apprehended collective bargaining activity will remain undisturbed, and the Labor Court records will be transferred to the new Board.

Protection of existing rights of labor is assured under one of the bill committed, the 1943 Industrial Relations Act, as regulations governing collective bargaining and employers remain in force notwithstanding the repeal of the Wartime Measures Act. Upon the termination of the war certain changes will be made.

The board will have full power under the Public Inquiries Act and may make rules of procedure not inconsistent with the Wartime Labor Relations Regulations.

The Act requires the chairman and members of the Board to be appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council on recommendation of the Labor Minister. The latter may appoint a chief executive officer or other officials required for the purpose of the board. Salaries are to be fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

The labor legislation does not apply to farm help, domestic servants, members of police forces, the Ontario Hydro Commission or municipal employees.

Appeals from board decisions are provided through the Wartime Labor Relations Board and the measure suspends operation of the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act, a Federal measure.

AIRCREW AGE LIMITS CUT FROM 33 TO 28

Ottawa, (CP) — R.C.A.F. aircrew age limits have been reduced from 33 to 28 for all except air gunners whose limit has been reduced from 38 to 28. Air Force Headquarters announced recently.

There was no official elaboration on the announcement, but an air force spokesman said a reasonable conclusion might be that, air crew supply had reached such favorable proportions that the R. C. A. F. could afford to become "choosey." He added that youth had the advantage in high altitude combat work.

TIME FOR A CHANGE

It is about time now to ask whether or not the present system of securing men for the Forces is due for a change. Arthur MacNamara, Director of National Service, has hinted at the possibility of such a change. Mr. MacNamara reports that 98,000 men will be needed between now and next March 31st. He hopes that they will be secured by call-ups and enlistments. Under the present system of call-ups, those called up serve only in Canada and adjacent countries. Enlistments come from among those so called. Others enlist for the Navy when they believe they are going to be called. In that way the overseas demand for men is being met. But there is a law on the Statute Books which could be put into operation which would make it necessary for the men called up to serve anywhere.

Our system of securing men for the Forces has never been a very satisfactory one. The Zombie Army does not serve overseas, nor does it provide sufficient volunteers to meet all contingencies. At least, that is the implication of Mr. MacNamara's report. Defence Minister Ralston told the House, recently, that if a situation arose where the Army was more needed Overseas than enlistments provided, the use of call-up troops would have to be considered.

We have no figures to show how many of these called-up troops are still in Canada. But, with the changed war situation, with the fear of invasion of Canada removed, it is hard to see the purpose of keeping any considerable body of troops at home. If there is a shortage of men Overseas, there should be absolutely no hesitancy on the part of the Government in conscripting the Zombie Army. We should have had conscription in the country from the first, but since it is impossible to go back, the future needs should be met with boldness and courage.

V

NO SKIMPING

There should be no skimping when it comes to providing for the returned soldier. At the present time, when a soldier is discharged from the Forces he is given a clothing allowance of Sixty-Five Dollars. That may seem like a lot of money. But it is not enough to re-establish a soldier in civilian garb. A man must purchase a suit, probably a coat, underwear, hat, socks and shoes. Sixty-five dollars would be a welcome contribution towards those purchases but certainly that amount would not give the soldier a new civilian outfit.

It might be argued that the soldier will have clothing at home that he can use. Well, maybe that is true, but it is wonderful—past all imagining—what four or five years can do to a man's figure, especially when he has, for five years, been living in a totally different manner from that to which he was accustomed.

It will cost a lot of money to increase the clothing allowance. But we have learned, during the past few years, that there is always money available for essential national needs. The soldiers who have done their bit, and are no longer fit for active service should be given the best that the country can afford. We rather think that the Government will be enthusiastically supported should they increase the soldiers' clothing allowance. There will be no grumbling about taxes on that score. A hundred and twenty-five dollars is the amount suggested in certain quarters, as a minimum, and we are inclined to agree with that suggestion.

ODESSA

We in this district, have more than a passing interest in the recapture, on Monday, of the Russian city of Odessa. For one of our own villages was named after the same city. In 1855 the Village of Mill Creek was renamed Odessa, to commemorate the capture of the Black Sea port by the British Fleet, in 1854, during the Crimean War.

This city has had varying fortunes. At the end of the Eighteenth Century, it was but a tiny Turkish village, probably no larger than its counterpart in our county, to-day. During the past one hundred years, however, it grew to a large and important city. It was occupied by the Allies during the First World War, and suffered much during the Civil War in Russia. It made rapid recovery, however, and in 1935 was a city of 438,000. It is beautifully situated on the Black Sea, possessses all the equipment of a modern city, with banks, trust company buildings, factories, co-operatives, large stores and modern houses. There are fifteen museums. Several newspapers and magazines were published there. The Opera House is one of the finest, architecturally, in all Europe. The city possesses beautiful bathing beaches. Here, too, are well known mud baths, with mud possessing certain medicinal qualities reported to cure diseases.

For two and half years this city has been in the hands of the Germans, and now it has been won back by the Russians. It was the last great city in the hands of the Germans in the Ukraine. Its capture practically ends the campaign in South Russia and opens the campaign in Rumania

There was great rejoicing in Moscow at the recapture of Odessa. There was a great salute when Moscow's guns fired twelve salvos from 324 guns, and when the Black Sea Fleet joined in the salute by firing twelve salvos of 120 cannon; the first time this has been done during the war.

The capture of Odessa was a great victory. It has put heart into the Russians and the people of the United Nations, and it has put the fear of death into the Roumanians. This great event will not be lost sight of either by the neutrals, who must by now be almost persuaded of the Nazis' inability to defeat the United Nations.

V

WILLKIE'S OUT

It was rather to be expected that Wendell Willkie would be defeated in the primaries in Wisconsin, but it was a surprise that not one of his delegates was elected. Mr. Willkie, in the light of what happened there, has withdrawn from the Presidential race. In explanation, he says that he knew he could have no hope of winning unless he was able to carry some of the mid-Western States. He therefore chose to make Wisconsin the testing ground. Since he was defeated there, he will press his nomination no further.

Mr. Willkie is popular in Canada. There will be disappointment that he is not to be a candidate for the Presidency. On his visit to Toronto, Mr. Willkie made a great impression on the people. Canadians, generally, have admired his outspoken manner. They did not always like what he said, especially his remarks on an occasion, about India. Nevertheless, his courage, vigor, broad-mindedness, and outspoken manner won him the respect of Canadians.

There are some rather disconcerting factors that must impress themselves on Canadians who view the changing American scene. The growth of the isolation movement has been much more rapid than we would have thought possible a short time ago. The influence of McCormack's Chicago Tribune is having its effect. The growing tendency to keep America from having too much to do with the post-war world is reflected in the vote of Wisconsin. Mr. Willkie is a world citizen. He has largely adopted and supported President Roosevelt's foreign policy. This is anathema to the mid-West.

Then, too, the political machine is hard to beat. Mr. Willkie managed to do so at the last Presidential contest. But since then the party has had time to reorganize and to perfect its machinery.

It may be that a candidate for the nomination of a party talks too much. At any rate, Mr. Willkie will have the satisfaction of knowing that he was true to his convictions. He did not trim his sails to prevailing isolationist winds.

It is interesting now to observe that newspapers which have been condemning Mr. Willkie and extolling all his bad qualities, are now pleading with him to stay in the Republican fold, and not desert the party. They are quite sure now that the loyalty and integrity of Mr. Willkie is such that he could not do otherwise. — A rather interesting commentary on certain sections of the Press.

GAS COUPON ORDER ISSUED

Ottawa, (C.P.) — The Munitions Department announced last week that under the 1944-45 gasoline rationing regulations it will be an offence for a motorist to have in his possession a gasoline coupon on which he has not written in ink his motor vehicle licence number.

The order, issued by Oil Controller G. R. Cottrelle, provides that no unauthorized person at any time have a loose coupon in his possession. It prohibits a motorist from obtaining or a dealer from selling graded gasoline unless the following conditions have been met:

1. The vehicle operator must first hand his ration book to the dealer or his employe.

2. The ration book must be in good condition contain nothing but properly attached coupons, and the cover must be attached to the book.

3. All coupons in the book must be undamaged and bear the motor vehicle licence number of the vehicle for which gasoline is sought.

4. Before any gasoline is put in the tank, the dealer or his employe must detach the correct number of coupons and return the book to the operator.

The order also provides that no unauthorized person shall keep a mutilated or improperly marked gasoline ration book or any book the cover of which has been removed or which has not been issued to him for his vehicle. Invalid books must be sent immediately to the nearest regional oil control office.

The ration books to be issued for non-commercial watercraft will contain coupons similar to those issued in 1943. The watercraft owner will not be required to write any number on these coupons.

Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Munitions, said the order is designed to prevent illegal use of gasoline and added: "The shortage is still acute. The little we have must be equally distributed. Allowances in the preferred categories must be kept at a bare minimum, and every effort must be made to ensure that only those entitled to gasoline shall obtain it.

It was a dramatic moment in the play when with fiery denunciation, the hard-hearted father was about to thrust his erring daughter out of the house for ever.

"What can I do? Where can I go," sobbed the girl.

There was a tense silence. Then, amid the sobs, rose the shrill voice of a woman in the gallery, "Never mind luv. You come 'ome with me!"

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, APRIL 16TH, 1944

Lesson Text: Acts 9: 19b-30; 11: 26, 26

"SAUL'S EARLY PREACHING"

The story of the early and rapid spread of Christianity is one of the most fascinating, most remarkable in all history. In a comparatively short time the religion of Jesus had displaced the Oriental cults with which the ancient world was possessed in great numbers and strength. At the hands of this man Paul the Gospel passed from a small movement into a world-wide enterprise, destined to include ultimately, the whole race.

Paul had education. He had been trained in the best schools. He had native ability, and after his conversion he had a burning passion to make Jesus Christ known. He travelled up and down the country, holding meetings, organizing congregations, establishing churches, encouraging and strengthening those whom he had won to the Christian way.

Paul's was a rare combination of talents. He was a theologian, somewhat of a poet, a wise statesman and a passionate preacher. It was because he kept a proper balance between these that he became such a powerful influence. Too often, scholarship kills enthusiasm and passion. Too often it is assumed that the only person who should become enthusiastic about religion is the uneducated. Our organized and established churches are very proper in their department. The services are models of precision and beauty, but all too often when that has been said there is nothing more that can be said. Our modern churches seem to think it undignified to become enthusiastic. They are in danger of dying of respectability. On the other hand, the rapid spread of what are currently known as the sects is proof, if proof were needed, that men and women need warmth in religion; they need emotion, satisfaction. They respond to a bright informality in church and religious services. Why should there be any inconsistency between learning and enthusiasm? Why should it be counted undignified for a man of education and scholarship to be enthusiastic. John Wesley was one of the best trained scholars of his day, and yet John Wesley was one of the most dynamic, enthusiastic and passionate preachers of his generation.

Paul was not long in drawing the fire of the established church of his own day. It was the Jewish hierarchy who were behind the crucifixion of Jesus. It was the leaders of the Jews who, early in His ministry, "took council to kill him (Saul). Fortunately his friends rallied to his support, let him down from the wall in a basket, and so saved him for his great work and for posterity.

There were, undoubtedly, a group of people who did not believe in Paul. It is not to be wondered at. They would naturally have their doubts as to the reality of his conversion. They would wonder if he might not be getting ready to double-cross them. It was an obligation on the part of Paul to dissipate these doubts, and to establish himself in their confidence. However, Barnabas was a help at this point. He sponsored Paul; he vouched for him before the brethren. Then Paul proved himself worthy of that confidence and trust.

The more vigorously Paul preached the more he succeeded, the more he aroused the antagonism of the Jews who resented any interference with the status-quo. Having escaped from one group in a basket he had to be spirited away by another group from those who sought his life. He landed up at Tarsus.

Paul was a fearless preacher. He took his life in his hands for the sake of the Gospel. He was a courageous experiment of the religion of Jesus. He preached Christ with power. It may be that we are losing our grip on the modern world because we are not as venturesome, as fearless as Paul. ADDRESSES ON THE MOVE...

IN SPITE OF ALL WAR HAZARDS

31,500,000 LETTERS

REACHED YOUR MEN OVERSEAS LAST YEAR

DO you remember the "Change of Address" form which you filled out when you moved your civilian home? After that was filed at your local Post Office, every letter sent to your old address had to be redirected to the new one, and that went on until your correspondents were familiar with your new location.

Probably you didn't move very often, but each time you did, the Post Office gave redirectory service. And if you will think about that for a moment, you will begin to see what a stupendous task confronts the Canadian Postal Corps in handling the military mails, when thousands of men are being moved almost daily!

Yet, in spite of the need of tracing men from reinforcement units to their locations on fighting fronts . . . in spite of the need of tracing them through hospitalization . . . or while on leave . . . when their unit is moved . . . in spite of delays in air mail service caused by adverse flying conditions . . . of delays in surface transportation caused by enemy action . . . in spite of every war hazard you can think of . . . your Post Office and the Canadian Postal Corps delivered 31,500,000 letters to men overseas in 1943!

It is inevitable that, in tracing men who have been moved, or wounded, some delays occur. It is inevitable that enemy action holds up delivery in some cases. But everything the human ingenuity and effort can do to give you a service that means speedier delivery of the letters your men are waiting for, is being well and thoroughly done, and will be done. New methods of speeding mail deliveries are being put into effect, new possibilities are being studied. Think of your own friends who have been posted to new locations overseas, and realize the task of tracing them when their mail arrives at their former address!

You can help your Post Office and the Canadian Postal Corps to give even better service if you will take a moment to make sure that your mail is correctly prepared. Do these simple things . . .

1. Always be sure each letter or parcel (properly packed) is fully and correctly addressed.

2. Use light-weight paper for regular Air Mail, or use the Armed Forces Air Letter Forms. Airgraph letters take a little longer because they must be processed in Canada and overseas.

3. To men in hospital, mark your letter "In Hospital", if you are advised to this effect.

4. Never put into parcels perishable food, or any substance that can be damaged by extremes of temperature.

Abbott, presided over the meeting and the printed Easter program was followed. Following this, Mrs. C. Russell read "The W. M. S. Serves in Hospitals". The roll call was responded to by 16 members, and was an Easter verse. The minutes of the last meeting were read. Mrs. E. Price sang the very fine Easter song, "Alone". Mrs. S. E. Winter read an article on "Christian Stewardship", following which Jack and Shirley Stafford gave two musical selections. During the business period there was a discussion concerning delegates to be sent to the Presbyterial, to be held in Belleville on April 18th. Mrs. Roy Stafford, W. M. S. Treasurer, reported $31.00 handed in as thankofferings. One new member joined the Ladies' Aid. The meeting closed with two verses of "There is a Green Hill Far Away". Rev. Owing to her naturally strong constitution the patient lingered until evening, passing away at 9.00 o'clock. Her strong christian principles, genuine hospitality, and cheerful optimism won for her a host of friends, among whom she will be greatly missed. The funeral service will be held from her late residence to the United Church on Wednesday at 2 o'clock and will be conducted by her pastor, Rev. Mr. Merrick. Deepest sympathy is extended to Mr. Tate and immediate family.

TAMWORTH

Tamworth April 8. — A full evening's amusement was enjoyed recently in the Religious Educational Building, when Mrs. Thomas Millican's Group of the Women's Association of the United Church presented a program long to be remembered. Members of the Centreville W. A. presented a one-act play, "The Quilt" Society of Centreville, which was most amusing and was well given. Several vocal selections were given, as well as recitations.

The most humorous part of the program was a take-off on three Ladies Mrs. P. Gerow, Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. T. Millican, whose costume alone were amusing. Each of these ladies over 100 years old. The Sunday School lesson had been upon the parable of the Prodigal Son. The teacher wished to impress upon the children the mean disposition of the elder brother who "would not go in." Now," he said, "in the midst of all this rejoicing at the return of the prodigal there was one who was unhappy. While the others were bright and glad he was sad, and who was he?" M. Kranklin Cassidy, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cassidy, of Stoco. Rev. Father Powell officiating.

The bride, given away by her father looked lovely in a floor-length gown of white sheer over taffeta with shirred bodice, trimmed with silver sequins. She wore a sweetheart headdress, trimmed with sequins, with an embroidered net three-quarter length veil, also white gloves and silver shoes and a corsage of Talisman roses.

Miss Helen Cassidy, sister of the groom was bridesmaid, wearing pale blue net over taffeta, with accessories to match and carried a bouquet of Talisman roses.

The groomsman was the bride's only brother, Joseph. The Wedding March was played by Mrs. Joseph Breault and Mr. Jim Killorin was the soloist. The acolytes were Harold Mulrooney and James Jordan. BUTTER STOCK DROP REPORTED

Ottawa (C.P.) — In view of the existing butter supply situation, the Prices Board is considering "dropping" another butter coupon during April, it was learned last week.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported last week that creamery butter stock in nine of Canada's principal cities amounted to 5,036,650 pounds at April 1st, a decrease of 6,354,090 pounds from stocks of 11,390,749 pounds March 1st.

Late in February, the Board effected a temporary eight-ounce reduction in Canada's butter ration arising from decreased winter butter production, equivalent to one week's allowance for each person.

The reduction was made by postponing the dates of two coupons which normally would become valid March 16 to March 23 and March 30, respectively.

It provided that the butter coupons, good for eight ounces of butter each, would become valid at intervals of one rather than every two weeks, and it was understood that the board planned to return to the two-weeks basis after the end of April.

A Prices Board spokesman said that the "butterless" week had passed unnoticed and had aroused no protest. He said the situation was receiving "close study."

Similar steps were taken by the Board early in 1943, when the ration of one-half pound per person per week was cut temporarily by one-third during February because of lower output.

Elimination of certain pages in the new ration books means a saving of 70 tons of paper.

Blood Donor Gets His Silver Button in the Clouds

An unusual ceremony took place up in the clouds somewhere between Windsor and Toronto on a recent Sunday afternoon, when Hugh J. McGinty, of Riverside, Ont., was presented with his silver button, marking him a seven times blood donor. It all came about when Mr. McGinty got into conversation with another of her passenger on the T.C.A. plane, Mrs. Herman L. Savage, nurse technician in charge of the Red Cross Mobile Blood Donor unit working out of Windsor. "A fine thing!" Mr. McGinty said. "I've given blood seven times, but they haven't give me a silver button yet." That's funny, Mrs. Savage said. Noting that he had his bronze button. Mrs. Savage asked him if he had his card with him, showing the dates of his seven donations. He had and Mrs. Savage inspected it. "You're entitled to a silver button." Mrs. Savage declared, "and I don't see why the presentation need be delayed when I can make it now." And so the ceremony proceeded; away up there in the clouds.

Canadian Edition Of The Bible

The Bible is now to be printed in Canada. The historical significances of this fact will come as a surprise to many who never before realized the non-existence of a Canadian edition. The bombing of London in 1940, which resulted in the destruction of millions of Bibles and Testaments, set the stage for the printing of one of the forthcoming editions. Within a week of the bombing the original master sets of plates for Collins' Bibles were sent to their Canadian branch for safekeeping. Since then, Collins, working in conjunction with His Majesty's Printers, Eyre & Spottiswoode Limited, have started production of the first of the four Bibles which they plan to publish here. The first edition will be printed in popular size, in clear, bold face type and with a modern setting. Features of the publication will include guides to quick reference and to the correct pronunciation of difficult proper names, helps to Bible Study, illustrations in colour and in gravure and a set of colour maps. Copies will be bound in two-tone Levant grain "Pabrikoid." The publication of the Bible in Canada is a contingency of war but there is no reason to suppose that it will become a peacetime "casualty."

RED CROSS NEWS

On Saturday afternoon visitors at the Red Cross room heard an interesting report given by Mrs. C. E. Burns, of the annual convention of the Ontario Division of the Canadian Red Cross Society. Meetings were held in the Royal York Hotel Thursday and Wednesday, March 23 and 24. Mrs. Arthur Ellis, President of the Ontario Division, welcomed the delegates and Mrs. J. C. Fraser, presided at the main meeting on Thursday morning. Mrs. Clara M. Fitch, assistant War Work Convener, spoke on the general work of the Red Cross, and in the afternoon, Mrs. Etta Mary McPherson of "The Chronicles" gave a most interesting talk on her trip to Great Britain, where in thirteen war houses she saw a great deal of the work done by Canadian women. She told many amusing stories to illustrate how exceedingly popular the Canadian soldier is in Great Britain. Mrs. Fraser, chairman of the Women's War Work Committee made a special plea for Aviation Supplies. She said 5,000 belt had already been shipped overseas, and 500 Sheepskin Parkies. Women's suits, tunnels, sweaters, stockings, sheets, dressing gowns, and a quarter of a million quilts were also included in overseas shipments.

On the following day, delegates were welcomed by Major Conboy, and Lieutenant Governor Matthews, and heard addresses by Mr. Alan L. Ambrose, and Mr. C. Bruce Hill, of St. Catharines, president-elect of the Ontario Division. Mr. Hill had visited Great Britain in the interests of the Red Cross, and one very impressive statement that he made was

"COMBINED OPERATIONS INCLUDE YOU"

● Invasion demands more action from every fighting service . . . combined operations. Combined operations include you, too.

Despite the shortage of help and equipment, Canadian farmers have responded nobly to demands for increased production of foods.

But there is one thing on which a better job can still be done.

MORE MONEY is needed to fight a more intensive war.

All Canadians will be asked to furnish this money. It's a duty that we who are at home owe to the men on the fighting fronts.

In these days most farmers have higher incomes . . . money to save. And that is the job that they are asked to do . . . save money and lend it to Canada.

You are not asked to give money . . . just to lend it. When the war is over you'll have this money to "plough back" into your farm. So save now to lend to your country. Save to have money to improve your farm; money for new stock and implements; money for more land or new buildings . . . for a new car . . . for new furnishings and conveniences for your home.

All you can lend is little enough for a cause so vital for a need so urgent. And the more that you can save and lend to your country now, the more you will have for your own use when the war ends.

CAPT. J. A. EGAN ADDRESSES I.O.D.E. MONTHLY MEETING

The Regent, Mrs. Duane Hall, presided at the April meeting of the U. E. L. Chapter, I.O.D.E. Minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. O. S. Reddick, and the treasurer's report by Miss Edna Richardson.

Mrs. Lillian Cowling was appointed to convene the Tag Day for the Blind on May 6th. Mrs. A. E. Lewis read the war work report in the absence of Mrs. Egan. A letter is being sent to the County Council, thanking them for the grant of $1,000.00, five hundred dollars of which has been received. A donation for I. O. D. E. Canada Library Fund was received from Tamworth W. I. A donation was voted to the I.O.D.E. Minesweepers' Fund and also to the I.O.D.E. Prisoners of War Fund. The Regent, Mrs. D. B. Hall, and vice-Regent Mrs. W. Ashley, will attend the 24th annual meeting of the I. O. D. E., at Hamilton, in April.

Mrs. John Diamant introduced the guest speaker, Capt. Andrew Egan, who gave a very interesting outline of the individual life of a unit overseas. His unit went overseas in July, 1940 and at that time the men were recruited from the districts between Belleville and Gananoque and some from Bowmanville; also from Montreal and Shawinigan. It experienced a very uneventful crossing and landed nine days later. By a wonderful system of organizing, two meals a day were served on board. 4,000 people taking their meals in shifts and sleeping on a bed one night and the floor the next night. After the nine days at sea, their eyes were refreshed by the contrasts of green of Scotland, following four days of solid fog. Many expressed surprise at the amount of space in a land of 47,000,000 people.

"After docking they entrained for Aldershot. Capt. Egan was one of the 100 personnel detailed to arrange for moving the baggage of 4,000 men to be loaded onto two freight trains.

"Men live alternately in huts and under canvas. The huts accommodate eighteen men. • During a December epidemic of 'flu, men were due to go to practice camp with 150 soldiers from each battery—some of the men with colds. At practice camp they were under canvas and the weather was very cold and damp yet after three days of open air, the only sick man was a soldier with a sore eye. Things most useful in practice camp are, training in procedure, fault of shot, handling ammunition and setting up of guns.

In 1941, the unit was posted in a section bounded by Hampshire, Surrey and Kent and on the south with 120 miles of coastline of the English Channel—at this time principally to man the front from the point of view of defence. Wide hedgerows were chopped out to hide guns and 'the prevention of anything showing which could be photographed by enemy reconnaissance planes. The group was very careful and was never accused of crop damage on farmers' property.

"General Montgomery inspecting the Canadian Corps, planned a scheme to determine how tough the Canadians were. Nine battalions in three brigades were sent on a five-days' march for 200 miles, and only two men were forced to drop out. At a conference at the end of the combined schemes, General Montgomery's admiration was summed up in one word, "marvellous."

"Most earnestly desired by the men are food, mail and cigarettes — or food, cigarettes and mail, depending upon whether he smokes. The men will eat but dislike canned fish and will only eat it when temporarily out of food.

"At the time when Canterbury was blitzed in 1942, the wife of a Sergt.-Major and her small daughter, experienced the horrors of machine-gunning by the Germans and upon arriving home found their house badly damaged. Permission was given to drive the Sergeant-Major to his home ninety miles away. Capt. Egan drove the Padre's car, leaving camp at 8 p.m., and the three of them arrived at the door-step at 1:30 a.m. Capt. Egan and the Padre left at 2:00 a.m. and were back at camp at 7:00 a.m.—no mean feat. The black-out is a nuisance but the men get used to getting around without a flashlight, but it was pleasant being transplanted back to lights at night.

"There is not much damage in rural parts but in some parts of London, there are acres of emptiness. In a southeast town, one Sunday, extensive damage was done by 24 one-thousand pound bombs spread over an area about twice the size of Napanee. Through country lanes, on route marches, there are no indications of a war at all.

"Often officers find men as capable as themselves and they speedily see that they are taken from the ranks. Sometimes an officer has to be very strict, but to gain the confidence of the men he knows that, outside of his capability as an officer, the men ask only that he be fair. Units of good reputation are well used, in fact Canadians are the best liked of all the colonial troops. A great number of servicemen have made good friends, cementing a lasting friendship between Canada and England."

Mrs. W. Ashley thanked Capt. Egan for his descriptive talk and following the address the Chapter voted $50.00 to the I. O. D. E. National Cigarettes Fund.

Salvage for March yielded $41.60, from paper, fats, bones and metal.

The Flag was brought forward to one verse of the National Anthem.

WARNING !

On March 25th the Defense Industries Limited reported the loss of six 3.7 shells on King's Highway No. 2, whilst enroute from Montreal to Pickering.

Four of these shells have been recovered and returned to the Defense Industries. Following investigation it is believed the two remaining shells were picked up by some passing motorist, the finder not realizing their value or danger.

Provincial Constable Taylor, in reporting the loss at The Beaver Office, emphasized the very great danger to anyone who retains the shells and urged that he be notified at once by anyone who knows their whereabouts.

"LIFEBUOY FOLLIES" WILL PLAY FOR THE 6TH VICTORY LOAN

SHOW WHICH PERFORMED ACROSS DOMINION HERE SAT. EVENING, APRIL 22ND

Members of the Lions and Rotary Clubs and the Red Cross of Napanee, who are sponsoring the showing of the "Lifebuoy Follies" on behalf of the Sixth Victory Loan in the County of Lennox and Addington, at the Napanee Armouries on Saturday evening, April 22nd at 8:30 p.m., report that the tickets are meeting with ready sale.

The show was first launched in 1941 and since then has given a total of 322 performances at more than 200 service men's camps across the Dominion. Last spring the Follies played in Newfoundland. Everywhere it has been acclaimed by large crowds. It provides rollicking entertainment.

The show which will play here is a new one, which opened the 1943-44 season before a record-breaking audience of Camp Borden, on Monday, September 30th.

Each member of the caste is a professional performer and is amazing by versatile. Pat Rafferty, Jimmy Devon and Jack Ayre have been bywords for hilarious comedy and musical antics since they first won popularity in the renowned "Dumbells", which toured the trenches in the First Great War. Other stars are: lovely Helen Bruce, who has a clear and remarkably sweet soprano voice; Norman Evans, Canadian-born baritone and C.B.C. radio artist; Joan Elaine, accordion soloist; Irene Hughes, who has whirled and pirouetted across some hundred stages; and Daphne MacFarlane, who specializes in song and guitar impersonations, round out the cast.

During a short intermission, Dr. Krokov, of Queen's University, will give a talk on our Ally — Russia.

Tickets are now on sale at all the Banks in the County, MacKenzie's Drug Store, Imperial Drug Store, Wallace's Drug Store, Canadian Department Store, George Switzer's and Victory Loan Headquarters in Napanee, Huffman's Store in Moscow, Hartman's Store in Enterprise, and Thompson's Store in Northbrook.

ANNUAL MEETING CHILDREN'S AID SO. THURSDAY EVENING

As announced in last week's "Beaver" and again in this issue, the annual meeting of the Lennox and Addington Children's Aid Society will be held on Thursday evening of this week in Trinity United Church School room.

The meeting is open to the public and the members of the Board are anxious that as many of the citizens of the town and county who can possibly attend, will be present.

The annual reports to be given by the officers will be concise and will be interesting because they will give an idea as to the extent of the work being done by the society. In addition to the reports, an address which will undoubtedly be of great interest will be given by Miss Mae Fleming, Toronto supervisor of Children's Aid Societies in the Province of Ontario. Miss Fleming is an excellent speaker and her address will be the highlight of the meeting.

Musical numbers will also be given by local talent.

There will be no charge for admission and everyone who cares to attend will be welcome.

Believe It or Not!

Last week during the heavy snowstorm a reputable resident of the Bay district phoned The Beaver Office that while out in the storm he found a show flake drifting down to earth which measured two and a half inches in diameter.

Knowing the man who reported the finding of the snowflake, to be a strictly sober and reliable person, we were able to credit the report as an absolute fact and considered it worth being given space in the paper.

ENDORSE GAS COUPONS OR FACE TROUBLE IS WARNING GIVEN

Every Gas Coupon Must be Endorsed with Car Number at Once

Warning is given by C. Gordon MacCubbin, regional enforcement counsel of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, which is responsible for enforcement of the gasoline rationing regulations of the Oil Controller, that motorists holding gasoline ration books now valid for use may find themselves in trouble if they fail to follow instructions that each and every one of these coupons shall be immediately endorsed with the motor vehicle license number. Similarly retailers of gasoline may encounter difficulties, says Mr. MacCubbin, if coupons not so endorsed are found in their possession.

It is not sufficient," the Enforcement Counsel adds, "that ration coupons shall be endorsed in this manner and in ink — only when they are tendered for the purchase of gasoline. All coupons in each book must be so endorsed before any one of them becomes valid for gasoline and books found to contain unendorsed coupons are subject to being picked up by police or other authorities."

Mr. MacCubbin promises a rigorous campaign against any abuse of the Oil Controller's gasoline ration regulations which may make their appearance and he points out that this has become highly desirable in view of the urgent necessity of the utmost conservation of motor fuel being practised if essential needs are to be met at this critical period of the war.

Stiff penalties, including imprisonment without the option of a fine have been imposed by different courts throughout the Dominion for flagrant violations of the gasoline rationing regulations and the assurance is given by Mr. MacCubbin that wherever violations are detected, the Enforcement Administration will not hesitate to act swiftly and effectively to curb them.

LETTERS FOR THE FORCES

Postmaster - General W. P. Mulock has called attention, by an address in the House of Commons, to the large number of complaints he has received from people who complain that their letters to relatives in the Armed Forces Overseas are delayed in transit. The Postmaster is quite sympathetic with those who are making the complaints. He points out, however, that there are certain factors operating which cause unavoidable delays — lack of transport, adverse trans-Atlantic weather, the movement of personnel from one place to another. The Postmaster - General says that the average time for an airgraph to reach a member of the Army in England, is ten days, and to the Air Force, thirteen days. For surface letters the time from posting in Central Canada to delivery in England, is thirty days. A letter to the Forces in the Mediterranean Command takes fifty-nine days from posting in Central Canada to delivery in Italy.

With the uncertainty of war conditions and the unprecedented amount of mail that has to be transported across the ocean, it is clear that the same precision and speed of peacetime mail is impossible. The Postal authorities have done an excellent job in a difficult situation. By making a clean cut explanation, and by taking the public into his confidence, giving the number of days when a letter can be presumed to be delivered, the Postmaster - General has done the country a good service. Once the people know the facts there will be less grumbling and more sympathy with the Postal Department's efforts, to get the mail to the boys and girls with a minimum of delay.

MEETING A HUMAN NEED

For a great many years, the Victor Home, a small unpretentious organization in Toronto, has carried on a mission of helpfulness to unmarried mothers and their babies. Situated in a downtown district, this institution has held out a helping hand to young women, at a time when they are practically ostracised from society. Functioning under Church auspices, the Victor Home provides a Christian environment for the girls who are in sore straits. The girls who are cared for are not by any means all from the city. Indeed, the majority are those from the small towns and rural areas of Ontario. Going to the city from comparatively secluded and protected homes, they often are swept off their feet by the excitement and glamour of the big city and they become easy victims for those on the outlook for just such people: or they become bewildered and lonely in the strange environment and make companionship of an undesirable character — in many cases with dissastrous results.

Under such circumstances it is hard for a girl to know where to turn for help and advice. The Victor Home extends a helping hand to these girls. An understanding, kindly matron watches over them; they are provided for in every way possible. The babies are cared for and protected under the laws of the Province, and the mothers rehabilitated into a normal home life.

For many years this Victor Home has carried on its mission of mercy, quietly and in an unostentatious manner as a home, on Jarvis Street At one time, a splendid residential section of the city, this area is now a depressed district. The coming of the beverage room has changed the whole character of the district. For this reason, it has been deemed wise to seek new quarters for the Victor Home. It is not planned to build a large building, but it is hoped to get a place in more healthy surroundings, where girls who need care and attention may receive it under Christian influence, and in a normal home environment. The Home is appealing, through the local churches, for funds for this project. It merits the support of every citizen in the Province. Contributions may be mailed direct to "The Victor Home For Girls," Jarvis Street, Toronto. Contributions left at "The Beaver Office" will be forwarded.

THE SIXTH LOAN

Preparations are well advanced for an appeal to Canadians to support a new Victory Loan. This time Lennox and Addington has been asked to buy One Million Dollars' worth of Bonds. This is a reasonable allocation and should be the very minimum spent by the people of the County, for bonds. Prices have been good, money is plentiful. There are ample funds belonging to our citizens in the banks. There can be absolutely no discounting the ability of the people in Lennox and Addington to purchase the million dollars' worth of bonds which they are asked to purchase.

Why people should need urging to buy bonds is something we have never been able to understand. We, in this favoured land, have our homes intact; the only drone of the bombers which we hear is from those in practice flights — they drop no bombs. We have food, clothing, and many luxuries denied half the world. We are a favoured people.

That some prefer to keep their savings in the bank is a well-deserved tribute to the confidence which Canadians have in the Chartered Banks. But a Bond has the security of the whole Dominion of Canada behind it. And from the point of view of interest return, a bond pays a great deal more interest, and gives a better financial return on investment. There is a feeling among some that the money in a bank is much more accessible than it would be if invested in a loan. Perhaps unfamiliarity with money transactions may be responsible for that view. In the event of emergency or need, any bank will, within a few minutes, advance money on a bond, so that there should be no holding back on that score.

The real argument for purchasing Victory Bonds is, after all, the need for money with which to carry on the war against our national enemies The cost of conducting a modern mechanized war, is fabulous. This cost must be met in large part by taxation and by the sale of Government Bonds. There is no fear but that this old historic county will do its duty. The work of the canvassers will be made much more easy, however, if every citizen will be prepared to buy to the limit before the canvasser makes his approach.

TROUBLE WITH CENSORS

People who are fighting for freedom of speech naturally resent too much official interference with the publication of news. To be sure all reasonable people are willing to forego some of their liberties in war time, so as not to give comfort to the enemy, but there are limits beyond which the restrictions should not be imposed.

From several quarters, this resentment against freedom of expression, has flared up. In Australia, all daily papers were seized on Monday, on the grounds that they had violated censorship rules. The Supreme Court of Australia, however, entered the dispute and enjoined the Government from further interference with the newspapers, subject to certain undertakings and pending further hearing.

In Burma five newspaper correspondents have refused to file any more dispatches until the restrictions imposed by the censors are removed. The newspapermen in Burma felt that they are not allowed to tell the whole story of what is happening in that part of the world, and they do not propose simply to hand out to the world press that which the military censors want the world to know. Of the rights and wrongs of the Burma dispute, of course, we have no direct knowledge, but, having in mind what happened at Singapore, and the reassuring messages which were forthcoming until almost the last, it may be assumed that the correspondents are anxious to get the truth as they see it, out to the world, and not as seen through the spectacles of a censor.

There can surely be no military secrets given away by telling the people the truth of the campaign. Indeed, much good may come of doing so before it may be too late.

Over against this restriction of news, and the dispute between newspapers and censors, is the refreshing comment and criticism of the Italian campaign, which both the Canadian Army paper in Italy and the American Army paper, published. Both these papers edited by the Forces, were frank in their criticism of certain phases of the Italian campaign. No great harm has come from that. Indeed, it may well be that good will come of it, as the leaders, both military and political, learn what the men who do the fighting, think of the conduct of the war.

It is to be hoped that the dispute in Burma will soon be settled, and settled in a way which will enable the people in the United Nations, whose sons are fighting a jungle war under most harrowing and hazardous conditions, to know the truth about what is taking place. British people have shown that "they can take it" when the news is none too good, but they want the assurance that everything possible is being done for those who are fighting the nations' battles. No war can be waged without mistakes being made, but we would like to be assured that the mistakes once made are not repeated.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, APRIL 23, 1944

Lesson Text: Acts 13: 1-4; 14: 8-20

"PAUL BECOMES A MISSIONARY"

The Christian movement was, from its inception, a missionary movement The first great missionary was Paul. He was filled with a burning passion to make as many people as possible, aware of the saving grace of God, in Jesus Christ. He travelled from place to place, establishing churches, winning small groups to the Christian way of life, and setting them ablaze with evangelistic fervor. Today's lesson tells of his first great missionary journey. He, Barnabas, and some others were at prayer in Antioch. Quite probably they were praying for guidance in connection with a mission to the Roman Empire which had been suggested by Paul. The guidance came. Paul and Barnabas, along with some others, were set apart for the task. Paul and Barnabas went out together a consecrated team of Christian evangelists.

The two went to Seleucia, thence to Cyprus. They went all across the island with little apparent success until they reached Paphos, a small town at the far end of the island from which Paul and Barnabas started their mission. At this point they succeeded in winning the allegiance of the pro-consul, Sergius Paulus.

Having completed their brief sojourn in Cyprus, the two missionaries crossed to the mainland, continuing their ministry. Here, at Lystia, a miracle of healing took place. Here an interesting and embarrassing incident occurred. Seeing a lame man healed, the populace thought that Jupiter and Mercury, their own gods had come to earth in human form. Forthwith, they set out to worship Paul and Barnabas. It was with difficulty that Paul and Barnabas were able to prevent this act of worship. How soon popular opinion may change is shown a day or two later when certain men from Antioch came to Lystia, stirred up the people against the two missionaries to such an extent that they actually stoned Paul, dragged him out of the city and left him for dead.

It was not all a glorious, triumphant pilgrimage that Paul made as he travelled among a complacent and sometimes hostile people. But he succeeded in spite of all opposition in awakening the then known world to the power of Jesus Christ and of salvation. There is usually a group in every church which does not believe in missions. In many quarters they are vociferous at the moment. What good is all your missionary effort, they ask, when Japan is acting as it is now doing. Of course the answer to that is simply that the missionary work in Japan was never as adequately supported as it ought to have been. It was the same story, "too little and too few." The other side of the picture should not be overlooked. In New Guinea, sixty years ago, cannibalism was rampant; to-day, sons and daughters of those cannibals are the "black angels" who have been of inestimable value to the American forces on that island, showing them the trails, carrying the wounded, caring for the sick. All this because of the Christian missions which had succeeded in transforming the whole life outlook of these "Fuzzy-Wuzzies."

Wherever there has been a great missionary movement in the church, there, has the church itself grown strong and vigorous. A church which lives only for itself grows inward, becomes self - centred and shrivels up. The genius of the Christian church is the value of the expendibles. To save life we must lose it—that is the great Christian paradox. The church which generously supports the movement to share with others its life, its privileges its opportunities, itself enjoys great blessings.

Had the churches of the world spent a fraction of what is now being spent on war for the cause of peace, had they sent men and women out into the non-Christian world with even the tiniest fraction of the number and equipment they have gone to war with, it is safe to predict that there would have been no war.

A church is not fulfilling its Divine function when it spends all its time, energy and money on itself. It is not fulfilling the purpose of its being unless it obeys the injunction of the Master and goes out into the world to make Him known to every creature.

STUDENTS ASKED TO REGISTER NOW FOR FARM WORK

Tens of Thousands Required For Vital Task of Food Production.

Under the urgent necessity of greater food production as an essential to victory in the war, the Ontario Farm Service Force is issuing a strong appeal to high school students, boys and girls, to volunteer for farm work this summer. These volunteer workers are needed to take the places of thousands of young farmers who, as members of the army, navy, and air force, are producing victories instead of crops. The need for more food to prevent shortages is more urgent than at any previous period of the war, because of the greater needs of the invasion armies and the starving liberated people of Europe. Ontario farmers can produce the necessary food, but they cannot do it unless tens of thousands of high school students volunteer to spend their holidays as part of the student army of the land.

To fill up the farm camps operated by the Ont. Farm Service Force in conjunction with the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., over 4,000 boys and 4,000 girls will be needed. In addition many thousands more will be required for work on individual selected farms, where good homes the best of food and attractive rates of pay will be provided.

The Department of Education has issued an order permitting students to leave school after April 8th to work on farms. These students must have a 60 per cent. standing on the year's work, must have a farm job to go to either on their own home farm or any other Ontario farm, and must undertake to work at least a minimum of thirteen weeks.

Last year boys and girls in the Farm Service camps earned over half a million dollars, in spite of the bad season, and this year more students than ever will be required. Most of those who were in the camps last year are expected to go there again this year and they are urged to bring along with them as many of their friends as possible, so that they will have congenial friends in their camp life. The camps will again be under the expert supervision of trained Y. M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. workers who will not only look after the comfort and feeding of the campers, but will organize enjoyable and healthful spare time recreational and entertainment activities.

Applications for farm work from students, either for the camps or for individual farms, are now being received, and all boys and girls wishing to volunteer for this necessary patriotic service are urged to apply at once to the Ontario Farm Service Force, Parliament Buildings, Toronto.

The Chinese Exclusion Act of 1923 will be replaced by an immigration treaty, Premier King announced this week.

THE UNITED CHURCH HAS CLEARED OFF $1,700,000 DEBT

Toronto, April 3. — Described as "one of the greatest achievements of The United Church of Canada since it came into being in 1925," it was announced from United Church headquarters that a debt of $1,700,000 which was incurred by the Church in the years of depression has now been completely underwritten.

The debt was incurred in the years of unemployment, poor crops and drought when the Church's revenue declined 45 per cent., but the hospitals, schools, home missions, foreign missions, social service centres and all the other church enterprises were maintained as efficiently as possible.

Campaign to wipe out the debt was started in the spring of 1941. While the entire debt has been "underwritten," many of the subscriptions toward the debt campaign were in the form of bonds and war savings certificates, maturing in seven years.

Contributions [illegible] came from every province of Canada from outport fishing villages in Newfoundland, from [illegible] fic, from cities and [illegible] and from rich and poor [illegible] fields of the church [illegible] toward the campaign. Every [illegible] tery and confectionery [illegible] Church shared in [illegible]

"The United Church is not a new sense free [illegible] its evangelistic tasks of widening [illegible] Christ's Kingdom," said the Rev. Dr. J. R. P. Sclater, Moderator of The United Church of Canada.

Director of the debt-clearing campaign was Rev. Donald G. Ridout. Rev. G. Ernest Forbes was [illegible] and A. J. Mitchell was chairman of [illegible] cial names, and James Fisher [illegible] chairman of publicity.

"What else WOULD I DO?"

Of course, I'm buying Victory Bonds—double what I bought last year. And that doesn't make me any hero, either . . . I saw enough of the last war to know what my boy will be going through some day soon, and anything I can possibly do looks mighty small alongside that.

In fact, I don't figure it's a sacrifice at all. Sure, I'm doing without a lot of things I used to think were necessary. But I've got more money put away in Victory Bonds than I ever saved before. There will be lots of time to buy the things Mother and I are doing without, once we lick Hitler, and Bill's back home again — if he comes back!

Until then, I'm putting Victory first. What else would I do?

SWITZERVILLE MISSION BAND

The Easter thankofferring meeting of the Busy Bee Mission Band was held at school on Wednesday afternoon, April 5th, with nineteen members answering roll call with a Bible verse containing the word "Give." The president, Pual Craig, conducted the meeting which was opened by singing the National Anthem and repeating the Members' Purpose. Geneva Robinson read the minutes of the last meeting, which were approved. After the call to worship and response Rosemary Moore read a prayer for our missionaries. A very interesting scripture story was read by Miss Alkenbrack. A poem was given by Paul Craig and the senior pupils sang. The offering was received by Elaine Boom and Beulah Craig and dedicated in song. An acrostic was used to present the subject of stewardship; a dialogue for temperance and two prayers for Peace. After singing a hymn, Geneva Robinson read and an exercise was given by four girls and four boys. An Easter song was sung by all the pupils and the story from the study book was told by Mrs. Wales. The meeting was closed by singing an Easter hymn and repeating the Children's benediction.

Walter Exley Writes

Thurs., March 23.—Running north to-day well out in the Atlantic and no land to be seen. The ship is beginning to roll a bit but not much, really. Cloudy to-day and as we're out of the warm zone we 'cripples' stuck pretty much to our ward. Saw the show "San Francisco" again to-night, but was glad when it was finished as the old leg was tired. Tryine to put more weight on it each day but the muscles are pulling like h— so it tires easily. Should see Ireland sometime Sunday and expect to be in the Bay of Biscay to-morrow.

Fri., March 24.—A long sweet running and the ship has settled down to a corkscrew motion as she 'bites' her way through. On deck to-day I found the three gulls which I had previously noticed were still following the ship. Went to sleep stretched out on a hatch cover, in the afternoon, sheltered by the life rafts and quite contented—thoughts were of home, camp as I last remember it with Dorothy and David. I often relive those days, too much, because I get so darned homesick.

Sat., March 25. — While shaving this morning, 'Ed' an orderly told us we sighted a sub in the night which was signalline to a plane. The ship ran 4 miles out of her course thinking it was a lifeboat, but the thing submerged when we got close. Monday we go ashore at Bristol if we manage to get beyond the minefield which they say we are going through —ship has reduced speed—can't imagine how we could get into a minefield when they are all charted. In the afternoon we picked up speed and a school of about one dozen porpoises followed us, leapine and diving not over 20 feet from the ship. At night I saw a blinker going off the southern end of Ireland.

Sun., March 26. — Got on deck at 6:30 this morning (for has closed in and we're barely moving — going through a lane in a new minefield. Grand breakfast as usual: half a grapefruit eggs and bacon. All-Bran toast, marmalade, and coffee. We will anchor to-night and go ashore to-morrow. Had a sleep on deck in the morning, getting a little more sun which came through the fog in patches. In the afternoon we anchored a very short distance off the coast of Ireland—for heavy and more mines ahead. At night I listened to Churchill's speech. Found out we will not proceed until daybreak.

Mon., March 27. — Thinking of Churchill's speech and was comparing it with another. I once heard Denton Massey give — thoughts of home — no sleep, so smoked and had my last pipe, at 3.15 a.m. Made up for it by sleeping till 12:30. Ship got under way at 1:30, in bright sunshine and calm sea. Sailed very close to Irish coast, so had a grand view—many rocky islands. Passed a fleet of small fishing boats. Cutting across to Bristol Channel and should arrive Bristol late to-night.

Tues., March 28.—Anchored in Bristol Channel because of fog — started on to channel in afternoon headed for Avonmouth. Foggy yet but considerably clearer than this morning. English countryside looks green and nice and green—quite a contrast to Africa and Italy. Another disappointment to-night—after waiting for the tide, we moved well into the Mouth but harbourmaster couldn't put us through the lock so we're anchoring out about five miles. The Matron says we go in at 10 to-morrow morning.

Wed., March 29 — A real fog this morning and very cold. Moved into harbour and had early lunch on board, then went through the lock and docked. Soon began disembarking — first patients entrained for 16 Canadian General and we were bound for 7 Canadian General. Nice surprise, because Taplow is one of the best—on Lord and Lady Astor's estate. Arrived about 7.30 p.m. and had supper. Ambulance journey was a good one. Nurses at "Seven" are real Canadians—one was a friend of Lil's whom I had met at Alton. She's going to 'phone Lil., who is at Framborough now—England again!

WEST PLAIN FRIENDS MAKE PRESENTATION

On April 8th G. Francis Young of the Wireless School at Guelph, visited his mother, Mrs. Wilton Young and Mr. Young, and while home, a number of friends gathered at his parents' home and presented him with an Airforce Dressing Case, billfold and an identification bracelet. The address read as follows:

Dear Friends:—We, your past neighbours and friends have met together tonight to spend a few hours with you on the eve of your departure into a great unknown adventure of life, to defend our country against a great enemy and dictator. We can only faintly glimpse something of your struggle to achieve the knowledge and training you must receive to prepare you for the part you will play in this war. Our prayers will be with you and God who is an ever-present help in every time of trouble is we call upon Him. He has promised to never leave us nor forsake us. May you take Him with you everywhere you go. We will continue to pray for your protection and God's Blessing upon you.

We now ask you to accept this slight remembrance as a token of our appreciation in this great endeavour for freedom.

(Signed) on behalf of your West Plain friends.

The address was read by Mrs. Tom Wicklem, the presentation made by Mrs. Leighton Davis.

After the presentation, Mr. Young made a very fitting reply, saying he did not feel deserving of the fine gifts bestowed on him by his West Plain friends, as he had not resided there for some time. He said the happiest time of his life had been spent at West Plain, and when duty called him to fight the enemy, it would only be to bring protection and freedom to those at home.

OPENING MEETING

NAPANEE CHEESE BOARD

THURSDAY, APRIL 27TH AT 2 P.M. in Agricultural Board Room. 16a

EUGENE HAGERMAN DIED RECENTLY AT MALLORYTOWN

Eugene Hagerman, a life-long resident of the Mallorytown district, died at his home on April 1st, in his 77th year. Mr. Hagerman, who was a son of William Hagerman, was born at Quabbin in Escott Township, two miles from Mallorytown.

Twice married, his first wife was Minnie Collins, who predeceased him in 1926. His second wife was Jessie Sills, of Napanee, by whom he had one daughter, Eugenia.

The funeral service was held Monday afternoon, April 3rd, in the United Church at Mallorytown, of which he was a faithful member, conducted by Rev. J. T. E. Blanchard, in the absence of his pastor, Rev. W. H. Day, through illness. A large concourse of friends and neighbours gathered to pay their final respects to a man whom they all loved and respected to a high degree. Mr. Hagerman's motto all through his long life seemed to be "Service."

He served for over twenty years as a member of the Consolidated School Board in Mallorytown, and for many years was its chairman, retiring at the end of last year. He was deeply interested in education, the school and all that pertained to the welfare of the young people. His activities were not confined to the school alone. He was deeply interested in his church as well, serving on the Quarterly official board of the church through long years and was recording steward until last year when the boundaries of the circuit were changed.

There were numerous floral offerings testifying to the high esteem in which he was held. He is survived by his widow and daughter, Eugenia, two brothers, Jonas Hagerman of Mallorytown, and Fields Hagerman of Syracuse, N.Y.

Friends and relatives from a distance attending the funeral were R. Fields Hagerman, Syracuse, N.Y., Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hagerman, Montreal, Que.; Mrs. E. Alkenbrack, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Fretts, Mr. and Mrs. A. Simmons, of Napanee.

The devotional was in charge of Mrs. S. Shetler. Mrs. P. Tompkins and Mrs. Rodgers and a vocal solo was sung by Mrs. Aubrey Pringle. Mrs. C. D. OBITUARY

MRS. JOSEPH TATE
(Contributed)

The announcement of the passing of Mrs. Joseph Tate, one of the best known and most highly respected residents of Selby community and the County of Lennox and Addington, Sunday evening, April 9th, at the Kingston General Hospital, came as a great shock to her large circle of friends. The late Mrs. Tate formerly Grace McKnight, youngest daughter of the late Hugh and Martha McKnight, Forest Mills, was united in marriage to Jos. Tate of Camden Township, November 1, 1893 by the Rev. Mr. Stratton. Following their marriage they took up residence on the Old Homestead at Tate's Hill, where the benign influence of their home shone forth like a beacon for 25 years. In the spring of 1918 they moved to their present home at Selby, where they soon won the esteem and good will of a new circle of friends.

On November 1 1943, scarcely five months ago Mr. and Mrs. Tate celebrated their golden wedding and throughout the afternoon and evening received the congratulations and best wishes of a host of friends, also many beautiful gifts, as an evidence of the high regard in which they were held.

Throughout her life, Mrs. Tate cultivated an appreciation of the finer things of life, the beauty of flowers, the tint of the cloud, good music, and reading and above all the art of homemaking and dispensing generous hospitality. In the home she was a faithful helpmate and an affectionate and devoted mother and loyal friend, ever willing to invest her time and talent for the benefit of others. In early life, upon confession of faith she became a member of the Methodist Church, now United, and was ever faithful in her attendance at the worship service. As past-president of the Women's Missionary Society and assistant teacher in the Sunday school, also a member of the Red Cross, she diligently sought to discharge the duties assigned to her.

In January, the deceased contracted an illness which, while not considered serious at the time, developed gradually until on Saturday, April 1st it was thought wise for her to go to the hospital for observation and treatment where she entered into rest, Sunday evening, April 9th. In passing the deceased is survived by her devoted husband, two daughters, Berniece, Mrs. LeRoy Fruit Toronto; Ethel, Mrs. Ross McConnell, Selby; two sisters, Ida, Mrs. C. H. Wilson, and Mary, Mrs. A. Fingland, Reidville; a brother, Mr. Arthur Mc Knight Selby; also six grandchildren the Misses Grace and Hazel Trull of Bowmanville; Pte. Gordon Trull, Ottawa, and Glenn, Lois and Harold McConnell, Selby, who will cherish many loving memories of her cheerful optimism, utter unselfishness and loyalty to Christian principles.

The funeral from her late home, Wednesday afternoon, April 12, to Selby United Church was one of the largest held in the community for some time. The service was conducted by her pastor, Rev. W. R. Merrick. The anthems and hymns used during the service were favourites of the deceased. Mr. Ted Wilde also sang a beautiful solo, "God Understands."

The lovely spring flowers resting upon the casket and those carried by Maurice McLeod, Burton Hudgins, George and Barton Collings, paid silent tribute to the deep regard in which the deceased was held. At the conclusion of the service the funeral cortege proceeded to Cranberry Cemetery, where interment was made in the family plot. The pall-bearers were six nephews: Curpl. Ralph Bell Dunnville, L.A.C. Howard Bell, Trenton, Norman Bell, Desmond, Wallace McKnight, Bowmanville; and George and Almon McKnight, Selby.

Friends attending from a distance included Mr. and Mrs. Chris McKnight Chatham, Mrs. G. Heels, Toronto, Mrs. E. McPadden, Barrie, Joan Jackson, and Pte. Gordon Trull of Ottawa.

MAIL TO REINFORCEMENT UNITS
A CHALLENGE TO US ALL...

THIS is a war of movement. Never before have troops been moved such incredible distances, in so many theatres of war, so quickly. Night and day, thousands of men are in motion, by sea transport, motor truck and air... edging into enemy territory, shifting to keep the element of surprise. Did you ever stop to think what it means, under these trying conditions, to find your friend or relative, and put your letter into his hands?

Yet in spite of the tremendous task involved, tracing men who are moving from reinforcement units in England to group depots in Italy ... or from one location to another... or through hospitalization or while on leave... in the face of every sort of war hazard... 31,500,000 letters in addition to parcels and other items, reached our men in 1943.

DORLAND

Dorland, April 15. — We have surely had a variety of weather this week. Sunday started off fair, but rain began in the late afternoon and lasted until Monday noon. Tuesday afternoon brought snow, which, with some rain, kept on until late on Wednesday. The snow is not all gone yet, if Thursday and Friday were bright. Frost at night and chilling winds during the day prevented it melting quickly. Today is dull and threatening, so April is maintaining its tradition for fickleness.

The Easter United Church service last Sunday morning was well attended. Special music was furnished by the choir, and Rev. K. J. Crawford delivered a thoughtful Easter message. The pulpit was flanked by beautiful flowers furnished by the Women's Association.

The leaders of the Sunday School hope to see a larger attendance with improving weather and road conditions.

Members of the Y. P. S. have been busy for some weeks preparing a 3-act play, "Tillie Goes to Town", and will present it in the near future. Keep the date clear.

We were sorry to learn that Frances Humphrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bess Humphrey, was seriously ill in Kingston Hospital, but at last report she was improving and is expected home early next week.

Among the Easter visitors were Mrs. P. L. Bozart, Napanee, with her daughter, Mrs. R. M. Roblin, and family; Mr. W. Mogg and daughter, with Mr. and Mrs. Russel Cousins; Mr. and Mrs. A. Church, Milford, with Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Bird.

Mr. Joseph Vance had the misfortune to fall downstairs on Saturday afternoon, and is under the doctor's care.

Easter hymns were sung, with Mrs. William Jackson as pianist. Quilt blocks were donated for the bale quilt.

Give this Man a Warm Welcome

You may not regard the Victory Loan salesman as a salesman when he calls on you. He is a man from your community whom you likely know well . . . perhaps a neighbor. He may never have done any selling before.

He has taken on this work because he feels that it is an important war job that must be done.

As a matter of fact he is not trying to sell you anything. He will ask you to save money.

Farmers are doing an important war job, too . . . producing food. Most farmers have increased their incomes. They have money to save.

You plan to use this money, and the things you plan to use it for are necessary things.

The Victory Loan salesman will ask you to let your country have the use of your savings now by putting your money into Victory Bonds.

Our big job now is to win the war, and to win it as soon as we can. That's why every Canadian is asked to buy Victory Bonds. It's why each of us is asked to buy all we can. You can buy them with cash, which you have saved, and you can buy more bonds and pay for them as you earn money, over a period of six months.

Two Napanee People Injured in Crash Near Shannonville

As the result of a motor car crash between Shannonville and Millowin, on No. 2 Highway, between four and five o'clock on Friday afternoon, April 21, Mr. Leone D. Spencer and Mrs. Wm. Harper, of Napanee, are both patients in Belleville General Hospital. Mr. Spencer's injuries, which included cuts on the head and cracked ribs, are not considered serious. Mrs. Harper, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Walker, Napanee, sustained a broken jaw, a broken collar bone, a broken leg, and other injuries which have not yet been determined. Her condition is considered serious.

Mr. Spencer, who is agent in Napanee for Swift's Canadian Co., makes frequent trips to Belleville on business each week. On Friday, Mrs. Harper intended going to Belleville to spend the night with her sister, Frances, and had expected to go by bus, but was given a drive to Belleville by Mr. Spencer.

The car left the road and struck a large tree, and both Mr. Spencer and Mrs. Harper were unconscious when found, and were taken to the Belleville Hospital.

Mrs. Harper's husband, Flying Officer Wm. Harper, whose home was at Niagara Falls is overseas with the R.C.A.F. Mr. and Mrs. Harper lived for some time in Belleville before Mr. Harper went overseas.

The people of the County will be well advised to come to Napanee Sunday afternoon to witness this mammoth parade and ceremony.

The Sixth Victory Loan Campaign is under way. The personnel of the workers is practically the same. They have been trained in the service and have done a good job. We ask that you do your part by being courteous and receptive to the Victory Loan Salesmen and open up to them your hearts and your pocket books.

As the war is reaching a crisis and the invasion of Hitler's Europe is imminent, the need for money to furnish supplies for all War Services is as its peak. You have done well; you can do better!

The great Lord Nelson's final order signalled to his marines in the great naval victory in which he was mortally wounded, was: "England expects every man to do his Duty" — We have been in the forefront in our Loan efforts. Let Lennox and Addington not fail in our Sixth Campaign.

NEW PROCEDURE TO PROVIDE PERMITS FOR RURAL WORKERS

Will Facilitate Acceptance of Employment

Arthur MacNamara, Director of National Selective Service, announces revisions to simplify the procedure for the issuance of permits to seek and enter employment, in the case of workers living in a municipality where there is no Employment and Selective Service Offices. This special procedure applies to persons who would be put to more than 30c. expense in travelling to and from home to a local employment office.

A new form has now been revised, which is available at all local Employment and Selective Service Offices, and which will also be available through local Post Offices. The worker living in a rural district or in a town without an Employment and Selective Service Office may, even without a permit, seek employment in the municipality in which he resides, providing that he has already applied for a Selective Service permit on the new form N.S.S. 102-A. An employer in this municipality may engage the worker who has applied for a permit on this form for a period of up to 7 days, but after that time the employee to continue on the job must have secured his permit to work from Selective Service in the regular manner.

The new form, in addition to being an application for a job permit, covers the standing of male applicants in regard to Mobilization Regulations.

Mr. MacNamara pointed out that the purpose of the new form is to facilitate acceptance of employment by residents of rural districts and small towns, while still maintaining the necessary wartime control over applicants living in such localities.

SPLENDID ADDRESS AT OPEN MEETING L. & A. CHILDREN'S AID

Speaker from Toronto Review's Development of Child Care

Miss Mae Fleming, Supervisor of the Children's Aid Societies Branch of the Ontario Department of Welfare, Toronto, speaking at the annual meeting of the Lennox and Addington Children's Aid Society, held in Trinity Church Sunday school room last Thursday evening, stressed the need for the Society to think in larger terms and make provision for the part it will be expected to play in the post-war period. She also emphasized the responsibility of the society to give leadership in providing adequate facilities for recreation and the constructive use of leisure time for young people to help reduce juvenile delinquency and prevent waywardness among young people.

The meeting was presided over by the president, C. L. Graham, and was attended by board members and members of the Society and a number of interested citizens. Prior to Miss Fleming's address the reports of the superintendent, W. F. Barrett, and the treasurer, Miss Helen A. Grange, were given and the election of officers was held, with Mrs. C. D. McLellan presiding during the election. A delightful vocal solo was sung by Miss Muriel Hunt, with Miss Agnes Cavanaugh at the piano and Aircraftsman Norman Skitch, R.C.A.F. Deseronto played two very fine violin solos, accompanied by Mrs. J. E. Madden, at the piano.

The report of the treasurer, Miss Grange, gave details of the expenditure during the year, of over $11,000. A tribute was paid by the president to Miss Grange, who had asked to be relieved of the treasurership after holding the position for a number of years. Reference was also made to the deaths of Mr. Alpine Woods, the past-president, and Mrs. F. L. Hooper, the secretary, and the society, who had given many years of valued service.

Findlay, Mrs. C. Anderson.

MISS FLEMING'S ADDRESS

In the first part of her address Miss Fleming traced the development of provision for dependent children from the Elizabethan era, prior to which she said there had been little thought of care of neglected children. In the feudal age the church and the manor gave some help to dependent children, but with the breakup of feudalism both manor and church lost power and money and were less able to help. In 1601, the Elizabethan Poor Law was passed, which provided for a mixed almshouse which took some care of the sick, the poor and neglected children. This system continued for nearly 200 years until in 1797 the first orphan asylum was established in the United States. Poor as it was, it was a vast improvement on the mixed almshouse. The orphan asylum persisted as the type of care for children in the United States, until 1853. Then a socially-minded man in New York city, aroused by the condition under which many children existed in the

CLAIRE WALLACE Speaks Sat. April 29 TO WOMEN ONLY

The Victory Loan Committee is presenting an unique meeting in the County "For Women Only" on Saturday evening, April 29th at 8:30 p.m., in the Town Hall, Napanee.

An enjoyable Musicale has been arranged by Mrs. J. E. Madden for the Women's Organizations in the County. The Committee has been fortunate in obtaining the services, gratis, of that well-known newspaper woman and radio commentator, Miss Claire Wallace.

Claire Wallace's radio work has brought her into direct contact almost daily with the women of Canada, and her programmes have reflected the effort and industry of these women who are working so hard to help Canada bear her share of the war burden. Well suited to talking about a woman's place in the world, Claire Wallace has made a place for herself.

Talking daily now, perhaps to more women than reached by any other radio program, her national audience rating is the highest of any daytime program in Canada.

Claire Wallace writes all her own script for her daily broadcast "They Tell Me." It runs to about 3,000 words each program. Her job begins at 7:30 in the morning when she is at her typewriter turning out the first pages of stories behind the story that are heard later all across the continent. Claire Wallace is the daughter of the late William Wallace of Toronto and Mrs Wallace, and has two brothers. William Wallace, advertising manager of The Toronto Star, and Major Clifford Wallace former general manager of The Edmonton Journal, and now in charge of Public Relations for the Canadian Army Overseas.

His funeral was conducted on Saturday, April 22nd, with interment following at Flin Flon.

NAT. WAR FINANCE SALESMEN'S DINNER

The County of Lennox and Addington National War Finance Committee's dinner for the Sixth Victory Loan Salesmen, was held on Thursday evening, April 20th, at the Superior Restaurant, Napanee. It was exceptionally well attended, and a thoroughly enjoyable and instructive evening was had by all.

Mr. W. A. Grange, Honorary Chairman of the Committee, presided in the unavoidable absence of the Chairman Dr. D. R. Hall. Among the guests at the head table were Rev. C. D. McLellan, representing the President of the Ministerial Association in the county, and Dean Leacy.

The meeting opened with the singing of "God Save The King" after which Dean Leacy offered the invocation. Between courses Messrs. H. E. Follis, Jack Caldwell and Walter Blakely led in a rousing singsong. They also gave two duet numbers with Mr. Follis at the piano.

At the conclusion of the dinner the serious part of the evening got under way. Mr. W. A. Grange made a short, pointed address to the Victory Loan Salesmen and the gathering, which was very well received. Thereupon, Mr. M. D. Young, Area Organizer, Messrs. R. G. Thorley and F. G. Weller, County Organizers, spoke for a few minutes, each covering the various phases of this campaign.

An inspirational visomatic film, "The Silent Battle," presented by the Coca Cola Company of Canada was then shown. It was a very effective presentation of the hardships of our boys on Active Service with the Royal Canadian Navy.

The speaker of the evening, Lieut. Commander W. G. Carr, R.C.N.V.R., was ably introduced by Mr. W. S. Wilson. Lieut. Commander Carr delivered a stirring address on his experiences in the Royal Navy covering 32 years in the service. He spoke at length of his experiences at Goose Bay, in Labrador, where he spent six months as Senior Naval Officer, charting the sea-lanes of the north. He told of the magnificent job, seemingly impossible at the time, of the hewing of landing-fields out of ice and rock—working against time as there was a definite threat of invasion on our Continent from the north if Russia had fallen before German might — how men worked sixteen hours a day, suffered terrific hardships in Labrador to make the defence of our country possible should invasion come. He closed his interesting address by reminding all the boys in the services are satisfied to go all out under all conditions, good or bad, everyone in civilian life should go all out financially to back them up by buying Sixth Victory Loan Bonds, the best investment in the world.

Lieut. Commander Carr was thanked by Mr. J. M. Simmpson, K.C., whereupon the gathering closed with the singing of "O Canada."

Was 24 Years in Napanee Customs

About 40 business associates and friends from Napanee, Selby, Strathcona, Newburgh, and the surrounding district, attended a dinner in honor of R. J. Lancaster, the retiring Customs Officer, at the Superior Restaurant on Monday evening of this week.

Mr. Lancaster has been in the Napanee Customs Office for 24 years, and for the past several years has been in charge of the office. During all the time he has served the Customs Department in Napanee Mr. Lancaster has been known as a faithful, efficient and courteous public servant, with whom it was a pleasure to do business. His many friends, who held him in the highest respect, felt that the time of his retirement from active duties was an opportune occasion on which to express to him their appreciation of his services. As a token of their esteem, Mr. Lancaster was presented with a Gladstone travelling bag and a walnut magazine rack and smoking cabinet stocked with tobacco and pipes.

The presentation was made by C. A. Walters, Manager of the Hydro Electric Power Commission in Napanee, who acted as chairman in the unavoidable absence of Mayor D. R. Hall. Mr. Lancaster, in accepting the gifts, thanked the men for their kindness, and expressed his appreciation of the pleasant relations he had with the business men of the district.

Can. National Institute For The Blind Doing Very Important Work

The Canadian National Institute For The Blind is doing a work of major importance. It is making it possible for blind people to work, to earn their own living and to enjoy some of the ordinary comforts of life. It is helping them to overcome a very serious handicap and to compete on a more or less equal footing with their sighted neighbors. Finding jobs for the employable blind, teaching those who are interested how to read Braille and make baskets supplying Braille books and talking book records to blind readers, providing relief assistance to those in need and providing glasses to those of limited means to buy their own, are only a few of the Institute's many activities. Its work is centred in and thousands of blind people in Canada today are better off and more secure because the Institute exists. It exists because the public has supported it most generously since its inception in 1918. Public support is still necessary and that is why a campaign for funds is now being held in Napanee. The money is needed to carry on Institute work among the thirty-one blind people in this district. It is an important humanitarian undertaking and one which merits the support of all those who are able to see and are in a position to give.

Magistrate's Court

On Monday, Magistrate Garvin, in Napanee Police Court, found Earl Jackson, Odessa, not guilty of the charge of careless driving.

The charge was laid following a collision between Jackson's car and a Smith Transport, Odessa, on the morning of March 27th. Mr. Jackson's car had been parked in front of Frank Grower's store just west of the bridge in Odessa and after it had pulled out from the south side of the road the car was struck when it had reached the middle of the bridge. Both car and driver were dumped into the creek as a result of the impact.

The truck driver, Stanley Edwards stated that Jackson pulled out on the road in such a manner that collision could not be avoided unless he had driven his heavily - loaded transport into the creek. Jackson claimed he had looked back when he left the curb but could not see the transport and because of the slippery condition of the road was unable to gain enough speed to avoid his car being struck.

Evidence was given by Traffic Officer Morden and Stanley Edwards son and Miss Ada Wallace for the defence. J. M. Simpson, K.C., appeared for Mr. Jackson.

Hyman Rosen pleaded guilty to careless driving and paid a fine of $5.00 and costs of $3.00.

Arthur Kilgannon, Percy Craven and Leo Mooney each pleaded guilty to consuming liquor in a public place and a fine of $10.00 plus $5.50 costs was imposed in each case.

William Claude Brown, for having liquor in a place other than his residence was fined $10.00 plus $5.50 costs and the liquor was confiscated.

INVASION PLANS

Only a few on the inner circle know when the invasion of Europe is to take place. Germany has been told that it is going to take place and that is about all that Germany knows of the plans of the United Nations. The Nazis are anxious to know and have sent out feelers of all sorts, usually in the form of rumors of impending invasion in the hope that the Allies might be enticed into denying the rumors. But no denial is forthcoming. The uncertainty of the date and place of attack is part of the war of nerves, which Hitler used to such good effect in the hey-day of his career — and which the United Nations have learned to use against him and his people.

Perhaps before this appears in print the fortress of Europe will have been invaded. Whether it happens soon or late, the German people should now know that their leaders are not infallible. They were assured, long ago, that not a bomb would ever fall on German territory. What a hollow mockery that must sound now, in the light of subsequent history. The bombing of German towns and cities has exceeded anything ever before seen in the history of the world, has exceeded the wildest flight of imagination. Scores of cities have been damaged to a degree that would have been thought impossible even two years ago. The Germans who, in all the wars of modern history, have managed to prevent their own country from being despoiled, while wrecking that of others, have now felt the force of a strong foe. The people must know by this, that war is not a one-sided business. Surely they will be less ready, in the future, to plunge the world into chaos now that their own land has felt the courge of bombardment. Of course, for the moment bombing may have the effect of arousing passions of revenge and so, keeping the spirit of the people in a fighting mood. But the damage to airplane factories, munition factories, transportation facilities and all the agencies that make for a successful war, is having a crippling effect on the war machine. No amount of courage and forfitude can make up for that.

There is no reason, however, to underestimate the power of the enemy. We may rest assured that the Nazis are still strong and will fight to the bitter end. The invasion, when it comes, will take a heavy toll of life. It will demand all the courage and strength of which not only the forces are capable, but the patience, determination and fortitude of those at home.

V

DON'T WAIT!

Don't wait until the salesman calls for your subscription to the War Loan — call him up! The Sixth Victory Loan opened on Monday. Lennox and Addington has been allocated the sum of one million dollars. There is plenty of money in the banks to meet this obligation. We must not let our fighting forces down.

Napanee and District have benefited by the wartime prosperity. Farm prices have advanced to a point where they are commensurate with the prices of other commodities. The purchasing power of the community is higher than it has been for years. We have the money!

The boys and girls who have gone from our midst are giving more than money. They have put their lives at the service of the nation. They are away from home, many are enduring hardships and difficulties which can hardly be imagined by those of us who are privileged to live in peace, and to sleep in comfort. They must be supported, given the best that money can buy — in equipment and in mechanical support. Money is a second consideration when the life of our loved ones is at stake.

It takes a lot of money to run a mechanized war, but we have it, and we owe it to those who stand between us and the enemy to see that the nation is not hampered in its determination to maintain the war effort at the highest point of efficiency, by any failure on our part.

THE AMERICAN SCENE

We in Canada have some difficulty in keeping abreast of the American political scene. There is to be a Presidential election this Fall, we all know that. But, as the pre-election wheels begin to turn, only those schooled in the American technique can get an adequate picture of what is taking place. One thing, however, seems certain the Republican candidate will be Governor Thomas E. Dewey, Governor of New York State. The withdrawal of Wendell Willkie from the race has made that almost inevitable. Governor Dewey says he will not run, but he will, in all probability, be drafted by the party.

What is not so clear is as to the candidate for the Democratic Party. President Roosevelt will have completed three terms at the White House—an unprecedented tenure of office. Whether he will allow his name to go forward for a fourth term, is not yet clear. President Roosevelt assumed office during the greatest industrial and economic crisis in the nation's history; he incurred strong opposition by the vigorous methods he used to get the nation back on its feet. Then came the War and Pearl Harbour.

The President has had to guide the nation through the most dangerous and threatening period in the nation's life since the Civil War. It has been a terrific strain for one man to carry. It is a miracle that he has stood up under it so well. Naturally, he has incurred enemies. There are those who were opposed to the New Deal; others are opposed to him because of the Lease-Lend Legislation. There is growing opposition from the South, and from the Isolationists in the Middle West. President Roosevelt, for these reasons, may wish to retire from the race.

Unfortunately, those who, under ordinary circumstances might be accorded the nomination by the Democrats in the event of Mr. Roosevelt refusing to run, have all been associated with the President, and have incurred the opposition of those same interests arrayed against Mr. Roosevelt. So that the party would hesitate to entrust its interests to any of them in a contest with Governor Dewey.

The situation is confused but it will be cleared at the conventions. A good deal may depend on the military situation at the time of the Democratic Convention. It is conceivable that the European situation may be such that there would be hesitancy in changing leaders under the circumstances.

Among Canadians, President Roosevelt has always been a great favourite. Whatever the political exigencies may hold for him in the future, he will have an endearing place in the hearts of Canadians for his leadership in the world struggle. We have felt ourselves fortunate, indeed, that in the two great Democracies we have had at the helm men of the calibre of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill.

V

PREPARING FOR THE DAY

The Progressive Conservative Party is losing no time in preparing for eventualities. Since the election of John Bracken as Leader of the Party, its organization has been overhauled, and new life and vitality infused into it. Two new appointments within the Party promise well for the future. Hon. Charles P. McTague and Henry Borden, K.C. have been added to the head organization. Hon. Charles P. McTague becomes National Chairman and Mr. Borden will serve the party in an advisory capacity. Mr. McTague was, until recently, Chairman of the War Labor Board in Ottawa. He is a man of long experience, particularly in labor matters. He is from Toronto—a Roman Catholic and an expert on Labor.

He has done a good job at Ottawa. He should be a valuable man in the rejuvenated party, capable of rendering expert leadership. He holds the confidence of the workers and as a Roman Catholic will carry weight among that section of the community.

Mr. Borden is a nephew of the late Sir Robert Borden, War-time Premier during the First Great War. He is a Maritimer, trained at McGill and Dalhousie Universities. From the latter he secured a Rhodes Scholarship, attending Oxford University. He has had a good deal of experience in law. In recent years he has practised in Toronto, where he specialized in corporation and taxation laws.

A government during a war comes in for a great deal of criticism. But little is done about it. The public is chiefly concerned in the national struggle, and is willing to overlook many things which under ordinary circumstances would not go unheeded. But when the war closes, the probability is that the government which held office during the war, will have a hard time at the polls.

In the present political situation in Canada assuming a new party in power following a post-war election, the choice will be between the Liberal - Conservative Party and the Canadian Commonwealth Federation. It is, of course, possible that the public will turn against the old line parties, and more to the left. But it is hardly probable. The Progressive Conservative Party is wise in securing for its organization the best possible men. By doing so, it is winning the confidence of a lot of people, who are looking for sane, progressive leadership in the days that lie ahead.

OFFICIAL GRADES HOG CARCASSES

The schedule of official grades for hog carcasses has been modified to reduce the number of classes in the "C", "D" and "E" qualities. These changes, which became effective on Monday, April 10th, are the result of a considerable demand from producers and their representatives that the number of grades be reduced.

Following is a table showing a comparison between the old and the new sets of grades:—

Present Grades	New Grades
A ... 140-170 lbs.	A ... No change
B1 .. 135-175	B1 .. No change
B2 .. 125-134	B2 .. No change
B3 .. 176-185	B3 .. No change
C1 .. 135-175
C2 .. 120-134	C .. 120-185 lbs.
C3 .. 176-185
D1 .. 135-175
D2 .. 120-134	D ... 120-185 lbs.
D3 .. 176-185
Lights ... 110 lbs. and under	Lights ... No change
Heavies .. 186-205	Heavies .. 186-195
Extra Heavies .. 206 and over	Extra Heavies .. 196 and over
E thin
E rejected and condemned
E physical injury	Physical injury
E ridglings	Ridglings
E Stags	Stags
Sows No. 1	Sows No. 1
Sows No. 2	Sows No. 2

The Department points out that it will be noted that all the "C" quality carcasses are being grouped together in one class having a fairly wide weight range.

Exactly the same thing happens in the "D" grade. The weight range for "heavies" has been narrowed by 10 lbs. and widened for "extra heavies" by the same amount. Further adjustments in former "E" grade have resulted in two classes being eliminated in that section, or a total reduction of six classes in the complete schedule of grades.

Producers will find a synopsis of the revised grade standards on the back of the new combination warrant and grade certificate.

All requirements of the Hog carcass Grade Regulations effecting shippers, purchasers and graders remain unchanged.

JOBLESS FUND NOW TOTALS 182 MILLIONS

Ottawa, (CP.) — With Canada's unemployment insurance fund totalling $182,613,627 at February 29, 1944 some 2,750,000 Canadian workers now have an average of $66 each in a pot intended to help see them through slack periods.

Since the first workers became entitled to collect benefits from the fund in February, 1942—after paying in for 180 days—a total of $1,711,443 has been paid out in benefits.

Although there has been no large scale drain on the fund, recent months have shown increases, and a natural seasonal tendency in the winter, combined with some industrial lay-offs sent the number of applications for benefits to a new high of 11,751 in January.

The balance of $182,613,627 has been accumulated since compulsory unemployment insurance was introduced in July, 1941. Employers and employees have jointly contributed $149,413,103 and the Government has paid $29,882,621. The balance has been earned in interest.

What are known as Class 1 workers pay 12 cents a week into the fund and their employers pay 24 cents. These workers are entitled, if they are single to a benefit of $4.08 a week or if they have one or more dependents, $4.80.

The scale goes from there up to workers earning $26 a week or more. In that category the employee chips in 36 cents a week, his employer 27 cents and the benefits are $12.24 for single persons and $14.40 for those with dependents.

FLOWERS HAVE A PLACE

Even in wartime home-grown flowers cannot be considered as a luxury. The real gardener will find a place for them. To him the growing of beautiful flowers is more than just a hobby or recreation. It satisfies his natural craving to create something with his own hands and out of his own brain—it provides a tonic for war-strung nerves. The actual cost in dollars and cents is negligible. A few packets of seed at a total cost of a quarter will provide a wealth of bloom, will turn some drab, neglected corner into a riot of color and beauty, will help us forget the fact that long week-end motoring or distant holiday trips are out until the Nazis and Japs have been put in their place.

I RESOLVE TO PUT VICTORY FIRST

TO RESOLVE is easy, but without planned retrenchment few of us can wring from overburdened incomes the increased savings this crucial year demands. To cut corners, trim spending, and eliminate every item of waste and extravagance these are imperative. To some these ways to victory may be of little significance, unless beyond victory they foresee the future security that thrift will mean to each of us in the post-war world.

Shape for yourself a new pattern of security after the war by spending less now. Until victory is won none of us can feel secure.

ADDRESSES ON THE MOVE ...

WHEN a man is wounded in action or seriously ill, he is rushed through field and base hospitals with all possible speed, to the place where most effective treatment can be given. Because of this rapid movement, his mail may not "catch up" for some time, yet, if ever he longed for a letter from home, it is at such a time.

To offset possible delays, a new "Short-Cut" mail service has been put into effect. A Priority Casualty Card is filled in and rushed by Air Mail to his friends or relatives with instructions to add the words "In Hospital" to the unit address they usually use.

Letters mailed from Canada bearing the words "In Hospital" are routed direct to the records office in the United Kingdom or the Central Mediterranean Force, as the case may be. They are given preference in transport, whether sent by Air Mail or regular mail. Thus they will reach the addressee faster than ever before.

It is inevitable that in tracing men who have been moved, or wounded, some delays occur. But you can rest assured everything that can mean speedier deliveries of letters to your men is being well and thoroughly done—and will be done.

When you get a Priority Casualty Card be sure the words "In Hospital" are added to the regular unit address when writing overseas.

Up until fairly recently the British people have been getting a loaf of bread which contained besides wheat flour some oat, barley and rye flour. It has now been announced that the oat and barley have been dropped and, it is expected shortly that rye will be down to 2½ per cent, making Britons wartime bread really a whole wheat loaf.

Tip to Relatives Sending Army Mail Overseas

Somewhere in England, C.P.)—Mail delivery to Canadian overseas troops has improved a lot but the Canadian Postal Corps, with an eye to getting letters, parcels and cigarettes through rapidly to the invasion troops when they go to Western Europe, thinks people at home and soldiers themselves can do a lot to speed up delivery.

Even at this stage of the war about half the mail delivered to the Canadian Army is incorrectly addressed. Sometimes there are only minor errors but they all create big problems for the Postal Corps and mean delays in mail.

A good tip is to avoid abreviations in addresses. Instead of making it, for example, "A12345, Pte. A.B. Jones, CAE W.S., CAO," write it out "A12345 R. B. Jones, Canadian Advance Base Workshop, Canadian Army, Overseas."

In this case "CAB W/S" could also mean "Canadian Armored Brigade Workshop." There are endless abbreviations for Canadian Army unit names now so to prevent confusion everything should be spelled out.

The Post Office Department disclosed that three days have been lopped off the transit time for delivery of surface mail from Canada to Canadian troops in the Mediterranean area.

When Postmaster General Mulock outlined the delivery time of mail to troops in the House of Commons on February 26, he set 56 days as the time required for receipt of letters by Canadians on the Italian fronts.

Since then the average time has been cut to 36 days, with prospects that the time will be further improved.

The department said that of 21,250,000 pounds of mail for the troops over the last twelve months 187,000 pounds, or .88 per cent. had been lost from all causes, including enemy action. From an additional 3,088,069 pounds of tobacco mail, the loss was 2.05 per cent.

Tamworth, April 24. — Lieut. Commander (E) Hugh Brown, of the R.C.N., Saint Johns, N.B., was a week end visitor at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brown, of this village. Lieut. Brown has been in the R.C.N. since January, 1941. During that time he has been on various ships on convoy and patrol work in the Northern Atlantic, and has visited many ports. His last visit at the home of his parents was about three years ago. He speaks very warmly about his life in the services, and says the seamen are supplied with plenty of warm clothing and all the comforts that one could expect on board ship. When survivors are brought into port Lieut. Brown states that the different organizations, such as the Navy League, the I.O.D.E., and the Red Cross are very instrumental in supplying the suffering with necessary clothing, and are ready to lend a helping hand wherever they can. Mr. Brown's home is in Sherbrooke Que., where his wife resides. Mrs. Brown accompanied him on this visit with his parents.

These certificates are very attractive. They have the Ontario coat of arms, the names of Premier Drew, Mr. McLaren and Col. Kennedy, and have the words 'Certificate of Meritorious Contribution to Canada's War Effort'. Mr. Buchanan congratulated and shook hands with each recipient. On behalf of the Literary Society, Mr. Buchanan was presented with a War Saving Certificate by Donald Way, President of the Literary Society.

NO WORLD SUGAR SURPLUS

Ottawa, (B.U.P.) — A warning by the British sugar controller, Sir William Rook, that world sugar supplies are so short that larger rations may not be expected for the first year or two after the war was made public in Ottawa by officials of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

In discussions with the board, officials said Sir William told them that not only is there no surplus of sugar in the world today but that the present supply is insufficient to meet even essential needs without strict rationing.

He termed "incomplete and inaccurate" the view that all that is lacking is enough shipping space to transport sugar from producing to consuming countries.

"I have been struck since I arrived on this side by the impression which prevails that there is plenty of sugar in the world and that all that is lacking is a sufficiency of shipping to transport it from producing countries to consuming countries," he said.

"That is a very incomplete and inaccurate picture," he added. "Whatever part shipping has played in the past in the need of rationing, at present and for some time to come, if all essential needs are to be met rationing is unavoidable on supply grounds."

In the United Kingdom, he pointed out, the industrial use of sugar has been severely cut. For the making of ice cream and table jellies it has been altogether eliminated, and soft drinks and fruit juices have been cut to one-third pre-war usage.

"At present," Sir William said, "The British Minister of Food is not certain whether supplies will permit him to give the housewife even one pound per person for home canning. Of course, I realize that home canning is very much more widespread in Canada than in the United Kingdom but even with us it is a cherished privilege of the housewife and most important in wartime in order to conserve garden fruit. Nevertheless, the allowance in 1942 and also in 1943 was only one pound per person per year for this purpose."

He warned that "there seems no reason to think that for the first year or two after the war we can expect a larger ration. The requirements will be large in the countries which have been freed from Nazi control.

C.A.S. Meeting

city interested people in the western States in taking neglected children into their homes, which was the beginning of the free-home placement. This method of placing children went on for twenty years, but always some unattractive children could not be placed in free homes and an experiment was made in finding boarding homes for them.

The next development was the passing of the Mothers' Allowance Act in 1916, in the United States and in 1916 in Canada, which provided for care in the child's own home. In 1921 the Child Adoption Act was passed which gave the Children's Aid Society the right to place children in homes for legal adoption after a period of two years probation.

There has been a steady change in opinion, as to what is the best method of cure for neglected children, down through the years until to-day it is considered that institutional life is not beneficial because it does not provide a chance for development of initiative and does not give the best preparation for later life. A normal home for a normal child has become the motto of the Children's Aid Society, and with that in view every effort is made to provide children in care with the type of home and surroundings best suited to them. Special homes must be secured for the deaf, the feeble-minded and the epileptic.

Miss Fleming said that one of the best services the public could perform for the Children's Aid Society was to inform the superintendent of available suitable homes for children. Under present conditions even boarding homes are difficult to secure. The work of the Children's Aid Society is largely preventative and involves an awakening and increase in parents' responsibility. Action is only taken in making children wards of the society after careful investigation and diagnosis of the cases. Every case is dealt with on its own merits and wardship by the society is a last resort, after every effort has been made to prevent severing parental ties.

Miss Fleming, in conclusion, dealt with the increase in child delinquency which, she said, was alarming, especially among very young children, for whom proper recreation and occupation of spare time has not been provided. She also spoke of the increase in illegitimacy and pleaded for members of the society and citizens in general to help provide recreational facilities for young people.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

In his report the superintendent, W. F. Barrett, said at the beginning of the year there were 79 children in care and at the end of the year there were 81 children. He made 370 visits in connection with the children and had 315 office interviews. There were four first placements and 33 replacements. Five investigations were made for final adoption and one final adoption order was obtained.

The number of cases in the unmarried parents department 33, remained the same as at the beginning of the year. There were ten new cases during the year.

Considerable work was also done for the Dependents' Allowance Board and the Dependents' Board of Trustees.

The following is the review of the year's work presented by the superintendent :—

April 20th, 1944.

Mr. President, Ladies and Gentlemen:

In preparing a report of the work of the Children's Aid Society, one hardly knows where to begin. There are many phases of our work and any one of them is a topic in itself. The work as a whole has progressed rather favourably during the year but there is the constant reminder in carrying out the daily duties, that we are only scratching the surface, so to speak, as far as providing an efficient and covering piece of welfare work in this county.

We are confronted with new problems every day and many of them are of a nature that, in my opinion, will have an effect upon the natural peace and harmony of the home. There appears to be a growing tendency on the part of many parents to shirk their obligations in relation to their families. The conditions under which they are living provide them, so they believe, with an excuse for this apparent neglect. It may not be intentional but it is there. We speak of juvenile delinquency when in reality it is not so much the juvenile as it is parental.

The number of children in actual care has not varied to a great extent during the past year. The children are in various types of homes as you will notice in the Statistical Report. The placement of children in one that requires consideration, care and thought. Many of the children are admitted to care in the rough, to be sure, and it is very difficult to say that suitable homes can be found for them at once.

Speaking of admission again brings to the fore the inadequacy of our present system and perhaps you will think my pet subject in receiving home. It certainly would not be a cure-all and such a home would bring with it many other difficulties but that would not concern those whom we are trying to assist—the children.

In constant touch with our children in those in boarding homes especially are the members of your clothing committee. Mrs. Woods and Miss Hannah Tier have spent many long and sometimes tedious hours trying to find suitable clothing and that especially for smaller children has been no light task during the past year.

Adoption:

Our last annual report revealed that adoptions had made a new high. It could be truthfully said in this year it was quite the opposite. We have, however, several orders awaiting completion and many placements have been made in adoption probation homes. The adoption of a child is, or should be, the crowning of one particular unit of our work. The child brought into care because of neglect of the quality of the parents to care for him—his placement in a home where all that he previously lacked is provided and finally being accepted as a permanent member of the family by adoption.

—C. U. F. A.

The number of cases coming under this particular department of our work is somewhat lower than last year but the problem is still there and should receive the serious consideration of the Board. In this phase of the work alone, considerable effort could be expended in placement of the child and assistance to the mother. Our chief activity at the present time is in maintaining the legal part of the particular cases arising.

British Child Guests

The number of British Child Guests remains the same. We can only express to the Hall the grateful appreciation of parents and our Society for providing the children with such splendid care and attention.

War Services

This continues to be a part of our work that requires careful consideration as well as consuming a large part of our time, for the most part. Investigations are of a similar nature but there are some that present a serious social problem. At first one might say that it is no concern of ours and that the particular family comes under the jurisdiction of the Dependents' Allowance Board, Dependents Board of Trustees, the War Veterans' Allowance, or some other branch of the Department of Pensions and National Health. Such is not the case, a social problem has been created within our jurisdiction and it is up to us to find a remedy for that particular difficulty. In carrying out our investigations we have received splendid support from the Department of Pensions and National Health.

Before closing, may I pay tribute to two most faithful and loyal members of the Board who have passed on to their reward: Mr. Alpine Woods who was president for many years, and to Mrs. F. L. Hooper who filled the office of secretary for well over thirty - five years. They both gave unsparingly. They will be long remembered for their loyalty and devotion to their duties in helping to improve conditions for the underprivileged child in this County.

Churches are notoriously conserva... tive. Church courts sooner or later come to believe that they are the custodian for all truth. If any one doubts this it is only necessary to read a bit of the history of negotia... tions looking forward to a consolida... tion of religious bodies. What an up... roar there is. Dean Inge sets this off in a humorous limerick: "All my ancestors have been churchmen, for fifteen hundred years or so, and to every new proposal they always answered no."

We are living in a day of flux and change. The church is challenged by new pagan theories and ideologies. The sooner this is recognized the better. And yet, strange as it may seem, just at a time when it is necessary to unite to meet a common foe, there is a resurgence of reaction... ism. This is based on the fear that any change to meet new conditions will shatter the old faith. The old has had its chance, and perhaps we have all to share the blame of its meagre consequences. Great masses of people never darken the doors of the church. Youth is not satisfied that in its present form the church is doing all it should to make vital, in our civilization, the religion of Jesus. They will have more to say about this when they return from the wars, and they will have earned the right to speak.

The church at Jerusalem broke with tradition, in proclaiming every individual a poential Christian. We have something to learn about that, even yet. Our modern churches are not immune to race prejudices. There are those who would have a lot to say about letting non-Anglo Saxons join a congregation. Some day we may catch up with Paul.

CAN. RED CROSS GIVES DETAILS ON YEAR'S WORK

Toronto — Reporting to the annual meeting of the Central Council in Toronto, Norman C. Urquhart, chairman, prisoner of war food parcels committee, Canadian Red Cross, stated that the five packing plants in Montreal Hamilton, Windsor and Winnipeg have as of December 31st, 1943, packed a total of 7,800,000 prisoner of war food parcels of 42,900 tons of food. Delivery of supplies from manufacturers has been steadily improving and there is less difficulty now than at any time since the beginning.

Dr. F. F. Tisdall, recently returned from Britain where he interviewed a number of repatriated prisoners, has come to the conclusion that ingredients should remain the same with the exception of added spices and tinning of the cheese. Shortly there will be a ½-oz. packet of onion salt or powder, and tea is going into all the parcels now.

On imported goods such as raisins, prunes and corned beef the cost has been advancing steadily, and in January, 1944 these three items alone have increased the cost of the parcels over a period of one year by more than one-half million dollars.

Dr. J. T. Phair, M.B., D.P.H., chairman, national blood donor committee, reported a very substantial increase in donations. For 1943 donations of blood reported from clinics reached 565437. There were 260 clinics and sub-clinics opened. Added to those previously in operation, this makes a total of 835 as of December 31st.

Mrs. H. P. Plumptre, honorary director of the Red Cross Enquiry Bureau at Ottawa, stated that some 810,500 Red Cross food parcel acknowledgment cards have been received from Geneva to-date.

From its initiation to the end of 1943, 1,825 personal cable messages 2,500 other cable message replies, have been handled by the Bureau; from Geneva. Direct replies have come from such far points as Austria, Greece Germany, Russia, Manila and Japan.

Small medical parcels are now sent through the bureau, and when a "capture" parcel is forwarded to a prisoner of war, the bureau informs the next-of-kin.

Miss Jean E. Browne, national director of Junior Red Cross, reported 29,020 branches and 823,584 members of Canadian Juniors in Canada and Newfoundland at the end of the school year 1942-43.

During the year $211,022 was contributed to the Junior Red Cross War Fund in the various provincial divisions, and of this amount $143,048 was transferred to the National Junior Red Cross War Fund. Vehicles for wartime service to the cost of $18,472 were given by the Juniors; musical instruments for prisoners of war, $42,944; exercise books and pencils, dental equipment and drawing and engineering tools amounting to $1,528; feeding undernourished children in Greece, Poland Yugoslavia, Belgium and France, $28,000; relief for Chinese children, $10,000, and drugs for the treatment of coeliac diseases in children's hospitals in Britain $2,188, and the maintenance of fourteen war nurseries in Britain, $41,106.

BAY OF QUINTE CONFERENCE W.M.S. MET AT BELLEVILLE

A meeting of the W.M.S. Branch executive, Bay of Quinte Conference of The United Church, was held in Holloway Street Church, Belleville, on Monday afternoon, April 17. The Branch President, Mrs. W. C. Hagarty, of Cherry Valley, presided, opened the sessions, welcomed the members of the executive and conducted a worship service.

Special feature of the afternoon and evening session included the introduction of the guests. Miss Mable Clazie, recently returned from Japan, Miss Ruth Lannigan, Missionary at large, Ompah, Ontario, and Mrs. G. E. Forbes, Editor of Missionary Monthly.

The press report as presented by Mrs. A. Hill, press secretary, revealed a total of 2,119 items reported in 52 newspapers and 25 record books compiled. Belleville Presbyterial led with 846 items published. The press departments are grateful to the editors in the Bay of Quinte Branch for the generous allotment of space accorded it from month to month.

ADDRESS BY MRS. FORBES

The highlight of the evening session was an address by Mrs. G. E. Forbes, Missionary Monthly Editor, Mrs. Forbes' subject was "The Church Woman on the Alert." Declaring that women have the opportunity for working for the welfare of mankind to-day because public affairs are "woman's affairs. Church women started the forward movement when the W. M. S. was organized. Out from this organization came all other women's organizations.

Challenging church women to once again pioneer in leadership she urged they study peace problems, seek to prevent another war, for the only possible situation to a lasting peace is a friendly world community.

Church women must radiate contagious Christian personalities to all those they contact that others may catch their ideals, said Mrs. Forbes.

Church women must be on the alert to perform tasks of friendship for those away from home they must welcome strangers working in war industries in their community; they must try to protect the community from a growing spirit of bitterness intolerance and hatred; they must give generously, sacrificially, for the church is the only institution with a charter that can teach the divine courage needed to-day, that a better world may emerge and a lasting and righteous peace be established, said Mrs. Forbes in conclusion.

Recruiting Office For C.W.A.C. at Belleville

With the approach of the impending Allied invasion of the continent it is increasingly imperative that every available man in the Canadian Army be moved up to active duty in support of the concentrated drive which will end only when Hitler and his Axis henchmen are thoroughly beaten to their knees.

But to take the place of these men who will be called for more active duty it is necessary that more and more Canadian girls and women volunteer for the secretarial and other station duties of the training camps in Canada. The Canadian Women's Army Corps is urgently in need of additional recruits, with a recent announcement from the Department of National Defence indicating that 5,000 recruits will be needed by June 30th.

Girls or women with experience in typing and stenography and as clerks or cooks are mostly needed but the C.W.A.C. will undertake to train recruits in the necessary trades.

With the view of speeding up recruiting into this service a Mobile Recruiting Unit of the C.W.A.C. will shortly visit this area when officers will welcome interviews. Casual inquiries into conditions of the service or the asking of any other information in-no way constitutes an obligation on the part of those interested.

Girls and women interested in the C.W.A.C. need not wait for the mobile recruiting unit to visit their District, however. A permanent Recruiting Office for girls in khaki is open in Belleville at 21 Bridge St., East, where interviews will be gladly given by the recruiting personnel. In charge of the office are Corpl. Lois Pilkington and Pte. Florence Cameron who will be glad to answer any questions in connection with the service they represent. Appointments may be made by telephoning 89 in Belleville.

MT. PLEASANT PIONEER W. I.

Mrs. Claude Nugent was hostess to the Mount Pleasant Pioneer W. I. branch on Thursday evening, April 6. There was a splendid attendance, including nearly all the members of the branch, as well as several visitors. The meeting was in charge of the president, Mrs. A. Sexsmith. After the regular opening several items of business were discussed and correspondence read. Mrs. P. Stafford gave a report of the District meeting held in Napanee in March. Five Easter poems were read by Ruth Nugent, after which Mrs. Sexsmith gave a very appropriate reading, dealing with the topic of the evening. Solos were sung by Marilyn Stafford and Lois Parks. Mrs. M. Hart, who had planned the programme, conducted an amusing contest which was won by Mrs. G. Dupre. The meeting closed with the National Anthem, after which lunch was served and a social time was enjoyed.

PTE. WM. G. ALLEN KILLED IN ACTION, ITALY, DEC. 31, 1943

Pte. William Gordon Allen was born near Yarker, in the Township of Camden, on March 25th, 1923 and was the yiungest son of the late Clarence S. Allen.His mother, Mrs. John N. Beattie and step-father, also his sister, Vera (Mrs. Gerald Peters), his brother, Bruce and two little step-brothers, Roy and Rose, survive and deeply mourn the loss of a devoted son and brother.

Gordon was always kindly disposed thoroughly dependable and a fine manly character, highly respected and esteemed, a general favourite with old and young alike. Truly, his passing is a great loss to his family and the entire community in which he lived.

He enlisted on October 6th, 1942 with the R. C. A., but a short time later joined the Ottawa Cameron Highlanders and left for overseas in June, 1943. He was in England a short time and was transferred to North Africa. Arriving in Italy early in November, he fought through the battle of Ortona and lost his life in action on December 31st. His burial service was conducted just outside that town on January 12th, in a well tended cemetery for Canadians who have paid the supreme sacrifice in that gallant battle.

The following is a letter received by his mother from the Chaplain of the Carlton and York Regiment First Canadian Division of the British Eighth Army, to which Gordon was attached:—

Carleton and York Regiment.
January 21st, 1944

Mrs. John N. Beattie,
R.R. No. 2 Yarker, Ont.

Dear Mrs. Beattie:

As the chaplain of the Regiment may I say to you how deeply sorry I am for you in losing your splendid son Private William Gordon Allen (C 48641) on the 31st December. That was a bad day for many of us. It was surely as bad for the Jerries as for us. One almost wonders who started it. But it seemed as though both sides were trying to make the other realize it was the end of the year. A few days later, we had the Germans clear out of their positions and, if I do say it, we did a good job. But then came MY taste of clearing up after the battle. Actually I did not find your son's body for some days but we did eventually locate him and I buried him on January 12, along with our other lads. I may mention that I am a United Church minister and know the Napanee district pretty well. I tell you this because Gordon was a United Church member, or should I not say "is"—at any rate, he is and will always be one of the Church of Christ.

I took the enclosed letters, license and snapshot and his New Testament from his body, and am sending them directly to you, myself. His other personal effects will be sent by our committee later on. I read your letters to him, trying to gain some idea of his home—and I know he came from a good home and that he will be greatly missed. How your letters look forward to his home-coming. But, my dear Mrs. Beattie, how different a home-coming he had.

At such times, of what avail are words? I would console you—I'd give a great deal could I do so. But God knows the deep places of our hearts. He knows our innermost desires. So I humbly and prayerfully commend you to Him, who knows us each by name and knows our deepest needs. May He strengthen and uplift, and comfort you. Assuredly He will if you go to Him. I remember years ago, realizing how much that Old Testament passage means: "A bruised reed He shall not break; the smoking flax He shall not quench— till He send forth judgment unto victory." (It is in Isa. 42, 3; and also Matthew 12: 20.) How tender God is at such times. To His love and compassion I commend you. Do believe He is merciful.

When the day of our victory and peace comes, moreover, — though it may be hollow for you, yet you can be proud in the knowledge that your dear son hastened that day, and the ending of all such barbarities as war brings.

God bless you—and us all, everyone.

Sincerely,
E. W. MacQuarrie.

Your job lies ahead too, just as clearly defined as this Canadian soldier's at the battlefront. Are you backing him . . . to the limit? You're not giving up anything when you buy Victory Bonds. All you are asked to do is lend, not give; invest not donate! Surely the buying of extra Bonds is no hardship compared to the sacrifice of the lad who is "moving up front" today.

NAPANEE LIONS ENTERTAIN 'MISS CANADA' GIRLS

At the regular dinner meeting of the Napanee Lions, the Club played hosts to the local girls who are so unstintingly giving of their time and talents, selling Victory War Stamps. A goodly number of these charming young ladies were present and were introduced to the Club by Lion Murray Chidley. In the course of his introduction, Lion Chidley said it was indeed a great pleasure and a pleasant change to be surrounded with such beauty instead of having to gaze at bald heads, etc. During the meal the girls added their voices to community singing and at the close Miss Barbara Johnston, on behalf of the guests, voiced the appreciation of those present for a splendid evening.

Following the regular programme the Grant Family Troupe of Belleville, a talented family of artists, presented a splendid programme of musical solos, duets songs and group dancing. Mrs. Grant, the musical directress of the troupe presided at the piano in a most capable manner. Mr. Grant delighted his audience with several xylophone solos and proved to be a master of that instrument. The youngest daughter, Miss Miss Helen Grant, made her debut in solo work on the bells and also sang a solo for which she drew a good round of applause. The members of the dancing group, Miss Catherine and Miss Mary Grant, Miss Kathryn Barrett and Kitty Johnstone Lennox gave splendid interpretations of the Scotch reel, the Irish jig and the tambourine dance.

Mrs. Albert Johnstone, who trains the dancers is worthy of special mention for her efforts.

The whole troupe is to be congratulated for a pleasingly high-class performance.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO YOU

What does 25 cents dropped into a tag box mean to you? Probably the postponing of some trivial pleasure. It may be that it would not even be missed. That same quarter dropped into a tag box for The Canadian National Institute for the Blind may mean a great deal to the blind of your community.

A quarter may not seem to be of much consequence, but when it is added to all the others in the tag boxes of the Institute it can mean a great deal.

Next Saturday there will be a tag day in Napanee. The money collected will go towards maintaining the work of The Canadian National Institute for the Blind in this district. It will help the Institute provide employment and training for those blind people who need it, and to assist those who are finding it difficult to obtain even the necessities of life. It will help the Institute to provide Braille books for blind readers, and home occupations for those who cannot go out to work. In short, it will enable the Institute to do all that can be done for the blind. Your quarters can do a lot of good. Remember this next Saturday when the taggers ask you to help the blind.

TEA AND COFFEE RATION INCREASED AFTER MAY 1ST

About 40% More Allowed Consumers

Ottawa, (C.P.) — Tea and coffee rations will be increased approximately 40 per cent. May 1 the Prices Board announced last week.

The announcement said coupon values will be raised to four ounces for tea or 16 ounces for coffee, with two coupons valid each month—one every second and fourth Thursday. At present, coupon values are two ounces of tea and eight ounces for coffee, with two coupons valid every three weeks.

Coupons due before May 1, but not used, will be accepted on or after May 1 at the increased values.

Limit of one cup of coffee or one serving of tea will continue in restaurants and other eating places.

"The increase is in line with the board policy of liberalizing rations as supply situations justify," said R. T. Mohan, Tea and Coffee Administrator. "The new ration basis should give consumers ample tea and coffee in relation to their normal requirements.

"Added to the increase last September the new ration will double the amount originally allowed when tea and coffee were first placed under ration on Aug. 3rd, 1942."

The tea and coffee ration was increased by one-third last September.

Saturday about noon, two grass fires were reported, one on the Newburgh Road and the other near the residence of Jack Herrington on Thomas Street. Later on Saturday the firemen were again called to Thomas Street west, and on Sunday about noon to the vacant lot on the corner of Graham and Centre streets.

NUMBER PERSONS BUYING VICTORY BONDS LOWER IN L. & A. COUNTY

Assistance Can be Given Salesmen by Early Buying

The first week Sixth Victory Loan figures show that the County is behind the same week of the last loan. Everything has been tried to increase the first week's sales without apparent result. Individual purchases to date are up to standard with previous applications in money volume, BUT the number of applications is very much smaller compared with the same period in the Fifth Victory Loan. Those who are buying are buying as usual, but about 300 people who bought in the first week last Fall haven't purchased in this loan to date. — THIS IS SERIOUS — If that percentage carries throughout the drive, then we will fall short of last Loan's total number of applications by nearly 1,000 subscribers. In that event, the County would find it an impossible task to obtain its objective a mere $1,000,000, compared to $1,225,000 set for the Fifth Loan. Please don't hold back — BUY TO THE LIMIT OF YOUR ABILITY — AND BUY NOW! Lennox and Addington has the reputation of being a slow starter on Victory Loan Campaigns. That impression can be turned into a fallacy if those who ordinarily wait till the last two or three days of the Campaign will place their order now. In 99 cases out of 100, the buyer knows that he intends to buy and how much he intends to invest — Why NOT BUY NOW — rather than delay till the last minute. Buy your Bonds on the first call. A callback means a setback for your salesman. He has gas and tires to contend with. So ease his load and get your township over the top as soon as possible. If everyone carries his share of the load, Lennox and Addington will attain the position it deserves — "ON TOP."

COUNTY CLERKS DECIDE TO FORM CENTRAL ORGANIZATION

Representatives Met Last Week in Napanee

Over sixty farmers of the County attended a banquet and meeting on Friday evening, April 27th, in the Argyll Lodge banquet rooms to hear Mr. V. S. Milburn explain the work of the Federation of Agriculture and its place in the County.

Representatives of all the organizations in the County were present including the three main commodity groups, the Cheese Patrons Association, the Competitive Milk Association, and the Tomato Growers Association, which are already organized under the Marketing Act, the Hog Producers Association, the Poultry Association, the Poultry Pool the Holstein Breeders Club, the Women's Institutes, the Agricultural Societies the Livestock Improvement Association, the Crop Improvement Association, the Pioneers Association, the Service Clubs and Members of the County Council. Mr. Milburn, who is Secretary of the Ontario Federation explained that the purpose of any Farm organization is to improve the working and living conditions of farm people.

Producer or Commodity groups have been formed and perfected to people interested in one particular group and consequently, serve only a part of the farm community. Even after all the Producer or Commodity groups are organized which work is now almost completed in the Province, there is still work to be done which no single producer group is prepared to do.

This is where the Federation comes into the picture. Mr. Milburn gave examples of how the Federation had joined together these groups to fit them into a Provincial-wide program, and eventually into a Dominion-wide pigram to meet the needs of all rural people. Mr. Milburn cited how a program to help the wheat growers of the West was fitted to help the hog raisers of Ontario and Quebec. A mutual understanding of the problems and an educational program are essential to the success of the Federation.

An extensive educational program is underway to study the needs of Agriculture.

It was the unanimous decision of the meeting that a County Federation of Agriculture, be formed.

An outline of the plan of organization was given by Mr. Milburn.

ORGANIZING COMMITTEE FORMED

The following were appointed as a Committee to complete the organization:— J. E. Miller, Wilton (Chairman); Morrison Scott, Stella; J. B. Elliott, Napanee 2; Harold McCaul Napanee 3; Clarence Milligan, Tamworth; Fred Bell, Moscow; Don Paul Napanee 4; Rockwell Parks, Napanee

RATHER CRUDE FOR A WOMAN

Mrs. Nielson, M.P., seems sometimes to forget her lady manners. With so few women in politics, it has always been the hope of those who hope for a higher form of political debate, that the women would add dignity and charm to it. Such however, is not always the case. Mrs. Nielson in speaking on April 27th had this to say: "Some members may have thought the remarks made tonight by the Hon Member from Carleton (Mr. Reid) were a little extreme. But I would support what was said by him. I believe that if every honest Canadian who sits in this chamber had read the last book by this man Kirkconnell — I hesitate to call him professor, because that would disgrace the title of many other good men — if they had seen the political trends that are so apparent in all his writings, if they had realized that this man acts in an advisory capacity to this committee, they would realize that he is not the man to promote national unity."

We are not at this point, particularly interested in the contents of Professor Kirkconnell's book, which was so severely condemned by Mr. Rose and Mrs. Nielson. What we are pointing out is the rather undignified manner in which a lady member of parliament refers to a rather highly respected educationalist.

Professor Kirkconnell is a professor at McMaster University. Before assuming that position, he was a professor at Manitoba College. He is an honor graduate of Queen's, and is probably the greatest linguist in Canada, having a reading knowledge of some forty languages and dialects. He has written widely, has made a profound study of population trends in Canada, and is a welcome lecturer before national groups, service clubs and chambers of commerce besides the learned societies of the nation.

What he writes may arouse the ire of those who do not agree with his thesis, for he pulls no punches. But he is honest, a good student, a capable writer and a searcher after truth. Otherwise it is doubtful that McMaster University would continue him on its staff.

When Mrs. Nielson therefore says "this man Kirkconnell—I hesitate to call him professor because that would disgrace the title of many other good men" — she casts no reflection on Mr. Kirkconnell whose reputation as a professor is all too well known, but casts a serious reflection on herself. That sort of language may sound smart when it is made, but it does the lady member little credit, nor does it add to the dignity of the debate in the House.

THE ATHABASCAN

The loss of The Athabascan accentuates the place which Canada has assumed in naval affairs. The Canadian Navy, once sneeringly referred to as the "Tinpot Navy" is now a valuable adjunct to The United Nations' naval equipment. The Canadian Navy has played its part in all the naval theatres of war. Perhaps the most conspicuous contribution has been in connection with the submarine menace in the North Atlantic. Fifteen Canadian war vessels have been lost since the outbreak of the war, including five destroyers. The Athabascan was lost in a naval engagement in the English Channel and went down with her guns blazing, but not until one enemy ship had been driven ashore in flames.

There are 131 members of the crew known to have been saved, 85 of these were taken prisoners by a German boat which rescued the men from life rafts. The others were rescued by H.M.C.S. Haida sister ship to the Athabascan. The normal crew of a destroyer is 200.

The Canadian Navy is fast building up a tradition for service and sacrifice in keeping with the British traditions. All Canada is proud of the record of our Marines and the magnificent contribution they are making to the success of the Allied cause.

Napanee and District Ministerial Meeting Held at Deseronto

The Napanee and District Ministerial Association met at Deseronto United Church on Monday forenoon, with Rev. G. M. Chidley in the chair. Among those present were: Rev. and Mrs. G. M. Chidley, Rev. and Mrs. C. D. McLellan, Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Train, Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Clarke, Rev. and Mrs. A. H. Hoare, Rev. A. C. McCallum and Mrs. H. J. Mooney, Rev. and Mrs. H. A. Bunt, Rev. A. W. Loucheed and Fr. Lloyd Cronmiller, R.C.A.F. Chaplain, Capt. Miriam Hoggard and Lieut. Beker, of the Salvation Army.

The President, in the opening exercises, read a passage of scripture and called upon Captain Hoggard to lead in prayer.

Rev. G. M. Chidley gave an interesting address on "The Roman Catholic Church and Its Relationship to the Educational, Social and Religious Life of Canada".

A helpful discussion followed, in which the members took part, and a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the speaker for his timely message.

In the absence of the Secretary, Rev. A. C. McCallum was appointed Secretary pro. tem. He read a letter from the British Sailors' Society (Canadian Branch), asking assistance from the Association. On motion, duly seconded, it was decided to invite the representative of the British Sailors' Society to visit the district, as in previous years.

In the matter of Sunday parades for the purpose of promoting Victory Loans or other war charities, the following resolution was passed: We, the members of the Napanee and District Ministerial Association, are thoroughly sympathetic with the present Victory Loan and the desire to reach its full objective. We also appreciate the splendid leadership given in this worthy project. We, as the Napanee and District Ministerial Association voice our protest against Sunday parades, such as was held at Napanee on Sunday, April 30. We believe that this practice interferes considerably with the general activities of the church and Sunday services, especially in rural areas. We would respectfully suggest that such parades be held on week days. This resolution does not refer to church or military parades.

Following the President's address a very interesting discussion followed, in which all members took part, and a hearty vote of thanks was tendered the speaker.

Rev. C. D. McLellan, of Grace United Church, Napanee, was elected President for the ensuing year, with Rev. H. A. Bunt, of Deseronto, as Vice President, Rev. W. G. Fletcher, of Yarker, was re-elected Secretary-Treasurer. The sessions will be resumed in October.

The ladies of Deseronto United Church provided a delightful luncheon, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Captain Hoggard, on behalf of the guests, extended thanks.

NEED 5,000 WOMEN FOR C. W. A. C.

MOBILE RECRUITING UNIT IN NAPANEE MAY 4TH, 5TH

"There are 5,000 women between the ages of eighteen and 45 needed immediately by the Canadian Women's Army Corps, in order that physically fit men be released for more active service from such jobs as clerks, typists, switchboard operators, postal sorters, cooks, dental assistants and other trades usually filled by women in civilian life," according to a statement made recently by Capt. D. M. Adcock, District Recruiting Officer for the C.W.A.C.

A mobile recruiting unit will be in Napanee on the 4th and 5th of May, under the direction of Lieut. Jeanne Harel, to give information and answer any questions about the corps.

A recruit in the C.W.A.C. must be in sound health and have a good standing in the community. As a member of the corps she receives 80 per cent. of the pay of a Canadian soldier — the second best paid among the soldiers of the United Nations. She also is given full medical and dental care and a clothing allowance and enjoys the benefits of the army educational services.

When a woman joins the corps with previous experience in a trade she is place in a job immediately after she finishes basic training, with congenial living quarters and recreational facilities provided. If she has not previous training she may qualify for one of the trade courses.

The C.W.A.C. has been a part of the Canadian Army for nearly three years, and is giving efficient service both in Canada and Great Britain. Carefully selected officers and N.C.O.'s ensure the welfare happiness and comfort of those under their command.

THE BRIDGE

A favourite theme of those who have given thought to world conditions is that Canada is a sort of Bridge. One end of the bridge rests on American Democracy and the other on the British Monarchial System. We do not know where the idea originated, but successive writers and lecturers delight to describe travellers passing from the United States to Great Britain, and from Great Britain to the United States across our country. It is an interesting theme, and one which, because of Canada's geographical position, may have some measure of truth in it.

Perhaps, two events in the past week, may illustrate this. One was the address in the Ottawa House, of Denton Massey, M.P. Mr. Massey has just returned from Great Britain; the contrast between what he has seen in Britain and what he sees in Canada was so great, that he spoke with great earnestness about it. In Great Britain the people are suffering all sorts of privation. The war effort is their chief concern. It is reflected in the determination seen everywhere on people's faces, and in the rather shabbily dressed people, and the scarcity of luxuries and what might even be called necessities.

Here, in Canada however, people were well dressed. The lights blazed at night. Their shop windows were filled; the stores were crowded and the papers were full of advertisements promising all sorts of luxuries after the war. Canada hardly knows there is a war at all. Indeed, Mr. Massey asked the House how they would like to have a couple of pages from Hansard printed and sent to the troops overseas as an indication of what Canada was doing.

At almost the same time comes a voice from the United States in a quite different tone. A writer in The Saturday Evening Post is condemning the women in the States for their lack of interest in the war and their unwillingness to sacrifice for the cause of the United Nations. Then the writer holds up the Canadian women as an example that the American women might very well follow. Indeed, the Canadian women are referred to in terms that might make some of them smile a bit. The writer said that when there are international women's gatherings, the Canadian women come to them shabbily dressed and look on the finery of the Americans "as though they were creatures from another planet."

Well, if Denton Massey is disturbed by our extravagance, and the Americans laud us for our self-sacrifice, the truth probably lies somewhere in between the two extremes. It may be that the bridge of which the extravagance of the American women — to take the writer in The Post at her own words — and the austere, self-sacrificing devoted Britisher, is the Canadian public, which is midway between the two.

We are not passing judgment on any of these comments from Mr. Massey or the writer of The Evening Post, we are simply showing how different people view us and our war effort.

EATING OUT

A writer "J. H. G." in The Winnipeg Free Press, has been having a bit of good-natured fun at the expense of Toronto. He calls attention to the newspaper report that a Doctor visiting Toronto "gave Toronto's eating habits a going over." The writer says: "Today an American can come to Toronto and intimate that their table manners are atrocious, tell them they are the worst fed-holters he has ever seen and nothing happens."

"J. H. G." then comes to the defence of Toronto. He says: "The visiting Doctor was so aghast at the way Torontonians wolfed their food that he expressed wonderment that anybody lived past fifty." We will concede that the town has developed a dyspeptic temperament that is famed across the country. It looks upon the rest of Canada, and the world at large, with a bilious eye. But the trouble comes not from wolfing food. The charge on that point is a scandalous falsehood as anyone who has ever tried to get a meal in Toronto will testify.

"Stand in line in a restaurant in Toronto and wait for a seat and watch the eaters. The impression grows that the diners are fixed objects, that they were moved in with the furniture and have been there ever since. An ordinary Westerner can polish off a meal in fifteen minutes. But in Toronto it is almost a sacrilege to reach the dessert in less than an hour. Moreover, with the service what it is now, it is almost an impossibility.

"To be taken to lunch by a Toronto businessman is an ordeal which can be faced but rarely by outlanders. To go to lunch means to spend most of the rest of the day at a table. If it takes them as long to stoke away their breakfasts and suppers, they must spend something like nine hours a day at table."

We quote this because we've eaten at Toronto restaurants and to suggest to our readers that should they be planning a trip to the Queen City, it would be well to get a relative or a friend on whom to sponge. Failing that a couple of weeks in the "gym" learning to stand half-an-hour alternately, first on one foot and then on the other, will be good preparation for the endurance test.

MR. AND MRS. JAS. DOWLING HONOURED BY FRIENDS

Enterprise. — On Wednesday, April 19th, a large number of friends and neighbours gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Dowling, to have a farewell party with them before moving to their new home at Enterprise. The early part of the evening was spent in playing cards and music. Then Mr. John Dillon presented Mr. and Mrs. Dowling with a purse of money and the following address was read by Mr. Marshall Bush:—

Dear Jim and Julia:

We your friends and neighbours have gathered here tonight to spend a social evening with you before your departure from our neighboring community. As neighbours you have been of our best, always ready to extend a helping hand in sickness or trouble at any time you were called upon. While we are indeed glad to welcome our new neighbours, we can't help regretting the loss of our old ones. Now we all wish you the best of health and happiness in your new home in Enterprise, and as it is not so far away we hope to have the pleasure of being with you again on many future occasions.

We ask you to please accept this purse of money as a token of remembrance.

(Signed) on behalf of your friends and neighbours, John Dillon, Marshall Bush.

Mr. and Mrs. Dowling thanked each and everyone and invited everyone to come and visit them in their new home.

The gathering sang "For They are Jolly Good Fellows," and a dainty lunch was served by the young women of the community. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing and music.

Tamworth School News

On Friday, April 28, a number of the Fifth Form students of the Tamworth Continuation School completed their school year and on Monday, May 1st, took positions on farms under the Ontario Farm Service Regulations.

A short but special address was given to these students on Friday morning by the Principal, Mr. Millar whose remarks were both advisory and challenging. He said he hoped they would conduct themselves with honour, courage and integrity and play the game of life fairly and squarely. Our better Canada of the future would have to come from the school's. "There are" he said, "two ways of life. High principles taught by the Church, School and earnest parents might be thrown away or they could be retained and treasured as a priceless heritage. A good character could be lost by a night of sinful pleasure. One had to know how to resist temptation in the world of to-day. Success at school in terms of high marks of course is very important, but it is worth more when a pupil steps out of school leaving a good record of honour and integrity and shows the real qualities of a lady or gentleman. Memories of such students are sweet and enduring to teachers, he said.

A number of these students intend taking the summer course for teachers at the Normal School in Peterborough and may be in the teaching profession in September.

Col. Preston Gilbride Awarded the D.S.O.

FORMERLY LIVED IN NAPANEE

Col. William Preston Gilbride, R.C.A.S.C., overseas since 1939, has been awarded the Distinguished Service Order for outstanding efficiency in the discharge of his duties "without regard for his own personal safety" during landing operations in Italy. It was announced last week by the Department of National Defence.

Colonel Gilbride, a son of Mrs. R. G. Gilbride of 77 Brock avenue north, Montreal West, was a lieutenant-colonel at the time of the events which led to his award. He was a brother, Lieut. E. Gordon Gilbride in the R.C.N.V.R. on active service.

Colonel Gilbride, who was a qualified captain in the pre-war R.P.A.M. went over with the 1st Divisional R.C.A.S.C. and saw service in France until the evacuation. He also took part in the landing in Sicily, after being among the first group of officers to graduate from the Canadian Staff College in England. He is 32.

COL. GILBRIDE'S CITATION

His citation reads:

"To exploit the success of initial landings at Pachino, a Canadian division started the advance inland with units at a very reduced scale of vehicles and the build-up to be made on the line of march as additional transport was landed. At an early stage it became apparent that the mobility of the division would be jeopardized unless the distribution of vehicles between units was closely controlled. Colonel Gilbride, assistant adjutant and quartermaster-general of a division, was instructed to see that the balance between units and formations was continually re-adjusted to meet operational requirements. He kept constantly in touch with forward units and was under enemy fire on a number of occasions. He remained leading units throughout the afternoon in spite of heavy enemy shelling and without regard for his own personal safety.

Colonel Gilbride carried out his duties with an efficiency that has been a major contributing factor to their success. The momentum of the advance fro mthe beaches to Adernò could not have been maintained but for the efficiency with which the Canadian division was maintained under very difficult conditions."

The Late F. H. Armitage

The funeral service for Francis Henry Armitage was conducted at the Tierney Funeral Home on Saturday afternoon, April 29 with Rev. G. M Chidley, minister of Trinity United Church, in charge.

Since coming to Napanee, Mr. Armitage was a member of Trinity United Church. He was a member of the official board and a regular attendant at the services as long as his health permitted. Mr. Chidley, in his address at the funeral, paid tribute to Mr. Armitage's many fine qualities and his splendid Christian character throughout his long life.

He is survived by his wife, formerly Deborah Huyck, one daughter, Elizabeth, Mrs. Ross Hudgin, Toronto; one son, Fred, four grandchildren, Frank and Gloria Armitage and Robert and Billy Hudgin, and three great - grandchildren, Frank, Lynda and Karen Armitage. INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, MAY 7TH, 1944

"PAUL CROSSES INTO EUROPE"

Lesson Text: Acts 16: 12-15. Philippians 3: 7-14

To-day's lesson records one of the most significant events in the whole history of Christianity. It tells the story of the way in which Europe first heard the message of the Gospel. Paul had not intended going to Europe. He was not yet finished in Asia. Quite probably he had plans to visit another province. But something hindered those plans. Then he had the dream in which he saw a man urging him to go to Macedonia. So he went and on that decision hung the future history of Europe. Christianity took a western direction, which profoundly affected the whole history of the world ever since.

Paul's entrance to Europe was not an auspicious one. He landed at Philippi. To our knowledge there were no Christians at Philippi at the time. But Paul found a few women who had come to the river bank for prayer. With these, he entered into conversation. Lydia, one of these, was baptized. Thus began the work in Europe. Philippi always after, held a warm place in the heart of Paul. He writes the Philippians affectionately and his splendid Christian character throughout his long life.

Indeed the second part of the lesson is taken from a passage in a letter which Paul wrote to the Church in Philippi, years later, when he was a prisoner in Rome. In that letter Paul recounts much of his own experience which we may read to our profit. It will repay repeated readings. "What things were gain for me these things I counted loss for Christ" Paul says. "Seven points of pride he had given up: circumcision in the eighth day, Jewish blood, belonging to the tribe of Benjamin being a Jewish leader, being a pharisee, being a zealous persecuter of heredies, having observed the minutest detail of the law. As a Jew these things made Paul pre-eminent; as a Christian they had little value."

PRICES OF SAUSAGES REDUCED BY BOARD

Effective April 27th, retail ceiling prices for fresh sausages have been reduced by about four cents per pound by the Prices Board. This reduction will not, however, affect all stores as many retailers are now selling below the ceiling and in some instances, therefore, the reduction will be less than four cents. The reduction has been accomplished by lowering wholesale prices by two cents per pound and cutting the maximum mark-up from 30 to 25 per cent.

Judge McLean was keenly interested in the work and welfare of soldiers of the present war and was president of the Picton Post, Canadian Legion, and of the Prince Edward Red Cross. He was a delegate to the Synod of the Anglican Church, Eastern Ontario division. He was president of Picton Golf Club, a member of the Collegiate Board and P.O.M. of the Grand Orange Lodge of Eastern Ontario. He was practicing law in Bowmanville when he was elevated to the bench.

Surviving are his widow and three sons: Major Hamilton McLean, M.B.E., Camp Borden; Major Berford McLean, overseas; and Neil, at home.

SIXTH VICTORY LOAN PARADE A HUGE SUCCESS

One of the largest crowds ever seen in Napanee was on hand to witness the Victory Loan Military Parade on Sunday afternoon. Thousands lined the route of march, especially that stretch of Dundas Street bounded by York and Adelphi Streets. Those who attended were rewarded by the finest military spectacle in the history of Napanee. The weather was perfect, and it made a real setting for the parade.

Over one thousand troops participated, among them being personnel from the following units:

Royal Navy Fleet Air Arm, Kingston.

Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve, Kingston.

Royal Canadian Corps of Signals, Kingston.

Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps, Kingston.

47th Field Battery (Reserve), Napanee.

34th Battery, Belleville.

Canadian Women's Army Corps Kingston.

R. C. A. F., Deseronto.

R. C. A. F., Women's Division, at Mountain View.

Red Cross Nursing Sisters Kingston.

In the civilian section were the Veterans, Boy Scouts, Cubs and Miss Canada Girls. The military equipment was made up of 4 25-pounder guns drawn by gun tractors; Red Cross Ambulance; Float from the R. C. A. F., Mountain View.

The three bands in attendance were: The Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve Bugle Band; District Depot Brass Band, Kingston; Royal Canadian Corps Signals Brass Band, Kingston.

The saluting base was set up on the south side of Dundas Street, opposite the Harvey Warner Park, and the salute was taken by Squadron Leader MacLeod, Mohawk Air Station, Deseronto. On the saluting platform along with Squadron Leader MacLeod, were Mr. W. A. Grange, Honorary Chairman, and Dr. D. R. Hall, chairman, of the National War Finance Committee of the County of Lennox and Addington. Also present were representatives of the other services.

The parade in itself was excellent, and all units involved put on a real show. Among the highlights were the C.W.A.C.'s of Kingston and the Women's Division of the R.C.A.F. Mountain View. Both these units received a real hand from the onlookers all along the route of march.

The float from Mountain View Air Station was outstanding. It consisted of a 20 millimetre cannon, power-driven gun turret and on the back of the float were a series of bombs, running the whole gamut of size. The smallest of these were the 250-pound general purpose bombs, and the largest a 4,000 pound block-buster. Another outstanding feature in the parade were the three men of the R. C. C. S., who were operating walkie-talkie radio receiving sets along the route of march.

The parade ended outside the Napanee Armouries where all the Units lined up awaiting dismissal. During this time a Squadron of Harvard planes flew over the town. Shortly after a Lancaster Bomber on its way to Britain, appeared in the sky over Napanee.

DEDICATION CEREMONY

Following the parade, the Victory Loan Dedication Ceremony was held in the Napanee Armouries, with the Royal Canadian Corps Signals Band in attendance. A very good crowd turned out to witness the presentation of the Sixth Victory Loan Plaque.

On the platform were Mr. W. A. Grange, Honorary Chairman; Dr. D. R. Hall, Chairman of the National War Finance Committee of the County of Lennox and Addington, Squadron Leader C. W. MacLeod, of Mohawk Air Station, Deseronto, John G. Daly, Warden of the County, and the following Reeves and Deputy Reeves: Mr. Henry Ward, Newburgh, Reeve of Newburgh; Mr. J. R. Johnston, Dorland, Reeve of Adolphustown; Mr. Morrison Scott, R. R. 3, Stella, Reeve of Amherst Island; Mr. T. D. Creighton, R.R. No. 2, Bath, Reeve of Ernestown; Mr. Ray F. Perry, R.R. No. 1 Napanee, Reeve of North Fredericksburgh; Mr. Harold Brandon, R.R. No. 4, Napanee, Deputy Reeve of North Fredericksburgh; Mr. W. A. McLeod, Selby, Reeve of Richmond; Mr. Edgar Drew, Moscow, Reeve of Camden; Mr. Wilmot Breault, Newburgh, Deputy Reeve Camden; Mr. Clarence Milligan, Tamworth, Reeve of Sheffield; Mr. Frank N. Ham, R.R. No. 1, Bath, Reeve of South Fredericksburgh.

The ceremony opened with a number of the R.C.C.S. Band, whereupon Dr. Hall introduced the Honorary Chairman, Mr. W. A. Grange, who made a short address. Mr. Grange then introduced the Warden, Mr. J. G. Daly. Following his address the Warden introduced the Reeves of the County individually to the audience. The R.C.C.S. Band then played another number, after which the chairman presented the Sixth Victory Loan Plaque to the Warden of the County, as a token of the County, of Lennox and Addington's participation in the Sixth Victory Loan.

Dr. Hall, Mayor of Napanee, also made a very stirring appeal to the County on behalf of the Victory Loan.

A quiet wedding of interest to Naval circles was solemnized in St. Thomas' Anglican Church, St. John's, Newfoundland, at 4:30 p.m., Sunday, February 27th, when Nursing Sister Evelyn MacAlpine, R.C.N., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. MacAlpine, of 8 Watford Ave., Toronto, was united in marriage to Lieut. J. W. "Jock" Simpson, R.C.N.V.R., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Simpson, 40 Rosehill Ave., Toronto.

The bride was attended by Nursing Sister Kathleen Gallagher, R.C.N.; the groom by Lieut. H. Glen Gordon, R.C.N.V.R. The ceremony was performed by Chaplain J. E. Morgan, R.C.N., with only the immediate friends of the contracting parties present.

After the ceremony a small reception was held at the home of Captain George Whiteley, 193 Rennie's Mill Road, followed by a dinner party at the Newfoundland Hotel. After dinner, Matron E. I. Stibbard, R.C.N., A.R.R.C., declared "Open House" at the Nurses' residence in honor of the bride.

The highest shipper and producer prices for new potatoes of Canadian production permitted under an order of the Prices Board soon to be issued will involve a maximum consumer price of about five cents a pound. In order to make the best use of available food supplies, it is not intended to grant permits for the importation of new potatoes as long as there are reasonable supplies of good-quality old potatoes still available.

MR., MRS. JAS. DUDGEON, SELBY, CELEBRATE 50TH ANNIVERSARY OF THEIR MARRIAGE

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. M. Dudgeon, of Selby, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Tuesday, April 18th, with all their family present. In the evening the friends and neighbours of Mr. and Mrs. Dudgeon gathered at their home to extend their congratulations on this happy occasion and presented them with two lovely chairs.

Mrs. George Price read the address of presentation, which was as follows:

Dear Mr and Mrs. Dudgeon:—

As neighbours and friends of Selby community, we have gathered here tonight on this happy occasion to celebrate with you the fiftieth anniversary of your wedding day, and to wish you many more years of joy, happiness and usefulness, that have been yours all through your married life.

Most of us gathered here have known you all our lives and have found you to be the best of neighbours, always willing to give a helping hand when called upon, earnestly devoted to any good work, connected with church and community and kind sympathetic and helpful in time of trouble or sorrow. To you Mr Dudgeon we wish to express our appreciation and gratitude for the many years of faithful and efficient service to the Beacon Light Class of our Sunday School. Such faithfulness and efficiency may well be an inspiration to all who have had the privilege of your instruction.

Tonight, we join you in the happiness that is yours, as you are surrounded by your children and grandchildren, look back over the fifty years of happy wedded life. We congratulate you on reaching this special anniversary and hope you may be spared to celebrate many more.

Now as a token of our friendship, love and esteem, we ask you to accept these gifts. May you enjoy them through future years of health, happiness and prosperity and as you use them, may they ever bring to you happy recollections of this, your golden wedding.

Signed on behalf of the community, Percy Hudgins, Geo. Price, William A. McLeod, Everett Price, Basil Howse, Arthur Graham.

RADIO PERSONALITY IN NAPANEE

An outstanding event in the County of Lennox and Addington took place on Saturday night in the Napanee Town Hall, when a meeting for "Women Only" was held. The County Committee for the Sixth Victory Loan was successful in having Miss Claire Wallace, nationally-known newspaper woman and radio personality, deliver an address to women in the interest of the Loan.

Miss Wallace was greeted by a packed Hall, which was a great tribute by the women of the County to this artist. Miss Wallace has a magnetic personality and it was made evident everywhere by her interest in everyone and her apparent desire to put friendship first. Her ability to absorb information that is of lasting interest for good is nothing short of marvellous, and can easily explain her successful career as a public woman. The audience was most attentive as she told the story of her early efforts to get into newspaper work. This was obtained by her originality in all her work, such as being the first woman passenger to fly over the Rockies, and the first woman reporter to fly the Clipper Plane to Europe. Miss Wallace closed her address in an appeal to women in Canada to use their influence to buy the most, to subscribe to the present Victory Loan.

Preceding the address an excellent musical program by women artists, under the direction of Mrs. J. E. Marden, was enjoyed. Those who gave of their talent were:

Trio — "Nightfall in Granada", Miss Ruth Graham, Mesdames Dennison, Mills, Finlay, Perry and Switzer.

Solos — "The Lord Has Given Me a Song," and "Love's Holiday", Mrs. Bruce Finlay.

Trios — "My Little Nest of Heavenly Blue," and "I Hear the Elves A-Hummin'" by the aforementioned ladies.

Duet — "All a Merry Maytime", Miss Ruth Graham, Mrs. Frank B. Mills.

Solos — "Early in the Morning" and "Through the Years", Mrs. Harold Dennison.

Accompanist — Mrs. J. E. Madden, ceramic and choir leader of Trinity Church.

Mrs. D. R. Hall was in the chair and mentioned the fact her husband was chairman for the County of the Sixth Victory Loan, and hoped she would not be classed as a business if she were to say she was also the wife of the Mayor of Napanee, and as such she introduced and welcomed Miss Wallace. Mrs. J. R. Allen, R.R. No. 2 Napanee, President of the Lennox District Women's Institutes, thanked the speaker on behalf of the women of Lennox and Addington. Mrs. Wilfred Smith, President of Grace Church Women's Association, thanked Mrs. Madden and her artists on behalf of the National War Finance Committee of Lennox and Addington.

Representing the Women's organizations of the County the following ladies were seated on the platform: Mrs. Lenora Herrington, president of the Red Cross Society, Napanee; Mrs. J. D. Ackerman, president Lennox District W.C.T.U. No. 2 Napanee; Mrs. A. W. Boyce, president Addington District W.C.T.U. No. 2 Harrowsmith; Mrs. F. I. Boyle representing Napanee W. I.; Mrs. T. J. Hunt, president of the Victorian Order of Nurses and Home and School Associations; Mrs. Wilfred Smith, president Grace United Church Women's Association; Mrs. D.C. Home - School Meeting

The Home and School meeting was held at the N.C.V.I. Wednesday evening, April 19. Mrs. Hunt, president, opened the meeting with reading of the Home and School pledge. Mrs. Ashley, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting and Mrs. McConnel gave the treasurer's report.

Mr. Jamieson introduced the speaker, Dr. Vipond of the Kingston General Hospital. Dr. Vipond graduated from Queen's University, in medicine, last year, with honours. He has made a study of child psychology and gave to the members present a very interesting and instructive talk on child psychology. Dr. Vipond stated that the tragedies in the life of children grew out of simple ignorance. Birth is not really the beginning. Prenatal influences have an effect on the child's life. Children are different in their mind pattern. The individual is the product of both heredity and environment. The true influence of heredity and environment cannot be judged for certain. Certain diseases are definitely inherited while others are the results of the conditions of the environment. Certain reaction patterns of the child are already decided in advance by heredity but other actions are given to the child by those around him. An important phase of a child's life in early years is sleep. Children grow while asleep. Lack of sleep sometimes retards a child's progress. Play is a serious business of childhood therefore play should be encouraged and supervised for the normal development of the child. It is in play that they form patterns of social adaptation. They do that by experimentation and imitation. Play at the ages of 7 to 10 is a matter of pretending; from 10 to 12 years they want to be individualists and at that age require some guidance. It is at the ages from thirteen to fifteen, when organization is important. Boys form clubs and a little later on want to organize dancing parties. Guidance is required for right companionship at this time. The child thus develops group spirit. A child should learn the lesson of having to take a place in a larger group. Reaction pattern is often formed at play and is easy to guide during that time.

The problem of a proper diet is very important. Calcium is the most common deficiency in national diet at present. The child needs a well rounded, balanced diet and the minimum of one and one-half pints of milk per day.

The child's mental health is important. There is no dogmatism in child psychology. Child and man are different mentally and must be treated differently. A child's interest cannot be held for long. Children learn more readily at manual level than at reason level. Children advance at different rates; children of the same chronological age may have different mental age and children shouldn't be allowed to associate with companions who will give them an inferiority complex. Parents should try and develop in a child an objective outlook, for example, that others have rights. Emotional control and honesty should be taught to every child.

BUTTER COUPONS TO FALL DUE AT RATE TWO PER FORTNIGHT

Those who have examined the Consumers' Coupon Calendar for May will have noted that later in the month there will be a reversion to the former practice of having butter coupons fall due at the rate of two per fortnight. For some weeks they have become valid at one per week.

This has led to certain difficulties on the part of both consumers and the trade, which is not always able to supply butter in half-pound prints. Indeed, in some provinces the law forbids cutting a wrapped pound of butter. Consequently, it has been deemed advisable to revert to the earlier practice of making two butter coupons fall due at one time. This will take effect May 18th.

ORDER EXTENDS PLAN OF TRAINING

Extension of Training Facilities To Industries Producing Essential Civilian Goods

It was announced last week by Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labour, that by a recent Order in Council, agreements entered into with the Provinces on May 4th 1942, to provide training facilities for workers in direct war production are being extended to make available these facilities for the training of persons required in industries and plants producing essential civilian goods.

Training programmes being operated jointly by the Dominion and the provinces may now be extended to include courses for the instruction of skilled and semi-skilled workers to meet labour requirements in such essential civilian services as food processing and textile manufacturing.

The arrangement has been reached following consultation with officials of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, National Selective Service and the Vocational Training Branch of the Department of Labour.

It is planned to offer immediately foremanship and supervisory training, plant training schools and part-time classes in those centres where labour shortages can be overcome in part by training new workers.

Designation of an industry as an essential civilian industry for training purposes, will be made by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board to the Department of Labour.

When BIG NEWS breaks . . .

Please don't rush to the telephone

It's a natural impulse to reach for the telephone to pass the word along —to "talk it over" with somebody.

But if we all did that, telephone service would be disrupted — tied up.

Public services essential to our health and safety depend on the telephone. Every minute of the day, messages of urgent importance are going through and should not be delayed.

Please use your telephone for essential calls only . . . especially when big news "breaks".

In the critical months ahead, recurrent rumours may compel you to telephone newspapers, radio stations, friends. Please don't do it. Until the last shot is fired, and even after, telephone lines will have a heavy load to carry. Help to keep them clear for vital messages.

NEWBURGH W.C.T.U.

The W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. J. Paul on Wednesday, April 26th. It was the annual election of officers. The same officers were returned for 1944-1945. Much business relating to annual report forms and Superintendents of Departments was disposed of, after which Mrs. Herrington gave an able paper on "Sabbath Observance". She said so strict were the laws governing the Sabbath in Jesus' time that life was hampered by them. He, being more interested in men than in laws and customs, did not hesitate to break these laws to do good, and so was regarded by his contemporaries as a Sabbath breaker. The Lord's Day Act of Canada was distributed to the members for study and information.

I'm at War with the Axis and at Peace with Myself

Now I feel RIGHT
I bought a Bond
A bigger Bond than I intended to buy
And stretched myself a bit
To buy it.
Instead of "double-trouble" dollars
Burning a hole in my pocket
Or lazing in a bank account
Just asking to be spent
I bought a "triple-action" Bond
My contribution —to the fight overseas, for freedom
—to the fight at home, against inflation
—to my own post-war security.
It seems to me
That if a fellow can't put on a uniform
He shouldn't put off buying a Victory Bond

NOT
If he wants to be at War with the Axis
And at Peace with Himself.

COAL Is Essential

SO IS A WELL-INSULATED HOME

SUMMER HEAT IN THE COLD OF WINTER

The Coal Administrator asks you to "save coal for the Weapons of War" — and what more practical method than thoroughly insulating your home with Rock Wool. It will save coal (and, incidentally, cut down on your fuel bill) because proper insulation holds heat in; helps to prevent heat escaping through walls and ceiling. With Rock Wool insulation, less heat is needed to maintain a comfortable temperature. Rock Wool insulation also helps to decrease fire hazard and to keep your home cooler in summer.

ter the ministers had been ed- ed to the church through the entrance and had proceeded to place in the chancel the keys e church were presented to Rev. McLellan by Mr. W. F. Barrett, chairman of the building com- ee. Following the presentation he keys, the ministers and the bers of the congregation took in the dedication ceremony. ng the service, which followed, McLellan drew attention to the baskets of flowers at the foot e chancel, which had been pre- by Trinity United Church, by Harold Dunison, in memory of father, Mr. O. S. Davis, and by Phyllis Denison in memory of granddaughters Mr. and Mrs. S. nison.

e music throughout the services e day was in charge of Mrs. Scott. A Mus. and Mrs. B. M. presided at the piano, which be used until the organ is inst- ed. The choir sang the anthem, en Pastures" at the morning ice and in the evening rendered anthems "Call Upon His Name" St. Francis' Hymn." At the of the evening service the sang a vesper hymn, which been written by Mrs. C. D. Mc- an and set to music by Miss Scott.

ace Church was partially de- ed by fire early in January, 1943 since that time the congrega- has worshipped with the mem- of Trinity Church, whilst the el renovation of the church was carried on.

e interior of the church has completely changed and a small ion for a furnace room and en has been built at the rear west side of the church and a entrance was erected at the entrance.

e auditorium now presents an different appearance than re the fire. The sloping floor has levelled and the seats have been anged to provide for a centre with leads to the chancel ed by low steps under a high ed arch. The gallery has been removed and has been replaced by a new gallery at the south end of the church, reached by staircases at each side of the inner vestibule. The ceiling is supported by exposed arched beams of natural coloured pine and the other woodwork is dark oak. The walls and ceiling are finished in buff color. The vestibule and aisles are covered with dark red and black mottled battle-ship linoleum and the chancel and front part of the auditorium are covered with dark red and black carpet.

A very handsome carved oak pulpit — the gift of Miss Olive Humbly and Mrs. Karl Hollis in memory of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hambly — is placed at the east side in front of the chancel and on the opposite side is a carved lectern, the gift of the Grace Church Girls' Club. In the vestibule there is a walnut table presented to the church by the Gibbard Furniture Shops. Choir seats are arranged on each side of the chancel and under a finely proportioned large gothic window at the head of the chancel is the carved oak communion table and an oak seat.

The console of the three - manual organ, which will be installed in a few weeks, is to be on the east side of the chancel and the pipes of the organ will be on the west side, near the peak of the arch.

The minister's vestry is at the west side of the chancel and the choir vestry is on the east. The lights are concealed in the ceiling and will give ample lighting without glare. On each side of the staircase leading to the street level are steps to the basement which has also been entirely remodelled. At the foot of the steps to the basement is a small vestibule with rooms at each side. One will be used as a utility room and the other for a club room.

The basement which is used as a Sunday school room has been enlarged by the removal of the old staircase and by placing the platform at the north end of the room. The primary department room has also been enlarged and extends from the east to the west walls along the north end of the church. A door from the Sunday school room leads to the boiler room and the modern kitchen, which is complete with built-in cupboards, sinks and electric stoves. The color scheme throughout the basement is cream and buff.

The architects in charge of the remodelling were J. Francis Brown and Son, Toronto. The decorating was done by Fred Rassell, Napanee, the carpentry by W. H. Seymour & Son, Toronto, the mason work by Senn & Sons, Toronto, and the wiring by Percy Vine, Napanee.

The building committee in charge of the work was headed by W. F. Barrett and included G. P. Smith, secretary, P. B. Elliott, treasurer, Arnold Rogers, Supt. Booth, R. S. Wales, J. M. Graham, Stewart Shetler and John Craig.

The remodelled church will now accommodate over 400 people.

TRENTON AIR FORCE BAND IN NAPANEE

An unusual musical treat was accorded the citizens of the county on Saturday night in the Armouries, when the Royal Canadian Air Force Band of Trenton, under the direction of Warrant Officer E. Hancock presented a varied programme of band music in the interests of the Sixth Victory Loan.

The Trenton R. C. A. F. Band is one of the finest military bands in Canada and displayed everything in tone quality, crescendo, and solo work that fully justified advance notices.

Flying-Officer H. A. McLeod of the R.C.A.F. Air Station, Mountain View, recently returned from operational flights over Germany, gave a stirring address during intermission. His story of heroism that can only be told by the individual who has achieved it, brings home very closely the efforts of the R.C.A.F. in the battle for freedom. The battles being fought in the air, to keep us free and to hold high the torch so that we may continue to live in freedom, bring greater meaning to Mr. Churchill's words: "Never in the history of human conflict has so much been owed by so many to so few."

PTE. E.C.W. PLANE INVALIDED HOME FROM OVERSEAS

Among a group of twenty-two soldiers who arrived in Kingston from overseas, early last week was Pte. Ed. C. W. Plane, of Napanee.

Pte. Plane, who is spending a short leave in Napanee with his family, has been invalided home after spending several months in English hospitals following an accident in which his back was broken. He was crushed between two trucks, while on duty with the R.C.O.C. in England, and for many weeks his legs were paralyzed from the hips down. Gradually, as the result of treatment, he

ANOTHER RUSSIAN SUGGESTION

In a special dispatch to "The Toronto Daily Star" Dyson Garter, of Winnipeg, gives an account of an experiment being carried on in Russia which may have some bearing on the future farming in this country. The dispatch tells of a new method of plowing. In Canada the common established farm practise is to plow the top soil five or six inches deep; care is taken not to disturb the sub-soil. The experiments carried on by Dr. Bushinsky, member of the U.S.S.R. Academy of Sciences, have to do with deep plowing. Dr. Bushinsky plows the land thirty inches deep, turning up the subsoil. After trying it out in especially chosen land, under glass, the experiments were continued out in the open. The results, according to Dr. Bushinsky, have been almost phenomenal. The first crop showed a 150-250 per cent. increase in yield. This increase was not confined to any one crop, but had similar results whether the crop was vegetables or grains. At first potatoes reacted unfavourably because the the tops grew so fast and so large, the roots did not fully develop before the frost set in. In the following year this was corrected by adding certain fertilizer to the land.

If this experiment is successful in Russia, it will not be long before the agricultural colleges will be trying it out, here. There will be some difficulties to be overcome. One of them is securing properly designed plows. Certainly the orthodox plow is not suited for such deep plowing. Then too, even with a scientifically designed plow, a great deal of power will be needed to turn the land over at a depth of twenty or thirty inches. But these are not insuperable barriers. A world that has produced the modern aeroplane, submarine, rocket gun, radio, and a thousand other modern miracles, will soon overcome the mechanical difficulties of super-plowing.

Apart from the increased crop which the Russian experiment has achieved, Dr. Bushinsky maintains that the deep-plowing will prevent soil erosion, and turn land now worn out into fertile soil. If the claims made for this new method are even only partially true, it holds out attractive and alluring prospects for the future.

GOOD MAY COME OF IT

There seems to be something wrong with a country whose laws permit the house owners to throw their tenants out on the street. That is exactly what is taking place here and there all across the Dominion. We cannot read the reports of evictions which have appeared in the daily Press recently, without wondering why such procedure is tolerated. Here we are at war; we are living under strict regulations which govern what we shall buy, how much we shall buy, the price we shall pay and a thousand - and - one other matters which determine our manner of living. Yet when it comes to a matter of where a person shall live, or as a matter of fact, whether he shall have a roof over his head at all, there is no provision to fit the situation. Women and children whose fathers and brothers are overseas, facing death at any moment, have been put out on the street It all seems so inhuman, so inconsistent, so unnecessary.

The greatest difficulty over evictions has taken place in the larger centres of population, such as Montreal and Toronto. The Mayors and Municipal Councils have not been idle and are insistent that something be done to remedy the situation. It is now suggested that under certain safeguards the Dominion Government will embark on a housing scheme which will have the two-fold object of clearing up the slum areas in these large centres, and providing clean, wholesome homes for those of modest incomes. Thus the present unhappy situation may be a blessing in disguise. Certainly, if it results in getting the slums cleared up, much good will have been done. There are slums in both Montreal and Toronto, which will equal many of those in Europe. Long ago, the old cities in Europe moved to clear up unwholesome city areas. The slum clearance project of Vienna before the war, and of Moscow, were an object lesson for even newer countries. Those who have seen the large blocks of modern apartments in Buffalo, erected during the depression as a works project, know what a healthy change can be effected, when the problem is tackled with vigor and determination. President Roosevelt and his administration, if it did no more than clean up many of the slums in the great cities, will have earned the gratitude of hundreds of thousands of tenants and, as well, of all who are interested in human welfare.

There is plenty of money in the country, and while it might have been, under ordinary circumstances, wise to wait until the war is over to embark on a programme of slum clearance, yet the conditions are such that no time can be lost.

V

CATCHING UP ON NATURE

The past few years have witnessed the most amazing ability of human ingenuity to catch up on nature. The number of substitutes, of synthetics which have been developed are almost unbelievable. Oils and rubber are two of the most spectacular of these synthetics. As remarkable as these are, they are even less amazing than the production, not of synthetics but of actual natural products. When nylon was first mooted, the manufacturers were careful to point out that it was not an artificial silk. It was not a substitute; it was the real thing. That is to say, the scientists had succeeded in discovering the actual constituents of silk, and of combining the chemical elements in the proper proportions to produce the new article.

Now comes word that the scientists have done, for quinine, what had been done for silk. They have succeeded in creathing quinine. They tell us that the product is not a synthetic quinine, but the actual drug, which they have created in the laboratory. This discovery is another tribute to man's persistent and painstaking research. It is one of inestimable human value, since one of the results of Japanese aggression has been to leave the whole source of natural quinine in their hands. The United Nations forces operating in the Pacific area have suffered greatly from malaria. Quinine is the cure for malaria, and with the supply of this precious drug in Japanese hands, our forces have had to get along as best they could with substitutes. Remembering how long it was after the discovery of nylon before it was available to the public, it will be a long time before quinine will be manufactured in sufficient quantities to be of value to the troops. But the first and the most difficult hurdle has been taken, the other will be easier.

The results of all these inventions will have far-reaching economic changes. When the Germans succeeded some years ago, in producing synthetic camphor, they virtually killed one of the most lucrative Japanese industries. The great camphor groves in Formosa were practically put out of business; men were thrown out of work, shipping lay idle, factories were unused. The same result, no doubt, has followed the discovery of nylon. Great numbers of people in many areas will suffer because of this while, of course, others benefit. What the consequence will be of the production of rubber in the factories of the United States and Canada, once the war is over, is hard to envisage. No doubt but that great armies of men who worked the rubber plantations, who worked in the factories and on the transportation vehicles which carried the natural rubber to the ends of the earth, will suffer economically. Others, however, will benefit by the transference. This shift in the economic balance of the world is something we are apt to lose sight of. But it is something we cannot ignore. There will be others, besides geographical readjustments, to make after the war.

PRETTY SOFT

The other day an interesting little dispatch appeared in the Press. It indicates a sort of job which a lot of people did not know existed, and which a great many will now be wondering about. To get a couple or three thousand dollars a year without working for it is just the kind of job people have been hunting for through the years. Well, here it is. The dispatch is hereby given in full, lest some incredulous person may have suspected us of exaggeration :

"Montreal, May 5—C.P. — For seven months in 1936 and 1937 inspectors and informers of the Quebec liquor police were paid full salaries without performing any duties or receiving any orders, Maurice Valiquet told the one-man commission of Mr. Justice Lucien Cannon, yesterday. The commission is investigating activities of the provincial police and liquor police in the Montreal district.

"Valiquet said he had been assistant-chief of the liquor police in September, 1936. He and 30 "stool-pigeons," hired by his predecessor, reported for duty during the period, and added, 'They were to get $2 a day when they worked. They came and were paid for their time.'

"'You were waiting for a chief?' asked Commission Counsel Gerald Fauteux.

"'Yes, and for orders.'

Aurele Lacombe, director of the highway police, testified that from 1937 to 1940 he was 'technical adviser' to the force, and was 'at the disposal of the department' during that time.

"'Did you do any work?' asked counsel.

"'No.'

"'What was your salary?'

The witness replied it was $2,000 a year."

The wonders of the liquor business are marvellous beyond compare.

CHILDREN'S AID AT WORK

This is a Series of Articles Concerning Children's Aid Work — Prepared by the Association of Children's Aid Societies of the Province of Ontario.—Article 6

In every community all over this province there are couples anxiously and often impatiently awaiting the opportunity to legally adopt a baby. The word impatiently is used advisedly because often prospective adoptive parents cannot understand why they should have to wait so long. They know that thousands of children come under the care of Children's Aid Societies every year; they hear of abandoned babies, of children, for one reason or another, removed from the care of their natural parents. They cannot see why there is not always a child awaiting home, adoptive parents.

As has been emphasized before, the first principle observed by your Children's Aid Society is that the child's natural and normal environment is his own family. Every resource of the community must be used to preserve his home when this can be done without detriment to the child. Thousands of children are in temporary care of Societies because time and effort is being expended in rehabilitating their own homes.

Many children in the care of the Children's Aid Society have special handicaps of a physical nature or related to personality or behavior. No reputable society will recommend adoption under such circumstances unless the adoptive parents, knowing the child's handicaps, still insist on adoption and can give assurance of their ability to furnish care for as long as may be needed.

Most prospective adoptive parents desire infants and are unwilling to accept older children. There are thousands of older boys and girls for whom adoptive homes would be a God send. Many a couple, awaiting an infant for adoption allow years to pass and perhaps in the end do not realize their desire. In the meantime many a little boy or girl has missed the one great opportunity of his or her life.

What does adoption imply under the Act? Speaking generally an adoption order puts the child in all respects in the same position as he would have been had he been born the lawful child of the adopting party, save that this does not prevent his inheriting from his natural parents, if they die intestate. In former years when the adoption law was not so strictly observed or understood as it is today many a couple believed they had legally adopted a child. They gave this child their name and every natural family relationship was observed. But sometimes those adoptive parents died without making a will and the child was deprived by law of his inheritance.

Today, in all cases of adoption in Ontario the legal procedure goes through the Children's Aid Branch of the Provincial Department of Welfare and the local Society is brought into the picture to act in the interests both of the child and the prospective adoptive parents.

There are so many snags in the matter of adoption that every couple wishing to adopt a child should realize that the law is here to safeguard all parties. There have been cases of couples who without the knowledge of their Children's Aid Society have taken a baby into their home as foster parents. They have come to love this little one as their own and later taken steps to legally adopt it. Then they have found some obstacle in the way which has all but broken their hearts and of which they would have been forewarned had they consulted their local Society. Here is one example: A child has been born out of wedlock to a married woman during a prolonged absence of her husband. She places this child with a couple who, assured of his decent heritage and physical and mental fitness, are only too anxious to take him. After a year or more they find themselves so devoted to the child that they approach the local Society with a view to adoption. Then they find that, in law, the husband of the child's mother, although he is not the father of the child, must give his consent to its adoption. Many a father, under such circumstances refuses his consent and leaves the mother. The child can then never become the legal son or daughter of its foster parents!

Before recommending a child for adoption the Society secures every available piece of information about his parents, their history, religious affiliation, the child's own mental and physical record, etc. In reviewing the application for adoption the Society must take into consideration not only the community standing of the applicants, but their responsibilities, education, interests, religion, the kind of neighbourhood they live in and their ages. It must never be forgotten that the child is the first consideration of the Children's Aid Society!

For example: An application may be refused on account of the applicants' ages. One case is on record of a child adopted by a middle-aged couple. This boy became a brilliant student, but in his first year at high school, the adoptive father, then an elderly man, became ill and lost his employment. The boy had to leave school early to maintain his parents. Actually he was of university calibre and unquestionably would, under other circumstances, have become a professional man.

Another application was refused because the couple, although well educated and comfortably off, quarrelled frequently. Another because the neighborhood was undesirable and the would-be adoptive mother too busy with outside interests to give the child adequate care.

There is no more serious responsibility than to undertake the decision that makes a boy or girl the legal child of a couple to whom he will go a complete stranger.

TAMWORTH PUPILS HEAR ADDRESS ABOUT THE BLIND

Tamworth May 4. — On Wednesday of last week Mr. Milton, Field Secretary of the Kingston District for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, called at the Tamworth Continuation School and addressed the pupils. The object of his visit was to arrange a Tag Day in aid of the Blind.

Mr. Milton spoke of his pleasure in visiting the school again. Outlining the work of the Institute, he said that at the Brantford School there were two hundred pupils from six to eighteen years of age. Often they stay until they are twenty-one. Their training includes basket work, leather and felt work, typing and other handicraft. They cover the same matriculation courses as other students. The work connected with adults was started twenty-five years ago by a group of Canadian soldiers after the First World War. Its aim is to assist graduates to find employment for those who can work, to find opportunities for employment. In war industries hundreds of blind persons are employed in milling, smoothing, filing and assembling. This also releases able-bodied men for the services. We must remember, he declared, that while blindness is a handicap, it can be overcome with the co-operation of others. The Institute has capable blind teachers. They teach how to make four senses take the place of five, and how to get along without sight and live normal lives. In the Institute Library there are 21,000 volumes in Braille type also talking book records of fiction, history, geography. From this library a quarter of a ton of books go out daily. In Canada the blind number 12,500. In the Province of Ontario 3,800. About 4,000 of these were born blind. The Institute also arranges for medical attention for the prevention of blindness, across Canada. For the past three years the Tamworth Continuation School has held a Tag Day. This money helped to buy glasses Braille Slidwell and machine material. Mr. Milton asked the pupils to tell their parents and friends of the important work.

In thanking Mr. Milton for his splendid address, Mr. Millar, the Principal, said that it must require indomitable courage to face life with such a handicap. He had, he said, learned much from Mr. Milton through the years he had known him. He recalled the words of the late Peter Sandiford of O.C.E.: "We who see, obtain 87 per cent. of our knowledge through our eyes, 37 per cent. through our ears and 6 per cent. through our remaining senses."

Following the address the following girls were chosen for the Tag Day: Betty Tuesday, Audrey Mitchell, Dreda Ware, Gladys Renaud, Winnifred Steele, and Jean Courneya.

Postponement of Military Training For Male Teachers

Ottawa (C.P.) — Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Labor Minister, announced a change in National Selective Service mobilization regulations to permit "unlimited postponement from military training for male school teachers instead of only six months as has been the case.

The change gives mobilization boards throughout Canada power to grant such postponements.

"This change is intended to remove the difficulty which has come to our attention in cases where limited postponements have expired during the school term," Mr. Mitchell said.

He added that this arrangement does not affect the present status of school teachers being frozen to their jobs. Rather, he said, it is in keeping with "the recognition of the teaching profession to be essential to the prosecution of the war and in the national interest."

"SPADEWORK" — ON THE — BURMA FRONT

BY DeWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

"Suggest analysis of recent developments in Burma." wires a newspaper publisher.

That's never an easy assignment for readers must find military operations hard to follow in the primordial region. However, we can agree that there's a fascination in this mysterious zone up under the "roof of the world" where Allied troops are fighting.

As a result of the cutting off of China's lifeline to the outside world — the Burma Road — when the Japanese overran Burma, transport planes took over the job of supplying the hard-hit Chinese. Meanwhile engineers drove a new highway northeastward through the Indian territory west of Burma to the town of Ledo which is just across the narrow northern tip of Burma from the severed end of the Burma Road in Chinese territory.

Completion of the Ledo road was achieved some time ago and the problem then became how to join it to the Burma highway. The Japanese rushed troops into the north to keep the Allied forces from joining up the new life-line and sporadic fighting developed.

Six months ago Lieut.Gen. Joseph Stilwell devised a new strategy for ousting the enemy from northern Burma. We are seeing the results of this plan now. Working from Ledo, Stilwell sent Chinese troops into the Hukwang valley and then pushed southward towards the Japanese base of Maingkwan.

Simultaneously Maj. - Gen. Frank Merrill, with seasoned jungle fighters fresh from the Pacific warfare, drove across mountains and through jungles, and came at the enemy in the Maingkwan region from the south. This created the trap which killed 2,000 Japanese and surrounded maybe 2,000.

American and Chinese forces are continuing to smash southward in the Hukwang valley. This "smash" is a euphemism by the way, for an Associated Press dispatch recently said they advanced miles in 24 hours. That's how the going is in this fever-ridden snake-infested jungle country.

Lord Louis Mountbatten's Burma troops have crossed from Assam to the Burma highway west of Myitkina proper ably with the idea of using this base from the south while Stilwell smashes at it from the north.

The objectives of these operations really are threefold. They are (1) to permit of the moving of supplies to the enemy by the new Allied air bases, and to help the Japanese from crossing into Chinese territory, and (3) to assist in attacking Gen. Chiang Kai-shek from the rear.

The campaign is a gallant effort but we shouldn't expect miracles. Also we should remember that there is only spade-work for the present big drive.

VICTORY LOAN SALESPOINT

(BY H. L. PHILLIPS)

(Copied From 'The New York Sun,' January 17th, 1941)

I'M BUYING A BOND

I'm buying a bond for a freckled kid
Who lived down the street a way —
A boy with a dog just a while ago—
A name on a list, to-day . . . . .
I'm buying a bond for a barefoot lad
Who only a short time back
Was romping the fields of the old home town,
But died in a far attack !

I'm coming across in the memory
Of youngsters who left the town
With laughter and jokes and their head high
To take on the scrappers' frown;
The kids who were down in the swimming hole
Or played in the high school show—
The boys who'd be out on the sandlots now
Except that it can't be so !

I'm signing for all I can take aboard
I thought I had done my share
Until in the home sheet to-day
I saw "Johnny Adams" there;
He'd brought me my papers every night
A child on a bike, bright red;
He's riding the path to the house right now
I thought . . . . . the lad is dead

I've read all the ads in the Victory Loan drive,
The work of the writers slick;
But, God, when I think that it takes their copy
It leaves me a little sick;
The picture of boys on a village green
Or trooping across the mead
Who now lie under a cross-filled field
Is all that we ought to need.

I listen to speeches o'er mikes galore
That tell of the Victory Loan Drive,
But all I hear is the cannon's roar—
The whine of a power-dive;
The speeches, the music, the ballyhoo—
All leave me a little cold . . . .
For I know a boy who just died for me
And couldn't be quite that old!

A duty ? A noble and handsome act,
This taking of Victory Loan ? Bunk !
Since when was investment on sure things
A sacrifice ? Scrap such junk! . . . . .
I'm doing a painless and little thing;
One sales point alone rings true !
My debt to those lads from the old home town—
Who, asked for their lives, came through !

"PAUL IN THESSALONICA"

Lesson Text: Acts 17; 1-4. 1 Thessalonians 2: 1-11

Paul and Silas went from Philippi by true today when everything seems to be judged by a money value a great rumor started that there was a "spirituality" in the church; that is nothing but a money-making institution and it will not be long before the effect of that will be manifest in the loss of vitality and power in the church. Paul was too honest and sincere, too devoted to be deterred from his life's work because of false charges. He went right on. He took sight of his main objective. "Put him in prison," says a recent editor and "he converts the gaoler of the little group who had become the nucleus of a church there. It was written from Corinth and is the first of Paul's Epistles to be written, and therefore, it is the earliest Book in the New Testament.

In this passage Paul indicates that his mission was not without its worries. No sooner had Paul landed in a new town and begun to work than those who found that his revolutionary teaching would wreck the vested ecclesiastical interests, set upon him. He was beaten, chased from one place to another and made the victim of a vile whispering campaign. An examination of the passage reveals the charges that these men brought against Paul. In the first place they charged him with vain glory; with a desire for self-glorification and of flattering the people. Of course the charge was baseless. Paul was too direct, too forthright for anything like that. But there are always those prepared to act on the most baseless rumor. So Paul was harassed and hounded from place to place because of this.

Then they charged Paul with being covetous—out after the money. That sounds quite modern. It is always easy to find an audience if one goes around telling that the minister is only in the church work for what he can get out of it. That is one of the surest ways to breed distrust of church leadership. This is particular-

Postponement of Military Training For Male Teachers

Ottawa (C.P.) — Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Labor Minister, announced a change in National Selective Service mobilization regulations to permit "unlimited postponement from military training for male school teachers instead of only six months as has been the case.

The change gives mobilization boards throughout Canada power to grant such postponements.

"This change is intended to remove the difficulty which has come to our attention in cases where limited postponements have expired during the school term," Mr. Mitchell said.

He added that this arrangement does not affect the present status of school teachers being frozen to their jobs. Rather, he said, it is in keeping with "the recognition of the teaching profession to be essential to the prosecution of the war and in the national interest."

"SPADEWORK" — ON THE — BURMA FRONT

BY DeWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

"Suggest analysis of recent developments in Burma." wires a newspaper publisher.

That's never an easy assignment for readers must find military operations hard to follow in the primordial region. However, we can agree that there's a fascination in this mysterious zone up under the "roof of the world" where Allied troops are fighting.

As a result of the cutting off of China's lifeline to the outside world — the Burma Road — when the Japanese overran Burma, transport planes took over the job of supply-

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street - length dress of heavenly blue crepe and a corsage of American Beauty roses. She was attended by Miss Marion Vanvolkenburgh, sister of the bridegroom, who wore a two-piece rose crepe dress and a corsage of American Beauty roses. The best man was William Palmer, of Napanee.

Following the reception at the home of the bride's parents, the couple left for Napanee, where they will take up residence.

THOMPSON - SCILLEY

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Saturday afternoon, May 6th, at the parsonage in Newburgh, when the Rev. H. B. Herrington united in marriage, Margaret Pearl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs R. G. Scilley, Kingston, to Gnr. Ross Clifford Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Thompson, Napanee.

The bride was becomingly dressed in a gown of sheer white crepe, fashioned with fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline and panelled front. I. O. D. E. NEWS

WEEKLY WAR WORK MEETING

A very pleasant feature at the weekly war work meeting of the I. O. D. E. on Thursday afternoon was the presence of four members of the Canadian Women's Army Corps. They were Lieut. Hervel L. Corpl. Pete. Rooney, and Pte. Price. Lieut. Hervel spoke very convincingly on behalf of recruiting women for army service. I.O.D.E. workers enjoyed talking with these girls, who stayed for tea, which was served by Mrs. D. R. Hall, Mrs. B. Weiss, Mrs. O. S. Reddick and Mrs. W. Dibb.

MOTHERS' CORNER, I.O.D.E.

The women to go to the Mothers' Corner at L. F. S. Airport last week were Mrs. John Grinrod, Mrs. Duncan McEachern and Mrs. George Fisher. Association with service boys touches the heart when they speak of their own lives and plans and joys — the boys who receive advancement, the man wor whom one of the "Mothers" sewed on Canada overseas badges — wanting to go overseas but wishing his baby could have been born before he left . . . the British Columbia boy admiring one of the "Mother's" rings and telling her that he was going to be engaged to in British Columbia . . . the young pilot who brought in ice cream in thanks for mending done . . . the sad lad in the ground-crew, who had promised his mother he would not try to become a flyer as his brother was shot down in his plane and killed, but he wants to fly in his brother's place . . . the young R. A. F. boy who had not made the grade to become a flyer who wrote to one of the "Mothers" from Moncton that he was leaving for overseas, any day— he had come through all his exams and is now a Sergt.-gunner . . . the R.A.F. boy, now nineteen, who received the George Medal when he was seventeen for conspicuous bravery, during the blitz on Plymouth . . . the young boy who came to say good-bye, delighted that now he, with seven brothers, were all on active service, though since then, one is buried in France and another brother is missing.

These things touch one's heart.

NAPANEE W. I.

The monthly meeting of the Napanee Women's Institute was held on Tuesday afternoon of last week in the agricultural office boardroom, with the president, Mrs. James Haggerty, presiding. There was a good attendance and the meeting opened with the Ode, the Prayer for Peace and the Salute to the Flag. Mrs. Katherine Powell ,treasurer, presented her report which showed a balance on hand. It was decided to purchase four packages of seeds for the Girls' Garden Brigade. The sum of $5 was voted towards the new national emergency fund, and it was decided to have a quilting at the home of the president, on Tuesday, March 21st. Mrs. Katherine Powell very reluctantly handed in her resignation as treasurer, a position she has filled most acceptably for some years ,and the regrets of the institute were expressed by Mrs. James Haggerty and Mrs. Fred Richards. The nominating committee consisting of Mrs. Fred Richards, Mrs. Frances Nicholson, Mrs. E. I. Boyle and Mrs. Bert Seymour will bring in their report at the next meeting which will be the annual one.

The roll call "Name a Member of the Canadian Parliament" met with a good response. Mrs. John Jaynes was the convener of the programme and assumed charge. There was a reading by Mrs. Katherine Powell, a piano solo by Mrs. B. M. Black and an interesting address by Rev. C. D. MacLellan of Grace Church, who in his opening remarks, paid an excellent tribute to the work of the Women's Institutes in Ontario. His address was on "Democratic Way of Life."

Mrs. W. G. Exley and Mrs. Fred Richards voiced the appreciation of the branch to all taking part in the programme. The meeting was brought to a close with singing of the National Anthem.

To Mother

You don't get any medals, Mum,
For the job you have to do,
Although you work much harder;
You're brave, constant and true.

Your fortress is just four brick walls,
A ceiling and a floor;
To have to battle with your heart —
That's what God made Mothers for.

You've struggled on all your life,
No battle is too big for you;
You had many big decisions to make,
But you always came smiling through.

You tried to be brave when I had to go:
Behind your smile was a tear —
In your dear heart you wanted to cry,
And I knew it, Mother dear.

I can still, see your loving smile
And feel your tender kiss,
I remember all the little things
That I am beginning to miss.

They should scribe your name on a scroll of Fame
In letters of purest gold;
No honour could be too high for you,
And your deeds that are seldom told.

I somehow don't think they'll ever know—
They don't even seem to hear
Of the millions of Mothers there are like you,
God bless you, Mother, dear.

The above Mothers' Day Card was received by Mrs. Walter Blakeley, Napanee, from her son, Douglas, now in Italy with the Fifth Anti-Aircraft Battery.

TAMWORTH W. I.

The annual meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Smith Gilmour. There were twenty members and six visitors present. The president, Mrs. Harry Easterbrook, was in charge and after the reading of the minutes of the last annual several items of business were dealt with. The auditor's report was given by the secretary, showing the sum of $69.25 was given during the past year, to war activities as well as an Afghan made and presented to the local Red Cross Unit also that three of the members are blood donors. The Secretary also gave the financial statement. Mrs. F. Amey was appointed delegate to the District Convention to be held in Camden East on May 26th, with Mrs. Earl Bradshaw as alternate. Miss M. Mitchell delighted the assembly with a piano solo at this time. The President asked the Past - District Presidents, Mrs. A. Baker, Moscow, for a few words, and Mrs. Baker spoke briefly of her pleasant associations in the Women's Institute work.

The District President, Mrs. E. Boyce, was invited to the chair. In her first remarks, she said that when she came to Yarker to live twenty-five years ago, she was a stranger and knew no one, but through the W. I. work she had become acquainted with many. MORE TRANSFERS MAY BE NECESSARY

The following letter was received by Mr. Ward Sexsmith, local manager of the Selective Service Office, from A. MacNamara, the Director of Selective Service:—

Ottawa, May 1st, 1944.

Manager, Employment and Selective Service Officer,
Dominion Public Bldg.,
Napanee, Ontario.

Dear Sir:—

You have earned a word of praise. We are receiving an increasing number of letters of appreciation of the efforts of the Local Office in dealing with difficulties arising out of a shortage of manpower and a decreasing number of criticisms of the work of the offices. It is, therefore, evident that the responsibilities given to you under the Selective Service Regulations are being handled in a very efficient manner. I pass this word of commendation to you from the Minister and myself.

We are moving into a year which I am positive will develop into a period of acute labour shortages to a degree undreamed of heretofore.

We must meet the situation by a more vigorous and rigorous approach to Compulsory Transfers. We must comb all less essential industry and move people to essential jobs. The Mobilization Division has called over one million men for examination for the Armed Forces and over half a million of these have been rejected. I am sure that they are not all now engaged in essential jobs. You have authority to transfer men employed in industries or establishments included in the Compulsory Employment Transfer Orders to industries where their services are vitally needed and it will be necessary to use that authority vigorously if we are to meet existing shortages in the high labour priority establishments.

You will be receiving detailed instructions and the purpose of this letter is to convey to you a general idea of the situation and to urge upon you full and every effort to meet the situation.

I can summarize my comments by saying that the war has not yet been won.

You may use this letter for purposes of publication, if you wish.

"A. MacNAMARA".

U. S. Papers Feature Former County Men

In recent copies of the Utica, N.Y. "Observer-Dispatch" and Worcester, Mass. "Daily Telegram" there were articles which would be of interest to many people in the South Fredericksburgh and Adolphustown residents of the County of Lennox and Addington.

The Utica paper carried a large picture of A. M. Dickinson with accompanying story. Mr. Dickinson is a brother-in-law of James and John Dickinson, Sillsville, and has spent many summer vacations with them. He was born at Millbown near Shannonville and attended the Newburgh Academy. Most of his life, however, has been spent in Utica. As a young man he went to Utica, where he worked on several newspapers before joining the staff of the "Saturday Globe" with which he has been connected for 40 years as managing editor.

The article in the Worcester paper concerns John C. VanDyck, who is termed "the oldest of the messenger boys" employed by the Western Union Telegraph Company.

Mr. VanDyck, who is 72 years of age, was formerly a land agent engineer. He retired a few years ago because of the manpower shortage decided to accept any position available and so was hired by the telegraph company as a "messenger boy."

Mr. VanDyck was a native of the Sillsville district, but has lived in Worcester many years. He has several close relatives still living in the southern part of the county of Lennox and Addington.

A lady was training her Chinese servant to answer the door bell. She went outside, rang the bell and the servant answered the door.

The next day she was treated to a continual ringing of the bell. At last, when no one answered the door she opened it herself and found the servant on the step.

"Whatever are you doing, Li?" she asked.

"Yesterday you foolee me, now I foolee you," was the reply.

L.A.W. JEAN FORD WEDS PTE. WALTER H. MIRSCHEL AT HEMPSTEAD, LONG ISLAND

Picturesque St. George's Episcopal Church in Hempstead, Long Island, N.Y., was the scene of the wedding, this week, of Pte. Walter H. Mirschel, United States Army, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel P. Mirschel of 80 Allermarle Ave., Hempstead and nephew of Hempstead's Mayor, John Herbert Mirschel and L.A.W. (leading air woman) Jean Frances Ford, R.C.A.F. (W.D.) daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ford of Napanee, Ont., Canada. The Rev. John Sylvanus Haight rector solemnized the nuptial rites at 8:00 p.m. A reception followed at Shadow Lawn in Hempstead, for fifty guests. Miss Betty Daigneault of Hempstead sang "O Perfect Love."

Escorted to the chancel steps by Albert Daigneault of Hempstead the bride wore a gown of white georgette crepe and a three-quarter length cape embroidered veil which fell from a wreath of white roses. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses and sweet peas. Miss Carol Christ of New Hyde Park, cousin of the bridegroom, serving as maid of honour, wore a gown of peach chiffon and headdress of white gardenias and peach tulle.

Bridal attendants were Miss Edna Flatham of Queens Village, gowned in pale pink chiffon, and Mrs. Henry Welser, of New Hyde Park, cousin of the bridegroom attired in pale green chiffon. Both wore replicas of the maid of honor's headdress and all carried arm bouquets of Spring flowers.

Mayor John Herbert Mirschel served as his nephew's best man. Steve Walters of New Hyde Park and Tommy Stiehler of Hicksville, cousin of the bridegroom, ushered.

Newlywed Mrs. Mirschel was graduated from the Napanee Collegiate and Vocational Institute in 1940. She entered the Royal Canadian Forces in 1942 and is stationed at Dartmouth Nova Scotia.

Pte. Mirschel, an alumnus of Hempstead High School, 1937, attended Gettysburg College. He entered the services in May 1942 and is stationed with the Coast Artillery overseas in a northern outpost following the furlough honeymoon — the young couple will return to their respective posts.

"Why do you insist on keeping a parrot?"

"Because," answered the lonely man, "I like to hear it talk. The parrot is the only creature gifted with the power of speech that is content to repeat just what it hears without trying to make a good story."

OBITUARIES

MRS. FRANK KINKLEY

Following an illness of several months, the death occurred at Belleville General Hospital on Thursday, April 27th, of Mrs. Frank Kinkley, a life-long resident of Napanee.

For the past year and a half Mrs. Kinkley had spent part of the time with her son, Maurice, in Conner Cliff, and with her daughter, Mrs. Howard Thomson, in Belleville. A short time before her death she was removed to the hospital, where death occurred.

Mrs. Kinkley was born in Napanee and was the only daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bowen. Her husband died nearly four years ago.

She is survived by her two children, Maurice, in Conner Cliff, and Jean, Mrs. Howard Thomson, in Belleville, and by one sister, Mrs. Fred Thompson, Napanee.

Her funeral was conducted by Rev. C. D. McLellan, minister of Grace United Church, on Sunday afternoon at the Tierney Funeral Home, and interment followed at Riverview Cemetery.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Claude Macdonald, Jos. Lewis, H. McMillan, Aubrey Pringle, Harry Thomson and Herb. Aylsworth.

PETER HUYCK

In the death of Mr. Peter Huyck the Gosport district has lost one of its best known and most highly respected citizens. The sad event took place at his late residence on Thursday afternoon, April 28th. Up until a few months ago the deceased was in comparatively good health, but had been under the doctor's care for some little time, consequently his death came as a shock to his many friends. Mr. Huyck leaves to cherish his memory, his beloved wife, two daughters, Mrs. Clarence Baird, of Hawley, and Mrs. Davis, of Toronto, also two sons, Bruce and Guy. His brother, Mr. John Huyck, and two sisters, Mrs. F. H. Armitage and Mrs. E. J. Sexsmith, also survive him.

Mr. Huyck was a loyal member of the United Church and for many years was Superintendent of Hay Bay Sunday School, an office he held with much distinction. Recently however, he became teacher of the Adult Bible Class where his services were greatly appreciated. His intimate knowledge of the scriptures made him a very efficient teacher. From the consumation of Union in 1925 he was elected to the Eldership of the Church, and held that office until his death. He was a good steward and used his talent to good advantage in the services of the church. He was deeply interested in community affairs and gave himself to every worthwhile project for the betterment of society.

His funeral service on Thursday afternoon was conducted by his minister Rev. A. C. McCallum, who was assisted by Rev. Ken. J. Crawford. He was assisted by the Rev. E. D. Sexsmith, of Cardinal Ont., a nephew of the deceased. He has been laid to rest in the cemetery, and rests a number Mr. Wartman says "In the Garden." There were beautiful floral tributes which filled the church and cemetery which the deceased was held.

Burial took place at Riverside Cemetery, Napanee. The following were pallbearers, Roy Smith, Napanee; Mr. Parker, Ralph Sexsmith, Ross Sexsmith, Ward Sexsmith, Napanee, and Rev. E. J. Sexsmith, Cardinal, Ont.

HENRY MANSON YORK

Henry Manson York died on April 18th at the age of eighty-two. His death was sudden and unexpected. Despite his age he worked during the winter and spring and was up until the day of his death. While at his work a severe heart attack seized him, and it is thought he died instantly from the attack.

Deceased was born in Camden Township and was a life-long well-known and respected resident. He was united in marriage to Ethel Blanch Martin who predeceased him over a quarter of a century ago. In 1919 he was again united in marriage to Cynthia Sowden who is left to mourn his loss. In addition to his wife he leaves to mourn, one son, Fred of Tamworth; two daughters, Mrs. A. A. Burtson of Malone, N.Y., and Mrs. Leslie Leighton, Vancouver; also two sisters, Mrs. Milton Hughes of Kingston and Mrs. Joe. Teskey, of Oshawa.

The funeral was held in the Roblin Holiness Movement Church and was conducted by the Rev. R. Boston. He was assisted by Rev. L. E. Whitter of Sydenham, and Rev. W. G. Purtch of Napanee. A duet, "There's no Disappointment in Heaven" was rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Perry Armstrong. The following were the pallbearers, Messrs. Jack Perry, Bob. WEDDING BELLS

MARTIN - CONNELL

Palms and ferns formed a lovely background in George Street United Church, Peterborough, on Saturday, April 29, for the wedding of Arlie Margaret Connell and Harvey E. Martin. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Connell, 719 Aylmer street, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Martin, of Napanee. Rev. H. L. Roberts officiated. Mrs. Charles Renaud played the wedding music, and Mrs. A. M. Patterson sang "O Perfect Love".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in a gown of white satin, with long skirt, a slight train and a breaded bodice was made with a sweetheart neckline, buttoned down the back, and long sleeves coming to a point over each wrist. Her finger-tip veil of white tulle was caught to her head with a coronet of seed pearls, and she carried a shower bouquet of roses. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace which her mother had worn at her wedding.

Miss Zola Warr was bridesmaid, and little Miss Edna Martin, sister of the groom, was flower girl. Miss Warr wore a gown of turquoise blue lace, on lines similar to that of the bride. She wore lace mitts and a headdress of roses and turquoise net, and carried talisman roses. The dainty flower girl was dressed in floor-length pink taffeta, with ruffled neckline and sleeves, matching headdress and a nosegay of rosebuds.

Mr. Ross Long was best man, and Mr. Clare Connell, brother of the bride, and Mr. Robert McQuaig were ushers. The groom's gift to the bride was a string of pearls. The bridesmaid received a brocaded evening bag, and the flower girl a locket and chain. The groomsmen's gift was a tie pin, and the ushers received money bills and gold chains.

At the reception held later at the Kawartha Club, the bride's mother received in dusky rose silk lace, navy accessories, a navy straw hat, and a corsage of white roses, carnations, and forget-me-nots. Also receiving was the groom's mother, in navy sheer, with matching accessories, and a matching straw hat, and a corsage of red roses.

For a trip to Toronto, Niagara Falls and Buffalo, the bride chose a two-piece suit of rust crepe, brown accessories and a beige coat. On their return they will live at 719 Aylmer St.

Ice dealers have been permitted to make daily household deliveries between May 1st and September 30th.

MUST TAG SEED POTATO CONTAINERS

No potatoes can be sold or offered for sale legally as seed potatoes unless they are in a container to which an official tag is attached, but there is no reference, in the regulations governing the sale of certified seed potatoes, to the size of container. Certified seed potatoes may be sold shipped in bags of 75 or 100 pounds, but a seedsman who wishes to sell bags of 15 or 25 pounds to wartime gardeners, may arrange with a producer to supply certified seed Canadas in bags of these sizes. An official tag would then be attached to each container before delivery to the seedsman.

Wartime gardeners who are unable to obtain seed potatoes in small lots from seedsmen, are advised to club together to purchase large bags for subsequent division among themselves.

Certified seed potatoes, like certified or registered seed of other crops, are identified by official tags issued by the Dominion Department of Agriculture. The following details are printed on the tags that are issued for certified seed potatoes: the description of the class of seed, that is, "Certified Seed Potatoes," "Certified Foundation A Seed Potatoes," or "Certified Foundation Seed Potatoes"; name of variety; the certificate number of the seed; the date of the official inspection of the seed; and a copy of the official seal bearing the words, "Department of Agriculture—Canada — Plant Protection Division —Science Service."

NEWBURGH W. I.

The March meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Baldwin, with thirteen members and one visitor in attendance. After singing the Ode and repeating the Creed, the members responded to the roll call by giving the name of a spring flower.

The convener of war work reported the following articles sent to the Red Cross in Napanee, 11 sleeping bonnets, 2 pairs men's gloves, a turtle-neck sweater, 2 quilts and one pair seaman's stockings (18-ins.)

Mrs. Fluke, convener of education, chose for her subject "Laughter," a splendid talk was given also good suggestions for protection during an electrical storm. In Mrs. Fluke's absence, Mrs. Ramsay read the paper.

A vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Fluke and Mrs. Ramsay for the address and to Mrs. Baldwin, as hostess of the meeting.

The lunch committee served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

He: I am surprised that our wedding is not mentioned in this calendar.

She: Why should it be?

He: It gives the dates of all the great disasters.

Mr. and Mrs. John Baker, who spent some time as the guests of their daughter, Mrs. J. B. Elliott, and Mr. Elliott, have returned to their home in Kingston.

Mr. Kenneth Burleigh, of Tweed, was a recent visitor at the home of Mrs. Gilbert.

VICTORIA WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

On April 20th the members and visitors of Victoria branch of the Women's Institute motored to the lovely new home of Mrs. H. Windover in South Napanee, for their regular monthly meeting. Regret was expressed at the absence, through illness, of the president and the first vice-president took charge. The meeting was opened in the usual way and the roll call was answered by Sing or Pay and two members were welcomed into the branch. Each one donated a quarter for the community quilt and the lucky name drawn was Mrs. Fred. McFarlane who paid a dollar extra for the quilt. Current events carefully collected were well given by Mrs. Frank McFarlane and proved very interesting. A monologue full of humour and delightfully amusing was given by Mrs. Merle Denison.

Mrs. Haggerty president of the Napanee branch of the W. I. kindly and efficiently conducted the election of officers. Mrs. Haggerty was tendered a hearty vote of thanks for her kindness. Mrs. Frank McFarlane also moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Windover for her hospitality which each one seemed to appreciate so thoroughly.

The singing of the National Anthem concluded the afternoon program after which the guests were invited by Mrs. Windover to her cosy sitting room where a bit of fire burning in the fireplace cast a feeling of warmth and comfort to the farthest corner. Lunch was served here by the hostess and assistants and a pleasant half-hour chat was enjoyed over the coffee cups.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

This column is sponsored by the Regional Office, Wartime Prices and Trade Board. Questions on price control, ration regulations and other Wartime Prices and Trade Board rulings should be mailed to: Information Branch, Wartime Prices and Trade Board, Victoria Building, Brockville, Ont.

Q. Just what is the increase in the tea and coffee ration now in effect?

A. Each coupon is doubled in value, so it becomes worth four ounces of tea or 16 ounces of coffee. One of these coupons becomes valid on the second Thursday and another on the fourth Thursday of each month.

Q. I saw some large tins of grapefruit juice in the stores recently. Is it rationed?

A. No. Tinned grapefruit juice is not rationed.

Q. I want to convert my house into flats for rental. Where should I apply in regard to the rent that may be charged?

A. You should make application to the rental's appraiser of the Prices Board to have the rental fixed.

Q. Last week I noticed small six ounce jars of jelly and eight ounce jars of honey selling four for a coupon. Is this right?

A. No. The six-ounce jars of jelly should be sold two for one preserve coupon and the eight-ounce jars of honey three for one coupon.

Q. I want to buy a new milking machine. Where do I apply for permission?

A. Apply to the nearest WPTB office for a form which you must fill out and sign and also have the dealer from whom you intend to make the purchase sign it. This form is to be submitted to a farm machinery rationing representative of the Board.

Q. Will the increase in tea or coffee rations affect the ruling of only one cup of coffee or one serving of tea to one person at one sitting in a restaurant?

A. No. These restrictions remain in effect.

Q. I read somewhere that blackstrap molasses was not rationed. Is that correct?

A. Yes, but the "blackstrap" mentioned is of a type not usually consumed by human beings and is customarily used for feeding livestock. Molasses for cooking purposes is very definitely on the ration list.

Q. Has canned rhubarb now returned to the ration list?

A. Yes. Canned rhubarb, temporarily removed from the list of canned fruits included under the preserves ration, returned to that list on May 1st.

PAPER CONTAINER CURB EXPECTED

Ottawa, (C.P.) — A restrictive order dealing with the manufacture and use of paper containers is under study by the Prices Board and may be issued soon, it was learned in Ottawa, last week.

It was understood the proposed order would restrict the manufacture of such containers and would establish priorities for their use in the civilian field. Two priorities for civilian use, for instance, probably would go to food containers.

The need for restrictions in the use of paper and cardboard containers arises from an increasing shortage of pulp and paper products, due primarily to a lack of men to cut wood and work in the pulp and paper mills.

There also has been a steady demand for cardboard for war products, such as shell casings, and for protective coverings for munitions and other materials during shipment.

May Use Canning Sugar Coupons For Preserves

It is pointed out by the Ration Administration that after the first five P coupons in ration book No. 3 have become valid on May 23 for the purchase of canning sugar, consumers so minded may exchange them for preserves coupons, by applying to Local Ration Boards. A similar arrangement has been authorized in connection with the second five P coupons which will fall due July 6th for the purchase of canning sugar. Th exchange in each case is to be one P coupon for one preserves coupon.

THANK YOU CANADA
... but there's still a WAR JOB to do!

OFFICE OF THE MINISTER — CANADA

DEPARTMENT OF NATIONAL WAR SERVICES

To my fellow Canadians:—

You the citizens of Canada and members of the Voluntary Salvage Committees and many other Voluntary War Workers have done an excellent war job.

Canada, in doing her part to help win the war, has been greatly assisted by your voluntary and unselfish devotion to the important duty of saving and turning in the essential war materials. You have backed up the boys overseas and your activities Have been a material factor in turning the tide of battle against the enemy. When Canada's stock piles have been dangerously low, you have discovered, saved, and salvaged waste material which has been turned into weapons, ammunition, explosives and containers. Your Salvage Campaigns have been Nation-Wide and of National importance. Your job has been a big one which you have nobly performed.

When at war the past is the past and we must look to the future. Again I appeal to you!

There is another National war emergency which must be met and overcome. Experts on the matter have assured us that there is a critical shortage of Waste Paper and that the situation is desperate. War supplies must reach our Fighting Forces who will use them against the enemy. War supplies must be safely packed. As we are such on nearer to the enemy such more Waste Paper is wanted now. More —

Paperboard mills are working on a day-to-day basis and some are facing shut-downs because reserve stock supplies of Waste Paper are critically low. From now on every scrap of waste paper is to be saved and turned in to the Nation through regular Waste Paper channels.

Fellow Canadians please help!

Yours sincerely,

L. Mr Lalib

L. R. LaPalche,
Minister, National War Services.

CANADA NEEDS 20,000 TONS OF WASTE PAPER EVERY MONTH

WHAT IS WANTED: You can remedy this critical paper shortage by saving every scrap of Waste Paper, namely: wrapping paper—store bags—cardboard—cartons—corrugated board —old magazines and books—envelopes and letters—newspapers. These represent the raw material for making vitally needed Paper containers.

HOW TO DO IT: Tie securely in separate bundles. (The little time you take will save thousands of man hours.) Then dispose of it through your local voluntary Salvage Committee or other War Voluntary Organization, or tea or other War Services channels, your sell it through any known trade channels, your pedlar or others. The important thing is to get your Waste Paper moving to the mills.

2. AUTHORIZATION OF EXPENDITURES IN MINUTES

We note that it has not been the custom to have all expenditures authorized in the Minutes. We appreciate that it may be necessary to make some payments of small amounts before they are authorized, but recommend that all such payments be approved in the Minutes of the next subsequent meeting of the Board. Details of all contracts entered into by the Board should be included in the Minutes.

3. PAYMENT BY CHEQUE

Apparently two of the treasurers make all their payments by cheque while the third makes some payments out of cash. For the protection of the treasurers and of the trustees we recommend that all payments, however small, be made by cheque.

4. BANK ACCOUNTS

Two of the treasurers operate bank current accounts while the other operates a bank savings account. The advantage of a bank savings account is that interest is received while the advantage of a current account is that the endorsements of the cancelled cheques (which are returned and can be kept on file) provide a good receipt for all payments. Where a current account is not operated, the treasurer should obtain signed receipts on a proper form, for all payments, in order that he may have on file definite proof that all payments were received by the persons entitled to them.

Hope Expressed For Extra Ammunition For Farmers, Hunters

Ottawa (C.P.) — Senator W. M. Aseltine (L.-Saskatchewan) expressed the hope in the Senate that a reasonable amount of ammunition would be released by the Prices Board this year to hunters in various parts of Canada.

Senator Aseltine said there were more migratory birds in Western Canada this year than there had been for many years. There was a general feeling that "some of the crop should be harvested."

The Prices Board had announced that production of shot-gun shells would have to be rationed this year, although production had been increased three-fold, said Senator Aseltine. He said he hoped the government would attempt to make ammunition available to sportsmen, hunters and to clubs.

Senator W. A. Buchanan (L.-Alberta) said farmers should be allowed ammunition to protect their livestock from bears, wolves and coyotes.

Senator J. N. King (L.-British Columbia), Government leader, said he believed there would be a sufficient supply of ammunition this season for hunters and farmers.

Tompkins was passing the offertory bag in church when a woman hurried in. She walked quickly down the aisle, stopped by Tompkins, dropped a penny in the bag, and moved to a seat. The bag-bearer was at the last pew when the woman came hustling back. She snatched a penny from the bag, and was passing out of the church door when Tompkins grabbed her arm.

"I say," he muttered, "why do you come in here, drop a coin in the bag, then take it out again and leave?"

The woman shook him off indignantly. "I'm in the wrong church," she said.

OFFICERS ELECTED SOFTBALL ASS'N MEETING

SCHEDULE OPENS SECOND WEEK IN JUNE

On Thursday evening of last week a meeting of the Bayshore Fastball Association was held at the Town Hall and arrangements were started to re-organize the league for the coming season.

The following officers were elected to direct the operations of the Association:

President — Mr. J. B. Hough Desoronto.

Secretary— Mr. Doug. Scott, Y. M. C. A. representative at Mohawk Airport.

Treasurer — Mr. George Switzer, Napanee.

The executive will comprise a representation of each of the following teams, which have entered the league, Gibbards' Deseronto, and two entries from the Airport.

Considerable discussion centred around the possibility of entering two teams from Napanee.

The Napanee representation based their objection to this arrangement due to the fact there are not enough softball players in this community to field two well-balanced teams, and the war-time restrictions on transportation needs made it impossible to go outside the local area to bring the necessary players in. The other angle presented was the large number of possibilities the Mohawk Airport personnel presented. The Napanee delegates felt that the Airmen could fill in with the extra team.

After figuring the pros and cons for some time, the Airport officials agreed to field two teams.

The matter of a schedule was next on the docket and resulted in agreeing to start the second week in June. No definite day or what teams will preside at the opening, could be decided on, due to the operation of the R.C.A.F. schedule, in which the Mohawk Station also have a team.

The Gibbard representation announced at the meeting that it is the intention to let all and sundry try for a place on the team, and the first practice has been called for Wednesday (to-night), May 17, at the Park at 6:00.

Another meeting will be called in the near future for the purpose of putting the finishing touches on the arrangements for the coming season.

FARMER FINED FOR NEGLECTING COWS

Irvine Card, R.R. 1, Odessa, was found guilty, by Magistrate Garvin, in Napanee Court, on Thursday, of ill-treating two cows and was fined $50.00 and costs.

Mr. Card who was represented by J. M. Simpson, K.C., pleaded not guilty to the charge which was laid by the provincial police on information obtained from Russell Woodcock, who until recently worked Mr. Card's farm on shares.

According to the evidence given by Mr. Woodcock, improper feed was supplied by Mr. Card to the cows, which became so weak they could not stand and finally were destroyed.

Dr. H. W. Smith, V.S., Napanee, in his evidence, stated that he examined the cows at the request of the Provincial Constable Taylor and found them lying on the stable floor, unable to rise and in a very much emaciated condition. His opinion was that their condition was caused by undernourishment.

Russell Woodcock said that he had been working Mr. Card's farm on shares since November 1, 1943 and that Mr. Card had been away from early December until March 15. During the time Mr. Card was away, Mr. Woodcock said he fed the cows good hay. Later in the winter, he tried to feed them sweet clover which the cows refused to eat. He informed or wrote Mr. Card and was instructed by him to have the sweet clover ground and to continue to feed it, but did not do so as he had no money to pay for the grinding. He again started feeding the better quality hay until Mr. Card returned after which he was ordered to feed the sweet clover. Woodcock refused to feed the poorer quality hay and quit his job. Before he left one of the cows fell on some ice in the barn yard and was unable to rise, so was hauled on a stone boat into the barn, where the second cow also got down and was unable to get up alone.

The evidence of Russell Woodcock was corroborated by his father, Thos. Woodcock and his brother, Delbert, who live near the Card farm.

Mr. Card and his son-in-law, Douglas Miles, of Thomas, N.Y., claimed that the condition of the two cows was the result of Russell Woodcock's neglect. Mr. Card stated there was plenty of good feed in the barn when he left in December and that he had left no instructions with Woodcock about what to feed. When Woodcock whote about using the sweet clover, he gave instructions to have it ground up and fed to the cows once a day and to feed the good hay twice each day.

When he returned to his home, Mr. Card said he found the cattle had deteriorated badly. After the first cow fell and could not rise, Mr. Card said he went to a neighbour and bought grain to feed the cattle. He also said that when he returned and took charge of the feeding he gave the cows the best hay in the barn, of which there was still plenty.

Douglas Miles said that he saw the cattle on April 20th when he found the two cows were down on the floor. He arranged to sell five other cows and intended to have the other two killed, but was saved the trouble by the Provincial Police who destroyed the two animals on the order of Dr. H. W. Smith.

About four o'clock, last Sunday morning, a transport driven by Cecil Reynolds, Brockville, went out of control and into the north ditch, about two and a half miles west of Napanee, on No. 2 Highway. Damage to the transport was estimated at $75.00.

Moscow, Tamworth, Empey Hill and Bay View. This work is sponsored by members of the Women's Institutes in these centres and under the direction of the leaders, the girls made attractive and inexpensive sleeping garments which were on display on the Achievement Day.

During the day the girls presented short talks and skits in connection with their Club work. Miss E. Kidd of the Institute staff, Toronto, was present and assisted with the programme. It was decided to continue the work in the Fall with a project entitled "The Club Girl Entertains." All interested groups are encouraged to organize for this very interesting course of study.

A Training School for Leaders will be held in Napanee the latter part of October.

L. & A. COUNTY FAILS TO REACH LOAN OBJECTIVE

Chairmen Express Regret of Workers

The Sixth Victory Loan is now history. The Dominion effort was greater than that put forth on any previous Loan. The Dominion objective exceeded the largest amount ever obtained before. All parts of Canada, with few exceptions achieved their objectives, some by a goodly margin.

The County of Lennox and Addington was one of the few Units across Canada in which the objective was not obtained. The sum of $916,250, was raised, falling $83,750 below the required minimum objective of $1,000,000.

The one bright spot in the Campaign here was cash sales. More Bonds were bought on a straight cash basis in this Loan than in any other Victory Loan. Converting previous issues to obtain funds for investment in the Sixth Victory Loan was definitely discouraged by the Committee, with the result that few such transactions took place.

Even in the face of the above facts, the objective could have been reached and passed if many who made token purchases had really bought bonds. . . . Also purchases were not forthcoming from a large number of Citizens who could well afford to invest.

The Salesmen worked harder than ever before, and put forth a splendid effort in attempting to reach their individual objectives by obtaining new money. The public generally received the Salesmen well, but in many instances there seemed to be a lack of understanding of the seriousness of the situation.

The people of the County had, in the past, been used to being behind until the last day of every Campaign, and then having the County go over the top. . . . "It's in the bag" — "We'll get our Objective" — "We always have" — "The Committee have lots of orders in headquarters that have not been reported" — "Wait till you see that speedometer go past One Million the last night of the Campaign" — "Therefore my money is not needed," That was the gist of sentiment on the Sixth Victory Loan in Lennox and Addington. But the proof of the pudding is in the eating thereof.

With the close of the Campaign, Lennox and Addington missed its minmum objective for the first time, by $83,750. — It is too late to do anytnihg to correct this situation, now, — BUT ! In the Fall, when the Seventh Loan is floated, let us make up for our showing on the Sixth Victory Loan, and everybody get behind the boys behind the guns.

ADDRESSES GIVEN ON SOUTH AFRICA AT RED CROSS MEETING

Local Branch Observes Florence Nightingale Day

The President of the Napanee Red Cross, Miss Lenore Herrington, presided over a representative gathering of Napanee women on Saturday afternoon, when May 12th, the birthday of Florence Nightingale was observed as Red Cross Day. A paper on the life of Florence Nightingale, which had been prepared by Miss Herrington, was read by Mrs. Victor Cowling, and the self-sacrificing deeds of this heroine of the nursing profession were again called to mind. Her connection with the founding of the first Red Cross Society, and the framing of the Convention of Geneva, was brought out in a short paper read by Miss Ruth Duffett, a nurse-in-training. Mrs. Henri Dunant, the founder of the Red Cross, acknowledged the fact that it was the work of Miss Florence Nightingale in the Crimea that inspired him to go to Italy during the war of 1859. This clever woman who had been appointed to the War Office by Queen Victoria, also helped to draft resolutions which were adopted by the Congress of Paris in 1864 and incorporated in the Convention of Geneva. When she returned to England from the Crimea the people of Great Britain raised a sum of money which she accepted for the purpose of founding a School for Nursing.

Following these short addresses, the nurses who were present were led by Mrs. Lloyd Cowle in the Florence Nightingale pledge which all nurses take on graduation. In it a nurse promises loyalty to her profession and devotion to those committed to her care.

Guests of the Red Cross were Nursing Sisters Elma Coon, and Anne Davis, who are present in training at the Military Hospital, Kingston, and who came to Napanee through the kindness of Colonel Willoughby. Miss Coon, whose home is in Peterborough and who is a graduate of the Ottawa Civic Hospital, gave a graphic account of her experiences when she volunteered to go to South Africa in January, 1941. The trip was made via New York, and Trinidad and she speaker told of the groves of oranges and grapefruit, and the colorful scenes of a Port of Spain market. In Pretoria, where Sister Coon was stationed in a South African Army camp similar to Petawawa, are the most beautiful Government buildings in the world, surrounded by formal gardens and overlooking a city of red-tiled houses where Poinsettias climb against the green walls. Pretoria is a very modern city where many Canadian products are found in the stores. The speaker also described the tall black natives and their square mud huts with roofs of corrugated iron squares weighted down with stones. The seventeen wards of the hospital were in separate buildings, each with its own garden, and the nurses were often found gardening when the doctor arrived. Both Miss Coon and Miss Davis had visited Victoria Falls and confessed that they were even more beautiful than Niagara.

Miss Davis, whose home is on Wolfe Island, is a graduate of Kingston General Hospital. Her trip to South Africa was made in April 1941 via England. From there it took five weeks in a well-guarded convoy to reach Durban. Her work was in a 1500-bed hospital near Johannesburg for the use of Imperial troops from North Africa. The principal work was orthopaedic surgery. Miss Davis was in the unique position of being a member of the South African Army wearing the uniform of a Canadian Nursing Sister, and nursing Imperial troops. Special mention was made of the Red Cross of Johannesburg which was particularly good to the soldiers, bringing them treats of cakes and sweets twice a week, and providing them with all the necessary clothing in a ditty bag when they were discharged from hospital.

Both addresses were most interesting, and appreciation and thanks were extended to the speakers by Mrs. C. D. McLellan, on behalf of the Red Cross.

Tea was served by Mrs. George Walters and Mrs. W. H. Duffett, and the President announced the date of the Red Cross Garden Party to be Wednesday, June 14th.

OUT-OF-TOWN SPEAKERS HEARD ON SUNDAY AT GRACE CHURCH

Dr. Wilson and Dr. Kent Give Addresses

Dr. A. J. Wilson, Editor of The United Church Observer preached to a large congregation in Grace Church on Sunday morning, the second Sunday of special re-opening services, and Dr. Kent, Principal of Queen's Theological College delivered a helpful and inspiring message on "The Church" at the evening service.

The Sacrament of Baptism was administered at the morning service, to the following children:

Sandra Lois, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Edwards.

Lyle Douglas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold S. Dupre.

Wayne Douglas, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Anderson.

Lynda Elaine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Collins.

Mary Lynn and David Glover, children of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Cheesman.

Edward John, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Gordon.

Donald Bert, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. McCutcheon.

Nancy Phyllis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Lloyd.

Enid Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Hurst.

Douglas Earle, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Yarwood.

Yvonne Bernice daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Moore.

John Edward, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Tunnicliffe.

Judith Ann, daughter of Mrs. I. G. Burrows.

Spencer Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. VanAlstine.

Mary Ellen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Creighton.

The ceremony was conducted by the minister of the church, Rev. C. D. McLellan, assisted by Dr. A. J. Wilson.

Taking his text from II Chronicles, 6—1-9 Dr. Wilson spoke on "The Church." He congratulated Grace Church on rebuilding such a fine place of worship and spoke of a place of worship as a means by which we worship. Great churches have made mistakes in the past and have put their faith in magnificent buildings and ritual as the Russian Church, or in philosophy and thought as the German Church, but neither of these was able to stand when the time of testing came. There are many ways of finding God but before we find God we must have a real personal experience of Christ.

Large congregations attended the church service and also the Mothers' Day service in the Sunday school conducted by Mr Arnold Rogers the assistant superintendent, in the absence, through illness of the superintendent Mr F B Elliott. Mr Rogers was assisted in the service by Mr. Gerald Smith, Mr Bruce McAdam and Rev. C. D. McLellan. A story of the home life of the Mother of China's First Lady was well told by Mrs. James Haggerty and Mr Ward Sexsmith and his son, Rodney, sang a duet, accompanied by Mrs. Clarence Read.

At the evening service Dr. H. A. Kent spoke in an intimate way of the meaning of the church in the lives of the men and women of a previous generation and of what the Church to-day should mean to us. He compared the Church of God to a good stout ship, built to withstand stormy weather, not made for light breeze alone. Its sails may be a bit torn and its sides dusty in comparison with the fancy craft that sail hither and yon about it but the test comes when they all have to set out to sea. It will not be long before the other turn back but the stout vessel that is the Church can sail on in confidence. There are many uses for a church but the main reason that we come to church is to meet God. Dr. Kent also congratulated the congregation on completion of such a fine interior and said that it reminded him of the phrase "to worship the Lord in the Beauty of holiness."

Choir numbers during the day were "Open the Gates of the Temple," "Brother James' Air" and "Test Me." Solo parts were taken by Mrs. Milton Martin and Mr. Gerald Smith.

Congregational Gathering

Following the service the congregation gathered in the basement for a Friendship Hour. Four numbers were given by members of the choir and a hymn-sing was led by Mr. Gerald Smith. Greetings were brought by Rev. A. C. McCallum from the Bay Charge, and by Captain Hoggard from The Salvation Army. A message from Captain Hoggard's mother Colonel Hoggard was also very much enjoyed. Refreshments were served by the W. A. and the meeting closed with the singing of "Breathe on Me Breath of God" and the benediction pronounced by the minister, Rev. C. D. McLellan.

It was felt that these Sundays of re-dedication and re-opening services have been a time of deep inspiration and warm fellowship. The members of Grace Church have taken the first step along a new road of service and are grateful for the good wishes expressed by their neighbours.

PEACE TERMS

Unconditional surrender has been set forth as the only basis on which the United Nations will treat with the Axis Powers. As if to keep that ideal fresh in our minds on the eve of invasion, the leaders of the United Forces are emphasizing this objective — the complete military defeat of Germany.

But granted that an unconditional surrender is achieved, as it will no doubt be achieved — then what ? The problem that will face the United Nations is one that staggers the imagination. Reduced to a simple question, it is this: What terms will the United Nations impose on defeated Germany ?

There will be many conditions imposed: they will be hard conditions. The temper of the people of the United Nations is different than it was during the First Great War. Having seen the failure of the Peace of Versailles, and the ruthless disregard for the terms of the Treaty of Versailles by the Germans, the United Nations are not inclined to be lenient. Even some German writers who are sympathetic with the United Nations have been warning the Allies that any kindness or generosity will be taken by the Germans as an indication of weakness or softness on the part of the victors. There has been so much suffering and sorrow caused by the German outbreak, that it is almost inconceivable that the United Nations will be anything but tough with the Germans at the peace table.

The London Economist has been dealing with this subject. It seems to have little fear about the peace terms, but the editors are evidently worried as to the determination of the United Nations to enforce those terms in ten or twenty years after they have been signed. There are some things. The Economist argues, that the United Nations will be prepared to go to war for in ten or even twenty years." But there are some other things which they would hardly be prepared to defend by force. For this reason, The Economist argues great care should be taken in drawing up those terms. It concludes its sane and penetrating comment with these words :

"There can be no question of condoning the Germans. The peace terms must be severe and public opinion is ready for severity. But the limits of severity must be fixed not by the goodness or badness of the Germans, but by the firmness and resolution of the victors. In all the discussion of German peace terms, the debate has always raged over the symptoms and diagnosis of the patient. Little thought has been spared for the skill and decision of the doctors. Now at last they have come together for consultation — first in Teheran, now by proxy on the European Commission. If they can agree on a cure and know that in 1955 and in 1965 they will still be as fully resolved to continue the treatment, Europe may be spared the inanities and tragedies of the interwar years."

V

THE PRICE OF VICTORY

Our lives are lived in these momentous days amid a conflict of emotions that keep us at fever-pitch of excitement. In the face of an impending invasion, we are torn between our determination to rid the world of Naziism and the knowledge that wars cannot be won without paying the price in treasure and life. The invasion, when it comes, will be the greatest military effort in all history. Two great and powerful war machines will come to grips in a conflict to a finish. For such an effort, preparation, co-ordination and careful provision for every contingency are essential. We are not in on any military secrets, zut sufficient information is feoming through in despatches to indicate that the United Nations are not going into this conflict until they are ready. Given all the power, resources and equipment the best brains and workmen can provide, all that is necessary to victory is the spirit of those who fought and won the Battle of Britain, and of those behind the lines who, when they stood alone, had faith in their cause and the will to conquer.

The days that lie before us will test the souls of men. The casualty lists will increase, the fateful telegram will reach more and more homes. That is the price which our generation will have to pay. It will be paid willingly and generously. No price is too great to pay for our liberties, our freedom and the safety of our homes and institutions.

V

SOCIALISM

For many years men skated all around the word "socialism" fearing to use it lest they be branded as "Reds" "Communists" or "Bolsheviks". Now that these epithets are not so distasteful to us, since the Russians have done so magnificently, we find the world "socialism" coming more and more into general use. People are getting used to the sound of it. It does not raise fears every time it is uttered as once it did.

This is well. The time has come when political parties should not fear to use the word "socialism." State ownership and other equally cumbersome phrases should be dropped in discussion of political trends towards the left. Get the word "socialism" out in the open and let us judge it on its merits.

Anyone with half-an-eye can observe the movement in our country towards socialism. The trend is not confined to Canada by any means. Indeed, in some ways Canada is much behind the Mother Country in the development of socialism. The trend received a great impetus from the success of the Russian experiment. This has had a wide influence all over the world. The opposite is true, however, of Germany. The development of socialism in Germany was halted on the assumption of power by Hitler. Even though Hitler uses the phrase "national socialism" to describe the Nazi system, yet there is little of the high idealism and altruism in it, which marked the progress of socialism in Germany in the days of the democracy. In Germany, state ownership has given unlimited power into the hands of the international gangsters who control the Nazi party.

It is manifestly unfair, therefore, to call all socialists in Canada "National Socialists," with the evident implication that all socialists are branded with the Nazi philosophy of blood and soil. No indeed! There are many wise and progressive socialists in Canada who are as enthusiastic in condemning the Nazis as any other group.

Socialism in Canada will undoubtedly have a wider appeal as the days pass. More and more the State will undertake the ownership and management of an increasing number of basic organizations. There are vast areas in life where this should be so. There are great natural endowments which belong to all the people and should be used for them—such for example as the waterfalls.

But we can hardly think of Canadians ever agreeing to have their whole life managed and controlled by the State. We are freedom-loving people. We love adventure, we love pioneering, we love the struggle and tussle of a young people. So as we move towards socialism, we will no doubt find that public opinion will demand a large place be left for private ownership and private enterprise. Operating under controls which will prevent them from undue exploitation of the common people, we may expect, for many years to come, to see all sorts of enterprises in private hands—working not for profits alone, but for the public good. This we believe is as it should be. But the quicker we eliminate abuses of the present system, thereby removing causes of dissatisfaction, the more quietly and constructively will the new forms of economic and social organization which will mark the post - war world, emerge.

V

AN UNUSUAL EVENT

The re-opening of Grace United Church is of more than passing interest. It marks a milestone in the life of an old historic congregation. The church building which was gutted by fire sixteen months ago, has been entirely rebuilt. The interior arrangement is a radical departure from the arrangements of United Church buildings in Napanee and the district. But there are historic precedents for the chancel form of church. It is a sign of the changing times in which we live that prejudices against this form of architecture by former Methodists and Presbyterians, is so largely dying away.

To have rebuilt the church in the face of war-time restrictions and labor shortages, is a tribute to the diligence and enthusiasm of the congregation. The reconstruction was designed by Toronto architects. The work, however, was practically all done by local workmen and is a great credit to the skill and ability of our own artisans.

Reidville Cemetery Raises Fund For Perpetual Care

A short time ago a movement was started to rehabilitate the cemetery at Reidville, near Tamworth, where many of the pioneer residents of the district are buried and splendid success has rewarded the efforts of the citizens of the neighborhood who were responsible.

An organization was formed, with Rev. A. W. Seaton, minister of The United Church, Tamworth Circuit, as president. A meeting was held at Reidville Church on May 11th, at which $1,430 were subscribed to provide for perpetual care for the cemetery. Mr. George Reid of Belleville, a former resident of Reidville, whose sister the late Miss Hattie Reid, left $100 for care of the family plot, was largely responsible for the canvass for funds. More funds are expected to be forthcoming at a later date, and perpetual care of the cemetery should be assured.

MAIL LOSS ANNOUNCED

Ottawa, (CP) — Loss through enemy action of a consignment of parcels, tobacco and news for members of the armed forces in the Mediterranean and mailed between March 7 and March 22, was announced by Postmaster - General Mulock. He said the items were despatched from the Canadian base post office March 21 and 23.

A post office release listed various mail losses since the beginning of the year resulting from enemy action, fire, air collision and jettisoning from a crippled plane.

"Unfortunately the mishaps took the heaviest toll in mail for the forces fighting in the Mediterranean area," the release added.

"When it is considered that the losses represent a mere fraction of the ever-increasing volume of mails safely delivered, a clearer picture of mail service to the armed forces can be obtained. Last year for instance —the heaviest on record—out of 31,500,000 letters, 27,500,000 pounds of parcels and 997,000 pounds of news dispatched to our forces overseas by the Canadian Postal Corps, losses from all causes were little over one per cent.

"Latest reports are to the effect that improvements in the mail service coupled with better weather conditions, have enabled a greater degree of scheduled regularity to be maintained to the satisfaction of the Mediterranean forces."

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, MAY 21ST, 1944

"PAUL IN CORINTH"
Text: Acts, 18: 1-4. I Corinthians, 12.

What a contrast — Corinth — Athens! Paul had just left Athens, cultured, highbrow, superior . . . . . Corinth, seaport, cosmopolitan, boisterous friendly. Paul had a tough time at Athens. He preached what he believed was a message that would appeal to their love of intelligence. But he got nowhere—they were not interested. He left feeling his mission had been a flop.

Then Paul came to Corinth. Like all seaport towns Corinth was a cosmopolitan place. Sailors from many lands mingled on the streets and in the taverns. It was a city which was characterized by looseness of habits, and all sorts of immoralities. But it was a much better place for Paul, than Athens. The Corinthians would, at least, listen to him. He had an interesting and successful work among the people of Corinth.

Paul, shortly after arriving in Corinth, got in touch with a certain man, Acquilla, by name. They became earnest co-workers in Christian missionary work. They were both tent makers. Both Paul and Acquilla worked at their trade, to support themselves while doing their main job of preaching to the Corinthians. It is rather noteworthy, this matter of belonging to the same trade guild. It gave the two of them a certain point of contact and understanding of each other, which was of inestimable value.

There has always been in the Christian enterprise, a certain amount of work based on the vocational approach. While this has been stressed more in the mission field, yet it has a very definite place in all Christian programmes. Quite recently this has been used with effect in missionary education. Meetings of doctors, for example have been held and addressed by a Christian missionary doctor. Being of the same profession as his audience the speaker can talk in technical language if necessary, with a knowledge which his fellow medical men can respect. The same is true of other walks of life, teachers to teachers, businessmen to businessmen, nurses to nurses. There can be no question but that more along this line should be done if the Gospel of Jesus Christ is to commend itself to all walks of life. A doctor can talk to a doctor better than anyone else, and similarly with other trades and callings. Paul was a tentmaker and he got an opportunity to discuss the affairs of the Kingdom with others who were tentmakers, too.

The second part of the lesson deals with the famous thirteenth chapter of I Corinthians. To deal with this is like tampering with a jewel. It is one of the most beautiful poems ever written, and holds a warm and abiding place in the hearts and affections of Christian people, everywhere. A favourite way to deal with this passage is to note three features of "love" as Paul describes its working in the life of the community and the life of the individual. These are: (1) love is essential to our various gifts, 1-3; (2) love has certain characteristics that men call hard, 4-7; (3) love is imperishable.

It is hardly necessary to point out that the quality of life which Paul calls "love", is not the sentimental emotion which is so widely portrayed in modern sex literature or on the silver screen. Rather, it is a deep and profound underlying principle of life. We all have certain gifts—not all have the same ones. But, Paul insists that unless all of these are under the control of love they amount to very little.

Then love requires suffering, is free from envy, is not boastful, is not conceited; believes, hopes, endures all things that are eternal. Christian love leads the believer to forget all pain, to forget personal ambition and national pride. What a different world we would live in if this feature of Christian love were everywhere and at all times manifest. How quickly racial prejudices would disappear; class divisions dissolve and creedal antagonisms vanish were people to be moved towards each others in terms of Christian love.

Then, too, love is the only thing that lasts forever. Wisdom changes, philosophies grow old, creeds have to be rewritten. Only love remains permanent and enduring— love never faileth. But whether there be prophecies, they shall be done away, whether there be tongues they shall cease whether there be knowledge it shall be done away . . . but now abideth faith, hope, these three; but the greatest of these is love.

INTERESTING LETTER FROM JACK RENNIE

The following letter from Jack Rennie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rennie, Detroit, former Napanee residents, appeared in a recent paper published by radio station W. J. R. Detroit, of which Jack Rennie was an employee before going overseas. He is a grandson of Mrs. D. A. McCabe, Napanee, and has recently been in hospital in Italy after which he was sent to a hospital in North Africa suffering from a nervous disorder, which may result in his being invalided home.

October 15, 1943.
Italy at 3:45 a.m.

Dear Fitz and Gang:

I have finally left the land of the person who "silently steals away." In many ways the move is for the better, and yet I rather regret leaving Africa. There were a lot of things that I never believed I would see during my lifetime that Africa presented. The Arabs themselves, the native sections, Roman Ruins, and just Africa in general really were worth seeing.

I know I shall never forget the first day I saw Africa. That little town nestled on the side of a huge mountain, looking like a make-believe town in a child's make-believe world. Then the short hike through that town with the many French and Arabic children running out here and begging for everything from gum to cigarettes.

Then there was the first ride on the little toy like French train, the rain that caught us on a five mile hike to our first camping ground, the first night spent under wet tents covered with wet blankets and sleeping on wet, muddy ground. From the first, we had all expected Africa to be warm, and we were rather surprised when the coldness of the first night held on for about a month. When we finally did get a touch of hot weather, we welcomed it, then cursed it as the sirocco swept across us and blasted us with a fiery heat.

Perhaps the greatest sight I was privileged to see was the debacle of the Axis forces. That long endless line of men, racing to arrive first at a concentration camp, pushing their trucks and cars they were riding in, begging for gas, and to be allowed to stay at an already overcrowded camp. I know that such a collapse was not looked for by the Allies, and that they were caught short of camps to take care of the men.

Then Italy

And now we find ourselves in sunny Italy, enjoying one sunny day out of five, but then this is the time of the year when Italy really isn't the sunny Italy it is supposed to be.

The entire farm land around here is fenced off into small fields by stone walls. It must have taken years to collect the stones for the fences extend miles in every direction.

One thing I have noticed since arriving in this new country is the condition of the people. These people really are glad that we came into their country, and seem to be glad to be out from under the Axis yoke, but they are starving. This is not so noticeable in the older people as it is in the children. It rather hurts to be eating your own food and see a small child watching you and hoping that you won't eat everything. There will be some left for him. At first we gave them what we had left, then when too many of them came around we gave them most of what we got. Finally it got so bad that our commanding officer had to have them kept out of camp. It isn't that he wanted to get tough, but soldiers must eat, and eating wasn't easy with those hungry little devils around you—see what I mean? Now, if you watch closely enough you'll occasionally see someone give a kid a can of C rations he has been saving or maybe, on ration day, a candy bar—and that is like giving away your right arm. Then, too, in town the boys buy the kids bits of candy or some fruit. It all goes toward better feeling between ourselves and our newly-acquired allies. Best of all, I think, it helps the kids to think that maybe, in this world gone mad, they haven't been entirely forgotten.

What Kind of Peace?

The governments of the world can talk peace all they want, but so long as they arrange peace terms with the aim of satisfying my generation—they will be laying the foundation of a future war. There is only one generation to plan for—the children of this war—the ones who have had to suffer and never know, or understand why. They are the ones who are going to hold the world at peace in the long-term race. Let's hope that the men who finally sit down around the peace table, are really determined to draw a peace treaty from their hearts and not from their pocketbooks.

I know all of you well enough to know that you would think as I do if you could see, not the bodies of these kids, but just their eyes. The hunger of ages is written there — and it's going to take a lot of understanding and help to erase the mark it has left.

—Jack Rennie.

She was anxious to learn the latest news about her neighbor's accident, and turning toward her husband, who was immersed in the evening paper, she said:

"Henry, can you see anything in the paper about Mr. Jones running over his mother-in-law?"

"Not yet," replied Mr. Peck, "it haven't come to the sporting news."

FREE SHOTS ON Local Sport

Well, we're in again!

Along with the Bayshore Fastball (??) league reformation.

The "Moguls of the Mound" gathered in the Inner Sanctum of the Town Hall, last week, and aired their thoughts and wishes to all who would listen. The result was the re-organization of the league of last year.

-:-

The highlights of the meeting were the election of officers, entries, schedule dates, etc. etc. as well as open discussion of the by-laws of the league.

-:-

Much surprise was noticed when the gathering was informed the locals would enter only one team and requested the Airmen to furnish two squads. Apparently everyone had their say and the result was that the Airport doubled the entry.

-:-

This should give the civilians a better chance to send the bailiff after the silverware now in the hands of the Flyers . . . and in all create a more balanced league.

-:-

Last season, the local entries, the Battery and Gibbards, failed to come up to the standard of playing which was required to meet the opposition.

-:-

This season it might be different when their resources are pooled.

-:-

The Flyers are not going to be able to present the same team as last season.

-:-

Among those who will not be on batting order are: Jake Bargman, Moe Morannis, "Chic" Chikosky, Charlie Demarris and "Fearless" Finnigan, and one or two others.

-:-

However, the possibility of filling these positions is good as more men are stationed at the Airport now than there were a year ago.

-:-

The Flyers have been practicing daily on the triangle and as yet no one has ventured near our Ball Park as far as we can learn.

-:-

However, the Gibbard Gang will go to work tonight (Wednesday) for limbering up exercises and anyone who can thumb a ride to the proving grounds will be given an opportunity to show his wares.

-:-

The time — any time after 6:00 o'clock.

JUVENILE SOFTBALL TO BE ORGANIZED

Boys interested in playing softball this summer are asked to meet at the Gibbard Ball Park on Saturday, May 20th, at 2:00 p.m.

Teams will be arranged and preliminary organization work done at that time.

MOTHER'S DAY SERVICE AT TRINITY CHURCH

Trinity Sunday School and Congregation observed Mother's Day with a joint service on Sunday morning last. The service was in charge of the superintendent, Mr. E. C. Hogarth, assisted by Mr. H. C. Empey and Rev. G. M. Chidley. As the Sunday school marched into the church the Sunday school orchestra under the leadership of L.A.C. Bernard Stauth, played a selection.

The Sacrament of Baptism was observed, four children being baptized. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. J. E. Madden, sang an appropriate anthem and Mrs. Harold Denison sang "Mother O' Mine."

Miss Jean Gibbard told a delightful story of the mother of Madam Chiang Kai Shek. Rev. G. M. Chidley gave a short address in appreciation of Canadian mothers. There was a fine congregation in attendance.

NON-SUPPORT CASE HEARD IN COURT IN NAPANEE

Earl Walmsley appeared before Magistrate Garvin in Napanee Police Court on Monday, charged with failing to support his wife, Velma Walmsley, and his three infant children. After hearing evidence for the plaintiff, the Magistrate made an order that Mr. Walmsley pay $15.00 every two weeks for the care of his children, but no order was made for payment to Mrs. Walmsley as she is now teaching school and is self supporting. Mr. Walmsley agreed to make the payments as directed.

Evidence for the plaintiff, Mrs. Walmsley, was given by Mr. Hugh Nickle, Administrator of Wartime Housing, Kingston, Mr. R. J. Allan, office manager and chief clerk of The Aluminium Company in Kingston, where Mr. Walmsley is employed, by Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Creighton, brother and sister-in-law of Mrs. Walmsley, by Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, in Kingston, at whose residence Mr. Walmsley maintained a home until recently, for himself, Eileen Jackson and infant daughter.

No evidence was put in for the defendant.

Mrs. Walmsley, in her evidence, stated that she had not lived with Mr. Walmsley as his wife since the spring of 1943. When she learned that Eileen Jackson was living with him as his wife, some time later, Mrs. Walmsley sold the chattels on the farm where she and Mr. Walmsley had previously lived, and later was found not guilty of theft of the articles, as charged by her husband. She had since purchased a farm with the money received and with money from her parents' estate and had deeded it to her son, Harold, 20 years of age retaining the right of a home for herself and younger children on the farm. At Christmas, she began teaching school at Adolphustown, but the condition of her health made it possible she might not be able to continue teaching after the summer term. All the money she had was used to buy the farm and partly equip it for her son, and she had been forced to return to school teaching, to support herself and her younger children.

J. M. Simpson, K.C., appeared for Mr. Walmsley and Mrs. Walmsley was represented by W. M. Nickle, K.C. of Kingston.

Mrs. R. L. Miller left on Tuesday morning, May 1st, there passed peacefully away at her home, Mount Pleasant, one of the older residents of the community, in the person of Mrs. H. Stafford, widow of the late Hiram A. Stafford who predeceased her eleven years ago. Although suffering for many years from the malady, arthritis, she was confined to her bed only a few days previous to her death.

The late Mrs. Stafford, who before her marriage on October 14, 1886, to Mr. Stafford, was Hannah Mary Abbott, daughter of the late Ralph Abbott and Elizabeth Shorita was born in the Empey Hill district. An older sister, Margaret and a brother Henry, died some time ago.

In early life she had been a member of the Lonsdale Methodist Ch., later becoming a member of the Empey Hill. Although for some time she has been unable to attend the services, she had always maintained a keen interest in all the organizations of the church. She lived an exemplary life in the experience of the Christian faith. Her cheerful disposition and thoughtfulness for others won for her many friends both old and young.

She leaves to mourn her loss and cherish her memory, a son, Fred, at home; a daughter, Mabel (Mrs. Harold Dupre), residing near Napanee, and a granddaughter, Marilyn Carol Stafford.

The funeral, which was largely attended, was held at Napanee, Wednesday, May 3rd at 2:30 p.m., from the Wartman Funeral Home, and was conducted by her pastor, Rev. W. R. Merrick, assisted by Rev. C. D. McLellan of Grace Church, Napanee. Mr. Merrick delivered a comforting message and paid a warm tribute to her Christian character and life of service. Mr. and Mrs. Ward Wartman sang "Saved by Grace," a favourite hymn of the deceased. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. The remains were laid to rest in the Riverview Cemetery. Those acting as pall-bearers were her neighbors Messrs. F. Henderson, C. Hawley, R. Hogeboom, F. Hudson, R. Oliver and S. Winter.

We cannot think of her as dead,
Who talks with us no more;
Along the path of life we tread,
She has but gone before.

The Late George Lewis

George Lewis, a well-known and highly respected citizen of Napanee, died suddenly shortly after noon on Monday, May 15th, at his home on Water Street. He passed away, without warning shortly after eating his noon meal on Monday.

Mr. Lewis had a very genial friendly personality and was well liked by a large circle of friends.

He was born at Napanee about 84 years ago and had lived all his lifetime in town. He is survived by his wife, formerly Lucy Jane Detlor and three daughters, Eileen in Kingston Ada, Mrs. Reg. Switzer, Napanee and Keitha, Mrs. Lamont Napanee, and one son, Borden, overseas with the 48th Highlanders. Another daughter, by a former marriage, Mrs. John Stringer, lives in Buffalo, N.Y.

His funeral is being conducted at the family home on Wednesday afternoon (today) by Rev. E. J. Dumbrille, rector of St. Mary Magdalene's Church, and interment will be at Riverview Cemetery.

KINGSTON WOMAN BADLY INJURED NEAR NAPANEE

On Sunday, while driving west on the old Belleville Road, about a mile and a half from Napanee at the turn just beyond Ward Sexsmith's home, a car owned by Sherman Wartman, Portsmouth, driven by Mrs. Harold Fox, of Kingston, struck a tree after skidding on loose gravel at the turn, injuring Mrs. Fox quite seriously. Mr. Fox and Mr. Wartman were not badly hurt, but Mrs. Fox was thought to be suffering from serious internal injuries and was removed to Kingston by ambulance. The party was on its way to visit Mrs. Fox's relatives at Marysville.

Dr. D. R. Hall was called and gave first aid treatment.

"John, do you remember—it was a storm like this that you declared your love for me."
"Yes, it was a terrible night."

In Loving Memory

RICHMOND — In loving memory of Sergt. Reggie Richmond, R.C.A.F., who gave his life for his country one year ago on May 14th

He left his home with his head held high
With never a backward look or sigh.
His Country was in need of men
Who could stand the test and a hand could lend

Toward the freedom of his land,
No shirker could do it, it took a man.
He flew above the clouds one night
Where men could not see but a gleam of light

Was bright in his heart for there he flew
Was a job to be done e'er the night was through.
His plane went out, but never returned.
Our hearts were stunned, and still we yearn

For one more look at his manly face;
For there's one else can take his place
In our saddened hearts for one we love.
Some day we will meet him in Heaven above

Sadly missed by his FATHER, MOTHER
20a SISTERS and BROTHERS.

HERRINGTON — In loving memory of my darling granddaughter, Marion Herrington, who passed away nine years ago, May 19th 1935.

My thoughts wander, as daylight fades
To the land of long ago —
And memory paints the scene of old
In the cold of the twilight glow.
I seem to see in the soft, dim light
A face I loved the best,
And I think of her when the sun's last ray
Goes down in the far off West.
Deeply loved and dearly missed by 20a GRANDMA.

HERRINGTON — In loving memory of our dear Marian who passed away on May 19th, 1935, in her fourteenth year.

"Sleep on beloved, sleep and take thy rest;
We loved her, but Jesus loved her best."

Always remembered by MUM, DAD,
SISTER and BROTHER

Memoral Window to Burritt Family

A very interesting ceremony took place on Sunday last, May 14th, at St. Anne's Anglican Church, Easton's Corners, when a beautiful stained-glass chancel window was dedicated by the Right Rev. John Lyons, Lord Bishop of Ontario, in loving remembrance of Edmund and Hester Burritt and family: Anna Eberts, Frederick and Frances.

This memorial was designed and executed by Mr. C. W. Kempe of London, England, now residing in Montreal, where he is one of the leading artists and his work is well known. The subject is "The Ascended Lord." At the top is depicted the Dove, as the Holy Spirit, and two emblems representing the Two Elements of the Sacraments. In the centre light below is represented "Our Lord as at the Ascension." His spiritual presence among His followers on the side lights are two Adoring Angels, with inscription below: "Lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world."

Following the dedication of the window and also new lights for the church, given by the Women's Guild, His Lordship baptized the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Cairns and granddaughter of Mr. W. H. Cairns, the Rector's warden. Confirmation then took place after which a most eloquent and inspiring sermon was given. The rector, Rev. John Logan, was in charge of the service.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cairns entertained many, at tea, at their residence, Easton Manor.

A brass tablet reads; "Presented to St. Anne's Church by William Burritt Eberts and Mable Aylsworth Macnaughton, May 14th, 1944.

MONTHLY MEETING
Lennox and Addington CHILDREN'S AID

Routine business was transacted at the regular meeting of the Lennox and Addington Children's Aid Society held last Thursday evening. The report of the auditor, Geo. T. Walters was received and was referred to the finance committee for consideration and report at the next meeting. Mrs. Alpine Woods, convener of the clothing committee stated that part of the buying for the summer months had been completed, but that the members of the committee were meeting with some difficulty in securing children's clothing. When Miss Fleming, the supervisor was in town at the annual meeting, she commended the buying committee on its efficiency and on the fact that the cost per child, in the case of the Lennox and Addington Society for clothing, was less than the average.

Committees for the year were appointed and the President and Superintendent were delegated to attend the annual meeting of the Ontario Children's Aid Association in Toronto, early in June.

RATION COUPON CALENDAR

BUTTER — Coupons 58 59, 60, 61, 62, and 63 are valid. Coupons 58, 59, 60, and 61 expire May 31. Coupons 64 and 65 fall due June 8th.

TEA OR COFFEE — Coupons 14 to 29 and E1 to E6 (old book) and T31, T31 and T32 (new book) are now valid at higher coupon values. They remain so until declared invalid. Coupon T33 will fall due May 25th.

PRESERVES—Coupons D1 to D18 (old book) and 17, 18, 19, 20 (new book) are now valid and remain so until declared invalid. Coupons 21 and 22 fall due June 8th. Valid preserves coupons may also be used for the purchase of sugar at one-half pound per coupon.

SUGAR — Coupons 14 to 29 (old book) and 30 31, 32, 33 (new book) are now valid and remain so until declared invalid. Coupons 34 and 35 fall due June 8th.

CANNING SUGAR — Coupons P1 to P5 (old book) fall due May 25th and coupons P6 to P10 (old book) fall due July 6th for the purchase of sugar for home canning at one pound per coupon. After they have become valid they may be exchanged, alternatively, for preserves coupons on application to Local Ration Boards.

EVAPORATED MILK — Applications for special G coupons for the purchase of evaporated or partly skimmed evaporated milk for infant feeding or medical cases may be made to Local Ration Boards. All such applications for those over two years of age must be supported by medical certificates.

TWO BUTTER COUPONS FALL DUE THURSDAY

Although two butter coupons — Nos. 62 and 63 — will fall due on Thursday, May 18th, the pound of butter each consumer will be able to buy with these coupons must be made to last for three weeks, since it will be June 8th before the next two coupons — Nos. 64 and 65 — will fall due. This is due to the fact that a "butterless week" has been proclaimed at the start of June in order to assist in accumulating stocks which will be available for consumption when production drops to the winter level. The butter Canadians fail to consume at this time will be decidedly useful to have next winter.

Beginning June 8th, butter coupons will become good every second Thursday until further notice. This is being done so the request of both merchants and retailers in order to reduce the number of half-pound prints that are required. Half-pound prints are not always available and in some provinces merchants are forbidden to cut pound prints in two.

It is hoped that it may not be necessary to cut the ration again this year, but much will depend upon production figures, and these are being watched very carefully by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, which points out that it is retaining the ration by a postponement of the valid dates of coupons only when that has become, in the light of the supply situation, a real necessity.

Jimmy had returned from a party, and his mother, knowing his weakness, looked him straight in the eye and asked: Are you sure you didn't ask Mrs. Smith for a second piece of cake?

To which he replied: No mother. I only asked her for the recipe, so you could make some like it, and she gave me two more pieces of her own accord.

Selby Pastoral Charge News

Sunday, May 14th, Mothers' Day, was ushered in with beautiful sunny weather, making it very pleasant for a large congregation to gather at the morning service in Empey Hill United Church. Rev. W. R. Merrick, pastor, and Mr. Grant Stapley, Sunday School Superintendent, occupied the pulpit in conducting the mothers' service. The prepared program for the day was followed, and everyone entered feverently into the spirit of the service. A very interesting and additional part was the presentation of two children for christian baptism by their parents, namely, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sweetnam and Mr. and Mrs. William King. In proceeding with the program, four young people, members of the Sunday School, gave the reading entitled "Mothers of Canada", and the story, entitled "A Christian Home and a New China", was very effectively given by Miss Delma Kimmerly. The special solo for the occasion was sung by Miss Geraldine Mowers, and the address was given by the pastor on the suggested theme for the day.

At Selby, on Sunday morning, at the regular hour, the members of the Sunday School rallied with enthusiasm to join in the Mothers' Day program prepared for the occasion. The roll of the school showed a large attendance, with an offering of over $15.00. In carrying out the program four mothers, members of the school, presented the readings, "Mothers of Canada", and the main story, entitled "A Christian Home and a New China", was given by Mrs. Booth. In addition to the printed program, a very appropriate duet was sung by Gweneth Gourlie and Peggy Booth. Musical numbers were also given by Mr. George McKnight and Mr. Homer Jackson, and a very interesting address was given by Maurice McLeod.

The observance of Mothers' Day was continued at the evening service, when a large congregation assembled, filling the church, to further express their esteem of all that Mothers' Day means and symbolizes. The altar table bore beautiful flowers in keeping with the occasion, and the grandmothers' choir contributed splendidly to the interest and inspiration of the service by their renderings of two special numbers. A very happy and sacred feature of the service was the presentation for christian baptism of eight children by their parents, namely, Mr. and Mrs. Manley Kimmett, Mr. and Mrs. Blake Denison, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Windover, Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Grange, and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Clement. The pastor's address, which was based upon II Timothy, 1st chapter, and 5th verse, emphasized the qualities and potency of christian homes, to make a nation pure, strong and progressive.

200,000,000 Bushels Of Grain Needed For Ontario This Year

Ontario farmers are being asked to produce 200,000,000 bushels of field grain on their farms during this year 1944, says John D. McLeod, Director of the Crops, Seeds and Weeds Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. This will be essential, he points out, in order to maintain the maximum production of food for the armed forces, for our allies and for the hard-working people at home.

Indications from Western Canada at the present time are that owing to lack of moisture the 1944 grain crops will be below average. In view of this western situation and the fact that there is no great grain reserve in the province, Ontario farmers are asked to plan for an increased production, particularly of oats barley and fixed grain, in order that there may be ample food for all requirements.

The 1944 objective of 200,000,000 bushels of grain can be obtained says Mr. McLeod, not necessarily by sowing more acres but by producing more per acre. This objective can be reached by producing one and a half bushels more per acre in 1944 than was produced in 1942. This is possible providing weather conditions are favourable by the adoption of proven soil management methods, by sowing clean, well graded seed of varieties and by treatment of the seed for smut and other seed-borne diseases.

A plentiful supply of high quality seed is available and every bushel of such seed must be put to work. Those requiring seed are advised to get in touch with their agricultural representative or with the Crops, Seeds and Weeds Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture, Parliament Buildings, Toronto.

Private Jones had been in the Army a week when the sergeant asked: "What do you think of the Army so far?

"I may like it after a while" replied Jones, "but just now I think there's too much drilling and fussing between meals."

"How come you' didn't turn out?" demanded the sergeant. "Didn't you hear the bugle blow reveille?"

"Honest, sergeant, I'm afraid I'm going to be a flop as a soldier. I don't know one dern tune from another!"

CHILDREN'S AID AT WORK

This is a Series of Articles Concerning Children's Aid Work — Prepared by the Association of Children's Aid Societies of the Province of Ontario.—Article 7

We have traced during the course of this series just what are the statutory duties, responsibilities and day-to-day work of your Children's Aid Society. The Society has very definite obligations to fulfil under the Children's Protection Act, the Unmarried Parents' Act and the Adoption Act. Neither must it be forgotten that the Society had a very close relationship to a Juvenile or Family Court. Unfortunately, such courts for the hearing and disposition of cases of juvenile delinquency are not widely established in Ontario and we can generally find that where these have been established it has been the Children's Aid Society that has created the public opinion which has brought them into being and thereafter cooperated in developing and maintaining them. As in Norfolk County and Oxford County where such courts have been established comparatively recently, it has been the strong body of public opinion interested in and informed on the work of the Children's Aid Society that has brought them into being and thereafter cooperated in developing and maintaining them. As in Norfolk County and Oxford County where such courts have been established comparatively recently, it has been the strong body of public opinion interested in and informed on the work of the Children's Aid Society that has created the public opinion which

ADDRESSES MEETING NAPANEE VIC. ORDER NURSES

The May open meeting of the V. O. N. was very well attended a large number of members being present, as well as the board, and members of the V. O. N. auxiliary. Mrs. T. Hunt presided.

The secretary, Mrs. W. S. Phippen, read the minutes of the last meeting. The treasurer, Mrs. A. B. Medd, gave her report.

Mrs. George Paul, chairman of the finance, stated that the annual bridge and tea would be held at the golf club this spring, the date to be announced later.

Mrs. Phippen read a letter from Col. Smellie, Chief Superintendent of Victorian Order of Nurses, who has just resumed her duties in Ottawa. Col. Smellie enclosed a report of the supervisor, who was in Napanee recently in which she stated she was very pleased with the work of the local V. O. N. nurse, Miss Morrison.

Rev. G. M. Chidley was present at the meeting and spoke about the recreation rooms being opened for members of the Armed Forces.

Mrs. Percy Chambers introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. C. Spencer Melvin wife of the Dean of the Medical School, Queen's University, in Kingston. Mrs. Melvin is Past President of the Kingston branch of the V. O. N. She is also prominent in various women's organizations, among them the local Council of Women, and is a member of the Board of the Kingston Community Chest.

Mrs. Melvin's talk was very interesting to members of the local branch, as she has a thorough understanding of the V. O. N. work, and has for a number of years, attended the annual meetings in Ottawa. As she is a graduate of St. Thomas Hospital, London, England, she has a great interest in, and an understanding of the Nurse's work and many problems. She told of the work and problems of the Kingston branch at the present time, with so many extra citizens, soldiers' wives, etc. Kingston has four V. O. N. nurses and they are all kept very busy with all the extra work.

The Kingston branch is sponsored by the Kinsmen's Club and their help has proved invaluable. The Kinettes, an auxiliary club, send volunteer workers to the pre-natal and baby clinics, to assist the V.O.N. nurses.

Mrs. Melvin also spoke of some of the plans being made to include the V. O. N. Order in the new health measures being planned by the Government at the present time. She was in England when the present war started and she said in some ways the British are ahead of us in health measures. The Queen's Jubilee nurses in Britain, are equivalent to our Victorian Order Nurses, and Mrs. Melvin is evidently conversant with their work.

Mrs. Melvin also spoke of the necessity for better housing in many parts of Canada. She has heard some appalling accounts from V. O. N. nurses about the conditions in which some of our citizens are living. She also gave a short talk on what is expected of board members of any branch of the V. O. N.

Mrs. O. S. Reddick thanked Mrs. Melvin for her very interesting address.

Miss Morrison, the Victorian Order Nurse for Napanee, gave her report for April.

Mrs. G. H. Challies, and Mrs. E. J. Corkill, the church representatives on the board from Trinity United Church, were conveners of the tea. The tea was held at the close of the meeting. They were assisted by several ladies of Trinity Church. Mrs. Chidley presided at the tea table. In the evening, Mrs. Melvin, the guest speaker was the dinner guest of the Napanee Board members of the Victorian Order of Nurses. During the dinner Mrs. W. A. Ashley took the opportunity of again thanking Mrs. Melvin for her very excellent address, and for her interest in the Napanee branch. Mrs. Ashley and Mrs. Melvin attended the annual meeting of the V. O. N. in Ottawa, on May 11th.

MONTHLY NURSING REPORT

The following is the nursing report for the month of April. April showed a slight let-up in work as compared with the three previous months, due in part to the ten-day school holiday for Easter. A total of 172 visits were made during the month — 133 bedside nursing visits and 40 for the purpose of giving health instruction. One confinement was attended.

The Well Baby Conference remains a busy spot on Thursday afternoons. Three conferences were held during the month and they continue to be well attended. Many new babies are being taken under supervision and we are pleased to welcome the mothers who have moved into town from outside centres as well as from the surrounding townships.

The Diphtheria Toxoid Clinic, under the local Board of Health, is again under way, and infants and pre-school children are being given the treatment. In the schools, children who have not already had the treatment, are also being covered.

In the schools we have had quite a number of cases of measles but I am pleased to state they have been of a mild nature. The situation is now well in hand. Other than this the routine program is being carried out in the schools.

MARLBANK

Marlbank, May 15. — Mothers' Day service was observed in the United Church on Sunday at 2:30 p.m., and was well attended. The program followed the leaflets for Mothers' Day, Rev. A. W. Seston in charge. The story, "A Christian Home and a New China", was nicely given by Lillian Burd, followed by an address on "The Christian Home", by Rev. Mr. Seston. During the service the sacrament of baptism was conducted, when the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Manley Meeks, and the infant daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Morley Meeks, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Asselstine, Roblin, and Pte. and Mrs. Tripp, of Belleville, were baptised by Rev. A. W. Seston. The collection, to be sent to the Religious Education Council, was very satisfactory.

Mr. Tom Smith has gone to spend a time with Mr. John Benn, Sharp's Corners.

Mrs. Alice Axford, of Kingston, visited at the home of her mother, Mrs. Margaret Young, over the week end.

The remains of the late Dan Carroll, who passed away in a Kingston hospital, were conveyed here to the home of his nephew, Dr. Geo. Hunt, on Friday last. His funeral was conducted at the Church of Assumption, Erinsville, on Saturday morning, where mass was celebrated by Father Powell. Burial took place in White Lake cemetery. The deceased had made his home here with Dr. and Mrs. Hunt prior to his removal to the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Alexander, Doris and Edward, of Moneymore, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Alexander's parents.

"Father, will you give me ten cents for a poor man who is outside, crying?"

"Yes, son, here it is. What is he crying about?"

"He's crying 'Fresh roasted peanuts, five cents a bag'."

NEWS FROM ITALY About Lieut. W.S. Webb

Mrs. Pearl Wolf received a letter this week from her daughter-in-law Mrs. William Webb of Durham, with an enclosed clipping from the Durham paper concerning her son, Lieut. W. S. Webb, who is with the Eighth Army in Italy.

Lieut. Webb enlisted about four years ago and has been overseas for a year. In the Italian campaign he has been in charge of a tank and, in a recent engagment his tank was lost with all its contents and the equipment of the crew.

The clipping from the Durham paper follows:

Durham Men Meet in Italy

A letter dated April 29, received by Mrs. William Webb of Durham, from her husband, Lieut. W. S. Webb in Italy, told of his meeting Lieut. Bowman Jamieson of Durham. He writes he came up to a rest camp after being in the front for five days and nights during which time he had not had his clothes off or been able to shave. Knowing Lieut. Jamieson was in the locality, he hunted him up immediately. Hardly recognizable with beard he wakened Jamieson up, as it was still early mornling. When two home town boys get together the results are interesting. There was a river nearby which he made use of to get himself and his clothes cleaned up.

In a letter dated May 2nd, Lieut. Webb said he was now receiving his mail and parcels and he and Lieut. Jamieson had enjoyed the contents of one together. They expecti to be near each other for two weeks.

EDUCATIONAL GUIDANCE TO BE NEW FEATURE IN ONTARIO DEPARTMENT

Details to be Announced in Near Future by Premier Drew

Creation of an educational guidance branch of the Ontario Department of Education is a major step in a far reaching program to fit every school pupil in this province for future life.

In announcing the establishment of this new branch, Premier Drew declared that the needs of the individual pupil in Ontario on the basis of his particular abilities must be stressed instead of imparting a broad general education without specific requirements. He asserted that every effort must be made to fit the pupil for future life and that his educational training must "not only be good but for some definite purpose."

"It is our belief that pupils should understand why they are studying particular subjects and what bearing their studies will have on their opportunities afterward," he said.

The Premier pointed out that an amendment to the Provincial High School Act permits local boards of education to appoint guidance officers in their municipalities. These officers will work in co-operation with officials of the educational guidance branch.

He said that little training would be required by the school teachers to fit themselves for vocational guidance. The plan would be reduced to charts and forms which would set out specific undertakings.

Studied U.S. Plan

"Department of Education officials have visited the United States and obtained information on similar projects," said the Premier. "Our plans do not contemplate the bringing in of a large staff to form the branch. The work of educational guidance will be carried out by the teachers themselves in co-operation with the small but highly specialized staff of officials who will form the educational guidance branch.

"The details of the plans for educational guidance in our schools will be announced shortly," said the Premier. "I ask for the co-operation of trustees, teachers and parents in producing the best possible results. The future will belong to those who have prepared to meet it and this new part of our educational effort will be designed to prepare our youth for the great future before them."

Premier Drew said the three R's are just as important as ever in our education but there has been too noticeable a tendency to be satisfied with imparting a broad general education and then trusting to luck that the children would find out what use their education had been to them.

"There is no suggestion that educational guidance can provide any magic formula for success," said the premier. "It is not a mould into which the pupil can be poured and from which the graduate will emerge in a fixed pattern. The most it can do is to adjust the educational course as far as possible to the particular needs of each student, and then help the student to make the best of his own ability in preparing himself to make a living afterward."

The circular, in part, reads:

"There are throughout the country a number of organizations grappling with the problem of youth in many different ways, such organizations as the Boy Scout Movement, the Girl Guide Movement, Canadian Girls in Training, the Big Brothers Movement and various movements associated with churches of different denominations, all of whom are endeavouring to give a correct lead to youth in the best traditions of democratic citizenship.

English Vicar 'Satisfied' Vision of Jesus Was Seen In The Sky

Ipswich, England, (CP) — Rev. Harold Godfrey Green vicar of St. Nicholas Church and army chaplain, said he had verified "quite definitely" the story of hundreds of Ipswich residents who said they saw a vision of Jesus on a cross in the sky during an April 27 air raid alert.

"There was scarcely any variation —if any—in these accounts." He said after extensive conversations with residents in this East Anglian coast town. "Hundreds of persons have said they saw the sign clearly."

Nearly 800 townspeople crowded St. Nicholas Church—which seats only 500—for a sermon on the vision when the vicar said: "I have satisfied myself beyond doubt of the authenticity of the vision. I regard the sign as a good omen. I did not myself see the sign and for this I am sorry."

The vision was said to have lasted fifteen minutes. It first took form in the shape of a large white cross, the chaplain was told, and then the form of Jesus appeared.

"His head was bowed and His feet were crossed — all who saw agree on these details," he said. "When it disappeared it did not drift away like clouds but vanished instantly and entirely."

Some clouds in the sky were said to have drifted by while the vision remained stationary.

Some who did not see it suggested the vision might have resulted from light on ice crystals in the air, but there was no agreement on any proffered explanations.

ODDFELLOWS HEAR INSPIRING ADDRESS AT GRACE CHURCH

Mark 125th Anniversary by Church Parade

The annual church service of the I.O.O.F. held this year in Grace United Church, Sunday morning, was largely attended by the members of Napanee Lodge No. 86, Argyle Lodge No. 212, Mount Ararat Encampment No. 16, Queen of Sheba Lodge No. 254 and members of the Order from neighbouring towns. Rev. C. D. McLellan welcomed the Oddfellows and the R.Rebekahs and congratulated them on attaining the 125th anniversary of the founding of the Order in America.

For his subject, Rev. McLellan took "Nerved for Invasion," based on the ext. "Happy are they who nerved by Thee set out on pilgrimage." Psalm 84 5. Nowadays, he said in part, we would describe as an invasion what formerly was thought of as a pilgrimage. When our forefathers left the British Isles for this continent they called it a pilgrimage, but it was really an invasion of this continent by the choice sons of freedom. So it was with many of the highest enterprises in the history of the world. Men in all ages, nerved by a great conception of God, have set out on a pilgrimage.

The speaker mentioned among others, David, who in his youth, nerved by a sense of God's purpose for his people went forth to meet the Philistine aggressors and slew Goliath their greatest warrior. Now we have many Davids who are challenging the modern Goliath. A vital faith always sets life in motion stirs men up to prepare for effective invasion of the unChristian world around us. "Happy are they who thus serve," the speaker concluded.

No amount of money will ever repay the men who take part in the invasion of Europe, but they will have all through life a certain satisfaction in having done their bit. So in the other great tasks facing us, if we strive faithfully to do our part, there will be given to us a satisfaction that is worth more than all the riches of Midas.

"The service of praise was led by the choir under the direction of Miss Letha Scott, with Mrs. B. M. Black at the piano. "Walked To-day Where Jesus Walked," by O'Hara, was the title of the anthem.

Following the service the members of the Order marched back to the Lodge rooms where a short meeting was held and a motion of appreciation to the Minister, Official Board and Choir, and members of Grace Church, was passed.

NEWS FROM ITALY About Lieut. W.S. Webb

Mrs. Pearl Wolf received a letter this week from her daughter-in-law Mrs. William Webb of Durham, with an enclosed clipping from the Durham paper concerning her son, Lieut. W. S. Webb, who is with the Eighth Army in Italy.

Lieut. Webb enlisted about four years ago and has been overseas for a year. In the Italian campaign he has been in charge of a tank and in a recent engagement his tank was lost with all its contents and the equipment of the crew.

The clipping from the Durham paper follows:

Durham Men Meet in Italy

A letter dated April 29, received by Mrs. William Webb of Durham, from her husband, Lieut. W. S. Webb in Italy, told of his meeting Lieut. Bowman Jamieson of Durham. He came up to a rest camp after being in the front for five days and nights during which time he had not had his clothes off or been able to shave. Knowing Lieut. Jamieson was in the locality, he hunted him up immediately. Hardly recognizable with beard he wakened Jamieson up, as it was still early morning. When two home town boys get together the results are interesting. There was a river nearby which he made use of to get himself and his clothes cleaned up.

In a letter dated May 2nd, Lieut. Webb said he was now receiving his mail and parcels and he and Lieut. Jamieson had enjoyed the contents of one together. They expect to be near each other for two weeks.

English Vicar 'Satisfied' Vision of Jesus Was Seen In The Sky

Ipswich, England, (CP.) — Rev. Harold Godfrey Green, vicar of St. Nicholas Church and army chaplain, said he had verified "quite definitely" the story of hundreds of Ipswich residents who said they saw a vision of Jesus on a cross in the sky during an April 27 air raid alert.

"There was scarcely any variation —if any—in these accounts." He said after extensive conversations with residents in this East Anglian coast town. "Hundreds of persons have said they saw the sign clearly."

Nearly 800 townspeople crowded St. Nicholas Church—which seats only 500—for a sermon on the vision when the vicar said: "I have satisfied myself beyond doubt of the authenticity of the vision. I regard the sign as a good omen. I did not myself see the sign and for this I am sorry."

The vision was said to have lasted fifteen minutes. It first took form in the shape of a large white cross, the chaplain was told, and then the form of Jesus appeared.

"His head was bowed and His feet were crossed — all who saw agree on these details," he said. "When it disappeared it did not drift away like clouds but vanished instantly and entirely."

Other clouds in the sky were said to have drifted by while the vision remained stationary.

Some who did not see it suggested the vision might have resulted from light on ice crystals in the air, but there was no agreement on any proffered explanations.

EDUCATIONAL GUIDANCE TO BE NEW FEATURE IN ONTARIO DEPARTMENT

Details to be Announced in Near Future by Premier Drew

Creation of an educational guidance branch of the Ontario Department of Education is a major step in a far reaching program to fit every school pupil in this province for future life.

In announcing the establishment of this new branch, Premier Drew declared that the needs of the individual pupil in Ontario on the basis of his particular abilities must be stressed instead of imparting a broad general education without specific requirements. He asserted that every effort must be made to fit the pupil for future life and that his educational training must "not only be good but for some definite purpose."

"It is our belief that pupils should understand why they are studying particular subjects and what bearing their studies will have on their opportunities afterward," he said.

The Premier pointed out that an amendment to the Provincial High School Act permits local boards of education to appoint guidance officers in larger municipalities. These officers will work in co-operation with officials of the educational guidance branch.

He said that little training would be required by the school teachers to fit themselves for vocational guidance. The plan would be reduced to charts and forms which would set out specific undertakings.

Studied U.S. Plan

"Department of Education officials have visited the United States and obtained information on similar projects," said the Premier. "Our plans do not contemplate the bringing in of a large staff to form the branch. The work of educational guidance will be carried out by the teachers themselves in co-operation with the small but highly specialized staff of officials who will form the educational guidance branch.

"The details of the plans for educational guidance in our schools will be announced shortly," said the Premier. "I ask for the co-operation of trustees, teachers and parents in introducing the best possible results. The future will belong to those who have prepared to meet it and this new part of our educational effort will be designed to prepare our youth for the great future before them."

Premier Drew said the three R's are just as important as ever in our education but there has been too noticeable a tendency to be satisfied with imparting a broad general education and then trusting to luck that the children would find out what use their education had been to them.

"There is no suggestion that educational guidance can provide any magic formula for success," said the premier. "It is not, it would limit which the pupil can be poured and from which the graduate will emerge in a fixed pattern. The most it can do is to adjust the educational course as far as possible to the particular needs of each student and then help the student to make the best of his own ability in preparing himself to make a living afterward."

ODDFELLOWS HEAR INSPIRING ADDRESS AT GRACE CHURCH

Mark 125th Anniversary by Church Parade

The annual church service of the I.O.O.F. held this year in Grace United Church, Sunday morning, was largely attended by the members of Napanee Lodge No. 86, Argyle Lodge No. 212, Mount Ararat Encampment No. 16, Queen of Sheba Lodge No. 254 and members of the Order from neighbouring towns. Rev. C. D. McLellan welcomed the Oddfellows and R. Rebekahs and congratulated them on attaining the 125th anniversary of the founding of the Order in America.

For his subject, Rev. McLellan took "Prepared for Invasion," based on the text, "Happy are they who nerved by Thee set out on pilgrimage." Psalm 84 5. Nowadays, he said in part, we would describe as an invasion what formerly was thought of as a pilgrimage. When our forefathers left the British Isles for this continent they called it a pilgrimage, but it was really an invasion of this continent by the choice sons of freedom. So it was with many of the highest enterprises in the history of the world. Men in all ages, nerved by a great conception of God, have set out on a pilgrimage.

The speaker mentioned among others, David, who in his youth, nerved by a sense of God's purpose for his people went forth to meet the Philistine aggressors and slew Goliath their greatest warrior. Now we have many Davids who are challenging the modern Goliath. A vital faith always sets life in motion stirs men up to prepare for effective invasion of the unChristian world around us. "Happy are they who thus serve," the speaker concluded.

No amount of money will ever repay the men who take part in the invasion of Europe, but they will have all through life a certain satisfaction in having done their bit. So in the other great tasks facing us, if we strive faithfully to do our allotted task we will be given to us a satisfaction that is worth more than all the riches of Midas.

"The service of praise was led by the choir under the direction of Miss Letha Scott, with Mrs. H. M. Black at the piano. "Walked To-day Where Jesus Walked," by O'Hara, was the title of the anthem.

Following the service the members of the Order marched back to the lodge rooms where a short meeting was held and collection was taken to the Minister, Official Board of the Choir, and members of Grace Church, was passed.

THE OLD AND THE NEW

An American soldier, in a letter which has been widely quoted in the Press, suggests that the people in North America should not overlook modern history, that the North American Continent, so long known as the New World, has in fact become the Old World. The new world, according to this writer is Europe, which has come into a new life through her expanding totalitarian ideals.

There may be something in that in the nature of a warning, which ought not to be overlooked. We on this Continent are the heirs of a political system we inherited from Great Britain. It is based on the right of the individual to choose his own form of government, to work, to worship and to speak and think as he desires. On the basis of that, we have developed a great freedom-loving people. There is always the danger that any system become case-hardened, and that men and women worship the system rather than to find in it merely the means to express ideas.

Fortunately, Democracy has within itself the spirit which will enable it continually to break its bounds and to start off on new and untried paths. A century ago the Government of Great Britain and the North American Democracies were concerned almost wholly with foreign relations and with tariffs. Little was done for the common man. Indeed, that the government had any responsibility for his welfare was a long time in dawning on even the Democratic mind. And yet, at the present time, the greater part of the work of Parliament is taken up with legislating for the welfare of the common man, and huge sums are voted each year for social services of one sort or another that would never have been tolerated, even less than a hundred years ago.

In Europe the democratic movement has never had the opportunity it had in Great Britain and in North America. But the common people are not satisfied with conditions, they are not happy when they learn of the high standard of living enjoyed in Canada and the United States, while they nig along on a bare existence. The new movements in Europe have arisen, to a large extent, because of this unrest, this dissatisfaction on the part of the common man. The bombs which are blasting away at fortifications, railroads, locomotives and whole cities are doing more; they are blasting away age-old injustices, age-old prejudices, age-old tyrannies. When the struggle is over, The United Nations will find a new spirit in Europe, a spirit which must be directed into channels of self-government — a spirit which will give life to the Old World, if properly directed.

The soldier's warning is a timely one. We will do well in reconstructing Europe, not to assume that our system is perfect and should be superimposed on the crumbling civilization; rather, we must look not only to the best means by which the new spirit in Europe can find expression, but as well, that our own democratic machinery may be so improved as to keep its place as the head of the procession of human beings marching toward social and economic, as well as politicial and religious freedom.

THE TWENTY-FOURTH

The Twenty-Fourth of May continues to be observed as a public holiday in Canada. It began as a celebration of the Birthday of the late Queen Victoria. It became known for a while as Victoria Day, and later as Empire Day. It is a good thing perhaps, to have one day in the year on which to focus public attention on the Empire, and the place it has had in the growth of nations. In spite of all its weaknesses, and in spite of all the criticism which has been levelled against the British Empire and is still being levelled at it— the British Empire has had a remarkable development. Nothing like it has ever been seen before. The whole idea of empire is different from that which has been associated with the term "Empire" in other ages. It has "widened with the process of the suns" until now the British Empire is a Commonwealth of self-governing Nations, plus some nations moving towards self-government, and others over which the British people exercise a protecting care.

To recognize this, by means of a special holiday, is all to the good. And yet, we have a rather sneaking suspicion that the popularity of May Twenty-Fourth as a holiday in this part of the world, has some other significance, too. May is a great month in Canada, and the Twenty-Fourth is about the most satisfactory day of the month on which to have a vacation. The leaves on the trees are all out by then, the gardens will be mostly planted, but May Twenty-Four offers a good opportunity for putting out plants, tidying up around the place, doing a bit of painting and the other hundred-and-one odd jobs that have been awaiting for just that day.

Then, too, the woods are at their best, the streams will be running full. Fishing is usually pretty good along about the Twenty-Fourth, the black flies will be out celebrating, there will be plenty of ants to mingle with the sandwiches on the picnic, and the mosquitoes will make the evening melodious with their threatening hums. Altogether, the Twenty-Fourth of May is an ideal day for Canadians, the great majority of whom love the outdoor life, and the call of the wild. No matter what happens to the name of the holiday; no matter what metamorphorsis it may go through during the years and centuries ahead, the Canadian people will always demand that this day be theirs to enjoy to the full, Nature's awakened life.

BACK HOME

The welcome back home given to the Prime Minister, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Sunday night, was spontaneous and a genuine expression of good wishes on the part of all Canadians. The reports of the Prime Minister's landing from the aeroplane all emphasize the complete absence of any party lines among those present to greet the Prime Minister on his return. An official programme had been drawn up whereby Mr. Mackenzie King was formally to greet the members of the Cabinet and then be whisked home in a car already in waiting. But the enthusiasm of the crowd was such that the programme had to be scrapped. The people were lined-up and the Prime Minister shook hands with each person present.

This was a rather unusual demonstration. Canadians, as a rule, are not a demonstrative people. Indeed, they often err on the side of reticence. Then, too, political feeling runs high in this country. Party lines are fairly closely drawn, and members of one political group shy away from expressing too much honor enthusiasm for any other group. But, apparently, on Sunday all this was forgotten for the moment and all joined in a hearty welcome to the Prime Minister.

The reasons for this enthusiasm are not hard to find. After all, the Prime Minister is the political leader of the country. Of course, he is the head of a party, any prime minister has to be. But he is the chosen representative of the people, and as such, merits the deference and consideration due his high office. He had been away. In spite of the supremacy of the air, now enjoyed by the United Nations, there are great travel hazards in times of war, and particularly now when there is so much preparation for invasion. That Prime Minister Mackenzie King had returned safely was a cause for gratitude.

Not only so, but the Prime Minister had been in attendance at a conference of Empire Premiers. Such conferences are of great importance, otherwise this one would not have been held just on the eve of invasion, when the nations involved were straining every nerve to be ready for the supreme test with the Nazis. It was an important gathering. The contribution which our own Prime Minister made to its findings have been acknowledged, as perhaps more than any other influenced the political policies of the Commonwealth of Nations. Certainly the address which the Prime Minister gave on the future of Empire relations commended itself to the Conference, and met with almost general public endorsation and support. Naturally representing the whole of Canada in these parleys, all shares of political opinion in Canada as represented in Parliament, were pleased to acknowledge the Prime Minister's contribution, and congratulate him on his success and his safe return.

It must be a great satisfaction to a Prime Minister, who perforce is almost always in the midst of a political conflict, with strong and often bitter opposing forces attacking, to see at least once in a long while, that men can shed their political partisanship long enough to meet on a common ground of sheer human fellowship and goodwill.

We have not always agreed with the Prime Minister, yet we admit that in the face of a very trying situation he has kept the name and place of Canada well before world opinion, and has won the respect of leaders in other parts of the world. We are happy that he was able to go to London. We congratulate him on his constructive contribution to world and empire affairs, and add our own gratiude for his safe return.

AN ELECTION IN THE WEST

The election campaign in Saskatchewan has opened. In a sense, the trend of events in Canada will be reflected in Saskatchewan, and for that reason the situation in the Western Province is being given a good deal of attention by political leaders from all over Canada. The recent election in Ontario, which all but elected a C. C. F. Government, made it necessary, for the first time, for leaders of the old parties to take seriously the threat from the Left. Whatever may be said with respect to a socialist regime, at least this much must be admitted; the swing of the public towards the C. C. F. has made it necessary for the older parties to recast their programmes and to adjust their policies. There is renewed life and vigor in the older organizations. We are experiencing a new earnestness and a new wave of deep concern for public affairs and for the human welfare in this, and other provinces, during the past few months, all of which bodes well for the future.

A short time ago it would not have been difficult to find anyone of a dozen political experts ready to admit that a test of opinion in Saskatchewan would return a C. C. F. majority. But conditions have changed. Improved markets have enabled the Wheat Board to pay back accounts. That means the distribution of millions of dollars all across the Western Provinces. Then there is the determination of the older parties to meet the demand for improved social and economic conditions. The Liberal Party which is in power in Saskatchewan, stands to benefit by these changes. The Progressive Conservatives, who have had a new lease of life since the appointment of Mr. Bracken to the leadership, have not had time to mend all their political fences, and to get their machinery operating smoothly and well. Nevertheless, they will make a better showing in Saskatchewan than the Conservative Party has for some time. With all parties adopting an advanced programme, the campaign will be hot and heavy. The result will be largely watched as a political barometer, particularly for the Federal weather.

Two Great Highways

The Alaska and Trans-Canada highways have both just recently been completed. They represent great feats of engineering ability and achievement and make a valuable addition to the principal lines of communication in Canada. Of great industrial, commercial and tourist value to the country during peacetime they assume major importance in wartime. Supplies of every description are transported from one part of the country to another and thence to the seaboard.

The lines of communication have to be maintained since it is only with adequate transportation facilities that there can be a steady and uninterrupted service between airport and military centres; mine and forest, farm and city. It speaks well for the cooperation between government and labour that these arteries are maintained open and free running thus assuring a maximum in efficiency to all the services.

In Saskatchewan, one of the largest provinces in the Dominion, the provincial government has assumed responsibility for the maintenance of some 7,400 miles of Provincial highway. Of this there are 155 miles surfaced with bituminous treated gravel; 4,287 miles of gravel surfaced highway and 2,973 miles of standard earth grade. There are also 1,200 miles of secondary highways and the Department is doing its best to surmount all difficulties in order to assure satisfactory highway conditions.

YUGOSLAV PUZZLE IS CLEARING

BY WAVERLEY ROOT

It is becoming daily clearer that in the struggle between the Yugoslav Exile Government in Cairo and General Mikhailovitch's forces on one side, and the Partisan Government set up inside the country by Marshal Tito's army, the latter is winning out. Premier Churchill's speech expressing support for the Partisans was followed by the news that the Prime Minister's son had been sent to Yugoslavia to join Tito which must have had an ominous sound to the Cairo Government.

It would not necessarily follow from the single fact that British support is being given to Tito, that his side will come out head in Yugoslavia. British and American support combined was not sufficient to enable Giraud to keep de Gaulle out of the French picture — as Britain has already realized, but the United States has not. British and American support will also prove insufficient to keep Victor Emmanuel and Badoglio on top in Italy, as neither of attempt to gain complete control of them has realized yet.

The difference in Yugoslavia is that instead of attempting to oppose an artificial solution upon this country from without, Britain has here accepted the solution the country has worked out for itself, from within. The combination of internal and external support for the Partisan government (an external support, parenthetically, which is strengthened by the fact that in this case Russia and Britain are in agreement) should mean an inevitable triumph for the Partisan point of view. What the official American view on Yugoslavia may be, I have no idea. Perhaps Washington hasn't, either.

Simultaneously with the news of Randolph Churchill's arrival in Yugoslavia a sensational report was allowed to pass through the recently tightened London censorship confirming rumors heard lately that King Peter had become a virtual prisoner of the exile Yugoslav government of Cairo. It stated that Peter had written to Mr. Churchill asking British help to get him out of Cairo and to London. Peter apparently is willing to work with Tito if the Partisans are willing to work with him which is by no means likely but the exile government is trying to keep him from making contact with the Partisans. That is understandable enough, for the King remains practically their only asset, and if he should carry whatever legality and continuity may reside in the crown to the other side (or even express a willingness to do so), the members of the exile Government might just as well resign themselves to staying in exile permanently.

The report of Peter's virtual imprisonment blames it on "the White Hand" which is described as "an old Yugoslav military secret organization that has been revived in an the exiled government's political affairs." If this sounds like melodrama, it may be pointed out that the White Hand did definitely exist in Yugoslavia (then Serbian) governing circles in the last war; that its leadership is in the entourage of the exile government now; that its political tendency was the same as that of the exile government and its fight was against the political tendency expressed today by the Partisans; and, finally, that it seems to have envisaged using once more this time a method which was employed successfully in 1917.

These are the facts:

(1) The White Hand in the last war was formed by a Serbian faction to combat the Black Hand organized after Austria annexed Bosnia and Herzegovina to return that territory to the Serbian state and also to bring all south Slav regions together into one country — in other words, to constitute Yugoslavia.

(2) One of the organizers of the White Hand was Lieutenant Peter Zivkovic. Now a general, Zivkovic is in Cairo. He recently resigned from his official positions, presumably because of attacks on the exercise of his strong influence against any rapprochement with the Partisans. But that influence was not reduced by his resignation; on the contrary his freedom from governmental responsibility now removes all brakes from his exercise of it, and he is considered the guiding spirit behind the exile government.

(3) The White Hand in 1917 represented Serbian nationalism, which was not interested in bringing other south Slav states together, at least on a basis of equality. The Black Hand, which was fighting, wanted to unite all southern Slav countries in equal partnership This is exactly the basic difference between the Partisans and the Mihailovitch - Cairo combination. The Partisans foresee a federal Yugoslavia with all its members equal. The Cairo government wants a greater Serbia which would only include such other regions as Croatia if they accept the domination of the Serbs.

(4) In 1917, the White Hand group in control of the exiled Serbian Government, accused its opponents of attempting to assassinate Prince Regent Alexander. The evidence seems to indicate that no such attempt ever occured, but the White Hand group nevertheless convicted and executed its opposition in Saloniki under Allied protection, as today it functions in Cairo, under Allied protection before Britain and Russia could intervene. And only a few days ago, Pravda reported that the British Intelligence Service had discovered a plot to stage and set up inside the country by Marshal Tito's army, the latter is winning out Premier Churchill's speech expressing support for the Partisans was followed by the news that the Prime Minister's son had been sent to Yugoslavia to join Tito which must have had an ominous sound to the Cairo Government.

It would not necessarily follow from the single fact that British support is being given to Tito, that his side will come out head in Yugoslavia. British and American support combined was not sufficient to enable Giraud to keep de Gaulle out of the French picture — as Britain has already realized, but the United States has not. British and American support will also prove insufficient to keep Victor Emmanuel and Badoglio on top in Italy, as neither of

HITLER'S KEG OF HUMAN DYNAMITE

BY DeWITT MACKENZIE

Disclosure that Hitler is sitting on a keg of human dynamite consisting of 12,000,000 slaves brought to the Reich from occupied countries, raises a grim picture of the situation which would exist if these unfortunates should try to exact retribution from the German people when the Fuehrer's military machine cracks — as crack it will in due time. The unconditional surrender will bring the Hitlerites respite from further war. But what will it bring from the millions who have suffered under the lash and have seen other millions of their colleagues die from privation? It's obvious that should these folk rise up for revenge, the best efforts of the Allies wouldn't be able to restrain them before terrible events had taken place.

We have known, of course, that Hitler was loading many of his war burdens onto the overworked backs of slave labor, both male and female. However, we've had no such details as are now being given by Taylor Henry Associated Press staff writer who is in Portugal awaiting repatriation after thirteen months interment by the Germans.

Forty per cent of Hitler's labor is foreign, and Russians and Poles head the list with 2,500,000 and 1,000,000 respectively. He must get a chill when he remembers that of the first 4,000,000 Russians captured by the Germans only 1,500,000 survived the privations of his prison camps.

We know something of what the Nazi leader is thinking from a statement carried by the B.B.C., which reports that all German nationals in Czechoslovakia have been issued guns and ammunition for self defence. The reason is that open resistance among the Czechoslovakians is growing, and, says the B.B.C., the German authorities fully realize what will happen to them when the war reaches the frontiers of the little republic.

The civilians of many countries are living for the day when they can avenge themselves against the Nazi troops of occupation. But Hitler's greatest problem along this line must have to do with the Reich, where revenge may be taken not only against the soldiery but upon civilians. No wonder his murderous Gestapo chief, Himmler has been given sweeping powers and has under his command a picked military force of 600,000.

Meantime, the great Allied vise continues to tighten on Germany, from the east and from the west. Moscow announces, day by day, new Russian advances. The western arm of the vise also is moving—toward the day of the invasion of France. From London comes word of the landing of convoys of Canadian and American troops, highly trained fully equipped and ready for combat.

While the great land army continues to grow in England, Allied air forces rake the Reich in devastating preparation for the invasion. Recently by the Anglo-American air navies, in huge raids, wrought havoc with Hitler's warplane production, and it unofficially calculated in London that a large percentage has been wiped out.

This thanks Der Fuehrer's prospects in the air pretty slim. And air power is vital to his defence against land invasion.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, MAY 28TH, 1944

Lesson Text: 2 Corinthians 4: 5, 16-18; 5: 1, 5-8, 14-19

"PAUL ENCOURAGES THE CORINTHIANS"

There is no limit to the means which men will use to prevent the success of those to whom they are opposed. Only let an honest, upright, public-spirited man arise to serve his constituency and he soon will discover the truth of this. Every little detail of his life will be probed by his opponents, who, to discredit him in the eyes of the electors, will not hesitate to misrepresent his past and impute selfish motives. That is part of the price—unfortunately — that leadership in a democratic country has to pay. Paul found that out; his persecutors ran the whole gamut, from out and out physical abuse to innuendos and blackmail. Frequently, the opposition accused him of seeking self-glory; all he was in it for, was the popularity it gave. What a modern ring that has. Paul answers that time and again. He does so in this lesson: "For we preach not ourselves but Christ Jesus as Lord and ourselves as your servants for Jesus sake."

However, no man could go through what Paul suffered and not feel the effect of it on his physical health. "We faint not," he says, even though our outward man is perishing." The inward man is renewed, day by day. It mattered little that he was getting physically weaker, he was growing spiritually stronger and that was all that mattered. Paul was building, not for the temporal but for the eternal. That lesson is perennial. We all grow old; we cannot run as we once ran, play tennis as we once played it; wrestle as we once wrestled, or make the flying tackles we once made. But, while these diminish, our spiritual lives grow and deepen through the experience of the years, if we but encourage that growth, by nourishing the spiritual life with the same care with which we feed and nourish the body. "And if the earthly love of our tabernacle be destroyed, we have a house of God eternal in the Heavens." When the physical goes God hath other forms in which to house the spirit.

Paul is anticipating the end of his earthly life. He has no fears; indeed, he says he is of good courage because he knows that while in the body he is absent from the Lord. "We are willing," he says "rather to be absent from the body and to be at home with the Lord." Death has no fears for Paul; the complete life of Christ in him is assured and he is the ambulator for their body. He refuses to do this, but agrees to perform sufficient parts to make the machine. The great aim for the assembly of the parts is achieved after five hours the wife ... back yard and found her husband in a state of exhaustion.

"It's no good," he said ... then comes out a machine-...

The Bath War Workers have arranged to have classes in home nursing, the first of these to be held in the Town Hall on Thursday, May 25th at 8 p.m. Anyone interested in this work is invited to take part. The need is very urgent.

In compliance with the request of our gracious Majesty, the King, the staff and students of the Bath School attended St. John's Church, in a body, on Sunday evening, to take part in the service for the youth of the British Commonwealth. Payton, Chaplain at Bellevill Training School, was the guest speaker, and read the 11th chapter of Hebrews, in which the writer was calling the honor roll of Israel. The speaker said that it is easy to dedicate honor rolls, monuments and plaques, but it is more important that we dedicate ourselves. God has given the world peace, He can only give us the opportunity to create peace, and that must begin in our own hearts, homes, and communities. We, ourselves, must make peace. The President of the Women's Association, Mrs. E. Huffman, presented, on behalf of the association, the Honor Roll, and Rev. A. W. Seaton dedicated it.

Mr. Davies, Inspector of Agriculture for High Schools, visited the Tamworth Continuation School recently.

The garden at the school has been planted by the pupils and is in good shape for production for the coming season.

Miss Marshall graduated at the Ontario Hospital, Kingston, last fall, and has now left for Montreal, where she will take a Post Graduate course in pediatrics at the Children's Memorial Hospital.

Sometimes we wonder what happens when we send parcels to men in the services overseas and they fail to reach their destination. When this occurs we should realize that something drastic has happened. Here is one case where a Christmas parcel travelled a long way, but finally reached the person for whom it was intended. On October 19th, 1943, Mrs. W. G. Richmond sent a parcel to her son, Bdr. E. G. Richmond, who had been stationed in England for the past four years. Before the parcel arrived in England a part of the regiment was sent to Italy, but Bdr. Richmond remained in England in a holding unit. The parcel was sent on to Italy, where the other boys had landed. Upon learning that its owner was still in England, it was returned to England. About the time it arrived there, Richmond was sent to Italy, and, after being shipped around for six months the parcel was finally delivered, considerably battered, but the contents in fairly good shape. The recipient said in a recent letter to his mother that the Xmas cake was grand, and, although the tooth powder was mixed in with the cookies, they were still cookies from home.

After a meeting of Lorne Lodge, No. 404, A.F. & A.M., G.R.C., held on Tuesday night, the ladies of Christ Church Guild catered for a banquet for over 50 members and visitors. Toastmaster W.B. G. H. Warner proposed the Toast to the King and Craft, which was responded to by all singing the National Anthem. Toast to the Grand Lodge was proposed by W.B. J. R. Adair, and was responded to by the Right W.B. William C. Taylor, D.D.G.M. of Frontenac Masonic District. The Worshipful Master then called on Rev. W.B. Seaton, Rev. W.B. Prair, and Rev. W.B. Secker for short addresses. Toast to the visiting brethren was proposed by W.B. A. M. Stinson, and was responded to by Right W.B. W. S. Wilson, Past D.D.G.M. BUSINESS PERMITS ARE NOW ELIMINATED

A permit from the Prices Board is no longer required when an existing business changes ownership, acquires additional floor space or moves to other premises. But one is still needed for the formation of a new business not carried on at November 2, 1942, for changes in the class of business conducted at that date and for changes in the classes and kinds of goods or services dealt in at that time. When such permits are granted, the Board will assume no responsibility for providing supplies. NEW BOOKS AT THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

The Little Locksmith—Hathaway.

"The Little Locksmith" is not like any other book you have ever discovered. It is wholly and entirely original, one of those rare occasions when a lovely and penetrating mind has succeeded, through a carefully disciplined and practised pen, in transmitting its own onner excitement to the world.

The Battle is the Pay-off—Ingersoll

Here is the battle front as an American soldier sees it and knows it—an American who has become a soldier the tough way, through basic training to the battlefield that is the pay-off for all that goes before.

Roughly Speaking—Pierson

The autobiography of a high-spirited, uninhibited American woman who was born with a silver spoon in her mouth and, when she lost it, came up, not only fighting, but cheering.

And They Shall Walk—Kenny.

Sister Elizabeth Kenny is the Australian nurse who has brought a new and amazingly successful technique to the treatment of paralysis. In her book she has set down the thrilling record of a life, which in many of its aspects, has been a battle fought against forces entrenched in precedent and armored in tradition.

The Best Plays 1942-1943—Mantle

One of the most varied and interesting seasons, that the theatre has recently known supplies the ten plays included in this book of American drama.

Yankee Lawyer—The Autobiography of Ephraim Tutt. — This book was published as an autobiography but since that time, it has come to light that there is no such person as Ephraim Tutt and that the book was written by Arthur Train, who wrote novels about Mr. Tutt before. However it is a very interesting story and well worth reading.

Victoria Grandolet—Bellamann

Victoria Grandolet, the ambitious and beautiful New England girl who marries into a proud, self-contained Louisiana clan, finds herself alternately drawn to and repelled by White Cloud, their vast whispering house of which she is never more than titular mistress. White Cloud dominates the story, makes and breaks people, molds them to its strange secret will.

Dover Harbour—Armstrong.

"Dover Harbour" is the story of England from 1789 to 1809. It is a thrilling romance and a sound splendid piece of historical reconstruction. The author, has not only put together an entrancing story, but with his knowledge and feeling for the sea and ships, has produced an atmosphere of utter reality.

Indigo—Weston.

"Indigo" is primarily the story of a friendship, the friendship of three men—one the son of French parents, owners of an indigo plantation; a young Hindu son of a Westernized Hindu lawyer; and the son of an English Army officer. Few if any authors have written so brilliantly about India and its civilization as Mr. Weston. The clash of cultures, the conflict of appealing yet widely differing personalities, the depth of perception and sympathy, and an eventful story, make this novel not only a distinguished work of literature but also a story that will appeal strongly to every reader.

The Promise—Buck

A novel of China and Burma, a continuation of the characters in "Dragon Seed." Through these people, one of the immense actual dramas of our times rises from the pages of the novel so vividly that one does not ask what is fact and what is fiction, but only knows that all is living truth.

Surgeon In Charge—Seifert.

A story of a small medical community that is a warm, richly human story.

Sam Small Flies Again—Knight.

The amazing adventures of the Flying Yorkshireman.

The Fled Piper of Dipper Creek—Raddall. — Lord Tweedsmuir wrote of Thomas H Raddall, "He belongs to the school of Sir Walter Scott, Stevenson, Kipling and Conrad, and he is worthy of that great succession. Mr. Raddall writes of Nova Scotia of to-day, when the old life is being broken into by an ugly modernity. It is from the contrast of old and new that e gets much of his drama."

Winter Wheat—Walker

A story of Montana which sounds a steadfast note. It is a sunlit, faithful picture of one corner of America and its peoples.

West to The Setting Sun—Chalmers

This is an exciting action story of that dramatic period in North American history when the British and French vied with each other and with the native Indians for control of this rich land. It is the story of Joseph Brant, Mohawk Chief, who led the People of the Longhouse the Six Nations' Indians through fateful years of triumph and disaster. It is also his personal story.

Tomorrow Is Forever—Bristow

The New York Times says: "This book is of sensational importance to every man and woman who hopes for victory. . . . Of the hundreds of persons he exposes most are still free and carrying on their dirty work. Those who neglected to take him seriously enough in Europe are dead in concentration camps, in hiding or in exile."

The Incomplete Anglers—Robins

The author undertakes to deliver "A sound unvarnished tale" of what he calls two "common and unequal" fishermen, their tribulations and exaltations on a fishing trip through the great Algonquin Park in Ontario. What happened to them could happen to anyone, but this particular trip furnishes the material for a thoroughly entertaining narrative.

Radio For The Millions — Staff of Popular Science. A remarkably complete book for everyone interested in radio, whether he be a beginner or an expert.

Starbuck—Silby

This novel is crowded with lusty and exciting scenes in all parts of America and Europe and it has a carrying tension that takes the reader up and will not let him go. It is a novel that gathers power until the last page.

Also The Hills—Keyes

The pace of "Also The Hills" is swift and the topic is timely and both are impregnated with romance. Mrs. Keyes reaches new heights in the progress of a career marked by steady and significant development and reveals afresh how richly she merits the outstanding place she has made for herself in the field of fiction.

Head of Retailing School Used Work-Study Plan to Put His Theories in Practice

Special to The Herald Tribune

Summit, N.J., May 9. — Dr. Norris A. Brisco dean of the New York University School of Retailing, died early this morning at Overlook Hospital, Summit, after a brief illness. He was sixty-eight years old and lived at 18 East Lane Road, Short Hills, New Jersey.

Dr. Brisco was called to New York University in 1920 to head its training school for teachers of retail selling which had been organized a few months before through the co-operation and financial support of twenty leading department stores and trade associations in the city. When the title of the school was changed to its present form in 1921, Dr. Brisco was made director, and in 1928 he became the school's first dean.

An advocate of applying educational theories during the learning process, Dr. Brisco devised a training system under which graduate students devoted mornings to classroom attendance and afternoons to working in department stores under the supervision of experienced store executives. In recent years Dr. Brisco instituted a training programme in cooperation with the Army Exchange Service to prepare civilians for responsible jobs in Army post exchanges.

Born in Napanee, Ont., Dr. Brisco was graduated from Queen's University Kingston, Ont., where he received first honors in history. At Columbia University he was awarded the Gowan Research Fellowship in political science and the Schiff Fellowship in economics, and received there the degrees of Master of Arts in 1900 and Doctor of Philosophy in 1907.

He began his teaching career in 1905 as a tutor in history at the College of the City of New York and became director of economics there two years later. He left City College in 1915 to head the department of political economy and sociology at the State University of Iowa. In 1917 he organized the department into the university's school of commerce which he directed until he came to N. Y. U.

Dr. Brisco wrote books on retail merchandising, credit, management and similar subjects, many of which are standard textbooks in the field.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. May Bartlett Brisco; two daughters, Mrs. David Hamlin, and Mrs. Charles Cheney, and a son, Norris B. Brisco.

WEDDING BELLS

McILROY - UENS

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Monday afternoon, May 1st, at the parsonage in Newburgh, when the Rev. H. B. Herrington united in marriage Violet Marie, second eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Uens of Strathcona, and Corpl. Hanlan Edward (Larry) McIlroy, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac McIlroy, Battersea.

The bride was very becomingly dressed in a floor-length gown of sheer white crepe fashioned with tiered bodice and inserts of lace. She wore a headdress of white flowers with shoulder length veil and a three strand necklace of pearls. The bride's only attendant was her sister, Jeanne Bernadine, who was dressed in a floor-length frock of blue chiffon with matching headdress. The bride and bridesmaid wore corsages of pink and white carnations. The groom was attended by L.A.C. Donald Book, Hamilton. After the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served at the home of the bride's parents.

The young couple left for a brief trip to points east. The bride travelled in fawn with black accessories.

The groom will leave shortly for Nova Scotia, where he is stationed.

School For Deaf, Belleville, to Revert To Original Purpose

The former Ontario School for the Deaf, now used by the R. C. A. F. as its No. 2 Initial Training School, will be returned to the Ontario Department of Education by the Federal Government during the latter part of June, it was announced by Premier George Drew. The announcement was made public through a communication from Col. Drew which was received by Mr. W. J. Morrison, principal of the Ontario School for the Deaf.

"I am delighted to be able to inform you that the school property at Bellville is to be returned to us in the latter part of June. You are at liberty to give this information to the press . . ." Thus read the communication received by Mr. Morrison from the Premier.

Commenting on the announcement from Toronto, Mr. Morrison indicated that it was his assumption that classes for the School for the Deaf would be re-opened in September at the former site, thus permitting dispensing with the temporary residential and classroom arrangements now in vogue in the city. "If the department is given possession of the buildings by the latter part of June, I think it would leave ample time to make necessary changes in time for reopening of classes in September," he said. "I stress, however, that this is merely an assumption on my part."

Although it has been known that No. 5 I.T.S. was scheduled to close at some date during the summer, no definite date had been set by the R.C.A.F. headquarters for the disbanding of the school as according to information from Ottawa it was expected a flight engineering school would take over until December.—"Picton Gazette".

MOTHERS' CORNER

Workrs spent a very busy evening in the Mothers' Corner at I. F. S. Airport, at Mohawk, last week — Mrs. Brayeau, Mrs. Fred Earl Lee, Mrs. E. Pidgeon, Mrs. G. C. Gillett, Mrs. Adrian Miller and Mrs. W. E. Madding. There was a great deal of darning, but most of the work was sewing on chevrons and insignias as at this time the airmen are changing to summer uniforms.

Mr. Douglas Scott, the Y. M. C. A. supervisor will be missed as he leaves shortly for another station. His solicitude and conscientious interest resulted in much comfort and pleasure for the airmen at this airport.

THE MIXING BOWL

By ANNE ALLAN
Hydro Home Economist

Hello Homemakers! The sewing machines are going to hum this month. Some people will be making new clothes and some will be remodelling old ones, so a few hints on timesavers for the family dressmaker may be in order.

Take ripping out side seams to make a little larger? You baste the edges together at the limited edge you can sew along, turn right side out and cut the lower thread of the seam with a sharp razor blade.

Get a pair of scissors sharpened and then hide them from the family. Scissors get dull very quickly if they are used to cut paper, string or anything that comes along, then you cannot cut fabrics with long even lines that make neat seams.

Sewing is an agreeable job. A little time and patience will produce worthwhile results. Turn the frayed collar of your husband's white shirt and listen to his praise.

One Egg Muffins

Temperature: 400 degrees F.
Time 22-25 minutes.

One-third cup shortening one-quarter cup sugar or sugar substitute, one egg (well beaten), one cup milk, three-quarters cup finely chopped apple, one teaspoon lemon juice, two cups all purpose flour, four teaspoons of baking powder, three-quarters teaspoon salt, one-quarter teaspoon nutmeg, half-teaspoon of cinnamon.

Cream together the shortening and sugar or sugar substitute; beat till fluffy. Add the well beaten egg; stir in the milk, the chopped apples and the lemon juice. Sift the dry ingredients three times. Add, all at once, to the apple mixture; stir with a knife only enough to moisten the flour. Pour into oiled muffin tins and bake in a fairly hot oven till firm and brown.

These muffins can be varied by scattering a few chopped nuts on top of each muffin; by mixing one-quarter teaspoon of cinnamon with two tablespoons of sugar and sprinkling it on the raw batter, pressing a wedge of apple, red skin up, in each muffin.

But without all these embellishments, the original muffins are grand. Serve half of them hot, with sauce, for dessert; save half of them for the breakfast coffee. They're nice with butter, delectable toasted and buttered.

Fruit Pudding

Half-cup molasses, one egg (well beaten), one cup unsweetened apple sauce, half-cup raisins, half-cup chopped uncooked figs, one cup dry breadcrumbs, two and one-half cups all purpose flour, one teaspoon salt, half-teaspoon baking soda, one and one-half teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon cinnamon, half-teaspoon ginger, half-cup chopped suet, half-teaspoon cloves.

Mix together the molasses, the well beaten egg and the apple sauce. Mix the chopped raisins and figs with the dry breadcrumbs; combine with the molasses mixture. Add all remaining ingredients and mix thoroughly. Turn into greased mould. Tie on wax paper. Place in steamer and cook for two and one-half hours (large mould) or one and one-half hours (individual moulds.)

Orange Sauce

One and one-half tablespoons of cornstarch one-quarter or one-third cup sugar, one tablespoon grated orange rind, half-cup of boiling water, one cup of orange juice, one tablespoon lemon juice.

Mix the cornstarch, the sugar and the orange rind in a saucepan; add the boiling water; stir and cook till smooth and thick, about 5 minutes. Add the fruit juices and again heat to boiling. Serve hot with the fruit pudding.

One Egg Cake

Three tablespoons of shortening, three-quarters cup fine white sugar, one tablespoon of grated orange rind, one egg (well beaten), one and one-half cups cake flour, one and one-half teaspoons baking powder, one-eighth teaspoon salt, half-cup milk.

Cream together the shortening, half-cup of sugar and the orange rind; add to this the egg beaten until it's light and lemon coloured with the remaining one-quarter cup of the sugar). This mixture should be very light. Sift together the dry ingredients four times. Add them alternately with the milk to the creamed mixture. Beat only enough to smooth the batter; pour into a square pan 8 ins. by 8 ins. which has been lined with wax paper. Bake in an electric oven at 350 deg. (25-30 minutes). Let stand in the pan for five minutes before turning on a cooling rack. Eat while fresh.

TAKE A TIP:

1. The sale of dried peas and beans is "frozen" until further notice by our government authorities.

2. Begin saving sugar now to can rhubarb.

3. Mrs. C. N. recommends cleaning windows with water to which two or 3 tablespoons of vinegar are added.

4. Mrs. J.D. says that warm water and warm tea may be used in place of milk to make a very tender cake, but the cake cannot be stored for more than a day or two.

5. Instead of having the recipes you clip thrown in a drawer, keep them pasted in a loose-leaf notebook. Hang it by a skirt hanger, at eye level. You will be able to find what you want and the pages will stay clean.

6. A coating of aluminum paint on the inside of the garbage pail prevents rust and makes the pail easier to clean.

THIS QUESTION BOX

Mrs. B. Mc. suggests: Grated raw yellow turnips is delicious in a vegetable salad. Combine it with chopped celery and serve on watercress sprigs.

Mrs. W. W. says: I believe in keeping the coffee in a jar in the refrigerator and I serve hot milk with hot coffee. There is more flavour and requires less coffee.

D. J. W. asks:
Why does pastry shrink?

Answer: You may be using all-purpose flour instead of pastry flour, since there is a limited supply of the latter. In this case, use two tablespoons more fat for three cups of flour. Use about half-cup cold water sprinkled into fat-flour mixture. Ample water should be used to make a dough that can easily be moulded together. The importance of chilling the dough, rolling out lightly and pricking before baking will prevent shrinkage.

T.C. says:
To make a new broom last longer soak in a strong solution of hot salty water before using it. This toughens the straw and makes it more durable.

Mrs. A. D. asks:
Why do breadcrumbs become musty even when dry.

Answer: Crumbs need a little air. Put crumbs in a jar and tie a double layer of cheesecloth over top.

2,000 BOYS AND 800 GIRLS ARE NEEDED AT ONCE

DEMAND GREATER THAN LAST YEAR SO MORE FARM WORKERS ARE NEEDED

An urgent call for 2,000 boys and at least 800 girls from the secondary schools of Ontario to undertake farm work this summer, starting at once, has been issued by Alex Maclaren, Director of the Farm Service Force of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. With prospects of bumper crops of hay, grain, fruit and vegetables this year, the demand for boys and girls for seasonal farm-help is far beyond what it was in 1943 when crops were greatly below normal.

"There will be a real food crisis next fall unless we have far more boy and girl volunteers to hoe and harvest the bumper crops that are expected," said Mr. Maclaren. "Our farmers are able to produce the food that is needed but unless we can provide the labour to take care of the crops and harvest them thousands of tons of highly essential foodstuffs will go to waste and will rot in the fields and orchards."

At least 2,000 boys are urgently needed at once to work on selected farms all over the Province, where standard wages will be paid and good living conditions provided in inspected farm homes. These openings are available now to boys who have the necessary standing at school to qualify them to go to work on farms at once and still secure educational credits. In addition, 800 boys are required for the Ontario Farm Service Camps in the market garden areas of Ontario, such as Burlington, Blenheim, Harrow, Leamington and Holland Marsh.

Applications from any collegiate or high school boys for these camps are requested at once.

So far as girls are concerned, enrolments are 800 below last year's figures at this date and this leeway must be made up at once if the farm service camps are to be filled. The girls now in the camps are finding the work both pleasant and profitable, with splendid living conditions and supervised recreational facilities for their leisure time. Most of the service camps are in the Niagara Peninsula and the Kent County fruit areas.

Boys and girls can be placed immediately in work that is vital to the country's war effort by making application to the Ontario Farm Service Force, Room 301-T Parliament Buildings, by letter or personal call.

20,000 TONS OF WASTE PAPER NEEDED MONTHLY

Ottawa, Ont., May 23. — When "D" day comes and the landing barges grate on the shores of what Hitler fondly hoped would some day be "His Europe", backing up the Allied Nations' forces will be waste-paper. The cardboard cartons you have in your basement; those old piles of magazines; the old ledgers and business records that are collecting dust in your files, can all play an important part. The empty cigarette box you throw in the fireplace can be transformed into the container for ammunition which may open up a vital hole in the enemy line.

In England, it's against the law to throw away a street car transfer. Easily 90 per cent. of all waste paper or paperboard is salvaged there. And if Canadians would save just a fraction of what they now discard, the 20,000 tons now vitally needed for war work each month would be a "push over."

At least, that's how Charles LaFerle, National Director of the Salvage Campaign, feels about it.

"Look," said Mr. LaFerle in a recent interview. "Shortage of waste paper may jeopardize our whole war effort. Mills are operating from hand to mouth. They require 20,000 tons of waste paper every month. Salvage and collection of this paper is an essential part of the war effort, on the home front.

"You see," he went on "not long ago we all regarded a paper box as just a container. But it is changed now. The armed forces use them to be thrown over-board for landing operations, floating to shore or sinking into the bottom to be recovered at low tide. They provide protection for medical kits, blood plasma, emergency rations, gas masks and for a hundred other uses. We even have paper parachutes to carry precious supplies and supplies for isolated men and units.

"When 'D' comes and our paratroops land on enemy soil, we've got to feed 'em, keep 'em supplied with food, ammunition, maybe even drinking water. Most of the stuff will be dropped in paper containers, with paper parachutes.

"THE SHORTAGE IS SERIOUS. FOR PAPER HAS GONE TO WAR NOW," he said.

EMPLOYEES FROZEN IN AGRICULTURE

Persons employed in agriculture are frozen to the industry, subject to the authority given to such persons to engage in employment outside agriculture which is not in an urban municipality for a period of not more than sixty days in any years when such employment does not interfere with agricultural production, states National Selective Service.

As a general rule the movement of agricultural workers to employment outside of agriculture must be discouraged except where the new employment is to be in fine of the following primary industries; lumbering and logging, forestry, fishing, trapping and mining.

Selective Service points out that every effort should be made to further the policy of retaining agricultural workers in agricultural employment and seasonal employment in the primary industries named.

In districts where there is no employment available in certain specified primary industries, a permit limited in duration may be granted to "a person employed in agriculture" enabling him to take war work during the winter months when his services are not required on the farm, but only rarely should permits be granted unlimited as to time.

When issuing a permit to a farmer to take temporary employment outside of agriculture, he should clearly understand that the permit is limited in time and that he is expected to return to agricultural employment immediately after the time stated in the permit.

A person employed in agriculture does not require a permit to take seasonal or temporary employment outside an urban municipality if not more than sixty days in any year, when such employment does not interfere with agricultural production.

GORDON LINDSAY SMITH

LES HAVE CHANGED

re have been many changes in and unlike some other devel- nts these have all been for the . There are many new varieties nt colours and better types, and ew gardener is well advised to a good seed catalogue or gov- nt bulletin to bring himself up- te. Take the vegetables:

VEGETABLES

the old days there were only a few good varieties of each and when these were finished the season was over for another year. That limita- tion does not apply today.

In most lines one can now get a good early variety a good medium and a good late one. This advantage alone extends the season by many weeks and if sowings of each type are spread over a few weeks instead of days the harvest of good eating is still further lengthened. And new vegetables have also been added. There are new squash, new melons, cucumbers carrots, and corns. One can get a spinach that will not rush to seed quickly; lettuce that will stay crisp and green weeks later than the old types, radish that will be ready to eat days sooner. By careful plan- ning and by wise succession plant- ing, rather than sowing everything on one afternoon, one can have a harvest of garden fresh vegetables from early July until long after the first hard frosts.

FLOWERS ARE ALSO IMPROVED

And the same improvement has been going on in flowers. There are varieties that bloom earlier, and scores of new shades. By choosing carefully one can easily have a con- tinuous succession of bloom right through the season and one could, if one wished, work out any compli- cated colour scheme desired. And in addition to colours there has been improvement in adapting certain types and varieties to certain con- ditions.

FOR SPECIAL LOCATIONS

Once upon a time most flowers had to be planted in full sunflight and rich soil if any sort of a showing was to be expected. The dark corners of the garden and those places where soil is naturally poor just simply had to go without. All that is changed now. Listed in the seed catalogue will be found flowers that actually prefer darkish corners, in fact will not grow if exposed to full sun from morning till night. And these flow- ers often have brilliant coloring, too. The tuberous rooted begonia is an example. Then there are flowers like portulaca, wonderfully colorful, that prefer a blazing sun and poor, dry- ish soil. In between these two ex- tremes are hundreds of others listed in every good Canadian seed catalogue that are sufficient to meet any con- ditions from Aklavik to Pelee Island.

HANDLING A SLOPE

Where grounds slope sharply, say several feet in a few yards, experts advise making a distinct separation between one level and the other rather than trying to connect with sodded terraces. The latter, no matter how carefully handled are liable to wash away. Most landscape gardeners advise grading lawn or grounds gently to a stone wall, rock garden or strip of dense shrubbery or tree growth. This will take up from a two to five foot drop, then the lawn is continued again at another level until the end is reached or an- other drop must be accommodated. The two levels are usually connected by stone or other steps.

LAYOUTS

A good general rule in laying out grounds is to break straight lines wherever possible. This means wavy edges of perennial borders rather than string, straight ones, clumps of shrubbery and trees rather than rows, curved paths and driveways rather than the other kind. It also means in screening, clumps of shrub- bery at the corners of all buildings, and at least here and there along foundation lines, fences and walls, even attractive ones, partly screen- ed, and the other kind completely hidden by vines, trees and shrubs.

But one can go too far in this direction. One must provide a rea- son for a curve if a real one is lack- ing. Shrubbery or trees are planted to give this reason. Because they hide the view ahead they also add mystery to every turn and make even a small garden look quite spacious.

THINNING AND SPACING

Of the early jobs after the first of the garden is planted none can com- pare in importance with thinning and spacing. This applies to either flowers or vegetables. Crowded flow- ers will get thin and spindly, will not bloom long and the biggest plants will blow over in the first storm. They should have half as much room between as they will grow tall. This means about four or five inches for things like nasturtiums, less for alys- sum much more for 30-inch-tall marigolds and cosmos.

With vegetables, two measurements must be considered—width between rows and space between plants. Tiny things like radish only need a couple of inches between plants, and leaf lettuce, early carrots, beets, about the same. Twelve inches between rows will be enough for these but fifteen inches will make cultivation and working easier. Beans and peas should have four to six inches be- tween, and as all the seed usually germinates it shou dbe planted to about this far apart. Corn is usually planted three so six seeds to a hill about eighteen inches apart.

SPEEDING RESULTS

The use of started or bedding plants will help speed returns. These may be secured from the nearest seed firm or florist or professional gard- ener. They are plants from seed sown indoors, usually in a hotbed or green- house and are well-grown when set outdoors as soon as danger from frost is over. They now come in a great variety of both flowers and vegetables.

Only by the use of certain started plants is it possible to get flowers and vegetable maturity in some parts of Canada. Petunias, for instance, would hardly reach blooming stage in most parts of Canada if sown from seed outdoors. The same is true of tomatoes, and possibly of cabbage and other things. In transplanting these from the flats or baskets in which we buy them, one should wa- ter well and if the sun is hot it is a good thing to provide a little shade for a day or two. Also, if these plants are in flower or are very tall it is advisable to snip off flowers and pinch back main stems to encourage stocky growth.

WAR GARDENS PAY THEIR WAY

In most parts of Canada last year vegetables were worth real money. And there is no indication that the situation is going to be any easier this summer. Not only were Victory Gardens found to be a worthwhile investment from the dollars and cents angle, but indirectly in the way of healthy exercise, relief from war tension and unpurchasable gar- den freshness, it is simply impossible to estimate the dividends.

If the war plot is very tiny, auth- orities advise concentrating on those vegetables which give the biggest yield. This means small, compact things like onions, carrots, beets, let- tuce, radish, spinach, beans, and pos- sibly a few staked tomatoes. With the first five items even ten feet of row, if given a little attention in the way of thinning, cultivation, and per- haps watering and fertilizer, should produce three or four good meals for the fair-sized family. And as the rows can be spaced a mere foot apart, a plot a dozen feet each way will grow a lot of crop. Spinach and beans take a little more space, but twenty feet of row will furnish several meals.

The real role of the small urban garden should be to supply the owner with fresh salad material — lettuce, radishes, onions, etc., and as many meals as possible of really fresh veg- etables during the summer.

STAKING

Staking is essential for all but the strongest of the very tall plants, or those trimmed tall like tomatoes. Big, tall perennials like delphiniums and hollyhocks are quite liable to keel over in a high wind or during a sharp thunder shower and make the whole garden look a mess. Stakes about an inch thick and wide, and as tall as necessary, will hold these flowers and also trained tomatoes, firmly in place. They need not be conspicuous if driven in behind the plants and they can always be stain- ed brown or green. Plants should be tied to them loosely with soft twine or raffia.

CULTIVATION

Pre-planting cultivation is vital of course to prepare the soil deeply and properly for seeds and plants. But the beginner will make a great mistake if he stops all cultivation once the seeds have germinated and the plants start growing. Then it will pay handsomely in fresh tender vegetables and abundant bloom if one makes a practice of a quick going-over the garden with a light cultivator once a week. This will kill weeds, keep growth going and will conserve moisture. With constant cultivation it is possible to grow good vegetables almost in the driest weath- er, and it is amazing how easily and quickly the job is performed where one does it regularly and the soil does not get a chance to bake and the weeds to really get established.

OTHER COMMON MISTAKES

Another common mistake of the inexperienced is planting too soon and too deeply. A good general rule is never to plant deeper than three times the diameter of the seed. It is not necessary to get a pair of calip- hers — the eye can judge diameters pretty well. Another mistake is over- pressing fine seed into the soil. Plant- ing peas, beans and corn about an inch deep, less for melons and squash and up to eight inches for potatoes dahlias and gladiolus.

On the too early score, the chief danger is planting into fresh cold, backward weather. In most parts of Canada one can sow and should con- tinue to sow standard vegetables like carrots, beets, beans, etc. right up to mid-July but one should not risk planting seed in the ground in early May. This advice, of course, does not apply to Southern Ontario or the lower parts of British Columbia. Speaking generally, there is little to be gained by planting seed in cold, damp soil. It is more liable to rot than to germinate.

CHILDREN'S AID AT WORK

This is a Series of Articles Concerning Children's Aid Work — Prepared by the Association of Children's Aid Societies of the Province of Ontario.—Article 8

In this last article about the fifty-two Children's Aid Societies, we want to quote something said not long ago by that dean of Canadian social ser- vice workers, Dr. Charlotte Whitton. Speaking at a gathering of the mem- bers of the Brockville Children's Aid Society, Dr. Whitton said:

"You were created in a day of much narrower concepts of social work than today. Today, I believe, the whole vision of the public has widened from protection and aid to the child to safeguarding the home and family and now it is broadening out into community aid. The concept of Children's Aid, it seems to me must extend. You cannot overdo your duties under statutory obligation, but you must face the decision as to whether the Children's Aid is going to meet the challenge of today and envisage this wider basis of commun- ity aid or whether it is going to stick with a small specialist job in the child protection field. If you take this latter course can you see where it will end? Will your timourousness justify calling into existence new and other supplementary volunteer agencies for our community problems as they emerge about the family? Someone is going to deal with them. Will it be you or will it be yet an- other agency?"

This, then is the broadening con- cept of the Children's Aid Society— of your Society. Behind the child lies its heritage, his environment and the immediate problems of his family. To rescue the child we must, if it is at all possible, rescue his parents. The last resource of the good Society is to remove the child from his own parents, both for his own sake and for the sake of the com- munity who must, in that event, take from them the responsibility which is properly their own.

Here is the story of a family that through patience, skill and under- standing on the part of trained social workers in one Society was salvaged as a moral and financial gain to their community. It is typical of the best work that the best type of society, supported by enlightened citizens, is doing every month of the year.

This family was referred to the Society because it was felt that "something must be done to save the children." On visiting the work- er found this set of problems: The Bailiff was sitting in the house wait- ing for his men to take the furni- ture. The rent was heavily in arrears. Grocery bill about $200. Doctor's ac- counts owing. No fuel, cooking gas supply cut off for non-payment.

The father, a hard working man despondent and discouraged and finding all his interests outside of the home. Consequently, a lack of wages to be used by the family. Mother bed-ridden with a serious partial paralysis condition—despond- ent.

Seven children ranging from ten years to three months. The eldest girl a school absentee as she was the only help in the household. One boy needing a surgical operation, four other children under-nourished, one with a serious bronchial condi- tion. The baby temporarily living with a "fed-up" aunt.

No church connection.

The positive factors in this case, as the wise social worker perceived, were that the father was a hard- working man, the mother devoted and cooperative and the children in- telligent and friendly.

Through the Society's efforts a far- seeing employer delayed bailiff action. The Court placed the father on pro- bation to awaken him to a full sense of his home conditions and his own responsibility and to give the Society control over the finances for a period of time. A temporary housekeeper was sent in to care for the household and relieve the sick mother of her constant nagging worry. Nursing and medical attention were provided for her physical condition. Clothes were provided by friends of the So- ciety. The Public Health Department and hospital clinics arranged for the needed surgery; the district Public Health nurse, and the family physi- cian combined their efforts for the children's health. A service club pro- vided a real Christmas that extended far beyond the holiday period; the school staff gave sympathetic cooperation over the matter of punctuality, encour- aged the return of the parents, be- came a friend of the family; four of the children went to camp through the interest of a local organization.

Results:— A gradual change of attitudes throughout the entire fam- ily and the tapering off of outside help. A completely united mother and father who now find out for the first time since their early marriage that they love each other. Mother's health almost completely restored; debts all paid and family budgets and finances well within its income. School attendance regular, church connection strong; the parents have pride in their children and look upon the Society not as an ogre downing the weak, but as their friend. The ultimate result is a unified family group, giving the City and Country the asset of seven fine intelligent, well-trained and adjusted young peo- ple.

Could there be any work to which men and women could set their hands more worthwhile and more comparable in returns to this? There is a Children's Aid Society in your community. To reach its highest standards of usefulness it must have the understanding, support and act- ive help of you and your fellow citi- zens. It is your own democratic organ- ization. A keen progressive - minded Board, unselfish, hard-working, in- terested committees and an informed and enlightened public to support the superintendent and staff is the chal- lenge that every Society offers to every community.

Your Society can be the strong- est link in the chain of the fifty- two Societies in Ontario, or the weakest. That depends in the last analysis upon YOU — THE CITIZEN!

ONTARIO IS READY FOR DEVELOPMENT OF WATERWAY

Toronto, (C.P.) — Ontario will be ready to proceed with development of the St. Lawrence Waterway scheme as soon as agreement on its devel- opment is reached and materials and man-power are available, Premier Drew announced last week.

Addressing a dinner of 400 dele- gates of the Ontario Government's two-day planning and development conference, he said that in the post- war period Ontario will need all the electric power she can develop "from the sources of hydro-electric energy as yet untapped."

In a talk mainly devoted to post- war planning and opportunities for Ontario, the Premier remarked that after the war Canadians would have to choose between the wartime sys- tem of governmental centralization at Ottawa that had arisen or return- ing to the pre-war system of giving the provinces wider authority.

He said he believed that whatever system was arrived at that "the farther we can go to getting local control back to the financing of our provincial governments, the better administration we shall have."

He said he believed Ontario was capable of supporting a much larger population adding that "there is no reason why this province cannot maintain 25,000,000 people in a higher degree of prosperity than ever be- fore."

There were thousands of applica- tions already received from British youths at Ontario House in London, he said, to come to Canada after the war. Just as many will come as can be employed after Ontario's popula- tion has been assured work.

Representatives of the municipal- ities were urged to set up local plan- ning bodies so they could "develop their connections with the Depart- ment of Planning and Development in Toronto, or any body that may be set up on a national scale."

The Premier said it was the duty of the Governments of Canada to have the most complete plans for the future to make sure that em- ployment, good food and decent homes are assured the citizens.

HUGE QUANTITIES WAR GOODS SENT TO RUSSIA

London, (B.U.P.) — Prime Min- ister Churchill disclosed in the Com- mons, last week, that between Oct- ober 1941, and March 3rd, 1944, supplies to Russia from Britain and Empire countries included 5,031 tanks of which 1,223 came from Canada; 6,778 aircraft including 2,672 from the United States and £80,000,000 worth of raw materials, including food- stuffs, machinery and other goods.

Mr. Churchill explained that the United States aircraft included in that total were sent on Lend-Lease to the Soviet as part of the British commitment in exchange for which British aircraft were sent to the United States forces in the European theatre.

Mr. Churchill said that part of the supplies for Russia was made available under the Canadian mu- tual aid plan and some materials were procured by the United Kingdom with the help of the Canadian billion- dollar gift.

"For the help thus given I think I have to take the opportunity of ex- pressing His Majesty's Government's appreciation," the Prime Minister said.

"Since July 1st, 1941 supplies from Canada have also been going forward in direct agreement between Can- ada and the Soviet Government and are no incident of the present state- ment," he added.

Mr. Churchill said that during the last two years the United Kingdom had sent to Russia 79,000 tons of al- uminum (or the output of 603-0 and 27,- 000 tons of copper valued at £1,430,- 000 all obtained from Canada.

"A considerable portion of these supplies have been fought through to Russia along the Arctic route," the Prime Minister said.

Without specifying amounts, he said Russia had given Britain what- ever it was possible to take from the congested ports.

In explaining his announcement Mr. Churchill said: "I am not in the slightest degree boasting invidiously about our effort compared with that of our ally the United States nor making any counter - claims against the heroism and glorious military exploits of the Russian Armies."

TEA AND COFFEE ON SAME COUPON

The Ration Administration has an- nounced that it is now permissible to buy eight ounces of coffee and two ounces of tea on the same tea or coffee coupon. Before higher coup- pon values became effective May 1st, consumers were obliged to buy one or other commodity with their cou- pons. Purchases of a combination of both tea and coffee in the am- ounts mentioned are now allowed. This was not previously possible with the former coupon value as tea was not generally packaged in one-ounce containers.

A WEARY FIGHTER

The following poem was sent to Mrs. Margaret Beattie, by her son, Joseph Beattie, who is with the United States Forces as an engineer. In Egypt:

"So you're sick of the way the country is run
And you're sick of the way rationing is done,
And you're sick of standing around in line
You're sick, you say — well, that's just fine."

"Yes, I'm sick of the sun and the heat
And I'm sick of the feel of my aching feet
And I'm sick of the mud and the jungle flies
And I'm sick of the rain when it comes at night mists rise
And I'm sick of the words you hear
And I'm sick of the sound of a wounded and sick
And I'm sick of the sound of a bomber's drive
And I'm sick of seeing the dead
And I'm sick of the roar and the din
And I'm sick of the taste of bully
From a tin
And I'm sick of slum to my soul
I'm sick of playing
And I'm sick of blood smell
And I'm even sick of myself as well

"But I'm sicker still of a true rule
And conquered lands where the beasts drool
And I'm cured damn quick when I think of the civ
When all this hell will be over some way,
When none of this mess will
been in vain
And the lights of the world will again;
And things will be before.
And kids will laugh
once more
And the Axis flag will be dipped furled
And God looks down on a peaceful world."

A lady had been looking for a maid for a long time without success. Finally, she came upon one in an unexpected way.

"Well," she exclaimed, "I've been on a perfect wild goose chase after a long, but thank goodness I've found you at last!"

The young husband was home from his new posting. "Meet the foreman—feather in my cap!" he announced. "Made quite another feather my cap." After some weeks he began saying: "Sacked — sent me for train fare."

His wife unfeelingly telegraphed back: "Use feathers and fly home."

A COUNTRY EDITOR SEES Ottawa

WRITTEN SPECIALLY FOR THE WEEKLY NEWSPAPERS OF CANADA by JIM GREENBLAT, Editor of the SUN SWIFT CURRENT, SASKATCHEWAN

How is Canada food-faring during the war years? Not badly at all. Despite rationing and certain shortages, civilian consumption of principal foods is a higher level than pre-war years. According to "Canada at War" for April, in terms of nutrients our diet generally is better, and here is how the 1943 consumption compares with the average for 1935-39; total meat plus 12 per cent, beef plus 29 per cent, milk products, excluding butter, plus 18 per cent, eggs plus 24 per cent, butter minus 4 per cent, and sugar minus 20 per cent.

With the eyes of Canada focussed on the Health Insurance bill before Parliament, a recent health service survey is of interest, which shows an inequality of distribution in, principally physicians. While urban areas and high income localities are not so badly off, there are many rural areas which have no doctors at all. This works great hardship on the people mainly affecting health of older people and the very young. By the way, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics estimates that persons sixty years and over will increase by 20 per cent in the next ten years. In March, 1943 Canada had 11,620 physicians, 3006 of which were in the armed forces. The ratio of increase of physicians has not kept pace with population as shown by a comparison of the year 1931 when we had 5475 for 5,371,315 population; in 1941 it was 11,130 for 11,506,656 or one doctor for every 1,034 of population. In the United States it was one for 794. The main problem is one of distribution it appears. It is notable, however, that in 1943 Canada had provided 4:5 physicians for every 1,000 men and women in the armed forces.

There apparently is a pressing need for officers and seamen to sign agreements with Merchant Seamen's Manning Pools established in Canada to engage for service for the duration of the war or for two years, whichever is the lesser period, on foreign-going ships of Canadian registry. The Canadian government has arranged to operate a number of ships constructed in this country and a continuous flow of trained seamen is of course, necessary. As a special inducement merchant seamen so signing will be provided other a year round-trip transportation at to the seamen of one-thing single first class of coach fare their annual leave.

Hon. J. L. Ilsley minister of finance, hit the bull's eye in addressing a gathering of the organized women of Ottawa last January when he said that the government was trying to make its stabilization policy work without the co-operation of Canada. Price broken down controls but the support, he said, would not been prepared only to observe price from hoarding and to practice conservation. Nothing could do could possibly be more effective. This been set aside in Canada's budget to contribute to the war they have played.

Processors of fruits and vegetables (the essential supplies now being asked by National Selective Service to produce in maximum quantities this year will be unable to get enough labour is on hand to operate every effort will be made to the critical months. Even with this even while industries are also looking for additional labor now.

The farmer under these conditions, is liable to receive a little more that is if his production and operations after deducting expenses per allowances, amount to more than $3,000 there are qualifications. He is taxed in addition to the income tax at the source, deduct from his total allowance for himself and wife of $2,000 and not more than $1,000 he is a full time farmer. A very clarifying statement in connection has been issued by the Income Tax Department of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture whose address is 58 Sparks Street, Ottawa. This Federation has been special press relations officer that anyone interested may obtain a copy. It simplifies the income tax is usually a headache.

THE DOG NUISANCE

Napanee at the present time is being overrun with dogs, large and small, which are allowed to roam the streets at will and are causing a great deal of damage to gardens. Even the most ardent dog lover cannot but be annoyed at the situation as it is at present.

The town has some very attractive homes with expensive shrubs and plants around them, which have entailed not only a considerable outlay of cash, but also a great amount of hard work. It is becoming more and more evident that about the only way to protect gardens and lawns from the constant visitations from dogs, is to build a high board fence around one's property.

There is a municipal by-law which calls for all dogs being kept on leash or on the property of the owners. Citizens whose gardens have suffered from the depredations of dogs are becoming a by-law should be enforced, even if the owners of the dogs which are allowed to run at large, are haled into court. Not only do the dogs destroy plants and shrubs, but they scatter garbage over the streets in their attempts to secure food from cans left on the curb, on garbage collection days.

Undoubtedly some drastic action should be taken to curb what is becoming a public nuisance. Whatever action is taken will meet with the approval of many citizens of the town.

ANNUAL SERVICE FOR BOY SCOUTS AT GRACE CHURCH

Rev. C. D. McLellan Delivers Address to Boys

On Sunday morning the No. 1 Napanee Troop Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs paraded to Grace United Church for their annual church parade. The boys met at the Town Hall where a group photo was taken, and thence proceeded to church via Bridge St. Service was in charge of the Minister, Rev. C. D. McLellan, who is also Chairman of the Citizens' Committee in charge of Boy Scout activities in the town.

Rev. McLellan's subject was especially for the boys present: "Life's Highest Vocation." He urged the boys, in choosing a vocation, not to choose too quickly but to give the matter much thought. Many people are dissatisfied with the life work they are doing because they have not the right attitude toward the work. Doing something worth while and necessary ought to give great satisfaction and pleasure. Another reason for dissatisfaction is failure to choose a life work that fits one's aptitudes, and finally people are not sufficiently Christian in their work. They fail to manifest the Christian spirit.

The speaker quoted St. Paul: "I therefore beseech you that you walk worthy of the vocation wherewith you are called", and urged upon the boys the necessity of resisting temptations to do less than their very best.

Leaders in charge of the parade were Scout-Master Wark Poole, Assistant Scout-Master David McLellan, Cub-Master Glen Holmes, Assistant Cub-Master Jim Elliott, and Troop Leaders Gordon McLellan and Garry Smith.

CAPT. W.E.L. SMITH IN THE NEWS AGAIN

Capt. W. E. L. Smith, Grafton, Ont., former United Church minister at Selby has a way of getting into the news occasionally. He was with the Canadian men who made the attempt at a landing at Dieppe some time ago. A short while back he was decorated for bravery, and a recent note in a Toronto paper says this about him:

"Another chaplain in the news is Capt. W. E. L. Smith, Grafton, Ont., of the Ontario Regiment. When volunteers were called for to take supplies to snowbound British and Polish troops, in the Italian mountains, the Ontario tank men went to the rescue.

"Capt. Smith couldn't leave when the party started out, but as soon as his other duties were attended to, he set off on his own to join the men from his unit."

SPLENDID REPORTS HEARD BY DELEGATES AT W.I. ANNUAL

Held in Napanee Last Week

The Annual Convention of the Women's Institutes of Lennox District was held on Thursday, May 25th in the Town Hall, Napanee. Due to gasoline and tire shortage there was a rather smaller than usual attendance, but of the twelve branches in the district, all but Wilton were represented and there were a number of visitors.

Community singing at the beginning and at intervals during the programme was led by Mrs. Menzo Grooms, with Mrs. Byrne Black at the piano.

After the opening exercises, a two-minutes' silence was observed in memory of two members who had died during the past year.

The address of welcome was given by Mrs. James Haggerty, of Napanee and was ably responded to by Mrs. R. M. Roblin of Adolphustown. The president, Mrs. J. R. Ackerman, of Maple Leaf branch, presented her report for the year. She expressed her pleasure in the large amount of excellent work being done especially in the war effort, and bespoke for her successor the same co-operation which she had received from the branches.

The district secretary Mrs. H. Edgar, of Victoria branch, read the minutes of the last annual meeting also the financial statement, after which Mrs. Merle Denison, for the auditors, reported that they had found the books correct and in satisfactory condition.

A letter was read from Miss Mary A Clarke, superintendent of the Women's Institutes of Ontario, thanking the members of the district for their expression of sympathy in the death of her mother.

The reports of the various standing committees were given by the conveners. Mrs. H. Edgar reporting on publicity and suggestions were to get papers and to contribute to the programme, and to have copies of Home and Country circulated as widely as possible that others may know what we are doing. Our best publicity is the way Institute members are living and work in relation to the community. Mrs. John Kimmett, of Roblin, read the report prepared by Mrs. R. R. Paul, on social welfare. Papers and discussions on the control of insect pests, hospitalization plan, sponsoring Girls' Garden clubs, hot lunches, and first aid kits for rural schools, tag day for the blind, remembering the sick and the shut-ins with fruit, flowers and books, pot-luck suppers, and social gatherings were arranged to the benefit of all concerned. The report on citizenship was given by Mrs. A. Denison of Maple Ridge, who asked that more detail of talks and papers be passed on to the district. The first laws of citizenship are the Ten Commandments.

A pleasing diversion was a monologue "Chicken Dinner" by Mrs. M. Denison. This was followed by the report on Home Economics, read by Mrs. H. Bradshaw for Mrs. J. McFarlane, of Victoria branch. Several branches took part in the cookery course put on by the Department, sponsored the girls' sewing clubs and had discussions and demonstrations on women's institute war-time cookery canning without sugar and making use of left-overs. Points of fish cutting, pork on the farm and canning cured meats also taken up.

OFFICERS ELECTED

Miss E. Sisco of the Ontario Department of Agriculture then took charge of the election of officers which resulted as follows: Honorary President Mrs. J. R. Ackerman, of Maple Leaf branch. President Mrs. James Haggerty of Napanee branch. 1st Vice-President Mrs. A. Sexsmith of Mount Pleasant. Pioneer branch. 2nd Vice-President Mrs. A. Graham of Victoria branch, and Secretary-Treasurer Mrs. H. A. Edgar, Victoria branch. The conveners of the seven standing committees were all re-elected with the exception of Mrs. J. McFarlane, for Home Economics who withdrew on account of "ill health and was replaced by Mrs. A. Allenbrook of Napanee. The auditors Mrs. M. Denison and Mrs. A. McLeod were re-appointed. Federated Representative Mrs. J. R. Ackerman and alternate Mrs. A. Allenbrook. District Delegate Mrs. Wm. Fretts, alternate Mrs. R. H. Benn. The District Directors for each of the twelve branches were also re-elected for the new year. In the absence of Mrs. Katherine Powell, Mrs. Robert Lucas of Napanee, was chosen to make the usual arrangements for the constant wreath.

AFTERNOON SESSION

After lunch the delegates and visitors were welcomed to the town by the Mayor, Dr. Hall. He voiced his appreciation of the work being done by the women of the Institute in the war effort and in preparing for the rehabilitation period to follow.

Miss Shetler, representing the Department of Agriculture addressed the meeting and urged that branches should get copies of the "Function and Procedure Committee" that they learn under what topics the different activities are classified. She emphasized the importance of work, as such, as conveners, and especially as the greatest purchasers of all household commodities. We should make an intelligent choice from the things available, purchasing only what is suitable, getting good value for our money, and finally, making intelligent use of what we have bought. Keeping household accounts is essential if we have

'Don't Darken My Door' Presented in Grace Ch. Sunday School Hall

The Sunday School hall of Grace Church was filled to capacity on Friday evening last with an appreciative audience which thoroughly enjoyed the three-act comedy presented by the Fireside Group of Bridge Street United Church, in Belleville. The entire proceeds will be devoted to the building fund of Grace Church, as the visiting players would take no part of the proceeds, a gesture which was appreciated by the congregation and commended by the minister, Rev. C. D. McLellan, in his opening remarks.

The plot centred about a romantic young woman, Rosemary Kent, who wanted a lover like the heroes in the books she read. These had been written by Jane Perkins who, herself, comes to the scene and plans a romance for Rosemary and shows the reluctant lover how to carry it all out. Tom, the lover, and Rosemary's sister, Peggy Kent, are involved in the plot and are assisted by a pair of innocent old maids who live next door and who are also involved with an insatiable appetite for romance. The cast is completed by Peppy, the maid ,who spurns Alex. the gardener because he isn't romantic, but who finally confesses that he is a hero when he dashes after an imaginary burglar, with a flashlight.

The young people taking part were Muriel Hibbard, Muriel Semple, Jean Meyers, Eleanor Sandercock, Peggy Wollard, Harold McNish, Alan Thompson, and John Weese.

The guests from Belleville were entertained after the performance by a committee of Grace Church Young People's Union, consisting of Doreen Windale, Marion Vine and Joan Santer, assisted by Mrs. Walter Thompson. Stage arrangements were made by Mrs. C. D. McLellan.

YOUTH GETTING READY

The First Wartime Convention of Young Liberals is being held in Winnipeg. The Progressive Conservatives are making an appeal to the young people in their party; the C. C. F. has its special Young People's Branch of their organization. This is a healthy sign. Youth is always progressive, rebellious, and radical. They protest against constituted authority. They know better than their elders, and could run the world a lot better than the old folk, if given a chance. That is the typical attitude of youth. Ordinarily we take this with a bit of a smile, cynically we wag our heads and say in a few years this will wear off and they will get over it as they got over the measles.

A glance over the past few years, however, shows that once youth gets hold of an idea and is given an opportunity, it is not easily diverted from its idealism. The youth in China fomented the revolution against the old order and have become the backbone of the new order in China. Russian youth has a drive, and idealism that is irresistible. It was the youth of Germany to whom Hitler appealed and in whom he found the fruitful soil for his militant aggression.

In our own country, it is youth who are holding the line, they fly the skies when scarcely out of their 'teens. They go down to the sea in ships when they have hardly graduated from high school. Lieutenants, captains, majors, colonels, are chosen from among the ranks of the dashing, adventure-loving youth leaders.

What more natural than that the young people should have a bit to say about the world they will have to live in. To be sure "you cannot put an old head on young shoulders." But who wants to do so? Why are old heads necessary? This is a day of youth. Young people are doing things of which we never believed them capable. They are assuming responsibility and discharging their duties with courage, dependability, and devotion. Let us have youth in politics. Let us give youth a chance. It is their due. If it is not given, they will take it anyway. At best they can hardly make a worse mess of the world than their so-called wise, cautious statesmen-like elders.

MAY BE THE WEATHER

It may be the long wet spell, followed by the warm spell that has been responsible for it. It must be something quite unusual, for Napanee which boasts itself, and not without justification, of being the nearest to perfection of any Canadian residential area, has had to admit quite a few mosquitoes around. There may have been a few visitors in former years, but we scarcely noticed them. But this year there are quite a few here and there throughout the town. Of course, they are not so fat, so large, and terrifying as the New Jersey brand, nevertheless they are no mean representatives of the mosquito family. They are not to be found everywhere or at any time in the same abundance. But in early morning or in the quiet of the evening, if one looks carefully, they may be seen. A favourite hang-out seems to be the lily-of-the-valley bed, or ankle-level on the verandah.

It is said the purpose of the fleas on a dog is to keep him busy, and prevent laziness. It may be that mosquitoes serve a similar purpose for they nearly always are the most vigorous just at the moment we want a little quiet respite from the day's toil. We don't wonder that the aeroplane that travels the fastest, twists and banks the quickest, stings the hardest and gets away with it is called after the culicidae family, who moved into our town recently.

DOMINION NAVIES READY FOR 'D' DAY

BY GEORGE KILLER
Associated Press Staff Writer

The approaching climax of the European war and the accelerated pace of Allied Pacific operations finds Dominion navies at the strongest position in the history of the British Commonwealth.

Numbering fewer than 100 ships and about 15,000 active personnel before the war, the Dominion navies have mushroomed into a powerful combined fleet of approximately 1,000 vessels manned by more than 118,000 men.

Canada and Australia now build destroyers in domestic yards, and in practically all the Dominions and India naval requirements for sloops, corvettes and smaller vessels have been met in part by the output of local shipbuilders.

The Canadian Navy, mustering about 80,000 men on about 700 ships today rates in third place among United Nations' navies. In September, 1939, the Dominion had sixteen vessels staffed by 1,774 sailors.

Personnel figures for other Empire navies also illustrate the Dominions' growth in sea power.

More than 25,000 now man the Australian Navy, compared to a pre-war figure of 5,170.

New Zealand's fleet personnel has been increased more than tenfold since 1939 to a figure of about 7,200. The Royal Indian Navy, for which figures are lacking, likewise has increased its staff ten times in the past five years.

South Africa, starting from scratch at the outbreak of the war, since has built up a naval force of more than 5,000 volunteers.

Primarily designed originally to relieve the Royal Navy of convoy and patrol duties in overseas waters, the Dominion navies today pack a mighty offensive wallop.

At least 20 destroyers have been built or are being built for the Canadians. It has been authoritatively announced that within the next few months Canada will acquire two cruisers and two escort aircraft carriers from the United Kingdom.

The 250 fighting ships in the Canadian Navy, which began escorting convoys into the open Atlantic six days after the war started now provide half of the protection on the North Atlantic shipping routes.

STRANGE BUT TRUE

The Labor - Progressive Party, that is the Communist group, of which Tim Buck is the president, has been for a long time flirting with the C. C. F. But the little lady has not thought kindly of his attentions, and has frankly said so. This puts the Tim Buckers in a rather embarrassing position. They must have somebody to chum up with, so they have openly announced that they will support the Liberal Party. We are sure that Prime Minister Mackenzie King will be glad to hear that. The Liberal Party will be happy, we are quite sure to have the extreme left-wingers declare they are "all for King." Now that the ardent suitor has transferred his affections, Mr. Coldwell and Mr. Jolliffe will breathe easier.

It is not perhaps by accident that a similar announcement has been made in the U. S. A. There the C. I. O., the extreme left wing radical labor group, has finally decided to back Mr. Roosevelt for a fourth term. That means a lot, for there are many more C. I. O.'s in the United States, proportionately, than there are Labor-Progressives in Canada. The C. I. O. is a block that cannot quite be ignored in a Presidential election. The similarity between the two trends lies in the fact that both the radical groups have decided to line up with the party in power. They see in them more hope of legislation that will meet their demands, than in the other old line parties who, at least while out of office, are all things to all men.

Probably the C.I.O. and the Labor Progressives argue "we would rather bear the ills we have than fly to those we know not."

APPLYING THE WHITEWASH

Just why Prime Minister Churchill should have gone out of his way to whitewash General Franco, Spanish Dictator, is hard to understand. Spain has had a bad record in her relations with the United Nations since Franco came on the scene. The Democratic forces in Spain had won a legitimate election when Franco stepped into the picture, seized power and headed up an organization which precipitated civil war. In this he was backed by Mussolini and Hitler. These two leaders saw in Spain an opportunity to experiment with the new bombing technique which they planned to follow later in the Global War, and which they did follow with such disastrous and dastardly results.

Because they had come to his rescue, Franco had to pay the price to these bucaneers. It was not an unwilling payment. Franco, by temperament, training and ambition is a dictator. He is at home with the dictators. All through this war he has played with the dictators' oil and other essential commodities from The United States and the Latin American Countries shipped to Spain, have filtered through to Germany. We have been in the position of using Spain as a feeder of material to the Axis Powers which they can use to make munitions with which to kill our boys. It has been one of the black spots on our diplomatic front.

Not only so, but Spain actually sent troops to Germany to fight with the Germans against the Russians. We did nothing for a long time. When we felt we were strong enough to protest, a protest was made. But the troops have not been withdrawn.

Many believe that Sir Samuel Hoare is, to a great extent responsible for the appeasement policy which the United Nations have followed towards Spain. Sir Samuel has been the British Ambassador there, and his past record leads some to believe his is the influence moulding the British policy. It may have been the wise thing when The United Nations were weaker than they are now, to make concessions to Spain in order to keep her from open hostilities. There was a time when we could ill-afford to add to our list of national enemies. Now, however, that day has passed. We are strong enough to assert ourselves. On the eve of an invasion it seems a strange thing that the Prime Minister of Great Britain should openly pay a tribute to Franco, and chastise those who in Great Britain were denouncing him. The Prime Minister may have had his reasons for so doing. Whatever they were, they will not wash away the memory of a man who has been an open, blatant, bombastic supporter of the Axis and an opponent of all the principles for which the United Nations are struggling and pouring out their blood and treasure.

HOLES IN THE ATLANTIC WALL

BY J. V. GUERTER

Two years ago, when the first faint doubts about the possibility of winning the war began to be apparent in Germany, Hitler announced "The Atlantic Wall is complete." Press visits were arranged. German papers contained long descriptions of the fortifications and innumerable photographs of masses of concrete, guns and tank traps.

The ordinary German was led to believe that the west coast of Europe had become a super-Siegfried Line which could never be breached in the 1,000 years which Hitler had set for the Nazi domination of Europe.

Last year the German press and radio began to tell of the strengthening of this impregnable wall, and in recent months, as the day of invasion has drawn nearer, there has been a positive orgy of propaganda extolling its strength.

Among details given by the Germans was that twice as much concrete has been used on the Atlantic Wall during each of the last twelve months as was used for the entire construction of the Siegfried Line; that its 400 miles length has 22,000 fortified strong points, and that 130,000 456 land mines and booby traps were laid at a single point in one month.

They have talked of 12,000 guns, flame-throwers built into concrete emplacements, pill-boxes in seaside hotels, tunnels, underground store places, barbed wire of a steel that cannot be cut, and top it off with mysterious hints at secret weapons, the more fantastic of which include an "artificial storm maker" that wrecks all landing craft approaching, and explosives that lift hundreds of yards of beach into the air.

When we have discounted the fact that the Germans were ready to say anything to convince first of all the United Nations and later their own people that the Atlantic Wall was impregnable there remains the reality of the strongest line of fortifications ever built.

Even the Germans with their organization and millions of slaves could not fortify 1,700 miles of coastline from Norway to Iron on the Spanish frontier. If we take into account islands and inlets, the actual length of the coastline is nearer 12,000 miles.

The propaganda and the pictures evidently satisfied neither the German public nor the generals that the Atlantic Wall was impregnable, and that the Fortress of Europe could not be breached from the West.

During recent weeks the Germans have been remarkably frank about their plans for defence against invasion—possibly not only to comfort the Home Front, but also to try and "draw" the Allies into statement that might reveal their intentions.

The latest German statements suggested that there were 3,500,000 men ready in Western Europe to repel invasion. These were given as fifty divisions under von Runstedt from Denmark to the Bay of Biscay, 25 divisions in Southern France and 1,500,000 men in Germany and Norway as general reserves. The expected Allied force was forecast as 200 divisions to be preceded by bombers with 360,000 bombs.

There are now five separate commands in the West, all nominally under General Field-Marshal Gert von Rundstedt. Rommel commands the "Mobile Anti - Invasion Army's; von Dollman on the Channel Coast; von Biskowitz in the South of France; von Falkenhausen in Belgium, and General of the Luftwaffe von Christiansen in Holland.

Apart the quality of the troops who will meet invasion, the Germans have said less. They have made much of the F-units (Flame-throwers), Marine Infantry detachments, Jagd Kommendos, (raiding units) and some others specially trained for defensive warfare against landing parties.

They have also spoken of "divisions withdrawn from Russia," with the suggestion that they are highly seasoned troops. But reports from the spot suggest that the vast majority of the Germans in Western Europe are "greybeards and boys."

However, when all allowance has been made for these factors, the Germans can obviously face the invasion forces with powerful armies, using the excellent road and rail communications of Western Europe. Their confidence would be understandable. Why, then, do they now speak often of second third, fourth lines of defense? Why have they begun to talk about the Fortress of Germany instead of the Fortress of Europe?

Obviously because they know there are holes in this "Wall," that there never has been and never will be a line of fortifications that is "impregnable."

Where are the holes? Obviously it is not possible to do more than state again that in any line of this length there must be weak points. The Allied Intelligence Service probably knows not very much less about the fortifications than the Germans themselves, for although the pressmen taken on "sightseeing" tours have been shown only one or two spots, the whole of the fortifications are in territory whose inhabitants are hostile to Germany. It is well known that Norwegians, French men and others regularly escape to Britain. This in itself suggests "holes."

The Germans themselves realize where the biggest "hole" is. It is hundreds of miles long and hundreds of miles deep. It can be stopped only by the battleaxe. The hole, of course, is the air over the guns, the concrete and the flame-throwers.

The weakness of the Atlantic Wall, in other words, is that, like the Maginot Line, it can be outflanked, not on the right or left wings, but overhead. The Germans, aware of this, will take counter-measures, but the problem of devising a defense against an attack which may materialize at any point in some thousands of square miles is very different from devising a defense against a line some hundreds of miles long.

What the German High Command really thinks of its anti-invasion defenses is far better judged from the preparations they have made to defend points hundreds of miles from the coast and the high priority they have given to the reconstruction of the Siegfried and Maginot Lines.

British Commonwealth Air Training Plan

The British Commonwealth Air Training Plan was planned in December, 1939 and organized in 1940 with one object in view — to supply as efficiently and speedily as possible a stream of well-trained air crew to obtain and maintain air superiority over enemy airfronts. The combined efforts of the British Commonwealth, the United States and the Soviet Union have achieved this purpose.

Beginning with 4,000 men, Canada has raised its air force of more than 206,000. Coincident with this rapid expansion, the B.C.A.T.P., which is administered by the Royal Canadian Air Force, has trained 114,000 in ground work, as instructors, staff men, mechanics, engineers and in 50 different trades. From the flying schools of the B.C.A.T.P. 86,000 men have emerged to fly allied planes and to fight the enemy wherever the need may be. Of this air crew output 56 per cent. is Canadian, a proportion exceeding one-half the total graduates in all British air forces.

The expansion of training has been completed but the expansion of the schools of the fighting fronts is still continuing. Consequent on a reduction in intake of trainees, there will be a gradual and progressive closing of a certain number of training units and schools, beginning with Royal Air Force schools transferred to Canada. The process will be deliberate and extended over many months, and the reduction of training facilities will be geared to the requisite flow of pupils through the plan. By this modification in the training plan the greatest possible weight of air strength will be brought to bear on the Nazi enemy.

The personnel necessary to fill squadrons, units and formations planned for the front line are already in the pipeline feeding the air forces of the United Kingdom, the Commonwealth and the Allies serving under the strategic direction and tactical command of the R. A. F. At present there is on hand the necessary capital and personnel for immediate replacements.

Thus as long-term war plans entail certain reductions in the number of entrants to air crew training, so those current entrants will not engage the enemy for a comparatively long time. More training flying hours resulting from a higher standard of skill required and progressively increasing opportunities for obtaining experience will tend to dam the flow of graduates to fighting areas into a somewhat slower stream.

This does not imply even a pro-tem slow-up of the air training plan, but is rather a continuation with a reduced output which will be noticeable for eighteen months. By the process of closing down from the rear, personnel will be automatically massed forward to increase the striking power at the fighting front.

During the last year the war emphasis has shifted to an allied air offensive, the result of a superiority in men and machines. As the Germans accordingly are forced to the defensive, the Allied losses in the lighter aircraft categories, such as fighters, fighter - bombers, and medium bombers has dropped. This is reflected in a change in requirements for the production of a different type of air crew so that an ever increasing proportion is now being diverted into the heavier types of aircraft to smash Hitler's Europe. Numbers of R. C. A. F. air and ground crew personnel, besides the B.C.A.T.P. graduates, will be available for overseas duties. This will in other words, be that like the Maginot Line, it can be outflanked, not on the right or left wings, but overhead. The Germans, aware of this, will take counter-measures, but the problem of devising a defense against an attack which may materialize at any point in some thousands of square miles is very different from devising a defense against a line some hundreds of miles long.

What the German High Command really thinks of its anti-invasion defenses is far better judged from the preparations they have made to defend points hundreds of miles from the coast and the high priority they have given to the reconstruction of the Siegfried and Maginot Lines.

TO SAVE A SOLDIER'S LIFE

This picture recently received from the battlefront in Italy tells its own story, yet one that must be told too often — that the lives of Canadian soldiers are being saved by the prompt infusion of blood into the veins of wounded and tired bodies of fighting men. The giving of blood to the Canadian Red Cross Transfusion Service, of blood serum is a voluntary action and a painless procedure, involving but slight inconvenience to the donor, but in saving it hastens the day of victory.

Lesson Text: Acts 9: 8-10. Ephesians 2: 4-10; 3: 14, 19

"PAUL IN EPHESUS"

Paul stayed longer in Ephesus than he did at any other town. He had, at first a mixed reception. But as the days went on he succeeded in establishing a solid congregation. Being a Jew, Paul on arrival at Ephesus went to the synagogue. Here he began to interpret the scriptures to the Jews, and to show how Jesus fulfilled the prophecies concerning the coming of a Messiah. At first the people seemed to show interest, but they reserved judgment. Then the inevitable happened; the people began to argue among themselves. Part of the crowd sided with Paul and part of the congregation denounced him and all those who were of "the way".

Paul therefore left off teaching in the synagogue and went over to a private school run by one Tyrannus. There were many of these philosophic schools scattered up and down the country. A man with an eye to business would welcome a man of Paul's character and calling power to his school. It would be a good attraction. It would add to the popularity of the institution. Well, Paul stayed here two years, probably 52-55 A.D. Of course, Paul did not confine himself to this one occupation. He went up and down the country. It is generally assumed that the seven churches of Asia were founded at this time (Rev. 1, 11). Paul probably established all, save those of Colossae and Laodicea.

The Book of Ephesians gives a good account of the things that Paul taught in the school of Tyrannus. One of these was the power of God over the lives of his followers. God saves men through His Grace who are dead in trespasses and sins. There is nothing the power of God cannot do for men. There is nothing he does not do. Man cannot lift himself by his boot straps. He needs a Saviour. This Saviour He has provided in the person of His son Jesus Christ, our Lord. Not only so, He raised men up until they took their places beside Him in heavenly places. Paul is quite emphatic that man was for not saved by his own efforts, but by Grace, through Faith. Men are incapable of living a Christian life in their own strength. It is God's gift which enables us to live; His gift of spirit and grace.

The latter part of the lesson is a prayer. The Hebrews used to stand for prayer. The early Christians knelt. "For this cause I bow my knees." Paul prays for two things. (1) That the Ephesians may be strengthened with power through His spirit in the inner man" and (2) "That Christ may dwell in their hearts by faith." Both of these Paul recognized as available and necessary — power through the spirit and the indwelling Christ. No man is necessary then than now. That which has made Christianity a distinctive religion has been the sense of power. It has given them courage. It has given them the sense of the indwelling spirit. To be sure there are those who misunderstand the true purpose of this, and this is true meaning. There are those who think that this power manifests itself in strange and mysterious ways. As a matter of history, the great spiritual power never was put in noisy and useless demonstrations. They allow the power of God to express itself in lives of active and social endeavour. Shaftesbury, Luther, Wesley and the other great reformers are abundant evidence of this.

Paul adds that the purpose of the power for which he prays and the indwelling Christ, is that they may receive these blessings may know the love of God which passeth all understanding. Here it is! The gospel in a nutshell—knowledge of the love of God. Only let that burn in the self into a man's heart, and he will become a flaming evangelist for the Master. We lack this consuming passion in the modern church. It is evangelism for which we pray and for which we look forward hopefully. It will emerge when men and women in the Name of Christ become seized with the sense of God's love and the availability of its blessings for all people.

now— VITAMIC RUBBER

FIRESTONE'S GREATEST CONTRIBUTION TO LONG TIRE LIFE AND MILEAGE

Firestone, pioneers of the balloon and high-speed tires, now make another contribution to advanced motoring . . . VITAMIC RUBBER . . . for longer tire life and mileage.

It is a well-known fact that adding small amounts of metals, such as chromium and tungsten, to steel greatly increases the strength and durability of the alloy produced.

In a similar manner, it has been found by Firestone research that the intimate mixing with rubber of small amounts of a new scientific discovery, "Vitalin," imparts long-sought properties to the rubber. As in the alloy steel, the new rubber compound . . . VITAMIC RUBBER . . . is greatly improved in strength, wear-ability, and resistance to heat and ageing.

All Firestone tires are now made with Vitamic Rubber. This added extra value, together with Gum-Dipping and Safety Locked Cords, is all the more reason why you should insist on Firestone tires when you obtain a Tire Ration Permit.

VITAMIC RUBBER is produced by adding Vitalin when the rubber is compounded. It gives extra protection against weather checking and wear, thus keeping the rubber tough and lively.

AN ADVENTURE IN NEIGHBORLINESS

SHUT-INS' DAY JUNE 4TH

"Not all the great battles of the world," said George Matthew Adams, "are fought out in the open. Right this minute, in thousands of house battles are being fought in little homes, in hospitals, in isolated farmlands, and in army camps and cradle cabins. These fighters are the shut-ins of the world. And Sunday, June 4th, is their day."

Originating in Canada, the idea of a day set apart for more active remembrance of the sick and disabled is meeting with success from all sides and it is now recognized as one of the "special" days of the year. It has the approval and support of Prime Minister Churchill and many other eminent people, and was supported last year by the churches, the Canadian Legion, the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, and the Boy Scouts Association, to name but a few national groups. In several important Canadian cities, including Montreal, Toronto and Fort William the City Council has authorized the issuing of a proclamation asking citizens to observe the day. In the United States it is equally well recognized and has received the endorsement of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, the American Legion, Kiwanis International and many other organizations.

Plan now to visit at least two shut-ins on June 4th. Take them to church if possible, or for a motor ride; and if you will leave some small token of your thoughtfulness. You will never regret it. If you are unable to visit, remember that a letter, a card or gift will be received with gratitude.

The secret of happiness, wrote someone years ago, is making other people happy. Try this adventure in neighborliness and see if it isn't so.

allowed an adequate proportion of our incomes for any one class of expenses, and if we are to be in a position to improve our buying habits during the next period.

A discussion of the co-operative program in Home Economics followed and the community meeting on Nutrition was the unanimous choice. It was also decided to have an officers' rally with Parliamentary Procedure as the topic, the dates and places of meeting for both programs to be announced later.

Mrs. Gerald Amey of Bayview, delighted the members and visitors with a vocal solo, following which Miss E. Scott of Amherst Island branch presented the report on historical research. Mrs. Irene Priest, of Ernestown, reported on agriculture and Canadian industries. Reference to Mr. Faulkner's book "Plowman's Folly" with its revolutionary ideas on ploughing and drainage. In the absence of the convener, Mrs. A. Simmons, of Wilton, presented the report on war work which was read by Mrs. R. Ham, Napanee. There were donations to various relief funds, sewing, knitting, and other activities, for which details are not available for this report, but they will be given in full in a later issue.

Using Lennox district as a sample some idea may be obtained of the production amount of work accomplished by the ninety-nine districts of Ontario.

A pleasing interlude was furnished by Mrs. Nisbett and Mrs. Cairns of Odessa, with a piano duet.

MRS. KEYES ADDRESS

The address given by Mrs. Keyes, of Wolfe Island, Federation Representative was very interesting and provided many constructive ideas which might well be adopted by all Institute branches. Mrs. Keyes suggested having guest books at the local meeting places, having representation on Federation Executive by districts, checking up on the number of W. I. members who exercise their franchise right and discussion during Farm programs to help educate ourselves for our jobs. She spoke of Village Books which were being compiled by some branches and hoped that these would be brought to the area convention at Kingston. Labels can be obtained and stored on the bed on all sewing turned in to identify it as the work of the Women's Institute. Mrs. Keyes also emphasized that in line with other wartime restrictions, we should mobilize our tongues, not speaking about our neighbor but to build up our national leadership.

There was considerable discussion on the resolution presented by Adolphustown branch that we petition the County Council that there be compulsory health inspection twice a year in the rural schools by a public health nurse. A motion was put before the meeting and carried, that the resolution be presented to the County Council and Mrs. James Hazzard and Mrs. R. M. Robin were appointed to act with the Public School Inspector Mr. Birkin, to the Council on behalf of the Women's Institute.

Mrs. Jessie Scott, county councillor, spoke briefly on the girls' Activities Camp, which was held in Napanee on May 18th, at which time exhibited aleppine garments of their own making. She outlined the two programs. The Club Project for 1944, for which leaders will be trained in October, and asked the continued support of the Institute. Regarding the getting girls to take part and sending leaders to the training classes.

Speaking of the Courtesy Committee, Mrs. F. Henderson of the Mount Pleasant Pioneer branch, expressed the thanks of all present for the entertaining branch. The department speakers and all who had contributed to make the convention a success.

Softball Asso'n Meeting

Another meeting of the Bayshore Baseball League was held at Deseronto last week and although little business was recorded in the minute book, considerable discussion took place on the matter of hot Thursday games in the league. Apparently the Airmen had changed their previous standing regarding the double entry from the Airport and notified the meeting that they were only going to furnish one.

The possibility of two teams from town was definitely out and the Flyers came back to the Station to try and negotiate another squad.

As to when the league will get under way is one hot quite clear. Deseronto diamond is not as yet ready to play on. About four furrows with the plow and the workmen left it that way. It was the intention of the Redi-Heat squad to "skin" the grounds and level it off. Also the possibility of the Airmen playing their home games on the Deseronto field was discussed. Other than the above items of business, nothing definite was recorded.

The treasurer, Mr. Geo. Switzer, said there would be another session the latter part of the week and was in hopes of getting things in order for opening the league during the second week in June.

Uens and Mr. and Mrs. W. Hamilton, Milltown; Mrs. Blake Cook and two daughters, Shannonville; Mrs. Marjorie Duncan, Belleville. Although Mrs. McGee has reached her 81st year, she does her own housework; she keeps 200 chickens, two cows, and has a Victory Garden. Mrs. McGee thinks everyone should do their best to win victory.

ONTARIO DIVISION RED CROSS SOCIETY MEETS AT TORONTO

Bringing greetings from the International Red Cross at Geneva and through them, the prisoners of war, A. E. Zollinger told the meeting of Ontario Division Executive, Canadian Red Cross Society, May 18th, that the efforts of the Canadian Red Cross Society were second to none and stood above all others. The committee at Geneva charged me to make clear to you how much they appreciate your help and assistance in the work for prisoners of war in which we are all so interested. Everyone at Geneva is impressed with the tremendous effort put forth by Canada.

Ernest L. Maag, delegate to the International Committee of the Red Cross, made the presentation of honorary memberships and badges of service to members of the Division, in recognition of services. Volunteer workers at the two warehouses, and officers of the society were among those honoured.

The meeting, presided over by Mrs. Arthur W. Ellis, was held at 95 Wellesley Street, Toronto. Ontario Commissioner Stafford Roberts reported that 49 patriotic societies taking part in the recent Red Cross campaign for funds, had raised $42,000. Lifebuoy Follies had played to 42,000 people and raised over $19,000 for Red Cross in Ontario.

Great expansion was noted in the Emergency Nursing Reserve, under direction of Acting Provincial Leader Mrs. A. C. McKenzie the membership is close to 12,000 in about 200 units throughout the province. Development of this project is to be carried in to the post war periods and leadership in public health work is planned.

Mr. C. Bruce Hill, president-elect told the executive "You have every reason to be proud of the Red Cross Corps girls in England." Reporting on the 63rd meeting of the National Council, he said Canadian Red Cross was prepared to pack 5,180,000 prisoners of war parcels, this year. Miss Hesta Hinton has been appointed supervisor of Nutrition in Ontario Division.

Plans are well under way for the jam season, and orders placed for factory made jam, to be shipped to Britain. A nutrition scheme is to be carried out this summer in the Outpost hospitals areas in Northern Ontario. Red Cross Corps members in Ontario have given a "million hours of service at a cost of less than a thousand dollars."

Grade of wool now issued to Red Cross knitters in Ontario is making the workers much happier, as for the present they no longer have to contend with the harsh wheeling wool said Mrs. John C. Fraser. No sailor has to give away his own woolens when a rescue takes place at sea, for all rescue ships are now equipped with 45 survivors' bundles. Shipments from the Ontario Receiving Depot, January 1 to April 30, including hospital supplies, dressings, comforts for forces and civilians, survivors' bundles, canture parcels, toilet bags for the A.T.S. and sewing kits for British mothers, total 2,714,715. Latter two Items are made at no expense whatever to Red Cross.

Ontario in the first quarter of the year is exceeding the quota of blood donations set, by 46,521. Russell T. Kelley, Hamilton reported.

Ian R. Dowie, campaign chairman, gave final figures in Ontario's campaign at $5,400,000.

There are some 2,100 prisoners of war, including those in the far east with numbers increasing and especially Air Force personnel. Hanna said in his P.O.W. next-of-kin report, Toronto Branch with 634 leads and remainder are represented through 220 branches in the province. Committee's task is that of keeping all the next-of-kin supplied with information on postal regulations, next-of-kin parcels, changes of prison camps and other information on prisoners of war obtained from the National Red Cross Enquiry Bureau in Ottawa. Work is handled through Liaison Officers of branches. Since beginning of the year a supply depot has been operated at Division al headquarters, to assist branches in obtaining cost free commodities no longer obtainable in the open market, for next-of-kin parcels, including dehydrated vegetables spices, chipped beef, malted milk tablets, peanut butter. New maps showing all prisoner of war camps in Germany will be issued to branches in the next few days.

A film critic wants to know why American gangsters are apparently so fond of playing billiards. Probably the fascination of putting a defenceless maple jam to be shipped to less ball on the spot appeals to them.

COTTAGE RENTALS ARE GOVERNED BY RENTALS ORDERS

With the arrival of the summer cottage season, the Regional Rentals administration of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board draws attention to the fact that rentals charged for such accommodation are strictly governed by the Wartime Leasehold Regulations, provides means provided for non-compliance on the part of landlords.

In the case of accommodation of this type, the rental charged for the period June 1st to September 15th shall not exceed the rental charged for the corresponding period in the year 1941 or 1942, whichever is the greater. Under specific authority from a Local Rentals Committee or a Rentals Appraiser. The maximum is further given if the basis of the 1941 or 1942 rental has changed, the rental cannot be varied without the approval of a Rentals Appraiser if, for instance the use of a boat or any other additional facilities is now included, the rent cannot be increased without approval being given.

Similarly, the regulations require the approval of a Rentals Appraiser if the term of the lease undergoes change. For example, a landlord cannot, as has been done for weekly occupancy, if no has always rented on a monthly basis.

Full information concerning the application of the rentals regulations to summer cottages and all other types of accommodation may be obtained at each office of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. These regulations do not, however, apply to the lease of lands used exclusively for farm purposes.

AN ADVENTURE IN NEIGHBORLINESS

SHUT-INS' DAY, JUNE 4TH

"Not all the great battles of the world," writes George Matthew Adams, "are fought out in the open. Right this minute thousands of heroic battles are being fought in little homes, in hospitals, in isolated farmlands, and in army camps and crude cabins. These fighters are the shut-ins of the world." And Sunday, June 4th, is their day.

Originating in Canada, the idea of a day set apart for more active remembrance of the sick and disabled is meeting with success from all sides and it is now recognized as one of the "special" days of the year. It has the approval and support of Prime Minister Churchill and many other eminent people, and was supported last year by the churches, the Canadian Legion, the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, and the Boy Scouts Association, to name but a few national groups. In several important Canadian cities, including Montreal, Toronto and Fort William, the City Council has authorized the issuing of a proclamation asking citizens to observe the day. In the United States it is equally well recognized and has received the endorsement of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, the American Legion, Kiwanis International and many other organizations.

Plan now to visit at least two shut-ins on June 4th. Take them to church if possible, or for a motor ride; and if you will leave some small token of your thoughtfulness. You will never regret it. If you are unable to visit, remember that a letter, a card or gift will be received with gratitude.

The secret of happiness, wrote someone years ago, is making other people happy. Try this adventure in neighborliness and see if it isn't so.

MOTHERS' CORNER

An extremely busy evening was spent in the "Mothers' Corner" at I.P.S. Airport at Mohawk on Wednesday night. To the strains of "boogie-woogie" music by a group of radiogram enthusiasts, socks were darned and dozens of chevrons sewn on summer uniforms. At 9:45, Mrs. Herbert Knuth, Mrs. W. Howitt, Jr., Miss Marjorie Dollar, Mrs. S. Goodridge and Mrs. George Fisher, accompanied by Douglas Scott Y. M. C. A. representative, were served refreshments in the mess hall. Mr. Scott leaves Mohawk this week. Any local woman who would like to help in this pleasant work on Wednesday evenings, please telephone 649.

COTTAGE RENTALS ARE GOVERNED BY RENTALS ORDERS

With the arrival of the summer-cottage season, the regional rentals administration of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board draws attention to the fact that rentals charged for such accommodations are distinctly governed by the Wartime Leasehold Regulations, penalties being provided for non-compliance on the part of landlords.

In the case of accommodations of this type the rental charged for them during 1941 or 1942 becomes the ceiling which cannot legally be increased unless specific authority to make such an increased charge has been received from a Local Rentals Committee or a Rentals Appraiser.

The information is further given if the basis of the lease written or oral) has changed, the rental cannot be varied without the approval of a Rentals Appraiser. If, for instance, use of a boat or any other additional facility is now included, the rent cannot be increased without approval being given.

Similarly, the regulations require the approval of a Rentals Appraiser if the term of the lease undergoes change. For example, a landlord cannot set his own terms for weekly occupancy if he has always rented on a monthly basis.

Full information concerning the application of the rentals regulations to summer cottages and all other types of accommodation may be obtained at any office of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. These regulations do not, however, apply to housing or lands used exclusively for farm purposes.

160th Anniversary Landing of Mohawks

The 160th anniversary of the landing of the Mohawks on the shore of the Bay of Quinte was observed on Sunday, May 21st. In the morning at Christ Church, in the Right Reverend Dr. Lyons, Bishop of the Diocese of Ontario, confirmed thirteen young people, and in the afternoon, the annual Mohawk Service was held in All Saints' Church. This service was almost entirely in the Mohawk language, and was taken by Mr. Solomon Brant, a fluent speaker in his native tongue. An interesting part of the service was the reading of a poem written by Mrs. H. A. Brant, in memory of her father, the late Joseph S. Brant, and other pioneers of this locality. At the morning service the Bishop dedicated a dozen hymn books in Mr. Brant's memory, which were given by his children. The inspiring poem was entitled "In the Springtime," and was effectively read by Mr. Walter Havelock Robb, of "Abbey Dawn," Kingston, who also gave a resume of Mohawk history and tradition. The Rector preached from the text "Let us now honour famous men, and our fathers who begat us." The music in both churches was heartily rendered by full surpliced choirs. — (Deseronto Post).

Housewives need never feel that by buying jam or any other commodity in retail stores they are depriving the armed forces. Some women, the Consumer Branch tells us, have been suggesting they shouldn't do any canning but should leave the sugar to make jam for the lads over there. This is a generous but quite unnecessary gesture we are told. Whether for home or for jam, the armed forces have a priority. In the case of jam, the needs of the forces have been carefully calculated. Women are urged to preserve all the fresh fruit they can, with the amount of sugar it has been possible to put all their disposal. Later, when home canned goods give out, jam may be bought, with any preserve coupons which are then valid.

WEDDING BELLS

SAVAGE - FELLOWES

Mid settings of white and mauve lilacs and soft candlelight, the marriage was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Fellowes, Wednesday, May 24th at 3:30 p.m., of their only daughter, Olive Kuma, to Pilot-Officer Joseph Savage, R.C.A.F., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Savage Ottawa. Rev. G. M. Chidley officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming wearing her mother's wedding gown of net and appliqued lace over ivory slipper satin. Her fine net fingertip veil was caught to the crown by a halo of orange blossoms that had been worn by her grandmother, the late Mrs. Nathan Fellowes on her wedding day. She carried a cascade bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Mrs. Cameron Burr, of Picton, as matron-of-honor, was gowned in forget-me-not blue embroidered net with matching hat and carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses. The groom was attended by Mr. Carmen Burr of Picton.

During the signing of the register Miss Ruth Graham sang "Always".

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, where the bride's mother, gowned in a spruce green crepe ensemble, with matching hat and wearing a corsage of pink carnations and lily-of-the-valley, and Miss Nancy Savage, sister of the groom, wearing flowered blue crepe and matching accessories, and a corsage of pink carnations and lily-of-the-valley received the guests.

For travelling the bride donned a blue wool crepe dressmaker suit, with veiled crochet beige hat and matching purse. Upon their return from Toronto P. O. Savage will return to Saskatoon, while Mrs. Savage will remain at home to be with her mother before joining her husband.

$15 CEILING ON RAILWAY FARES FOR ARMED FORCES

Approval Given $15 Limit On Railway Travel For Armed Forces On Leave

Kingston, May 29. — Approval of a $15 ceiling in railway fare payable by personnel of the Canadian Armed Forces when travelling to their bona fide homes on annual leave or embarkation leave in Canada is announced by the Minister of National Defence, the Minister of National Defence (Naval Services) and the Minister of National Defence (Air) in a joint statement today. This becomes effective on and after June 1st, 1944.

This means that personnel of the Canadian Armed Forces when travelling on annual leave or embarkation leave to bona fide homes in Canada will not pay the railway companies more than $15 for the round trip no matter how far their homes are from point of departure.

Orders-in-Council in 1941 and 1942 authorized the Minister of National Defence to enter into an agreement with the railway companies whereby personnel travelling to their bona fide homes in Canada on annual leave or embarkation leave would be able to purchase a round trip ticket for one-half of the cost of a single fare. The Department of National Defence paid one-third of a single fare and the railway companies absorbed the balance of the cost of the return rail ticket. This has been in force since 10th July, 1941.

In view of the long distances which some personnel of the Armed Forces have to travel in order to reach their homes, the Ministers of the three services and their advisors recommended to the Government that the cost to the individual travelling in excess of $15 for those entitled to this transportation concession should be absorbed by the Government. This is what has been approved.

This is how it will work.

An example would be the case of a soldier whose home is so far away from his station that the single fare would be $60. Under the existing arrangements the railway company would collect $20 from the soldier, bill the Government for $20 and absorb the remaining cost of the return rail ticket. Under the new arrangement the railway will collect $15 from the soldier, bill the Government for $25, and absorb the remaining cost of the return rail ticket.

For ordinary leave, personnel of the three Services will continue to enjoy the concession granted by the Canadian Railways, whereby, at any time when travelling on leave, they may purchase a return ticket for the price of a single fare.

IN SOLITUDE

The hours I spend in solitude
Are peaceful, sweet and fine,
Just like a little interlude —
In the "Once upon a time".
I hear again the music
That I sang so long ago,
I see the dear old faces, too,
With eyes that softly glow.

Their shadows pass my vision
Where in memory they remain;
They walk with me as in the past,
They always look the same;
The joys, the smiles, the truths,
Yes; sorrows, too, we shared,
I keep on trying to tell them yet
How much I really cared.

THE MIXING BOWL

By ANNE ALLAN

Hydro Home Economist

Hello Homemakers: Let's all dig in and grow more in year 1944—provided we can store any surplus. Enthusiastic growers should remember that green vegetables have a short season and a second planting in three or four weeks time is a better idea.

Owing to the present conditions, such as over-taxed transportation facilities, labor shortage and other wartime difficulties green vegetables might well be high-priced. In fact we could expect these summer vegetables to be scarce and also be beyond the possibilities of the average food budget. . . However there are plenty of nutritive greens available now—within the reach of us. We all know dandelions and watercress. They are good and you can obtain them free of charge—picking them yourself.

Spring is in the markets — the counters are beginning to take on a colourful appearance, and to present some items we haven't seen in a long time. Asparagus, for instance, is coming in every morning. It grows quickly and as the season is all too short we should make use of it while we can.

Dandelion Greens

Wash greens in several waters, swishing each stalk through the water and looking it over carefully for dirt. Cut off and discard the tough stem ends. The washing is really the most time-taking step in the preparation. . . . To cook, drain the greens carefully from the last wash-water, pack into a large kettle. Cover and place over a low heat until the greens wilt and water collects in the bottom of the pan. Then remove the cover, turn up the heat and cook quickly, five to eight minutes, no longer. Season with salt during the last five minutes of cooking, one-half teaspoon salt is sufficient for one pound of greens. Stir it into the vegetables well. Drain the greens by lifting them up with a fork letting them drip in the kettle for a second, then trumsfer at once to a hot vegetable dish. Serve immediately, plain, or garnished with wedge-shaped pieces of lemon.

Spinach Timbales

Two cups cooked spinach or greens, two eggs, one cup milk, two tablespoons butter, one-quarter cup grated cheese, half-teaspoon salt.

Drain spinach well and chop fine. Separate eggs. Beat yolks, add milk, melted butter, grated cheese and salt and mix well. Stir in spinach. Beat egg whites stiff, fold into first mixture. Turn into greased mold. Set mold in a pan containing hot water to a depth of one inch. Bake in a moderate electric oven, 350 degrees until firm. To test for doneness insert a clean knife in the centre of a mold. If it comes out clean, the custard is baked.

Asparagus Salad

Arrange cooked, chilled asparagus on chicory watercress. Serve with French Dressing as as follows:

One teaspoon salt, half-teaspoon pepper, one-quarter cup vinegar, two tablespoons chili sauce, mix-together. Drop in half-cup salad oil, shaking after each few drops.

Asparagus Rabbit

Welsh rabbit served over cooked asparagus tips placed on toast makes a splendid luncheon dish. Crisp bacon may be served in addition.

Melt one tablespoon butter in the top part of double boiler. Blend in flour. Add one-half cup milk stirring it in gradually to make a smooth sauce. Cook until thickened somewhat and smooth. Grate half-pound cheese (two cups) and stir until melted. Add seasonings (one-quarter teaspoon salt, one-quarter teaspoon prepared mustard and one-quarter teaspoon paprika). Pour and serve immediately.

Asparagus Rolls

Cut bread thin, remove crusts and spread with butter. Place in the centre of each slice a cooked asparagus tip marinated with French Dressing. Roll bread around it and secure with tooth picks. Cut in two at an angle after thoroughly chilling the rolls. These are favourite at wedding teas.

Rhubarb Honey Chiffon Pie

Three and one-half cups rhubarb, cut in half-inch pieces, one-half cup corn syrup, three-quarters cup honey, one tablespoon of granulated gelatine one-quarter cup cold water, one tablespoon of lemon juice, two egg whites, baked eight-inch pie shell (deep). Cook rhubarb gently with corn syrup and honey until soft. Add gelatine dissolved in cold water and lemon juice. Cool, and when partially set, add egg whites beaten stiff but not dry. Pour into baked pie shell. Serve garnished with whipped cream.

Rhubarb and Prune Relish

Four pounds rhubarb, two lbs. prunes, two lbs. sugar, two lbs. corn syrup.

Cover prunes with water and leave twenty-four hours. Cut rhubarb in small pieces and sprinkle over it two pounds of corn syrup. Let stand overnight. Place prunes, water and the rhubarb, with the syrup, in kettle. Add to mixture and simmer one hour. Add two pounds sugar. Boil gently half-hour longer. Yield: 6 to 8 eight-ounce glasses.

TAKE A TIP:

Paint brush conservation: curled brush ends should be immersed in boiling water for a few moments and allowed to dry. Paint - hardened brushes can be fixed if they are placed in a bath of paint remover and left for several hours. Then brush on a smooth board.

Use the heavy frying pan to bake top-stove scones.

If you can spare a little fruit juice —pour over spare ribs, cover and bake in a moderate oven for one and one-half hours.

Make a thin creamed sauce for your scalloped potatoes.

Make commercial mayonnaise go further by using some condensed tomato soup or a relish or cream cheese with it.

When using all-purpose flour for making pastry you will get good results if you follow these rules.

1 Use two tablespoons less of all-purpose flour to substitute for each cup of pastry flour called for in a recipe.
2 Blend in lard or hydrogenated fat until the mixture is mealy. Fat should be finely blended with all-purpose, whereas it should be only blended with pastry or cake flour until it is the size of coarse oatmeal.
3 Add water quickly and lightly Every unnecessary stroke tends to make pastry tough.
4 Chill thoroughly in a covered bowl.

THE QUESTION BOBX

Mr. W. A. asks: How do you store maple syrup?—ours has a mould on already.

Answer: Sterilize small jars with rubber rings, thoroughly. Heat some syrup in a large kettle, stirring frequently. Pour into the jars just before it comes to a boil. Seal tightly and store in cool, dark place. (We recommend heating about a quart at one time to prevent "sugaring-off").

Mrs. S. G. says: I plan to steam a couple of puddings when I boil up soup bones. The batter is put into the greased baking powder tins, covered with wax paper and tied on securely. Then placed in the stock mixture.

Mrs. J. M. asks. How do you bake kippers?

Answer: The easiest and yet nutritious way: Arrange them on an oven-proof platter or pie plate and pour tomato soup over them. Dot with butter; sprinkle with seasoning and bake in a hot electric oven for twenty minutes. Serve with a slice of lemon and piping hot toast.

Mrs. B.J. asks: How do you make a good crumb pie paste?

Answer: Use very dry bread crumbs. Make fine crumbs. Combine with two teaspoons sugar and two tablespoons melted mild - flavoured shortening or butter to each cup of crumbs. Pack into pie plate about one-eighth inch thick and bake in electric oven at 350 deg. for fifteen to twenty minutes. Then cool and fill.

Mrs. A.H. says: Tell folks that their housecleaning is not finished until they clean the condensor of their electric refrigerator. We clean the fine coils twice a year with the vacuum cleaner attachment or a long handled brush. (NOTE) Pull the cord from the convenience outlet to disconnect the refrigerator before you start the cleaning.

Mrs. S. Mc. asks: Why do some pieces of home-corned beef become tough when boiled and other pieces do not.

Answer: You never "boil" ham or corned beef. If the water is kept boiling the fibres of the meat become tough. Start the meat in boiling water and boil it for several minutes so the heat will penetrate to the centre of the meat, then turn down the element so that water does not bubble but keeps at a simmering temperature.

Mrs. M.R. says: I thought the oven was the cause of my cakes burning on the bottom, but I decided it was my thin black pans, so I've been turning an old chipped enamel pan upside down to deflect the heat. Note: this is a good conservation tip.

Mrs. J.C. asks: How do you keep a large cake moist?

Answer: We cut it so that it fits into the bread box, wrap it in wax paper and then put a couple of slices of fresh bread in the box each day.

Mrs. M.H. asks: How do you cut cut rolls without sticking to the dough and how do you prevent a dry crust?

Answer: Grease the cutter frequently when you are cutting out dough. Place buns on greased bake sheet and cover with a damp towel. Let rise until double in size. Brush with top milk. Bake in electric oven, having preheated oven with top element off.

Mrs. J.V. says: (1) Keep watercress standing in a jar with a little water in it. (2) Heat lemons before you ream them to get the most juice.

Thanks to the immense strides that have been made in improving weapons, and thanks also to the skill of the British Anti-Aircraft Command the same average number of shells it took to bring down one enemy plane in 1940, now brings down eight.

I had a nightmare...

I dreamed that I paid $5.00 for a haircut and $50.00 for a pair of cardboard shoes. I dreamed that we had no wartime controls on prices, profits or wages, and that we hadn't had the sense to organize the distribution of supplies all the way down the line . . .

I dreamed that because everyone was making more money and spending it, prices were skyrocketing.

all the stores looked like "fire" sales . . . with people scrambling to buy before prices went still higher . . .

panicky people were buying things they didn't need, and hoarding everything they could get their hands on . . .

I dreamed that everybody had to fight to get more money . . . and that in this mad race, wages and salaries were falling behind.

I dreamed the hand of everyone was against his neighbour, with each of us blaming the other fellow for his troubles.

with everybody for himself . . . no matter what it cost in the long run . . . and no matter how it hurt the war effort.

THEN THANK GOODNESS — I WOKE UP!

to realize with relief that I live in a country where things are sane and stable . . . where the cost of living has been kept within bounds.

to realize that prices and wages—production costs and selling prices—are inseparably linked together.

to realize that without the safeguards that have headed off inflation, my nightmare might have become a reality!

to remind myself that the danger is still pressing and that we must continue to hold firm . . . and that means everybody must play fair and do his part by not trying to get some temporary, fancied advantage at the expense of his fellow-Canadians.

This advertisement is one of a series being issued by the Government of Canada to emphasize the importance of preventing further increases in the cost of living now and after the war.

A few of the thoughts were as follows: Years bring as well as take away. As one grows older one realizes how to be happy in making others happy. Youth may have wit, but never humour. The aristocrat in life builds steadily toward something finer, fuller, deeper, better and more worth while.

Mrs. Hugh Ramsay gave a humorous reading. Mrs. Herrington won the prize for a musical contest which was led by Mrs. Vandervoort.

AN. CONVENTION COUNTY W. A. OF UNITED CHURCHES

(By Convention Press Reporter)

The Twenty-second Annual Convention of County Women's Associations was held on Tuesday, May 23, at Grace United Church, Napanee, with an attendance of nearly 200 delegates and visitors, with the president, Mrs. Reade Roblin, of Adolphustown presiding for the sessions.

Morning Session

The morning session opened at 9:30 with the registration of delegates and visitors. The worship service was conducted by Rev. C. D. McLellan, who spoke of the many ways that as individuals and associations we may build up our thoughts to higher and more worthwhile ideals than financial interest. We need not always have in mind, "Is our effort going to bring good financial results". Evil can be wrought by our minds always centred on that thought. There are so many fields to be cultivated in our own communities where each has an opportunity to tender some helpful service to our fellowmen."

Mrs. Richard Hill, Morven, was appointed Press Reporter and the Nominating Committee was as follows: Mrs. Albert Lewis, Mrs. Elmer Allenbrack, Miss Dryden, Mrs. McMaster, Mrs. F. H. Henderson, Mrs. D. J. Cronk; and the following ladies constituted the Resolutions Committee: Mrs. P. Glover, Mrs. T. Eyland, Mrs. H. Hough, Mrs. Moore.

The secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and approved. Since the County Association is affiliated with the Dominion Council, the yearly fee of $5.00 is to be sent to Toronto. Literature for individual associations may be obtained by sending to Mrs. W. J. Inglehart, 133 Dellcrest Road, Toronto. It is most important that the name of the president and secretary of each association along with the yearly fee of 50c. be sent to the county secretary, Mrs. Muriel Perry, Wilton, the first of each year.

A donation of $5.00 was voted from the assembly, to help provide equipment for the Recreation Room for Armed Forces, which is situated in Napanee.

Out of 44 associations, 33 delegates reported for their societies.

A very interesting paper was given by Mrs. C. D. McLellan, on the Life of Dr. Geo. Wash. Carber, one of God's saints, who was a Negro scientist. Dr. Carber always spoke of God as being Mr. Creator and in all his work on the farm, in the school, laboratory, went to God with his problems and he felt and believed that his success was entirely due to God.

A very gracious welcome was extended to delegates and visitors, from the president, Mrs. W. G. Smith, on behalf of the members of Grace Church W. A. and the morning session adjourned. Dinner was served in the basement by group leaders of the entertaining W. A.

Afternoon Session

The afternoon session opened with a hymn. The reply to the welcome was very capably given by Mrs. Geo. Brooks. The reports of the Nominating Committee was as follows: President, Mrs. R. M. Roblin, Adolphustown; 1st Vice-president, Mrs. D. R. Sharpe, Sillsville; 2nd Vice-president, Mrs. D. F. Aylsworth, Bath; Secretary, Mrs. Muriel Perry, Wilton; Treasurer, Miss Willanna Clarke, Odessa. Temperance Secretary, Mrs. Albert Lewis. These officers, with Mrs. P. M. Glover, Deseronto, and Mrs. E. Purcell of Colebrooke and Mrs. W. A. Ashley, Napanee, constitute the executive. The officers were installed by Rev. K. W. Crawford, Adolphustown.

Mrs. D. F. Aylsworth dealt with the topic "Our Problems". A vocal duet, "As Comes the Breath of Spring" was sung by Mrs. Ross Pilson and Mrs. William Cochrane of Amherst Island. The offering was received and dedicated. A vocal solo "Hold Thou my Hand, Dear Lord," was sung by Mrs. Hugh Ramsay, of Newburgh.

A very impressive Memorial Service for 26 deceased members was conducted by Mrs. G. M. Chidley, who chose as her topic parts of the third and fourth chapters of the Book of Deuteronomy. Mrs. Chidley said. "Moses, like many other famous characters, died, but his work and influence lived on through the ages. Our lives belong to God and God judges us by our motives and by the purpose that is in our hearts. Death is but the dropping of the flower, that the fruit might live. What is the quality of our life?" Be strong! We are not here to play, to dream, to drift.

We have hard work to do, and loads to lift.

Shun not the struggle, face it. 'Tis God's gift to be strong.

It matters not how deep entrenched the wrong,

How hard the battle goes, the day how long —

Faint not, fight on . . .

Tomorrow comes the song.

Closing the memorial service, Mrs. James Robson sang "There's only a Shadow between."

Mrs. Frank Mills and Miss Ruth Graham sang "All a-Merry May-Time."

Mrs. James Robinson of Bath, told of experiences in temperance work, which she had encountered during her husband's pastorate in Ottawa. She gave many examples of the evils of intemperance, seen while they visited the jails and refuge for girls, old people's homes and other institutions, and she stressed the fact that each individual association has a tremendous task to help rid our country of many evils.

The following is the report of the Resolutions Committee, as given by Mrs. H. M. Hough:

1. That we extend to the Grace Church officials, members of the Woman's Association, the thanks of the convention for their welcome and hospitality.
2. That we bear in mind the nearness of invasion of occupied Europe and add our prayers to the multitude of prayers being raised at these times for the victory of our armed forces, and for strength for our soldiers, sailors and airmen in the time of need.
3. As members of the W. A. we put forth more earnest efforts to make our homes a support to our young people in this day of increased evil and temptation.
4. That we express our appreciation to the executive and to those who led in song and discussion and made the convention a success.

A cordial invitation was extended from Enterprise W. A. for the convention to be held there in 1945.

A hymn and the National Anthem brought a profitable and interesting convention to a close.

NEW BOOKS AT THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Days of Our Years — Von Paassen

"Days of Our Years" is autobiographical, but in reality it is the biography of a generation as reflected in the life of one man whose profession placed him wherever history was being made. The Second World War edition has been published in response to thousands of requests, all of which want to know what VonPaassen thinks of the present and the future.

Canada in World Affairs — The Pre-War Years — Soward

The Man From G-2— Mason.

Avalanche — Boyle

"Avalanche" is a tale of danger and courage. At the same time it is a richly emotional love story, with a hero to remember.

Journey in the Dark— Flavin

In this book, in its characters, its scene, its mood, Mr. Flavin has written a book which has its roots in the best tradition of the American novel. The story of Sam Braden's life is, in a way the story of America — a statement of its values. For Sam is typical of an age and segment of American society— a common man whose strength and weakness are the stuff of humanity everywhere.

Caravan — Smith.

A colorful, romantic novel in the best tradition of romantic adventure.

Anzee In the Sky — Ertz.

The drama of an English family, told against a background of total war. It is a brilliant chronicle of England's changing mind under the impact of total war and of the determination of men and women of ordinary qualities to seek the causes and learn the lessons of this modern catastrophe.

His book will transport you to one of the most startling regions of the earth.

Pageant of Canadian History—Peck

The book is, as the title indicates a pageant, a story of the land and its people, rather than a historian's study; written by an American to give a picture of our country to her own people, and also in the hope that it will find favour with Canadians. EMPEY FARM HOME DESTROYED BY FIRE

Fire which broke out in the kitchen part of the house, about two o'clock last Thursday afternoon, completely destroyed the fine brick residence of Mr. and Mrs. Hobert Empey who live on the Palace Road about four miles from Napanee. Most of the contents of the main part of the house were saved but the entire kitchen equipment, except an electric refrigerator and some small articles was lost. A tractor plow and a large quantity of wood in the garage attached to the kitchen, were also destroyed. Insurance carried by Mr. Empey will lonly partly covertthe loss. The fire was thought to have been caused by defective wiring.

Mrs. Empey left the house to go to the mail box at the roadside and took a letter to her husband at the barn. While talking at the barn Mr. and Mrs. Empey noticed smoke issuing around the roof of the kitchen and rushed to the house, where they found fire had broken out in the ceiling. Attempts were made to extinguish the blaze but it had made too much headway. A telephone call was put in to neighbouring farmers for assistance, but many of them were in the fields working and it was some little time before they reached the scene of the fire. In the meantime Mr. and Mrs. Empey hastened to remove the contents of the main part of the house and when help arrived most of the furnishings, except those in the kitchen were saved. A gang of men and two trucks from Strathcona Paper Mill gave valuable assistance in removing the furnishings, which were later placed in a tenant house on Mr. Empey's farm.

The house, which was built about 75 years ago, was in excellent state of repair and was equipped with modern conveniences, including a new furnace. Mr. Empey hopes to rebuild at some future date.

"My dear," said the champion borrower, when I returned Mr. Storm's lawn mower with the blade broken, he swore at me something terrible!"

His wife quilted. "Well, we don't want that sort of thing to happen again dear," she replied. "In future you'd better borrow all you want from the vicar."

PAVEMENT REPAIRS ON DUNDAS ST. BEING CONSIDERED

Estimates for Work Presented to Council

The question of rebuilding the pavement on Dundas Street, Napanee came up for consideration at the meeting of the Town Council, Monday evening, and estimates for the job were presented by the Streets Committee.

The opinion of the Councillors was that some definite action should be taken in order to preserve the investment of over $100,000 which the citizens of the town now have in the pavement.

The pavement was laid twenty three years ago and has been completely paid for. In the past few years the surface has gotten into a bad state of repair and unless work is done on it the base will also soon deteriorate. The gutters, storm sewers and curbs are all in splendid condition and the repair work, as seen at present will be only on the surface.

A contractor's estimate for a number one job called for an expenditure of $19,110. As the street is a connecting link of No. 2 Highway the Department of Highways of Ontario will pay for fifty per cent. of a 20 ft. strip down the centre of the pavement.

The Mayor D. R. Hall, and the Treasurer, M. P. Graham, were authorized to contact the Department of Highways in Toronto and present the plans and specifications for the repairs for the Department's approval. If the Highways Department sanctions the work then it will be necessary to secure the permission of the Department of Municipal Affairs of Ontario, before the work could be undertaken.

The cost of the town's share of the work could be borne by the issuance of debentures.

NAPANEE MASONS ATTEND SERVICE AT GRACE CHURCH

At Grace United Church, on Sunday morning, June 4th, members of Union Lodge No. 9, G.R.C., A.F.& A.M. attended divine worship and heard an address by the Minister, Rev. C. D. McLellan on the subject: "Let There Be light." The text for his remarks was taken from the first chapter of the Book of Genesis, the third verse: "Let there be light and there was light." This was the word of God in a world of chaos and darkness at the beginning of things. There was no light, no life, no beauty, no forests or flowers. Man could not live. God in His wisdom created the sun to give light and to make the world a place of beauty. But this was not the only light the world needed. God made man in His image and breathed into him the breath of life. Just as the trees need the light of the sun to grow and produce, so man needs the light of God. The sun brings the light of day and so the light of God shining in the darkness of moral wrong, brings the day of moral right without which man is no better than the animals.

God has given spiritual light freely to men, through Noah and Abraham, the pioneers of faith, Moses the Lawgiver, David the King, Amos, Jeremiah, Hosea, all of whom caught the glittering light of God, and through whom God's light became radiant. God always tried to show himself to the world in mercy and love but few were willing to see, and darkness remained. Then God sent His son. Darkness was past. The true light shone. But men did not receive Him. Some even avoid the light of the sun for their deeds are evil.

The speaker mentioned three areas of life where the light has not come in sufficient power, and as a consequence we suffer hardship and war. In the international realm war has been made possible by the darkness of racial prejudice. Fascism is based on racial superiority, and the light has not come to us yet. We still try to defeat God's purpose that we live together in peace and prosperity.

The second area of life where the light has not come is the social and economic realm. Standards of life of our present generation are largely determined by certain social centres that are generally accepted among us. Youth is not finding the light of God as it ought to because it is not radiated in the places they frequent. In the business world, too, the desire for profit still ranks higher than the desire to serve. Employees are "hands". Customers are buying power to be cultivated by clever advertising. Many business methods need to be revised in the light of God.

And finally the personal realm is another area that needs to be radiated with the light of God. Hold a piece of cloth to the light and you see the flaws, specks and irregular threads. So we ought to hold up our lives to the pure light of God and see their faults. Do not hold them up to the dim light of our neighbor for then we shall say we are just as good as or better than he. In the dark where some of us live, lives are poor and fruitless. Let the light of God shine in your heart. That is the will of God for you.

Fogs do not affect the existence of the sun. So people who are unaware of the light of God are living in a fog. Masonry is joined with the Christian Church in an attempt to spread the light of God in the world. Its emphasis on Christian virtues and the Bible has contributed to the enlightenment of the human mind and heart. It is the accepted duty of Masonry to bring the light of God to members and it is the accepted duty of the Church to bring the light of God to all people, everywhere. We are joined in the task of bringing the light, and we are pilgrims together in seeking the light, through Christ.

In "Pilgrim's Progress" Evangelist showed Christian a glimmer of light on the far horizon, and he said: "Keep that light in your eye and go quickly thereto. Then you will find the gate". So should we keep that light, no matter how dim, always shining in our eye. That is will the word of God to us in this dark world.

The anthem sung by the choir, under the direction of Miss Letha Scott was "The King of Love My Shepherd Is." Mrs. B. M. Black presided at the organ. Officers of Union Lodge who were in attendance were: Maurice Tierney, W.M.; Gordon Faulkener, Senior Warden; Hobert Empey, Jr., Warden; C. B. Creighton, Sr. Deacon; Albert Hill, Jr. Deacon; Dorland Bowerman, Inner Guard; John Wood, Jr. Steward; J. C. Tustin, Jr. Steward; B. Beaubien, Outer Guard, W. C. Taylor, D.D.G.M., of Westport, was also present. In the absence of W. A. Thompson, Master of Ceremonies; Wor. Bro. J. D. Mayhew, took his place.

NAPANEE COUNCIL DECIDES TO JOIN AERONAUTICAL ASS'N

Mayor Hall Reports on Recent Meeting in Toronto

Mayor D. R. Hall at the regular meeting of the Napanee Town Council, last Monday evening, gave a report of the Convention of the Aeronautical Institute of Canada which he recently attended in Toronto. After listening to the Mayor's report the Council voted unanimously for the Institute in order to be in readiness for the development of aerial travel which the Mayor was convinced would surely follow the war.

Mayor Hall stated that about 300 delegates from all across Canada attended the convention and that it was the opinion of the delegates that aerial travel on a large scale would be the general mode of transportation after the war.

The purpose of the Aeronautical Institute is to assist municipalities not at present serviced with air accommodation and to give employment to airmen after the war.

At the present time there are 560 airports in Canada, mostly military and it is proposed to establish 500 more, many of which will be known as airstrips. Airships will have an area of about 10 acres. The land will cost $3,500, grading will require another 3,500 expenditure and the erection of a station building on the airstrip will cost $3,500. The cost of the airstrip will be split between the Federal the Provincial and the Municipal governments. The Aeronautical Institute proposes to give supervision if airstrips are built.

Mayor Hall showed a blueprint of the proposed Leavens' Bros. Air Services, Limited system in Ontario which includes Napanee in its services.

Manufacturers present at the convention stated they were ready to go into production of personal planes of the helicopter type, which they expect to be able to manufacture after the war to retail at from $1,000 to $1,500, and which can be operated after about 40 minutes instruction. Air travel will be as common after the war, the Mayor stated as auto travel is at present.

The final meeting of the year of the Home and School Association of Napanee, was held in West Ward School on May 31st, with the president, Mrs. T. J. Hunt, presiding.

The meeting was opened with the reciting of the patriotism pledge, followed by the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting, and of the previous annual meeting, by the secretary, Mrs. Ashley. The treasurer, Mrs. C. McConnell, then gave the annual report, showing a balance of $25.78.

Nazi West Wall Breached Thousands Troops Pour In

Beachhead Widened on 100-Mile Front

Announcement was made early Tuesday morning, June 6th, from the Supreme Headquarters of the Allied Expeditionary Force, that Allied Forces had landed in Northern France. The German radio gave the location as being between Le Havre and Cherbourg, along the north coast of Normandy, and the south side of the Bay of the Seine.

Deep penetrations were reported to have been made on the Cherbourg Peninsula by Allied parachutists and glider troops, in great strength.

Premier Churchill told the House of Commons on Tuesday that an Allied armada of 4,000 ships, with several thousand smaller craft, carried the Allied Forces across the Channel. Mr. Churchill also said massed airborne landings had been effected behind the German lines.

Later reports stated that a penetration of at least ten miles had been made behind the Germans' coastal defences.

The assault was supported by thousands of gigantic planes, which the Germans admitted set the coastal area ablaze.

The British General, Sir Bernard Montgomery, hero of the Eighth Army victories in North Africa, Sicily and Italy, was in charge of the assault, under the command of General Eisenhower, the Supreme Invasion Commander. General Crerar was in command of the Canadian Division and Air Marshal Todder was in command of the Air Forces.

Three hours after the invasion started, it was reported the invaders were well organized on the beach.

On Tuesday evening Premier Churchill stated that Allied troops had penetrated several miles inland from the coast of France and that operations were continuing in a thoroughly satisfactory manner.

1,000 Troop transport planes and gliders carried thousands of paratroopers into France for the first attack. Since the initial landing, the beachhead of 100 miles was being widened and deepened.

The passage of troops by sea was effected with much less loss than expected.

Late reports stated that Allied paratroopers were landing in Caen and Rouen, 41 miles from the coast.

NAPANEE LIKELY TO SELL WOOD AGAIN DURING NEXT WINTER

Special Wood Committee Given Power to Act

Mayor D. R. Hall presided at the regular monthly meeting of the Napanee Town Council on Monday evening, which was attended by all the members, except Councillors Robson and Kimmerly.

C. N. Loucks appeared before the Council asking that the sewer and water service be extended on the Newburgh Road from Dairy Avenue to the street leading to the cemetery. Action was passed that the Streets Committee investigate and ascertain the cost of laying the sewer and that the Mayor contact the Public Utilities Commission with reference to extending the water service.

W. P. Graham was granted the privilege of attending the meeting of the Ontario Assessing officers in Toronto, on June 21, 22 23, if it is possible for him to be present.

A resolution was passed that the County proceed with repairs on the county link roads — the Belleville Road and the Newburgh Road, at an estimated cost of $1,450.

The Industrial Committee, of which Councillor Vanalstine is chairman, was empowered to expend up to $75 on advertising Napanee at Ontario House, London, England.

The Clerk was instructed, on motion of Deputy Daly, to write the Napanee Postmaster with reference to having the lobby of the Post Office kept open until 9 o'clock in the evenings.

Councillor Exley brought up the matter of the dangerous way in which young people are riding bicycles on the Napanee streets, and the Police Department was authorized to insert warning notices in the local papers.

The Council decided to change the accident policies on the Napanee firemen over to Workmen's Compensation, which will give the firemen much better compensation in case of accident.

The question as to whether or not the town should continue in the wood business during the next winter was discussed and it was unanimously agreed that the special wood committee be given power to act in the matter, after the councillors had expressed the opinion that the town should make arrangements to supply wood to citizens during the next winter.

During May the town expended $207.50 for relief. There were four heads of families, with fifteen dependents and seven single persons on relief.

GEN. EISENHOWER'S MESSAGE

General Dwight D. Eisenhower issued the following order of the day to his invasion troops, Tuesday:

Soldiers, sailors and airmen of the Allied expeditionary force:

You are about to embark on a great crusade. The eyes of the world are upon you and the hopes and prayers of all liberty-loving people go with you.

In company with our brave Allies and brothers in arms on other fronts you will bring about the destruction of the German war machine, elimination of Nazi tyranny over the oppressed peoples of Europe and security for ourselves in a free world.

Your task will not be an easy one. Your enemy is well trained, well equipped and battle hardened. He will fight savagely. But in this year of 1944 much has happened since the Nazi triumphs of 1940 and 1941.

The United Nations have inflicted upon the Germans great defeats in open battle, man to man. Our air offensive has seriously reduced their strength in the air and their capacity to wage war on the ground, our home fronts have given us overwhelming superiority in weapons and munitions of war, and have placed at our disposal great reserves of trained fighting men. The tide has turned and free men of the world are marching together to victory.

I have full confidence in your courage, devotion to duty and skill in battle. We will accept nothing less than full victory. Good luck and let us all beseech the blessing of Almighty God upon this great and noble undertaking.

A GREAT RECORD

The New York Times gave a brief review, in a recent issue, of the progress which the United States had made since entering the war. It is an impressive record of almost unbelievable accomplishments. It says that the Army, Navy and Air Force of the country were so small and so poorly equipped, that it was commonly said that, at the fall of France, "if Hitler had been able to land two of his armoured divisions on American soil, they could have gone joy riding through the country." Then The Times outlines some of the nation's achievements. The editorial declares that:

"To-day America has an Army of 7,700,000 men, of whom approximately half are already overseas. It has a two- ocean Navy, the biggest in the world, consisting of more than 2,800,000 fighting men and more than 14,000 ships of a combined total of 2,000,000 tons, of which 2,400,000 tons are combat vessels. And this Navy has acquired a new mobility by carrying floating bases along with it, which, for one thing, permit it to dominate the Pacific. America has, above all, the biggest Air Force in the world consisting of more than 2,300,000 men and 75,000 planes for the Army and some 30,000 planes for the Navy, which are backed by a production of 100,000 planes a year. Nearly half of that air force is also already overseas.

"But even that is only part of the story. In order to carry the war to the enemy instead of waiting until the enemy carried the war to America, the United States had to establish bases throughout the world and establish communication lines 56,000 miles long. For this purpose it first had to build a bridge of ships, which is perhaps the greatest production miracle of all. The ships built last year, alone, totalled more than 19,000,000 tons.

"Finally, in order to help our Allies hold the enemy at bay until we could get ready, America shipped to them a total of more than $20,000,000,000 worth of lend-lease goods, including 26,000 planes and innumerable quantities of other war materials."

This is a marvellous record, and a tribute to the unity of purpose, high idealism, organizing ability and manufacturing genius of a great people.

ROME TAKEN

The capture of Rome by the Armies of The United Nations, is another episode in the long and interesting history of this great city. It will rank with other great events in the life of "The Eternal City," and for the future, the Day of Rome's Liberation will be as fateful as any the city has ever known. The capture of Rome marks a milestone on the way to victory, a milestone on the journey towards the goal which the Democratic peoples have set for themselves in the overthrow of Fascism in its various forms. Fortunately, the city was not destroyed. At least five-sixths of it, so the reports say, was uninjured. When the tanks and troops of The United Nations entered the city, life was normal. People were preparing for church, and there was little to indicate that a war was in progress. For that the whole world will give thanks, for there are, in Rome treasures of art and architecture which have been woven into the life, literature and religion of the world. To have had them destroyed would have left a great void in the cultural and spiritual life of the race.

The effect of the capture of Rome will be two-fold. In the first place it will indicate that The United Nations are in the ascendency, militarily. The Germans had boasted of the impregnability of their lines of defense. These have been broken and the Germans are being pursued north of Rome. From Rome, railroads and highways branch out. The city is like a hub of a wheel with the transportation system as spokes radiating in all directions. Control of the city will place the United Nations in an advantageous military position.

But the capture of Rome will have a tremendous psychological effect on all subjugated peoples. A ray of light will be seen by them in the darkness of their captivity. It will given them heart, stir their imagination, give them hope and courage. All across Europe, whenever men and women suffer from the tyrants' heel, they will be thrilled with the prospect of their own liberation. Many who may have lost hope, will now work with the underground, confident that what happened to Rome will, sooner or later, take place in their own city, town or village.

As Canadians, we are proud that our own troops had a part to play in this great achievement. A war, however, cannot be fought without the loss of life — this is the great tragedy of war — and many of our keenest and most promising youth will have paid the supreme sacrifice in the Italian campaign, in the struggle for liberty and the things we hold dear. To those who have suffered the loss of loved ones, the nation will extend heartfelt sympathy and understanding. The joy of the moment is sobered by the sense of the price paid for our great achievement.

THIRTEEN CENTS

Mr. George J. Tustin, M.P., has been putting in a good word at Parliament for the farmers. Mr. Tustin called the attention of the Parliament to the unsatisfactory conditions which prevailed at the Napanee Poultry Fair, last Fall. The situation is one with which we are all too well familiar. Mr. Tustin put the case well. He made it perfectly clear that he was not protesting against a ceiling price for poultry to the consumer but he protested against a ceiling price being placed on poultry sold on the market when the same poultry was sold a day or two later at Toronto and Montreal, for Thirteen Cents more than the farmers were permitted to charge.

In answer to Mr. Warren, who suggested that the poultry should be graded, Mr. Tustin said the Government were unable to send graders, and because of this, the farmers were forced to take the low price for their poultry. "It made no difference." Mr. Tustin said, "how good the poultry were, all that the farmer was allowed to accept for them was 30½ cents a pound. Those chickens were taken a hundred and fifty miles to Toronto and sold to the consumer at 43 cents a pound for grade A and 42 cents a pound for grade B. I say that should not happen. It is not protecting the farmer. The point I have tried to emphasize is that the inspectors of the wartime prices trade board were on the market square and when the farmer drove up with his load of poultry it made no difference whether they were grade A, B, C or D, the inspector walked up to the farmer's rig and when the buyer came along the inspector said: 'You can pay only 30½ cents a pound for those chickens.' I say that is dictatorship. Instead of the board saying to the buyer, 'You cannot pay more than 30½ cents for those chickens," it should protect the consumers who are paying 42 or 43 cents a pound.

"In many instances the buyers wanted to pay more for this poultry last Fall but the wartime prices and trade board said it could not be done because the poultry were not graded. Instead of the board saying, 'You cannot pay more than 30½ cents a pound' they should say, 'You cannot pay the farmer less than 30½ cents'."

Mr. Warren: "Have them graded."

With all of this farmers and merchants in this community are in complete agreement.

ANOTHER GROAN

Another groan has been heard all across Ontario since it was decided to cut the amount of liquor which an individual purchaser could buy. Indeed, it is more than a groan, it could almost be called a howl. It comes from politicians, from certain newspapers and from tipplers and drinkers here, there and everywhere. We have had a very high admiration for the way in which Premier Drew has conducted Provincial affairs since taking over office. But he has recently made a trip to the West with Ontario's chief brewer as his travelling companion. This may have had some influence on his attitude to the liquor rationing issue. At any rate, many of his friends and well wishers are disappointed in the way in which he reacted to the present necessary reduction in the liquor ration. To suggest, as the Premier suggested, that all restrictions by the Dominion, be removed, and that the Provinces be held responsible for the amount distributed, is to suggest a situation that would be intolerable.

The same old arguments that were used by Canon Cody and Honorable Howard Ferguson, to defeat the O. T. A., are being trotted out again. Remove all restrictions and there would be less intemperance, less bootlegging, less crime. In the light of the history of the past few years, how hollow these appear. Bootlegging is rampant, crimes of violence have increased by leaps and bounds, drunkenness is on the increase.

There is one inevitable end to all this business. It cannot go on from bad to worse as it has been going on. The Government, sooner or later, will have to take over the manufacture, as well as the sale of liquor, lock, stock and barrel. Remove the profit from the liquor business and the high-powered pressure brought on politicians to give the green light to the traffickers in booze, would fade away.

A tunnel linking Prince Edward Island to the mainland is suggested as the only solution to the Island's transportation problem. The project is being considered as a post-war measure.

CAPT. WALTER EXLEY TELLS EXPERIENCES AT RED CROSS MEETING

Recently Returns From Overseas After Being Wounded

On Saturday afternoon the Red Cross rooms were filled to capacity when Captain Walter W. Exley, who has recently been invalided home, gave an intimate account of his life overseas during the past two years.

Captain Exley enlisted in the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment nearly four years ago and in March, 1942 was sent back to Canada as an instructor, for eight months. Arriving back in England in December, 1942, to rejoin his unit, he was soon engaged in practice invasion tactics off the coast of Scotland. He was separated from his unit during the campaign in Sicily but rejoined it in Italy in time for the siege of Ortona, when it was given the task of clearing the ridge and high ground to the west of the town.

The trip from Africa to Naples was made on board a Dutch steamer, and from Bari it was a long and tiresome journey north, by trucks, to Ortona. The last twelve miles were covered on foot. Captain Exley spent his birthday, December 28th, out with snipers patrolling on the Eighth Army front.

On January 15th, after a ten-day rest the unit was picked to take an area about thirty miles from Ortona. On January 30th, it started up a trail, was caught in cross fire from machine guns and Captain Exley received a leg wound. He waited in a dug-out for over an hour until stretcher bearers could come to remove him the one and a half miles of rough trail to the Regiment Aid Post, where the medical officer changed the dressings and cauterized the wound. The Padre was also in attendance and he has since won the Military Cross for helping to evacuate casualties.

From this station it was a cold ride on top of a Jeep to the Ambulance post, where a well known surgeon from Oshawa gave Capt. Exley Penicillin. At the Field Surgical Unit he was given an anaesthetic and woke up to find himself surrounded by the images in an Italian church. A Nursing Sister brought him a Red Cross bag of toilet articles for by this time his only possession was a pair of pyjamas.

The next stop was No. 4 Casualty Clearing Station which was the first Canadian hospital which he had seen, and from there a fourteen hour train journey brought him to No. 1 Canadian General Hospital, which was set up in an old Italian hospital building. Here he experienced the speed and effectiveness of a new anaesthetic. At this hospital and at No. 14 Canadian General Hospital to which Captain Exley was later removed, the Red Cross representatives brought to the patients reading and writing material, chocolate bars, cigarettes and oranges every morning.

After the cast had been removed from his leg, the patient was taken by ambulance to Naples and there embarked on the "Lady Nelson" for England, where he was sent to the Canadian General Hospital at Taplow, and at the end of six weeks he was able to walk fairly well. At this hospital the Red Cross had a hut where the men were taught leather work and other crafts. Men confined to bed were also taught this work. The Red Cross took care of all cablegrams and messages to relatives, and in fact did anything asked of them as the patients were confined within the hospital grounds.

At Halifax the hospital ship was met by bands and crowds of reporters. On the hospital train a representative of the Red Cross gave out oranges and cigarettes and good British Columbia apples, which were greatly appreciated by the patients. Captain Exley closed his remarks by stating how happy he was to be home again and by assuring those present that magazine and newspaper subscriptions do reach the boys in Italy.

The audience was very much interested to hear this day by day account of the experiences of Captain Exley, and especially appreciated his references to the Red Cross and what it had done for him. Mrs. Ham voiced the thanks of those present to Captain Exley, and also appealed for more workers to help carry on the very necessary work.

Miss Herrington, President of the Napanee Branch, also expressed her thanks to the speaker and announced the date of the Red Cross Garden Party to be Wednesday, June 14th, at the home of Mr. W. S. Herrington. The speaker will be Mr. Stafford Roberts, Commissioner of the Ontario Division of The Canadian Red Cross. Tea was served by Mrs. W. S. Phippen and Mrs. T. Austin Smith assisted by Miss M. Nolan.

GEO. J. TUSTIN, M.P. PROTESTS PRICES PAID FOR POULTRY

Ottawa. — Farmers selling poultry were "robbed" because of Prices Board inspectors and "inflexible" regulations which were laid down by "white collared boys who were never in the poultry business." Opposition members said Tuesday, May 30, in the Commons.

With a Finance Department appropriation of $15,600,000 for Prices Board Administration before it, the House debated board regulations throughout the afternoon.

Geo. J. Tustin, (P.C., Prince Edward-Lennox) said that when ungraded poultry was sold at a poultry fair at Napanee, Ont., Prices Board inspectors prevented farmers receiving higher prices for better quality birds.

"My contention is that the farmers were robbed of from seven to eight cents a pound due to the way in which the Prices Board handled the situation," he said.

No End to Consequences

Hon. R. B. Hanson (P.C., York-Sunbury) said "white-collared boys" in Ottawa laid down regulations covering the poultry business without knowing how they would affect the producer and consumer.

"The regulations are so inflexible, and then those who are administering them hold the fear of fine and imprisonment over the people," he continued.

"That is the kind of thing the people are rebelling against today, and this Government will find out when they go to the polls."

Mr. Tustin said that practically an "army" of board inspectors appeared at the Napanee poultry fair last December.

Their operations had resulted in farmers receiving less for fresh poultry, than they should, he said.

The inspectors placed blackboards on the market square saying what ceiling prices should be paid. The poultry had not been graded and the producers were forced to sell at the ungraded price.

Mr. Tustin said he believed it was unfair that there should be a spread of some 13 cents a pound between the price paid to producers and that paid by the consumer. He believed that some ungraded fowl sold at the fair for 30½ cents a pound and later had been sold to consumers in Toronto and Montreal at 43 cents a pound as Grade A.

Dr. J. K.-Blair (L., Wellington North), said there should be arrangements provided so that fowl could be properly graded and "bootlegging" halted.

Three - Way Application

Douglas Abbott, Parliamentary assistant to Finance Minister Ilsley, said that ceiling prices on poultry were applied on the producer, wholesaler and retailer.

Mr. Tustin said his protest was that farmers had been forced to sell at the ungraded level, to the advantage of the buyers.

"The Grades do hold them they could not have the Grade 'A' price," said Mr. Hanson.

Nothing would bring the defeat of the present Government more quickly than the way the Prices Board regulations were applied.

"I could run a whole campaign on this issue and be elected," said Mr. Hanson.

R. M. Warren (L., Renfrew North) said that grading facilities had been set up by farmers in various centres with improvement in the quality of production. The producers would be harmed if poultry was sold ungraded and the Prices Board should not be blamed.

Mr. Tustin said a farmer should not be "shelled out" of 13 cents a pound for poultry because he could not have it graded. He agreed with grading, but it had got been possible for the Napanee producers to have grading undertaken last December. The Prices Board inspectors had told buyers they must pay no more than 30½ cents a pound for chicken, no matter what its quality.

A new system of memory training was being taught in a village school, and the teacher was becoming enthusiastic.

"For instance," he said, "supposing you want to remember the name of a poet—Bobby Burns. Pix in your mind's eye a picture of a policeman in flames. See—Bobby Burns?"

"Yes, I see," said a bright pupil. "But how is one to know it does not represent Robert Browning?"

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, JUNE 11TH, 1944

PAUL PLEADS FOR A RUNAWAY SLAVE

Lesson Text: Philemon 1-21.

The Book of Philemon is a little personal letter from Paul to a friend. It is the only personal letter that has come down to us. It is an intimate and attractive note which should be read through in a sitting. It takes only a few minutes to read it. The letter was written while Paul was a prisoner, quite probably in Rome.

Philemon, Paul's friend, lived in Colossae. He had a slave named Onesimus. According to the law of the land and the customary usage, the slave was the property of Philemon. He could do as he wished with him, beat him, abuse him, even kill him, and nobody would do anything about it. Onesimus ran away from his master, which is one of the most serious offenses of which a slave can be guilty. He went to Rome. There he hunted up Paul. Perhaps he had seen Paul in the home of his master and fled to him for safety after reaching Rome or it may be that he had been attracted by Paul and ran off to join himself to Paul. Whatever the reason, we do not know.

Once in the presence of Paul the slave came under the spell of his teaching. Paul persuaded Onesimus to become a Christian. This made adjustments necessary. Onesimus had been wrong to Philemon. So now, as a Christian he must make himself right with his former owner. After talking it over, no doubt, with Paul, Onesimus decides to return and throw himself on the mercy of Philemon.

Paul decides to write a letter to Philemon, and to send it by Tychicus his friend. He undertakes to appeal to Philemon on the ground of Christian fellowship and love. He knows full well that on the legal score, Philemon could seek vengeance on the slave. Paul, therefore, makes no appeal to the law. But he makes his appeal entirely on the basis of Christian fellowship and love.

We have no way of knowing whether or not the letter ever was received, or what happened to Onesimus. It would be interesting information if it were available. The main interest for us, however, lies in the message and in the way in which Paul managed a very delicate situation. The name Onesimus means helpful. Paul uses this name and make a play on it "Onesimus," he writes, "was once unprofitable, he is now profitable to you and to me." Christianity had worked the change. It had made an unprofitable servant into a profitable one. Incidentally, of course, the whole letter shows the way in which Paul uses his own misfortune to further the cause of Jesus Christ.

Several points in the letter are of special significance to us today. The high basis on which Paul makes his appeal to Philemon. He might have kept Onesimus himself but did not want to do so without knowing what Philemon would think of him to do.

Then he suggests that perhaps Providential things had occurred, went to Rome and found Paul, that Onesimus might become a Christian. He is a changed man now and will be more dependable. Paul responds to him before.

He asks Philemon to receive Onesimus as a brother beloved. It is still to be your slave but now he is a brother in Christ. Receive him as you would treat me.

These are bold and startling demands which Paul makes upon Philemon. But they were justified because in Christ all men are on the same level. All differences were wiped out. A man was not to be on the basis of his character and his service as a human being created in God's image. Paul made no attack on the institution of slavery, but he set in motion forces which finally destroyed it. Christ had said, "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free." Paul was beginning in a small way and was leading to a crescendo in succeeding generations which finally abolished the traffic in human lives.

We have no problem of slavery in our day, but the principle Paul enunciates, holds. Christian fellowship knows no place for social or class prejudices. Take Onesimus, the slave, back as a brother, says Paul. Let the brotherhood also prevail in all walks of life; that is the basis of demands

The sudden death of Mrs. James Francis occurred on Tuesday, May 30th, at Kingston General Hospital where she had been a patient for several weeks, suffering from pneumonia. She appeared to be making good progress but suddenly passed away as the result of a blood clot.

Mrs. Francis was formerly Julia Anita Carroll and was born in South Fredericksburgh, a daughter of Thos. and Lucy Carroll. Following her marriage to Mr. Francis, she resided at Conway until twenty-one years ago, when with her family she moved to Napanee where she had since resided. She was a lifelong member of the Anglican Church, attending St. Mary Magdalene's Church since coming to Napanee.

She is survived by her husband and two daughters, Jean, Mrs. Geo. Russell, Cremorne, Ont., and Miss Shirley, at home. She also leaves three sisters, Mrs. John Perry, Rochester, N.Y., Mrs. Percy Benn in Alberta, and one in Vancouver. There are also two brothers, Joseph, in Rochester, N.Y., and Thos. Carroll in Napanee.

Her funeral was conducted at her late residence, East Street, on Friday afternoon, by Archdeacon Dumbrille and interment followed at Riverview Cemetery. The pall-bearers were: Messrs. Herb. Lloyd, Fred Lloyd, Herbert Hegadorn, Richard Whitfield, Arthur Whitfield, and James Carroll.

The Late Mrs. William Goodman

Following a short illness, Mrs. William Goodman, one of the most highly respected citizens of the Bethany district, passed away at her home near Bethany in her 78th year on Friday, May 26th. Up until a few years ago, Mrs. Goodman, was an active member of Bethany United Church and its various organizations.

She was predecessed twelve years ago by her husband and is survived by her only son, William H. Goodman, with whom she made her home. She is also survived by her sister, Mrs. Simmons, of Napanee.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. A. C. McCallum at the family home and at Bethany United Church on Sunday, May 28th, and interment, followed at Riverview cemetery. Pall-bearers were Messrs. Taylor Spencer, James Hicks, Frank Clarke, Vernon Joyce, George Hawley and Russell Phalen.

Talk about your fastball! . . . We are sure seeing and hearing plenty these days.

According to all reports and no doubt the majority of same are true Another team has been mustered and are clamoring to get in the league.

That's not the biggest part of the news. The team has been organized at the request of a considerable number of the players who had formerly intended to play on the Gibbard sponsored Napanee team.

That leaves the original management practically holding the bag, and in all it sums up to a "softball strike" on the part of the few players able to play ball this season.

Very little could be learned from the players, except that the team would be sponsored by "Hunter's Cleaners" and will be ably coached by Ernie Marshall.

Of late very little enthusiasm has been in evidence at the several practices called by the Gibbard management and on Monday, yours truly paid a visit to the Park to see the boys warm up.

Going by the Collegiate grounds we noticed a strong turn-out on that grounds and gaped long enough to recognize quite a few of the factory team. At the Gibbard Park a few were on the grounds but none of the expected players.

We returned to the School of Learning and heard several reasons for the sudden change of affairs.

None of these would be of interest to the fans and the main thing settled was . . .

They were going to play softball either in the Bayshore Fastball League, or just fool around and play exhibition affairs. And from what we could gather from those who have the final say — the players themselves have their minds made up.

The only bad feature about the whole matter is that it should have been ironed out before the league got under way.

However, from all angles it should not interfere too much because now not likely the Factory will bother with a team and the "Cleaners" will in all probability assume the franchise for this season.

But, if Gibbard's still maintain a team it means a postponement or revision of the schedule now appearing in this paper.

The management of the "Cleaners" team have made application for an entry in the League and as yet, no word has come from officials of the Association as to whether the play will stop to pick up the late team or go on without it.

No matter how it turns out the games are going to be interesting and we are sure you'll get your dime's worth.

In Loving Memory

THOMPSON — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Mr. Eli Thompson, who passed away on June 9th, 1940.

In a graveyard, quietly sleeping,
Where the green grass gently waves,
Lies the one we loved so dearly
Whom we loved, but could not save.
Those who have a father—
Treasure him with care . . .
As you never know his value,
Till you see his vacant chair.

OTTAWA SETS PRICE CEILING ON HIRED GOODS

Ottawa, (CP) — Persons who since 1941 have begun to rent used articles such as household furniture, cameras and bicycles, must have their rental charges approved, the Prices Board said in announcing a new order tightening control over the pricing tagging and rental of used goods.

Goods covered by the order's new rental clauses are used bicycles cameras, binoculars, lenses and photographic equipment, clothing, domestic or industrial sewing machines, electric motors and equipment, household furniture, wooden office furniture and wooden office equipment, mechanical refrigerators, pianos, radios and vacuum cleaners.

The provisions do not apply to the leasing of any goods by a landlord to a tenant of a dwelling or business place, since rental regulations already apply in these cases.

Dealers who were renting used goods during the basic price ceiling period in 1941 — September 15th to October 11th — must observe the rental rates established then. The order provides for pricing used articles for which specific ceiling prices have not already been established.

Used goods sold in a retail store at $15 or more must be tagged to show that the article is used, the price, and whether the article has been repaired or reconditioned. Dealers in scrap goods are to observe their basic period prices unless an order passed or concurred in by the Prices Board has authorized other ceilings.

More Paper Required To Ship Supplies

Canada needs more paper to make more boxes to ship more supplies to the armed forces overseas, National Salvage officials ask Canadians to save all waste paper for local salvage drives.

Did you know that 50 pounds of waste paper will make:

100 containers for blood plasma—or

525 cartons for emergency lifeboat rations — or

6 Protective bands for 500-pound bombs—or

150 cartons, each containing one tube of poison gas ointment—or 50 cartons each containing 10 doses of fever vaccine.

TAMWORTH

MUSICAL FESTIVAL

Tamworth, June 5. — The Town Hall was filled to capacity on Friday night when a very successful music festival was carried out by Miss Scott, music teacher in the Tamworth Continuation School. The whole program was staged by school pupils. The opening group of about 25 children in Grades 1, 2 and 3, was followed with selections from the Rhythm Band by the same pupils. Little Miss Winnifred Harlton acted as band mistress.

The remainder of the entertainment consisted of piano solos, two-part songs, choruses, groups, a one-act comic play, and a violin solo by Master Jack Moore of Napanee.

Mr. H. J. Millar, Principal of the School, was asked for a few remarks. In his brief talk he mentioned the complete harmony in the teaching staff, also that every parent was a teacher, that it was found that delinquent pupils always come from delinquent homes. Teachers have very little trouble with pupils who come from homes where they get home training. He left a challenge with the people, saying: "Let us, as parents, realize that our first duties are to train our boys and girls at home into good moral living."

Mr. James Hughes, of the teaching staff, introduced Mr. Hallman, of Sharbot Lake, Inspector of Public Schools. In his brief remarks Mr. Hallman commended the music teacher, Miss Scott, and the classroom teachers, upon the splendid performance of the evening.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE MEETING

The May meeting of the Women's Institute was held on Tuesday, May 30th, at the home of Mrs. W. R. Richmond, with an attendance of 15 members and five visitors.

The roll call was answered with "What does the Women's Institute Program mean to me?" Various answers were given.

After the minutes were read, several letters and cards were read from boys overseas, who had received cigarettes from the W. I. A newspaper from one of the boys serving in Italy was passed around.

Girls' work was then discussed, and as there had been no leader appointed for this year, nom nations were called for. Moved by Mrs. Clarence, Milligan, seconded by Mrs. T. Scanlin, that Mrs. W. G. Richmond be leader. Carried.

Moved by Mrs. S. Gilmour, seconded by Mrs. J. W. Bradshaw, that Mrs. T. Scanlin be assistant.

Mrs. Smith Gilmour took charge of the program. A clas leal piano duet was rendered by Miss Margaret Mitchell and Mrs. W. W. Redden, which was much enjoyed. Mrs. Mitchell then demonstrated some art work done by some of her school children. This is taught by Miss Mitchell, and a part of it is done with corrugated paper.

Mrs. E. M. Pedley also displayed serving trays and other articles made by herself out of paper and paste. Mrs. Pedley learned this work of art in the Women's Institute in England.

Community singing was enjoyed for several numbers.

Mrs. Clarence Milligan gave a very splendid report of the W. I. convention, which was held in Camden East on May 26th.

Receipts of the evening were $5.08.

After singing the National Anthem, lunch was served by the hostess and her committee.

X-RAY CLINIC

The Provincial Department of Health, Tuberculosis Division, conducted an X-Ray Clinic in this village on Wednesday of last week.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

Respecting further restrictions in the sale of Spirituous Liquors in the Province of Ontario

It has become necessary to reduce again the amount of spirits which can be purchased by individual permit holders in the Province of Ontario. This is something over which the Liquor Control Board of Ontario has no discretionary authority. Under P.C. 11374 the Dominion Government limited the amount of spirits which could be obtained for sale in the Province of Ontario to 70 percent of the amount obtained from November 1st, 1941, to October 31st, 1942. That means that by the order of the Dominion Government there became available in Ontario for annual sale 1,153,594 gallons of proof spirits.

It is a problem in simple arithmetic.

All that the Board can do is to adjust the quantity available to holders of permits so that the total amount procurable for sale under the Dominion Government Order P.C. 11374 can be distributed throughout the whole year. Due to the increase in the number of permits, and the extent to which the permit holders are purchasing spirits each month, it now becomes necessary to reduce the amount which can be purchased by individual permit holders or there will be no spirits available for sale during the closing months of the present year. The following table shows in simple form exactly what has been taking place:

	Number of Permits outstanding at month end	Monthly ration	Aggregate to fill monthly ration
January, 1943	155,295	160 oz.	108,702 proof gals.
January, 1944	1,227,459	26 oz.	139,623 proof gals.
March, 1944	1,282,938	26 oz.	145,934 proof gals.

A recent survey of the sales for the present year and the amount still available under the limits imposed by the Dominion Government make it necessary to limit purchases on the following basis as of the first of June.

FROM THE FIRST OF JUNE UNTIL THE END OF THE PRESENT OPERATING YEAR EACH PERMIT HOLDER WILL BE PERMITTED TO PURCHASE ONE BOTTLE (25 or 26 ounce) OF SPIRITS EVERY TWO MONTHS OR TWO HALF-BOTTLES, WHEN AVAILABLE.

LARGE GATHERING ENDORSES PROPOSED MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

Committee Named to Further Consider the Project

At a well-attended meeting of representatives of municipal councils and community organizations from all parts of the county of Lennox and Addington held in the Napanee Town Hall on Monday evening, June 12th, it was decided that steps be taken to establish a Memorial Hospital in the best location, to serve the needs of the County of Lennox and Addington.

The project has been under consideration by the members of the Napanee Lions Club and after careful investigation the public meeting of all public organizations in the county was held last Monday evening, when Rev. C. D. McLellan, chairman of the Lions club committee dealing with the proposed hospital, introduced the subject. Warden J. G. Daly, presided at the meeting, which was addressed by C. J. Telfer, Inspector of Hospitals for Ontario.

A motion was passed that a representative committee be appointed to explore the whole matter of establishing a hospital in the County of Lennox and Addington and take such steps as are necessary to form a Hospital Association.

The committee appointed is as follows: Dr. D. R. Hall chairman, the Reeves and Deputy Reeves of the municipalities within the county, Dr. T. M. Galbraith and Dr. J. M. Munro, representing the Medical Association, Mrs. James Haggerty, Napanee, and Mrs. Earl Boyce, Harrowsmith, representing the Womens' Institute; Miss Lenore Herrington, President of the Red Cross; Mrs. D. R. Hall, the Regent of the I.O.D.E.; Mrs. T. J. Hunt, President of the V.O.N.; C. L. Graham, President of the Children's Aid Society; Geo. H. Switzer and W. K. Huston, Rotary; George Daly, Gerald F. Smith, W. S. Wilson, Rev. C. D. McLellan, Archdeacon R. J. Dumbrille, W. W. McCabe, Thomas Herrington, W. J. Wiggins, Jack McPherson, Rev. G. M. Chidley.

The committee was given power to add to its numbers.

MR. TELFER'S ADDRESS

Mr. C. J. Telfer, the Inspector of Ontario Hospitals, in a brief talk, outlined the steps to take in considering the establishment of a hospital. He suggested that a representative group of citizens be asked to permit their names to be submitted as a Board of Directors of the Hospital, which will have to be organized under the Companies Act.

The approval of the Minister of Health will be necessary when plans have been formulated, before the hospital can actually be established.

Support of every organization in the county should be secured in order to insure the success of the hospital.

The province, Mr. Telfer stated, has never made any provision for capital grants for General Hospitals and the establishment of a hospital is definitely the responsibility of the community.

$32,000 is spent annually in this county by the Ontario Government for health services. Under the present hospitalization scheme in the province there would be a guarantee of operating costs by the province if a hospital is established.

The General Committee named at Monday night's meeting will report progress at a later date.

Prayer for Invasion Hour

Lord of all, we seek Thy face,
Kneeling in humility.
In Thine holy dwelling-place,
Hear us as we pray to Thee.
In this dark and anxious hour,
Show us Thy power !

When upon the lonely deep
Trusting hearts cry out to Thee,
Keep, O Father, safely keep
All who serve upon the sea.
Hear our prayer for those we love
Saviour above !

May the soldiers of the King
When swift death is hovering,
In the shadow of Thy wing
Find a mighty covering.
Fold the dying to Thy breast
Safely to rest !

Guard our boys who fly above
In the pathways of the air.
Send them Thy protecting love,
Make them feel that Thou art there.
Undeserving though we be,
Lord, hear our plea !

Lord, in dark Gethsemane,
Thou did'st kneel in bitter pain.
Here we bring in penitence
Contrite hearts to Thee again.
In this dread invasion hour,
Show us Thy power !

REPORTS ARE GIVEN BY LOCAL DELEGATES TO C.A.S. CONVENTION

Societies Urged to Increase Interest in Prevention Work

On Thursday evening, June 8, at the regular meeting of the Lennox and Addington Children's Aid Society, C. L. Graham, the president, and W. F. Barrett, the superintendent, gave reports of the annual provincial meeting of the Children's Aid Association, which they had attended in Toronto the previous week.

The delegates reported that great stress had been laid by all speakers at the convention on the need for greater prevention work by the societies in view of the fact that recently the number of children in the care of the Children's Aid throughout the province had greatly increased.

Juvenile delinquency was also discussed and societies were urged to consider the problem seriously and to attempt, if possible, to provide more recreational facilities and employment for spare time for boys and girls, as a means of directing their energies into the right channels.

The fact that many homes are more or less broken up by the fathers being away at the war, and in some cases the mothers at work, was given as one of the chief causes of juvenile delinquency.

The societies were asked to try to form local committees throughout their districts to act as agencies for reporting needy cases among children. Women's Institute and church organizations would provide a splendid nucleus for such committees.

After hearing of the welfare work done in many of the counties of the province, the Lennox and Addington delegates were convinced that only the fringe of welfare work in the county had been touched. The Children's Aid Society with only one paid worker for the whole of the county, the V. O. N. operating only in Napanee and the service clubs doing a limited amount of welfare work could not possibly meet the great need.

The Deputy-Minister of Public Welfare, B. W. Heise, spoke of the lack of co-operation among existing agencies in the counties and even in the Ontario Department.

Dr. Vivian, the Minister of Public Welfare, in an address at the convention, spoke of the need for coordinating welfare work and in this connection said:

"Public welfare units could be created on a similar basis to the county health units to undertake all investigations for admissions to the houses of refuge, various hospitals, relief, old age pensions mothers' allowances, pensions for the blind, and such other services as presently fall within the realm of Provincial or municipal public welfare activity.'

"Uniformity of practice throughout the Province could be attained by establishing complete standards of organization, administration and policy; and by organizing a system of supervision and inspection from the Provincial level.

"It would seem apparent that each of the county units could expand readily from a skeleton organization to a very elaborate one, to meet any sort of public welfare emergency. There are the additional advantages of providing a uniform public welfare service throughout the Province

Car Afire on John St.

On Tuesday afternoon some excitement was caused on John Street, when a car belonging to Reg. Bowen parked near J. A Rogan's law office, was discovered to be on fire. Attempts were made to extinguish the fire but finally the Fire Department was called and by using extinguishers, the fire was put out.

Apparently wires in the dash board had short circuited and the fire was smouldering for some time around the dash and down the sides. No great amount of damage was done to the car.

Presentation Made At Board Meeting Of Grace Church

Following the meeting of the Official Board, held in Grace Church on Tuesday evening, the wives of the members of the Board served refreshments, and a presentation was made to Mr. Wm. J. Barrett, Chairman of the Building Committee, and Mr. G. F. Smith, Secretary of the Committee, in recognition of the great service they had rendered in connection with the remodelling and reconstruction of the church building following the fire.

Rev. C. D. McLellan, in making the presentation, stated that many others had done much to help, giving voluntary service in cleaning up the church after the fire and in other ways, but these two men carried a large share of the responsibility and were on the job every day, one days two and three times. The church members are grateful to them for their untiring efforts and the capable manner in which they guided the business of the building. Before the presentation Mrs. B. M. Black and Mrs. Bert Seymour played a number on the piano.

During a meeting of the Official Board Mr. Ernie Gibbard and Mr. Percy Seymour were appointed on a motion of appreciation to all who had helped in giving time and work to the reconstruction of the church.

SEVEN JUVENILES APPEAR IN COURT ON THEFT CHARGES

All are Given Suspended Sentences

A wave of juvenile delinquency, resulting in the appearance on Monday afternoon in the Napanee Magistrate's Court of seven boys from the age of 8 years to 15 years, struck Napanee and the surrounding district within the past two weeks.

While some of the acts committed were of a really serious nature, they, nevertheless were in the criminal category and if they had been committed by older persons would have called for severe penalties.

In each of the seven cases the Magistrate showed considerable leniency and the culprits were allowed to go on suspended sentences, and payment of costs in some instances.

The fact that seven young boys appeared in Court on one day in a small rural community such as Napanee focuses attention on the alarming trend of juvenile delinquency, which is prevalent throughout the country and gives thoughtful citizens cause to wonder what can be done to remedy the situation.

Two Napanee boys, aged 14 and 15, and girl, 9, to theft of two gasolines from Harold Yeomans, R.R. 3, Napanee. They were allowed to go on suspended sentence after paying for one of the gallons which died before it could be returned to its owner and on payment of two dollars Court costs. Both boys had previously been before the Magistrate for petty thieving.

Two boys from the Odessa district, also aged 14 and 15, stole lumber from the lumber yard operated by Roy Babcock, Odessa, to use in building a boat. They had the lumber in some bushes one night. The next day the owner missed it and discovered where it was hidden, so decided to watch on the following night, with the result that he caught the boys in the act of removing it. The culprits were given a suspended sentence of two years on payment of costs of the Court.

Three boys from Colebrook, aged 8, 9 and 10 years, pulled off the most daring robbery of the seven. At about 11.30 p.m. they entered the office of the Woodcraft mill where they cleaned out the till of the change which had been left in it, amounting to about seven dollars. In order to gain entrance to the mill they placed some planks against a window, 10 feet from the ground, and entered through the window. With the aid of a flashlight they found their way to the till. When they were leaving the mill grounds they were observed by an employee who gave chase. After some difficulty the three boys were caught and allowed to go home. The next day the police were notified and before their arrival some of the money was returned to the owner.

NOW IS THE TIME

Now is the time for Prime Minister Mackenzie King to implement his promise to send the Draftees overseas as soon as they were needed. When are they going to be needed? That is the question that every person must be asking, who contemplates the present world situation. We have been informed by the Government that the whole country is going to be combed to find men, men for the armed forces, men for essential industry. What does this mean, save that the Government is aware of a serious shortage of manpower. The Government knows that men and more men are needed as reinforcements for the armies overseas. Where are these men to come from. Where, save from the Zombie Army. If re we have a bank of 75,000 or 80,000 men. What are they doing? Nothing save a little drilling and being kept at the country's expense. But Mr. King says they will be sent overseas when needed. On their own statement, men are needed now. Under these circumstances what is holding back the Government? We have the answer; we believe it is due to the unwillingness on the part of the Government to go against the wishes of one province in this country.

The situation is serious. Men are dying now, at this minute in Italy and in France; their places must be filled, if the whole military edifice of which we are so proud, and of which we have so justly boasted, is not to be left unsupported by ample reserves. The Government is busy seeking to get certain agencies throughout the country to support it in a great recruiting campaign in order to meet this need. The whole business is a disgrace to our war effort. The farce should be ended at once. The Army needs men, the men are available — the Government must act.

THE RAINS CAME

The rain which soaked the Napanee area over the week end was worth hundreds of thousands of dollars to the community. It was strange that though there had been rain in most parts of Ontario and indeed in places not so far from here, yet we seemed to have been neglected, until the recent downpour. It came in the nick of time. Now the crops seem assured of plenty of moisture — at least for quite a while. The rain will help the berry crop, roots, garden stuff and the hay crop. This latter is of paramount importance in an area, like our own, which depends so much on dairying.

The prevalence of rain and moisture which ensures a good crop in Ontario forces another problem however. Just at a time when the demand for food is the greatest, and when the Ontario crop bids fair to be a bumper one, there is a lamentable and very serious shortage of labour to take care of it. The Ontario Government is frankly worried about the situation and is appealing to all citizens to do what they can to assist the farmer in his present plight. The need for food to feed the Forces, to feed the people of Great Britain, was never greater than it is at the present time. Not a particle of our Canadian crop should be wasted. Nature has done her part, the farmers have done theirs — it now rests with all who can possibly get the time, to give it to the harvesting of these crops. The Government has organized Farm Commando Brigades, Holiday Brigades, Businessmen's Groups and many other organizations in an endeavour to enlist the services of all classes in the community. The Selective Service, Agricultural Representative or Farm Service Force, Parliament Buildings, Toronto, will supply all necessary information.

DeGAULLE TO SEE PRESIDENT

General deGaulle is none too happy over the treatment he has received at the hands of The United Nations. It must not be forgotten that he, of all the French leaders, fled France in her hour of defeat and placing himself at the disposal of Great Britain, worked with might and main for the defeat of Germany. He somehow or other symbolizes the spirit of France, the spirit of a nation suffering temporary defeat, but determined to rise again.

There was very little problem over the position and status of deGaulle until the invasion of Africa. From then on there was trouble. For some reason or another deGaulle was not satisfactory to the United States. He was, however, satisfactory to Great Britain and was enthusiastically supported by Russia. It was not until after a lot of haggling, a lot of compromising and bickering, that deGaulle became finally the acknowledged head of the French Committee of Liberation, with headquarters in Algiers.

But even after being recognized as the head of the Committee of Liberation, his position with respect to the Government of France has never been clarified. DeGaulle claims that he is the head of the French Government, and that he should be in charge of the political organization in all French occupied territory, until such times as the French people are able to speak for themselves, and to express their views in a Democratic way. So far, however, this claim of deGaulle's has not been met by the United Nations.

President Roosevelt who did not seem to be impressed with deGaulle at Casablanca, has agreed to meet him and talk matters over. Just what will emerge from this meeting, is hard to say. Neither President Roosevelt nor deGaulle are easily persuaded to change their minds. And yet some sort of a solution to this awkward situation should be found. We have always had a suspicion that the attitude of the three nation, Russia, Great Britain and The United States towards deGaulle reflects the social temper of public opinion in each. Russia, wholly Socialist, is enthusiastic in supporting him, Great Britain, becoming Socialist, supports him less enthusiastically, while The United States still cautious about social change, opposes him. Whether this diagnosis is correct or not, at any rate there seems to be some unannounced fear in the States, of deGaulle. The forthcoming conference should clear the air somewhat and make deGaulle's position clear until the French people have a chance to speak for themselves.

GETTING ON

The war situation in Northern France is changing so rapidly that what is written to-day may be out of date tomorrow. One fact seems to be conceded by all in the know, and that is that The United Nations have established a bridgehead from which they are confident it will be impossible to dislodge them. That is the most significant feature of the present situation. Its value cannot be overestimated. Future historians will, in all probability, accept that as the most important event in the whole war in the West. Rommell had counted on being able to prevent a successful launching. He had inspected the "Western defenses only two weeks before 'D' Day. He was satisfied that the forces under his control would be able to repel any attempted landing long enough to enable him to bring up reserves. Several factors threw the German calculations out of gear. In spite of all the rumors, the attack, when it came, seemed to catch the Germans off guard. Then too, the terrific air bombardment of German communications delayed the bringing up of reinforcements. But the most determining factor in the whole initial drive, was the perfect timing of the attack, the magnificent behaviour of the soldiers of the United Nations and the co-ordination between the Air, Sea and Land Forces. There will be severe and trying days ahead for the United Nations, but now that they have established themselves on the mainland, and have secured landing beaches, they will be able to pour in troops and supplies. They will be in a position before long, to make proper disposition of these troops and to manoeuvre them in a way which will give the General Staff an opportunity to outwit the enemy. All the leaders in the United Nations have warned against undue optimism—and yet we have great cause for rejoicing. To be sure, we should not assume that because our forces have landed in France, the war will soon be over. And yet we are more than justified in rejoicing that the first round has been won by the United Nations. They have succeeded in breaking the wall of Hitler's fortress. That is a glorious achievement. It speaks volumes for the ability of our leaders, the matchless courage of our men, the quality and character of equipment, and the thoroughness of preparation. This time, nothing was left to chance.

There can be no possible room for doubt now, that the ultimate defeat of the Nazis is assured and their doom sealed.

EYES ON SASKATCHEWAN

All eyes at least, political eyes, are on Saskatchewan these days. Tomorrow, the vote will be cast. The result is watched with more than usual interest. Saskatchewan has always been looked on as the C. C. F. stronghold. The contest, this time, seems to have been largely one between the C. C. F. and the Liberals. The Progressive Conservatives have not had sufficient time since their re-organization, to get well under way in this campaign. A year or so ago even the enemies of the C. C. F. would have been willing to conclude a fairly substantial number of C. C. F. candidates would be elected. But the war-time prosperity and the improved economic position of the wheat farmer in the West, is said to have changed the picture somewhat. So that the Liberals are quite confident of victory — and yet the Ontario election which, a year ago, came within shooting distance of electing a C. C. F. Government, has made the older parties rather careful of too extravagant predictions.

There has been a highly financed and widespread campaign against the social principles advocated by the C. C. F. ever since the Ontario election. It may bear fruit. Those who are behind this campaign, as well as the professional politician, will watch the trend of public opinions, as shown in Saskatchewan, and will, no doubt, make their plans accordingly. As we go to press both the C. C. F. and the Liberals are claiming that they will win a majority.

MULTI MOOCHERS AID IN CHECKING POMPEI

Urchins Clear Way to Scrutiny of What Went On in Days Gone-by; You Walk and Gawk

BY CORPL R. POULTON

Pompei is one of the musts of Italy—or so the guide books claim—like Minsky's in New York, Prospect Point in Vancouver, and St. Paul's in London. However, Canadians being filled with an exuberance inherent in the heirs of a younger nation, aren't always too interested in tracking history. It's safe to say that more of them gazed on the earthly attractions of the Lord High Admiral, than ever oo'd and ah'd over the works of the Master Wren.

Can't Be Ignored

Still, Pompei can't be ignored completely. Many Canadians of an armored formation found that out when they were conducted through its age-hallowed streets on tours arranged recently by the educational section.

Here's a word picture of what is to be seen. Your truck wheels into the main street of new Pompei and halts in the parking lot near the turnstiles. Fifty screaming urchins crawl out from under its wheels and launch into a sales talk designed to sell you everything from the inevitable guide books to folders showing how things were done when they were done back in the days when the Greeks had a different word for it. If you pull a fifty lire note out it'll disappear faster than a drink at an undertakers' convention.

Biting your way through the mob you head for the Main Gate. On the way you might commit an error by stopping at a pitch to look over a jumble of cheap cameos expensively priced crucifixes, ear rings, bedspreads and what have you. Settle there as long as spit on a hot stove; otherwise you'll be surrounded like a cherry in a cocktail.

No Soap

On one side you'll find yourself host to an animated advertisement against the use of soap. In one hand she will hold up a card on which is written: "I am a poor mother. My child is starving. Help me, God bless the Allied troops." With the other arm she will be cradling the proof of her statement who unwittingly refutes a part of it by devoting wrapped and sticky attention to a reminder of Borden's Dairy.

A black - robed figure will hover Nemesis-wise, on your right hand, mutely urging you to well the coffers of The Church. All the while an eloquent and insistent finger probes your back, and a voice as gritty as a bucket of slack coal urges you in raucous tones, "Plus molto bello signorina, signore—una dollar."

Inside the gate leading to the ruins there is a shack. At the sound of your footsteps it disgorges a horde of guides, all neatly bundled and ready for use. The pack will close, give a preliminary gulp like a water buffalo who has inhaled at the wrong time, and launch into a line with all the zeal of three monkeys after the guy with the peanuts.

Pick one, and head for the amphitheatre. From then on you walk and gawk, while the guide brings to life a picture book of history as old as the joke about the traveling salesman.

The guide's voice drones on — "Pompei was, founded in the Sixth Century before Christ" — while you pick your way across the stepping stones and gaze upon the marks of chariot wheels deep graven in the ancient streets. He sounds bored but he makes a sturdy effort to earn his fee. "It was made a Roman colony eighty years before the birth of Christ." An impression of the City of the Long Since Dead cloaks your mind as grey dust settles on your boots. "In 79 A.D. on the 24th of August a rain of stones and ash and came down from Vesuvius and buried Pompei. And you look in the direction of the slumbering volcano, and feel the ashes of its latest eruption gritty underfoot.

The guide will lead you past the empty shells of houses where once dwelt Pompei's rich and poor in frills and bowel houses which are not unlike many to be found in Italy today.

Air of Age

And over all that naked sprawl of excavated ruin there lingers an indefinable air of age as though the empty walls and courtyards, the silent bakers' ovens, and yawning wine jars, were ready to come to life, as though the streets would fill with people taking up once more the even tenor of their ways in defiance of Vesuvius hanging over all.

Your thoughts run on elusively, like a half-forgotten memory, until the guide's voice nudges your attention: "And this is the original Red Light district." Times have not changed much after all.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, JUNE 18TH, 1944

Lesson Text: II Timothy 2: 1-4, 8-12; 4, 5.

"A GOOD SOLDIER OF JESUS CHRIST"

Paul was in prison. He was facing the end. Quite probably the sentence of death had been passed, and he knew the time of his departure was at hand. What more natural than that his mind should go back to those with whom he had been so intimately associated; to those on whom the responsibility for carrying on the Christian crusade rested.

Hence this letter to Timothy. It will be remembered that Timothy a young man, son of Eunice and her Greek husband, had attracted the attention of Paul on his first missionary journey. He made such good progress that when Paul returned he had Timothy circumcised, so that the Jews could not object, and then made him a travelling companion. He became, from then on, Paul's trusted friend and representative. Whether he accompanied Paul to Rome or not is uncertain. But the letters which Paul wrote to him indicate the dependence which the great Christian leader placed on Timothy.

Naturally, writing under the shadow of death, and with his thoughts constantly on the future of the cause to which he had given his life, Paul is very intimate and very exact. He gives Timothy some last minute advice. In the first place, Timothy must depend for strength on the Grace of the Lord Jesus Christ. How typical that was of Paul! Right in the forefront of his final message, he tells Timothy to secure strength for the task ahead he must draw on the deep spiritual resources made available by the life, death and resurrection of Christ.

In the second place, Paul tells Timothy that he must continue to give to others that which he had received from Paul. He must be a teacher. It is remarkable the insight Paul had with respect to the psychology of a successful Christian. It is not enough to be a learner. Timothy is reminded of the necessity of pouring out one's life in order to keep one's own. One of the criticisms frequently levelled at the modern Christian is that he absorbs a lot but gives out very little. There seems to be some justification for the criticism. Our Christianity would be more vital, more dynamic if we heeded Paul's advice to Timothy, and set about [illegible] teaching / applying the things we have heard. It is [illegible] Christianity becomes [illegible] it becomes real.

Then, in the third place Paul reminds Timothy that [illegible] hared to suffer. CONTENTMENT

If I could find contentment
As on through life I go,
I know I would not falter
As on to God I go.
If I could find contentment
In the little things of life,
Forget a selfish longing
In the other fellow's strife,
I'd live in peace of mind, and heart
My soul the richer be,
For in contentment there is love
Of all things dear to me.

MRS. A. H. McGREER PASSES ON AT LENNOXVILLE, QUE.

Known to thousands of Bishop's graduates throughout Canada and United States, Mrs. A. H. McGreer, wife of the Principal and Vice-chancellor of the University of Bishop's College, Lennoxville, Que, died Tuesday, June 6th. She was not only beloved by her friends, but her influence was wide and felt throughout the community.

She was awarded the Coronation Medal for her patriotic and philanthropic work in 1937. During the depression years she organized relief for Western Provinces in Canada, and since the outbreak of the war, Mrs. McGreer was actively engaged in Red Cross work.

Active also in all church activities, she was particularly interested in missionary work, because of the deep and unostentatious sincerity of her Christian faith. It is a rare thing to find such a combination of fine qualities united in one person as Mrs. McGreer. She always used wise judgement in all her undertaking and possessed strength of character.

The deceased was born in England, Kathleen Lee, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lee of Oxford. She and Rev. Dr. A. H. McGreer were married in England in 1918. Coming with her husband to Lennoxville in 1922, she was closely identified with the life of the college. Noted for her talent as a hostess, Mrs. McGreer contributed much to the life of Bishop's as an official hostess.

In addition to her husband, the Rev. Dr. McGreer, she is survived by a sister, Miss M. L. Lee, formerly of Oxford, who has made her home in Lennoxville since war broke out.

The funeral service was held on Thursday, June 8th, in St. Mark's Chapel at two p.m., with the Rev. Basil Jones Dean of Divinity at the College, officiating. Burial was made in Lennoxville. — Sherbrooke Daily Record, Wednesday, June 7th.

New Manager for The Bank of Montreal At Yarker

Ernest Tom Wilson has been appointed manager of the Yarker office of The Bank of Montreal to succeed John A. Thompson, who will shortly leave for Lucknow, to take charge of that office.

The new manager is British born and is a native of the famous cathedral city of York, where he was educated at Archbishop Holgate's Grammar School.

Mr. Wilson has had a varied and interesting banking career, beginning his service in England with Barclays Bank, Ltd., one of the "Big Five." He subsequently joined the London staff of the Bank of Montreal.

In 1920, he was transferred to Canada and was posted to Saskatoon; afterwards he served in various branches in Ontario and held the position of accountant at Tara, Kincardine and Midland.

Mr. Wilson has always shown keen interest in different community organizations. When in Kincardine, he was active in the Canadian Legion and golf club; he was also secretary of the Kincardine Men's Club. In Midland he was on the executive of the Lions Club and a member of the Grey and Simcoe Officers' Mess, in which latter organization he had a more than passing interest, being a veteran of the First Great War, during which he served with the Royal Flying Corps and the Queen Victoria Rifles, finally being taken a prisoner of war. His other interests include golf and fishing.

The new manager expects to take up residence in Yarker towards the end of the month.

Softball is progressing very favorably, to-date. . . The latest dope on the league meeting the other night was the entry of Hunter's Cleaners.

They were admitted into the league and their games will be figured out so as not to cause any revision of the present schedule — in other words the games will be arranged between the present dates laid down.

The Gibbard aggregation is still in the running and is sponsoring a team comprising a flock of coming juvgiles, who might possibly surprise the fans with their brand of ball.

The Mohawk Reds — the Airport's mainstay — are topping the league standing, to-date. In the initial fixture, last week at the Airport, the Reds eased a win from the Blues by a couple of runs. . . They enjoyed all the formalities of a big league opening — Wing-Commander Berven, G. Switzer and Flying - Officer Walker doing the honors.

At Deseronto, on Monday, the official opening took place with Flight-Lieut. Wright, Mayor Wessman and J. B Hough, doing their stuff. This game was a dandy to watch, both teams grabbing at every straw to try and poke a run or two over the plate.

Snappy fielding and smart pitching by Red Phillips and Pat Maracle were highlights of the game.

With a score of 3 to 1, little more could be asked for by the fans, in the way of entertainment.

On Thursday of this week the first game of the league will take place here when the Mohawk Blues take on the Gibbard team. . . Game called at 7:00 sharp.

Wednesday, the R.C.A.F. League will play here with Trenton and the Mohawks opposing each other. This game is scheduled for 6:45 sharp.

On Monday next the Napanee entry will meet the Mohawk Reds here. . . So there will be on end of softball this week — and on top of that.

Don't forget the Lions Club Jamboree at the Armouries, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

Magistrate's Court

In the Magistrate's Court on Monday, Vincent Kennelly, R.R. 2 Bath, paid a fine of $10 and costs of $3 for careless driving and James D. Hart pleaded guilty to a similar charge and paid $5 fine and $3 costs.

Relph E. Fluke, Newburgh, for failing to report an accident, resulting in personal injuries to Vivian Craig, paid a fine of $10 and costs of $3.

R. S. Patterson pleaded guilty to being intoxicated in a public place for which he paid $10 fine and $5.50 costs.

MILLS — In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Robert Mills, who passed away June 10th, 1942.

We often sit and think of her,
When we are all alone,
For memory is the only friend
That grief can call its own.
Like ivy on the withered oak
When all things decay—
Our love for her will still keep green
And never fade away.

To be trusted, to be faithful
Character must shine like steel;
To be wanted, to be needed,
Is the test strong men can feel.
Nations build their vast Dominions

With the will to do what's right.
So if weakness overcomes you,

NAZIS "PROTECT" HOLLAND

The blast furnaces and rolling mill of Holland's steel works in the town of Belzen were recently dismantled and carged off to Germany. The haul included 5 000 electric motors, 5,000 rollers, miles of cable and four travelling cranes, all of which was "acquired" by the Hermann Goering Works. In a special statement the Germans explained this transfer as a "protective measure against destruction by the invading allied armies."

The title was "The Inspiration of Worship" and the speaker dwelt on the component parts of worship, illustrating her points with stories about India and China. REPORTS GIVEN AT REGULAR MEETING VIC. ORDER NURSES

The regular monthly board meeting of the Victorian Order Nurses was held on Monday, June 12th. The president, Mrs. T. Hunt, presided.

Mrs. Hill, associate secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting. Mrs. Medd the treasurer gave her report. Mrs. George Paul gave a report of the meeting of the Finance Committee. Arrangements were made for the next open meeting, which will be in September. Mrs. W. A. Ashley, who attended the annual meeting of the V. O. N., in Ottawa, gave a very interesting account of this meeting.

Miss Morrison, the Victorian Order Nurse gave her report for May, which was as follows: May showed a slight let up in work as compared with the previous months. A total of 154 visits were made and 37 cases carried. One confinement was attended. Two Child Hygiene Conferences were held one Diphtheria Toxoid Clinic and one Chest Clinic. The Baby conferences continue to be well attended. 25 children received inoculations at the Diphtheria Clinic in the Town Hall, May 15th. On Thursday afternoon, May 25, a Chest Clinic was held at the Court House, by the Provincial Board of Education. About 200 school teachers from this district received X-rays. This is the first year that such a clinic has been held in Napanee by the Board of Education. It has been made compulsory for every school teacher to have chest X-rays. I was only too pleased to be of assistance to the Board of Education in carrying out this splendid piece of work. Eighteen visits were made to the schools. There have been many children with croupy coughs. When there seemed to be very little improvement I excluded about forty children. They visited their family physician and returned when he saw fit. The children also had to obtain a permit from the Medical Officer of Health before returning to school. The situation is now much improved.

Miss Mary Morrison,
V.O.N. Nurse for Napanee.

MRS. ASHLEY REPORTS ON V. O. N. ANNUAL MEETING

The 46th Annual Meeting of the Board of Governors of V.O.N., was held at the Chateau Laurier in Ottawa. J. W. McConnell, of Montreal president of the executive council, succeeds Mr., Justice H. H. Davis.

The Government of Ontario made a substantial increase in its annual grant, which was considered a gratifying testimony of the value set upon the Order's services. There are 99 branches in operation, 55 of those are in Ontario.

There were 700,000 visits made to patients in 1943, an increase of 4 650 over last year, 1942.

The Health Minister, Ian Mackenzie, told the annual meeting, there is a positive demand that the crushing financial burden of illness on the family should be eased, that the economic wastage caused by sickness should be ended and our people know that in accomplishing this prevention is as important as cure. Mr. Mackenzie also said, National Health insurance will bring the nursing profession into its own making its work more effective and the position of its members economically more secure. Commenting on the national health plan under consideration by the Commons, the minister continued: "The recent draft bill contemplates agreements between the health insurance commission and the various organizations representing the nursing profession in each district to provide nursing care there."

It is quite apparent that even when these nurses now serving with the forces again become available for civilian work, the members will be inadequate to carry out the program. Adoption of the plan is bound to require the training of a great many more for the nursing profession. I know that if such a plan is adopted the long and valuable experience of the Victorian Order will prove of inestimable benefit to those charged with the duty of administering the scheme. The standard set by the V. O. N. is one to which we who are engaged in the public health field, should aim.

Her Royal Highness, Princess Juliana of The Netherlands Spoke Briefly

Princess Juliana spoke briefly on district nursing and health service in Holland, where before the war there were registered nurses with special diplomas for district nursing who reached every part of Holland. Doctors in Holland, she said, are the only group which has scored a definite victory over the enemy. They stood together and took a firm stand against the new rules laid down for them by the Nazis and even concentration camps failed to break down their resistance.

Mrs. R. L. Blackburn, convener of the Advisory Committee on Nursing, stated in her report, that the problems of the shortage of nurses with public health qualifications, was increasingly in evidence in 1943. She recommended that $44,800 be set aside as a fund for scholarships of $400 each and two awards of $200 were made to assist nurses to take post-graduate study in public health nursing.

Hon. Dr. R. P. Vivian, Ontario Minister of Health and Public Welfare, speaking at a luncheon session, when T. D'Arcy McGee, K.C., presided, said that "whatever has been started by voluntary effort has been good or great in this country." Speaking on the V. O. N. he said that many areas are not yet served by them and work of this kind must be extended and its scope enlarged and increased. This, in my opinion, can best be done by a combination of private assistance on a voluntary basis and public assistance aided by tax resources.

Mr. McGee referred with regret to the resignation of Mr. Justice H. H. Davis as president. The chairman and all speakers voiced their pleasure in having Col. Elizabeth Smellie, C.B.E., R.R.C. back with the V.O.N. as chief superintendent, and spoke of her appointment as Colonel with the R.C.A.M.C. as an unusual honour to be conferred on a woman. The work of Miss Maude Hall, acting Chief Superintendent, was highly commended.

Nine Provincial Health Ministers brought greetings. Col. C.W.G. Gibson thanked the speaker.

Acting Chief Superintendent Report

Miss Hall, the Acting Chief Superintendent, said in her report, that it is a source of satisfaction to the V.O.N. nurses that they serve the men and women in the Armed Forces through their families. It is with a feeling of gratitude that I can state that while it has been necessary to make adjustments and to meet emergency situations we have been able to maintain fill our existing service during the war years, and to extend our service to eleven new branches.

Care of mothers and babies continued to form the major part of the work of the Order, making up 51 per cent of their patients in 1943. She also said that when the annual report is sent out, it should be read by all board members.

The road of progress has been difficult, primarily on account of the problem of nurse supply.

"LEND A HAND" ON THE FARMS

Every citizen of Ontario must face the unpleasant fact that Canada's stockpile of grains, dairy products and vegetables . . . of which we had a great surplus four years ago . . . is almost exhausted.

For four years, Canada has been a "storehouse of food" for her Allies. She must continue to fulfil heavy obligations to them. But the surpluses in the storehouse are gone. They must be replenished. Otherwise, Canadians on the Fighting Fronts . . . and at home . . . are likely to be faced with the prospect of short food rations.

THIS YEAR the crops on Ontario Farms give promise of the heaviest yields of grain, hay, vegetables and fruit in years.

BUT THEY MUST BE HARVESTED AND SAVED . . . AND THIS IN SPITE OF THE MOST ACUTE SHORTAGE OF FARM WORKERS IN OUR HISTORY.

EVERYONE MUST HELP!

JOIN The Farm Commando Brigades, the Holiday Brigades, Business Men's Groups, Service Club Groups, Neighbourhood Groups, or one of many other organizations, that are preparing to help. For three years such organizations have supplied thousands of volunteers to Save Food for Victory. This Year Many Thousands More Volunteers Are Needed.

R.E.C. CONVENTION AT TAMWORTH

The annual convention of the Religious Education Council of Camden and Sheffield Townships was held Tamworth United Church, Thursday June 1st, 1944, with morning and afternoon sessions. The convention theme was "The Church Helping Every Person."

The morning session opened at 9.30 in charge of the president, Mr. D. B. Amey. Mr. William Huffman, the superintendent of Tamworth Sunday school gave an address of welcome. Wray McLaughlin was appointed the press reporter. A worship service followed, led by Rev. A. W. Seaton.

The guest speaker, Miss Ne Tannis Semmens, in her morning address used as her theme, "The Relationship of Home, Church, Sunday School." In her talk, she stressed the Church as the backing of the Sunday School and of the needs of boys and girls. She recommended the reading of a book by a Polish writer, entitled "They Shall Inherit the Earth," which tells of what is happening to children in European countries as well as in our own country. The Church and Sunday School should stand ready to help children of the community. Some children, today, are being taught the wrong attitude toward God, an attitude of building their thoughts on material things instead of spiritual things. We must change the attitude of our children toward our enemies. Sunday school should be linked with the church and children should not form the habit of going to Sunday school and leaving before a church service. They should be given a chance to take part in church work so that they will look forward to becoming church members. Children should be led to see that Sunday school is a part of church work. Sunday school teachers should help children to see that the Bible is an aid to every day living.

Dr. Chase's Ointment

A drama entitled "Teacher Visits Home" was given by some ladies of Desmond Sunday school, following the address of Miss Semmens. This was followed by organ music while the offering was received.

Reports of the various departments were then given and the nominating and resolutions committees were appointed.

Dismissal by the Rev. Herrington ended the morning session.

Afternoon Session

The afternoon session opened with a worship service presented by Newburgh delegates. A short discussion period was conducted by Rev. W. G. Fletcher. Reports were given by the secretary, Mrs. M. Jackson, of the district Sunday schools. There were thirteen Sunday schools in the district that reported. The roll call was taken and almost all Sunday schools were represented.

Report of Nominating Committee given and adopted as follows: President, Mr. D. B. Amey; 1st Vice-president, Mr. William Huffman; Secretary-Treasurer, Wray McLaughlin; Children's Department, Miss Annah Simpkins; Boys' Department, Mr. Harold Cook; Girls' Department, Miss Marguerite Gilmour; Young People's Department, Mrs. F. Bell; Adult Department, Mrs. Edgar Drew; Home Department, Mrs. E. Bradshaw; Temperance Dept., Mr. H. M. Jackson; Missionary Dept., Mrs. Wilson; Leadership Training, Rev. W. G. Fletcher. Rev. A. W. Seaton conducted the installation of officers.

Miss Semmens' topic for her afternoon address was "What is Evangelism?" "Evangelism," she said, is making known God's work and love. Evangelism is the way of life, the way Jesus lived and wants us to live. It is the message of life. Evangelism is an experience in the lives of children. Evangelism is a process from early childhood to the age where childish things are put away. Evangelism is a method to fit the individual child. Each child has an ideal and it is up to adults to set the example. Evangelism is a result, showing gradually in a child as it advances toward manhood or womanhood."

The convention closed with the singing "Faith of Our Fathers," and the benediction by Mr. Amey.

and of creating in each county one central channel at the community level through which all public welfare services for that community must flow."

Children's Aid Extension

"The Children's Aid Society, whose 52 Ontario branches form the only private welfare organization which has been delegated public responsibility by statute, could develop its services beyond child welfare to form the backbone, particularly in the rural areas, of an adequate family welfare service which, in peacetime, could extend even beyond its present wartime contribution," he said.

"On the county level, if such a development were possible, we would have on one hand a county welfare board a medium for public services, and on the other hand the Children's Aid Society as the medium for private welfare services."

FARMERS ASKED FOR ASSISTANCE

Annual Agricultural Statistics Of Great Importance In War Effort

Working in co-operation with the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, the Publications and Statistics Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture has distributed cards to tens of thousands of Ontario farmers asking for complete and accurate information on farm production. In view of the importance of food in the national war effort, this information is essential in order that the present and future food problems of the country can be studied and dealt with. Thus every farmer who returns the card filled in will be serving his country in an important phase of its war tasks.

In sending out these cards, the Publications and Statistics Branch points out that the individual returns made by farmers will not be divulged in any way, and assurance is also given that they will not be used in any way for purposes of taxation. The co-operation of all farmers is sought because accurate information on crop acreages and live stock numbers will be beneficial to the farmer as well as to the government.

Farmers who have not received their cards by the middle of June are asked to apply for them, either to the teacher of their local school, or to their county Agricultural Representative or direct to the Department of Agriculture, Parliament Buildings, Toronto.

Interest in Temperance Urged at 35th Annual Convention W.C.T.U.

Delegates in enthusiastic numbers from Picton, Napanee, Trenton, Tweed, Frankford, Milford, Cherry Valley, Stirling and South Bay, as well as Belleville, assembled in Bridge Church, Belleville, on Tuesday, May 30th, for the Thirty-Fifth Annual W. C. T. U. County Convention of Hastings Lennox - Addington and Prince Edward.

Mrs. A. T. Fleming of Trenton, the president, presided. Last year's executive was duly re-elected and the president was delegated to be representative at the National Convention, Moncton, N.B., from June 7th to 9th.

Vice-presidents, in reporting gave great praise to Miss Puffi, Field Secretary, who had spoken to some 1600 people in Trenton, 1700 in Napanee and 1200 in Belleville. The car situation hindered the rural work greatly.

Some twenty county superintendents gave detailed reports of the year's work in their different departments. In stressing the evangelistic work, Mrs. Foster of Cherry Valley said, deepening our lives by study of definite topics such as stewardship and prayer meant greater strength. Mrs. Finlay of Napanee, asked all to be on guard against infringement of laws dealing with liquor, tobacco and gambling and report them. Of course we know public opinion feels defeated in enforcing them but two wrongs never make a right — it is illegal to sell tobacco to children without a written note from adults and fines can be imposed from $2 to $50 for selling to minors. The Act regarding this should be tacked up in stores selling tobacco and it was later decided to ask each local Union to be responsible for seeing that this is done. Napanee storekeepers had received this very favorably. Women were urged to discourage parades being held Sundays. The insidious use of snuff, which seems to be coming to the fore again was strongly condemned and its evil effects on children emphasized.

Mrs. Hicks of Picton urged the use of fresh fruit drinks and their beneficial effect over and against alcoholic drinks in teaching our young folks. "There isn't an idea in a whole brewery" she said, and urged against all forms of social drinking.

Mrs. Lehigh, of Milford, reporting on Narcotics, said we must move on the hearts of our leaders. "They can never plan and make laws for the new order of peace unless they build upon goodness — can't build on liquor which tears down and never, never builds life."

A crusade was emphasized to enroll all women of our churches against all forms of social drinking. The W. M. S. and Women's Associations should be urged to realize their responsibilities in battling against these evils. All Unions were asked to write Premier King deploring his "letting us down" with regard to our request that he curtail the output of liquor in war time and change the policy regarding the liquor problem. Instead of just deleting the resolution to write him and doing nothing further, all unions write him further saying we feel "let down". Liquor drinking scenes in our moving pictures, including the clergy, is subtle propaganda which should be protested by all who see them. Don't just let this happen without protest.

In the corresponding secretary's report, Mrs. E. M. Ruttan of Picton, said that the total money raised during the year came to $1,052.16.

Supper Meeting

At the supper meeting, Dr. Semple, minister of Bridge Street Church, presided. Mrs. Fleming outlined the various activities of the organization specially mentioning Fellowship Lodge a permanent centre at Petawawa Camp, staffed and maintained by the Dominion organization. The Mayor of Belleville, in giving a warm welcome commended the W.C.T.U. on its fine work both as an influence for good in these trying times, and also for its endeavours to build a better world for our boys to come back to.

Mrs. Seymour acting for the Provincial President in a splendid address challenged the women not to run away from life — face it. Excuses are another way of letting life defeat you. Live courageously, create a contagious Christian personality and in that way we make our lives desired by others.

Liquor conditions in Ontario are the worst in the history of the province, affirmed Dr. George A. Little of Toronto. At least one-third of the drinkers are women. If the Christian people do nothing liquor traffic will work havoc with the people of Ontario. To allow the liquor traffic full sway, all that is necessary is for the churches to do nothing. When the churches are cold and indifferent, communities are the same. The same applies to parents in the case of their children. Newspapers differ in their sense of responsibility to the community. An evening paper in Toronto published an article by Dr Peter Bryce, stating that the liquor traffic is indicated at the bar of humanity as an enemy of the human race. "It is one of the greatest evils of our time." A Toronto morning paper on the contrary opens its columns to goodwill advertising by liquor firms.

Many of these advertisements, continued Dr. Little, are exquisitely ludicrous, though professing highest patriotic concern. A brewery urges: "Don't waste food", though it is turning good grain into beverage alcohol. A distillery appeals to "men who think" though its interest is more in men who drink. A brewery appeals for Red Cross blood donors, though no blood would be taken from any person who had been drinking. The Brewing Industry of Ontario advertising headlines: "Brother should you spend a dime?"—the stock of brewing corporations has increased during the war from 50 cents to $6.78 a share through the spending of dimes. A distillery announces: "We must put victory first". Do the liquor stores? A brewery proclaims: "Every penny saved is a battle won." Their deluxe trucks on the highways do not suggest thrift.

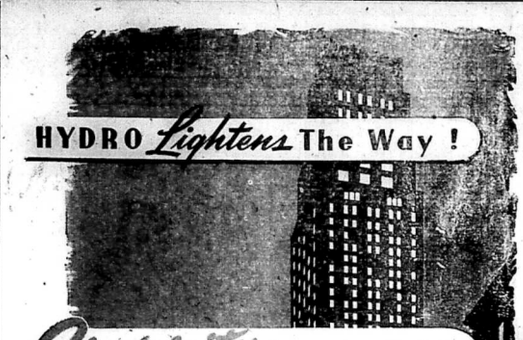
Dr. Little gave a number of examples of the brewing industry of Ontario headlines in their advertisements and went on to speak of drink at social events and turned to the assemblage and said: "You are fixing your customs for Christian or pagan standings". An article by a mother in the May issue of Coronet which tries to justify social drinking has some striking statements: "Alcohol is a very real evil in America."

To get a liquor revenue of twenty millions, Ontario spends 125 millions for drink. To spend six dollars to get one is making gain backwards. In the past decade of Ontario's beer rooms there have been 153,000 arrests for drunkenness. Fifteen thousand women have been convicted for drunkenness. Fifteen thousand motor car drivers have lost their licenses to drive their own cars. The members at Queen's Park thumped their desks enthusiastically when Premier Drew announced the removal of the restriction on beer.

Only the Christian churches can protect Ontario's youth from the evil partnership of the politicians and the liquor traffic.

Mrs. Cadahoo: Mrs. Plainer says she would not keep a girl who was better-looking than herself.

Mrs. Talkabit: Well, that explains why she is always without one.



HYDRO Lightens The Way!

Electricity is essential to commerce!

Imagine, if you can, a towering skyscraper deprived completely of electricity. It would be nothing but a bleak, dark block of stone, steel and concrete . . . lifeless, unserviceable.

It is Hydro that puts life into skyscrapers, warehouses and factories, or any other building. For electricity transforms darkness into light . . . moves elevators swiftly and silently . . . performs the hundred tasks that bestow upon a building the throbbing pulse of life.

Hidden in the walls of tall buildings are hundreds of miles of wiring . . . a veritable network, travelling from a master switchboard to wherever light and power are needed. Busy telephones . . . chattering teletype equipment . . . business machines, and other mechanical, time-saving devices that serve the many needs of commerce . . . are powered by electricity.

In Ontario . . . in business and home . . . in industry and on the farm . . . Hydro lightens the way. It powers the machines that produce the goods we need . . . it brings us entertainment . . . it makes our work-day easier, our life more comfortable.

Plan for better living and more leisure after Victory, by taking full advantage of the benefits that can be yours through the use of electricity.

I. O. D. E. NEWS

REPORTS GIVEN AT THE REGULAR MEETING

The Regent, Mrs. D. R. Hall, presided at the June meeting of the U. E. L. Chapter, I. O. D. E., held in the Legion room. The meeting opened with the prayer of the Order. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. O. S. Reddick.

War work convener Mrs. A. E. Lewis, reported for the month of May — 108 pairs of socks, 10 sweaters, 7 scarves, 3 pairs gloves, 13 turtle neck tuck-ins, 2 afghans sent to Provincial Headquarters, I.O.D.E., Hamilton; and 30 quilts, 1 skirt, 2 vests, 2 helmets, 4 baby sets, 2 baby jackets, and 5 pairs knickers, for British clothing.

Mrs. Fred Carter, convener, reported that the room was opened January 7th, 1944, for headquarters Canadian Soviet Comforts, Aid to Russia. The town of Ahtikra was adopted by the Town of Napanee, the U. E. L. Chapter of the I.O.D.E. taking charge. The response has been most gratifying to-date four shipments of clothing and quilts have been packed and shipped consisting of 19 large packing cases. In addition to clothing, $95 have been donated to this cause and a committee of four, Mrs. C. Reid, Mrs. Percy Vine, Mrs. J. Sagar and Mrs. D. E. Cook, have purchased clothing etc, to be shipped with the next packing. The total number of articles shipped to date, is 1,380. The need is still very great and the committee sincerely hopes that the same interest will be shown in the future as in the past. Mrs. C. Reid reported on clothes bought with money donated for Ahtikra Fund.

The treasurer's report was given by Miss Richardson and a letter was read from Col. Baker, managing Director of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, expressing thanks for co-operation in sponsoring the Tag Day again this year.

Mrs. D. R. Hall reported that $33.10 was realized from rags, paper and medicine bottles in salvage for May, also that a letter of thanks had been received from the Base Library, at Halifax, for seven cartons of magazines.

Report on Annual Meeting I. O. D. E.

Mrs. John Diamant, who attended the 44th Annual National meeting of the I. O. D. E., gave a particularly good report of the proceedings. Mrs. Hocking, national president, said: "I feel most keenly, as I know all Daughters of the Empire are bound to feel that if we have to choose some new position, or a new development of the position of Canada as a nation, we must choose the course which puts us at Britain's side. We must realize that the British Empire is the greatest secular institution in the world. It guides, it leads, but it does not own. It is a commonwealth that has established peace, order and justice in the world. It upholds the ideals of decency and freedom, without discrimination of colour or creed. Its chief purpose is to see that each citizen is allowed to live his fullest and completest life."

Commenting on Canada's place today as the senior Dominion at the side of the Motherland since the outbreak of hostilities, much can be said of Canada's achievements. We have never had to use lend-lease help and we have the largest volunteer fighting force in the world. "Achievements have been magnificent, but we must continue to work, to save, to sacrifice, to endure, to fight cheerfully, as if this whole struggle depended on you and you alone. But I am sure we all must realize that peace and victory will not be an end. They will be but a beginning of cashing our great war potentialities to the ways of peace—tuned to a better creation—the effort of 40,000 women directed towards the way of peace will be a mighty weapon."

A vote of thanks was tendered to Mrs. Diamant.

Mrs. T. Hunt, hospitality convener, reported on Airforce dances, Hostess Club, recreation rooms, and entertaining of servicemen and women by I.O.D.E. members.

In closing, the Regent urged members to accept more responsibility when asked to help in any wartime project.

The Union Jack was brought forward to one verse of the National Anthem.

APPLICATION OF ACT ON HOURS OF WORK IS POSTPONED

A statement recently issued from the office of the Honourable Charles Daley, Minister of Labour for Ontario, announces the postponement of certain provisions of the "Hours of Work and Vacations With Pay" Act.

The Act, which becomes effective July 1st, of this year, was designed to establish a maximum 48-hour week in this province for all persons employed in business and industry, as well as providing for one week's vacation with pay, in each year, to everyone so employed for a full year with one firm. In other words, on the anniversary of each year's employment, employees become eligible for a week's vacation with pay.

The Industry and Labour Board, under which body the Act will be administered, says that while plans are now being laid for the operation of the Act it would be unsound at this time to impose arbitrary changes. The need for all-out production on essential war materials might be seriously interfered with if drastic changes in present hour schedules, which might be made necessary in conforming to the terms of this Act, were made. This is particularly true in view of the man-power shortage existing at the present time. The Board, therefore, considers that a postponement of the provisions of the act regulating "Work Hours" is necessary, and will be necessary, while the present critical production requirements and acute shortage of man-power exists.

"The Board therefore authorizes the continuance of existing working hours in all industries operating on priority war materials in the Province of Ontario," the statement says.

Industries engaged in agriculture, horticulture, fishing and the production of foods and farm products; dairy industries including cheese and butter production; firms engaged in the building and maintenance of roads, construction, transportation, textiles and other undertakings which can be considered essential to the full maintenance of the war effort, shall be considered in the category of war industries in so far as present working hours are concerned.

"Periods of relaxation, both mental and physical, to provide recreation are essential for general health and morale, however." Mr. Daley said. "It is probably of more value in this time of mental stress and physical pressure than at any other time. The provisions of the Act, therefore, applying to at least one week's vacation with pay shall apply to all persons qualifying under the term of employment. This does not necessarily mean that vacation must begin on July 1st, but that vacations with pay shall be provided for all employees effective July 1st, 1944, under the individual employer's plan of allotting vacation time," Mr. Daley said.

BICYCLE RIDERS TAKE NOTICE

A number of complaints have been made to Chief of Police Moore, regarding the careless manner in which young people handle bicycles on the Napanee streets. The offenders are not only breaking town by-laws but are endangering their own lives as well as the lives of pedestrians in some cases.

The Chief of Police takes this means of warning bicycle riders that they must not ride two or more abreast in the streets. They must obey the traffic signals and signs at stop streets. They must not ride on the sidewalks and must carry the proper lights when riding after dark. Unless the regulations are observed, offenders will be hailed into court and will be subject to the fines prescribed by the by-laws.

Annual Social Event Held at Home of W. S. Herrington

The home of W. S. Herrington, K.C., was filled to capacity last Wednesday afternoon for the annual tea held in aid of the Napanee Red Cross Society, which Miss Lenore Herrington is the President. The event was originally planned as a garden tea, but owing to rainy weather was held in the house and on the verandah, which were decorated by artistically arranged bouquets of early summer flowers. The receipts from the tea were nearly as large as in former years.

Miss Herrington, Mrs. T. D. Sneath and Mrs. C. D. McLellan received the guests and Mrs. Ralph Ham, Mrs. G. M. Chidley, Mrs. W. J. Wiggins and Mrs. W. A. Grange were hostesses.

Mrs. C. E. Jamieson, Mrs. E. I. Boyle, Mrs. L. P. Bogart and Miss Florence Hall received the tea at the door.

The tea table in the diningroom was centred with a beautiful bouquet of mixed flowers. Those pouring tea in the afternoon were Mrs. J. G. Daly, Mrs. C. I. Maybee, Mrs. Wannamaker, Mrs. Jas. Haggerty, Mrs. Wm. Burns and Mrs. S. Booth.

Mrs. Harry Vine was tea room convener and she was assisted by Mrs. W. Barrett, Mrs. P. U. Laidley, Mrs. W. T. Mackenzie, Mrs. H. B. Scott, Mrs. R. L. Vanluven, Mrs. G. T. Walters, Mrs. Matthew Taylor, Mrs. E. J. Pollard and Mrs. F. C. Correll.

Those who assisted in serving were: Mrs. Bruce Allenbrack, Miss E. Fox, Mrs. F. B. Mills, Mrs. Lloyd Cowle, Mrs. Percy Asselstine, Miss Laura Vine, Mrs. Lilburn Cowling, Mrs. Harrington, Mrs. Albert Greaves, Mrs. Lynn Crossman, Mrs. George Chalk, Mrs. John Diamond, Mrs. L. H. Adams, Mrs. Victor Cowling, and Mrs. J. D. Mayhew.

In charge of the cooked food table which was placed on the verandah were: Mrs. H. J. Beattie, Mrs. T. M. Galbraith, Mrs. R. Humphrey, Mrs. Earl Parks and Mrs. Geo. Nicol.

Mr. W. J. Wiggins drew the tickets on the articles on which chances were sold during the afternoon. Miss Laura Vine won the basket of fruit and Mrs. C. L. Graham and Mrs. T. H. Herrington each won a box of candy. Mrs. Richard Jones looked after selling tickets on a pair of glass candlesticks which were won by Mrs. Lynn Crossman.

Mrs. J. A. Coulter sold tickets on a model airplane which went to Mrs. Scott, Philipsburg.

During the afternoon, Mr. Stafford Roberts, Commissioner of the Ontario Division of the Red Cross addressed the guests, bringing greetings from headquarters. He stressed the point that members of the Red Cross must not make the mistake of thinking their work will be done when the war ceases. He pointed that the war in Europe might be over before Christmas and urged Red Cross workers to continue their efforts after the armistice is signed to aid relief work in the devasted countries.

Mr. Roberts paid a tribute to the many workers in the county who have produced countless articles for the Red Cross since the start of the war.

THREE WAYS

A Socialist Government has been elected in Saskatchewan. The Co-operative Commonwealth Federation is now the Official Opposition in British Columbia, Ontario, and so far as there is an opposition, in Manitoba — and in power in Saskatchewan. The victory in Saskatchewan was won in spite of the most bitter newspaper opposition. The Regina Leader-Post carried on an unremitting heavy bombardment day after day. Now that the results are known, something like consternation has seized the older parties, and the business community. The trouble with both these latter groups is, that they failed to read the signs of the times. Now having seen what has happened, one of three policies should, at once, be adopted. The victory can be ignored, opposed or met. To oppose it is to act like King Canute — stand on the shore and try to brush the waves back. That is one way. Another is to oppose the Socialist trend in the world. This has been done in Canada. Following the Ontario election, Gladstone Murray was provided with ample funds and set adrift on his campaign to turn public opinion away from Socialist trends into the old channels, with which we have been familiar. Then, too a highly financed propaganda agency with headquarters in Toronto, regularly sent pamphlets and broadsides to moulders of public opinion all across Canada. Here again the results, as demonstrated in Saskatchewan on June 15th, hardly justify the effort and expense of this form of approach to the problem.

The third approach. We advocated it eleven years ago. We can do no better than to suggest it again. Governments and business organizations should recognize that we are living in a new day; that we are hammering out a new form of economic, political and social life. Recognizing that, then, these leaders should, at once, seek to adjust their programs to suit the new conditions. The C. C. F. is a new party. It is made up of many people from many walks of life. They represent the new order. They have a plan, a program, clear cut and definite. For a long time it has been said that the only difference between the Liberal and the Progressive Conservative Parties is that one is in power and the other is out. Well here is a new party with a sharp distinction in its program between itself and the older parties. Surely it is clear as crystal that it cannot be ignored. If Mr. Bracken's New Party hopes to win the confidence of the public he must have a program which will match that of the C. C. F. So far as the Liberals are concerned, it may be too late to make the necessary adjustments. So long as the Liberal Party could carry Saskatchewan and Quebec they were sure of election. The picture looks different now. The Dominion Liberal Party cannot bank on Saskatchewan, and there may be difficulty in holding Quebec. The trial of popular support may rest in the next Dominion election between the Progressive Conservative Party and the C. C. F. If the former hopes to win it dare not ignore the social and economic changes on which the Saskatchewan Co-operative Commonwealth Federation rode to power.

DeGAULLE AGAIN

We have received a letter from one of our valued readers in the United States, who takes a somewhat different view on the failure of the United States to recognize General deGaulle than was taken by this paper. The writer says:

"I think you will find the probable reason for hesitancy is not so much caution economic or social, but due to the feeling that, as President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull have so often said — when a country is liberated that country will have free choice to name its own government. You see how that happened in Italy with Badoglio. DeGaulle has named himself, and many think he has earned that right, but here they still feel the way should be left open and I am inclined to to think the Government here is right, and pretty wise."

We appreciate the temper of this letter, and yet we must point out that the writer is hardly justified in making such a sweeping statement that, "here they still think the way should be left open." "Here" meaning of course, the United States, is not of one opinion, by any means. Indeed there is a very strong section of public opinion which favors recognition of deGaulle. Both Dorothy Thompson and Walter Lippman, two of America's most brilliant and penetrating columnists, take this view. Dorothy Thompson has to say:

"The diplomatic crisis with France has now reached a climax, and, as numbers of publicists have warned, the crisis with France is developing into a crisis with the whole of Europe. In this crisis the United States is all but isolated even among the Big Three. For the Soviet Union is silent, though the Soviet is known to be benevolent toward the French Committee, and Mr. Churchill is reluctantly supporting the President, against the mounting public opinion of his own country. He is unable to make a stand in the House of Commons. He has to plead for a postponement of debate on the ground that it is full of dynamite.

"But how about the United States? Is the United States behind the President in this? If we challenge the whole world, must we not at least know why we do it? The two reasons that are given us are utterly unconvincing. The one is that General de Gaulle is a dictatorial and disagreeable person, and the other that we don't know what the French people want."

We do not support that de Gaulle should be recognized as the head of the French Government, but he certainly has earned the right to be acknowledged as the head of the provisional government, and should be accorded that recognition without delay.

The Evening Telegram, Toronto, on Monday, June 19th, put the matter in a nut-shell, when it said:

"Apart from his moral right to claim the leadership of the French as a consequence of his resistance to the enemy throughout the war, the General has a legitimate claim to recognition by the Allies as the leader of a provisional French government. He was a member of the last French ministry and at Bordeaux he tried to dissuade his colleagues from surrendering and when they voted him down he went to Britain and raised the banner of the Fighting French. Moreover, a few days ago, when de Gaulle set foot in Normandy he was received with delirious joy by his French compatriots. Surely all this justifies the United States and Britain in recognizing his provisional government as the proper authority to speak for France until the French people are free to choose a parliament and a government by constitutional methods."

V

ELEVEN YEARS AFTER

When the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation was just organized, we commented editorially on the significance of the event. The editorial, written eleven years ago, makes interesting reading in the light of the C. C. F. victory in Saskatchewan. At that time we wrote:

"The C. C. F. have had their first national convention. Considering the diverse interests represented, and the newness of the movement, the convention appears to have been well conducted and as harmonious as could well be expected. The platform which they have adopted is broad-based, and sets forth in regular sequence the principles for which the Party stands — nothing like it has ever been before the Canadian people, in concrete definite form. It is the purpose of the C. C. F. if elected, to establish a co-operative commonwealth. The new form of social organization is to be based on co-operation and not on competition. Business, manufacturing, transportation, and all the major concerns of organized life are to be conducted, not for the private gain or personal profit but for human welfare. Those who work, in any way, towards the production of wealth are to have a larger share in the proceeds of their labor than they do now, and are to have something to say as to the conditions under which business is to be conducted.

"This, according to the pronouncement, will involve the socialization of many activities which are now left to private control. The platform then indicates in thirteen articles how the party will seek to apply its principles to the activities. They propose, among other things, to socialize banking, currency credit, insurance transportation, and electrical power and allied industries. They propose security of tenure for the farmer, insurance against unavoidable crop failure, and the removal of the burden of tariff from the farmer. They will inaugurate a system of unemployment and sickness insurance, along with publicly organized health hospital and medical services. They will, if elected, amend the B. N. A. Act in certain matters, so as to secure the abolition of the Senate.

"It is recognized by the C. C. F. that these and many more reforms included in their manifesto, cannot be immediately effected. They propose, therefore, that in the transition from the capitalistic to the new order, the work shall be in the hands of a national planning commission, made up of expert economists and statisticians who would work in co-operation with the cabinet to effect the changes with the least possible disturbance.

"This document is a product of our particular generation; it is born out of a deep conviction up until now unexpressed save on the street corners and the back concessions and academic quarters, that the present organization of society is not all that it should be. There is no question but that this pronouncement voices the prevalent protest against the injustices of our present unrestricted competitive system.

"There is no use blinking the facts that, as it has been allowed to function in the past, the capitalistic system has failed. It has given to an increasingly small number of men, the control of the wealth of the world as well as the control of the means of subsistence of millions. It is pretty well conceded that a change is needed. Where the difference of opinion lies is, as to the manner by which the change is to be effected. On the one hand, here is the C. C. F. coming out for a wholesale turnover to socialism. On the other hand, President Roosevelt in the United States is using the present capitalistic order to secure the same ends. If our civilization is to survive it seems to us that one other. It must be either a new order, such as the C.C.F. suggest or a change of the present capitalistic system, such as President Roosevelt and his band of trained economists is putting over in the United States.

"Sooner or later the issue will have to be faced in Canada. The Liberal leader has lost no time in saying he and his party will have nothing to do with the C. C. F. That settles the matter so far as they are concerned. But if Premier Bennett wishes to hold the power he now has, and the public confidence which he possesses, he will be well advised not to ignore this document, or denounce it. He should incorporate the most constructive of its suggestions in his next platform, and seek to effect changes in the present economic order which will secure the benefits of the C.C.F. in some such way as Roosevelt is doing in the United States."

JUNE SESSION COUNTY COUNCIL

that a reporter be asked to attend meetings of the Roads Committee.

A motion was made to adjourn and an amendment made to carry on and dispose of the report. The amendment was carried and the report adopted after considerable discussion.

Reeve Ham, in moving the adoption of the minority report of the County Roads Committee, severely criticized the chairman for not bringing all matters pertaining to county roads before the committee and specifically referred to two letters which he produced from the district engineer and the Reeve of Kaladar, Anglesea and Effingham, which letters had not been produced to the committee though several meetings had been held since they were received by the chairman.

Mr. Drew, seconding the adoption of the minority report, made a number of specific charges against the chairman of the committee, among them the suppression of certain correspondence, the purchase of certain equipment by his orders or by his permission without consulting the roads committee, and generally acting in an arbitrary manner in suppressing certain things which properly should have been first brought before the whole roads committee, and ignoring certain members of the committee at various times.

Mr. Drew asked for the yeas and nays on the adoption of the minority report, which resulted in a vote of 11 for the adoption of the report and five voting against it. Yeas, Messrs. Breault, Bryden, Drew, Ham, Johnston, Milligan, Perry, Scott, Ward and Thompson— 11. Nays, Messrs. Brandon, Bulch, Creighton, Daly and McLeod— 5.

Council adjourned.

THIRD DAY

Dep.-Reeve Brandon, seconded by Mr. Bulch, complained that in his opinion the minority report of the Special Roads Committee was altogether too drastic and moved an amendment to the motion to adopt the minutes, that the motion adopting the report be eliminated from the minutes. Mr. Brandon's amendment was lost. Mr. Brandon asked for a yea and nay vote resulting in yea—5 and nay—11. Yeas, Messrs. Drew, Breault, Bryden, Ham, Johnston, Milligan, Perry, Scott, Thompson and Ward—11. Nay, Messrs. Brandon, Bulch, Creighton, Daly, McLeod and Stratton—5.

County Solicitor G. F. Smith reported in reference to Workmen's Compensation referred to him. Recommended that the matter be referred to the Finance Committee and the County Solicitor.

To the $9000.00 to be paid to the County by the Department of Transport for the Airport Road. Mr. Smith explained the procedure and asked that a motion be passed authorizing the Warden and Clerk to sign any further necessary documents. Report adopted.

A motion was passed confirming the above request.

Messrs Gault, Wagar and Paul addressed the Council

Mr. Ham moved seconded by Mr. Drew, that Mr. Creighton be removed from the Special Roads Committee.

Mr. Creighton speaking to the motion claimed that no definite charge had been made, merely insinuations, and if any of the insinuations were substantiated he would, at once resign. He also complained that Ernestown was not receiving its proper share of road expenditure. He stated that if any member of council made a definite charge that he had at any time done anything detrimental to county business, there would not be any necessity to pass the proposed motion.

Mr. Ham again produced the letters complained of and made a specific charge of suppressing certain letters and Mr. Creighton replied that the letters in question were not wilfully suppressed but were probably forgotten, and that the secretary of the committee, Mr. Ham, was equally responsible for their production to the committee.

Mr. McLeod stated that those letters were equally the responsibility of other members of the committee and that Mr. Creighton was no more responsible than other members of the Roads Committee.

Mr. Creighton again declared that he had not intentionally neglected any letters. Mr. Ham retorted that he had not seen the letters, but had seen some letter placed in Mr. Creighton's fyle without it being read in committee.

Dr. Stratton intervened to ask that a specific charge be laid against the chairman, and not one, but five charges were immediately produced.

The motion to remove Mr. Creighton as a member of the Roads Committee was then put and carried. Mr. McLeod asked for the yeas and nays. Yeas — Messrs. Breault, Bryden, Drew, Ham, Johnston, Milligan, Perry, Scott, Thompson, Ward.

Nays— Messrs. Brandon, Creighton, Bulch, Daly, Stratton, McLeod.

The Finance Committee reported recommending that the requisitions of the High, Collegiate and Continuation schools be paid on the basis provided by statutes.

A number of accounts referred to the committee were recommended for payment.

That the increase of 10 cents per day per inmate, asked by the House of Refuge, be allowed.

The Committee on Child Maintenance reported that Mr. Doyle, an inmate of the House of Refuge, had not carried out his agreement with the county and asked for a motion to refuse further payment by the county. Report adopted and motion passed.

The County Property Committee reported recommending payment of the accounts referred to them. Also that tenders for coal be advertised for. Report adopted.

The Property Committee reported that due to the large cost of repairing the furnace the committee was practically out of funds.

A motion was passed authorizing the committee to decorate the lower hall of the building; the cost to be paid from general funds.

Moved by Reeve Ham, seconded by Reeve Perry that the County of Lennox and Addington establish a county school health service, with public health nurses engaged by the county as provided in the Public Health Act, R.S.O. 1937, Chapter 299, Section 91 (a) and that a special committee, composed of Messrs. Thompson, Scott, Breault, Ward and Stratton, be appointed to arrange the details of operating such a health service and to report to the County Council regarding same, at the November Session, 1944.

The Agricultural Committee report, ed communications received and report heard from delegate at the Agricultural Committee of Enquiry, held at Kingston.

It was recommended that the secretary's expenses to Kingston, be paid. Report adopted.

The Police Committee reported recommending that 50 per cent. of the cost of county constable uniforms be paid by the county, total cost not to exceed $60.00 for each uniform, for the townships of Sheffield, Denbigh and Camden, and the village of Bath. Report adopted.

A resolution from Camden Aericultural Society, asking the county to take the necessary steps to eradicate Banes disease from the county. — Resolution adopted and resolution forwarded to the Agricultural Department at Toronto, and Health of Animals Branch at Ottawa.

A motion by Messrs. Drew and Thompson, that the Roads Committee secure from H. J. McFarland, a letter confirming that he will furnish the county with chip stone at no extra cost, on his crushing contract.

A motion to have all children under the care of the county, made residents of the county, was passed.

A by-law to levy for the cost of education in secondary schools, was given its several readings and was finally passed. The payments to municipalities are: Adolphustown, $944.63; Camden, $7,367.21; Denbigh, Abinger and Ashby, $390.31; Ernestown, $5,385.84; N. Fredericksburgh $3,177.66; South Fredericksburgh, $2,181.89; Kaladar $706.67; Richmond, $4,375.26; Sheffield, $1,376.01.

Council adjourned at the call of the Warden.

TEN MILLIONTH FOOD PARCEL IS PACKED

The ten millionth food parcel for British prisoners of war rolled off the assembly line at the Canadian Red Cross packing plant in Toronto, Monday morning, June 5th, in the presence of a distinguished audience including Mrs. C.C. Merritt, wife of Lieut.-Col Merritt V.C., and Major General L. R. LaFleche, Minister of National War Services, representing the Dominion Government.

The historic parcel was taken off the line by Mrs. Ross Jamieson, convener of the Overseas Nurses Group, and given to Mr. Norman C. Urquhart chairman of the Canadian Red Cross National Executive Committee, who presented it to Mrs. Merritt as a representative of the wives of all Canadian prisoners of war.

General LaFleche, who was introduced by Mr. Harold H. Leather, of Hamilton, chairman of the Red Cross Prisoners of War Food Parcels Committee, told the gathering that the Canadian Red Cross in co-operation with the Dominion Government, will undertake a share in the feeding of Allied prisoners of war in Europe. These, he said, would include nationals of Jugo-Slavia, Russia, France, Poland and Belgium.

"Canadian prisoners of war are in good physical health because they have good food made possible by these Red Cross parcels", the General declared. "Our prisoners receive one parcel weekly and prisoners of the Allied countries will receive one monthly from us."

This new project will mean, he said, the opening of more packing plants by the Canadian Red Cross. A plant will soon be opened in London with others to follow. At present the Canadian packing 100-500 parcels weekly in five plants, but this will have to be increased to 170,000 and possibly 190,000 weekly.

The Minister praised the women volunteers who do the packing. "Anyone can be brave if the occasion arises, but it takes real courage to do jobs like this at home. You make the sacrifice of your time and effort to pack the parcels so that our men who are today prisoners of war may come back in good health."

The ten million food parcels represent 55,000 tons of food.

Group Captain P. F. Tisdall, R.C. A.F., presenid Mr. Urquhart with a $1,000 cheque towards cost of parcels, a contribution from an anonymous donor in Indiana, who had been impressed by the story of Canadian Red Cross food parcels.

Ontario Division of Red Cross was represented at the ceremonies by the president, Mrs. Arthur W. Ellis.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON, JUNE 25TH, 1944

Lesson Text; Daniel 1: 8-16, 19, 20

THE POWER IN SIMPLE LIVING

It is said that one of the most Even under the stress and strain of pronounced changes in Great Brit- war, the people in Great Britain are ain as a result of the war, has been in better health than they were in a change in the eating habits of the days of unrationed food. people. The necessity of conserving We have a lot to learn about the food has laid on the nation the obliga- value of a proper diet, and the tion of providing a proper diet, for strength, vitality and vigor which the population. The diet is more comes from simple living. On this simple, better balanced and more continent we have had to make very healthgiving than that to which the few changes in our way of life be- British people had been accustomed, cause of the war. We eat and drink pretty much as we please; apart from slight restrictions. Canadians and Americans have not had to change their way of life at all. As a matter of fact, because there is more money in circulation than there has been for some time, there is much more spending on things we eat and drink, than formerly. Restaurants are crowded, the drink bill mounts by leaps and bounds.

Daniel, as recorded in this week's lesson was a practical disciplinarian in his manner of life. He was not interested in the rich food of the King's table. He could hardly refuse it, however, without permission to abstain. So he approached the head of the staff and asked if he and his friends might be permitted to go on with their simple diet. The chief of staff was afraid lest in agreeing to Daniel's request, he should incur the King's displeasure. So Daniel suggested a test. He suggested that for ten days they should have their own simple diet, and that the other young men in the service should continue to eat and drink "the King's dainties." This was agreed to, and the test made. In ten days time the change was made. And on the King's own table the verdict was that Daniel and his friends who had abstained from high living and wine drinking, were ten times fairer than those who had lived on "the King's dainties." That is to say these boys were physically fit, of better complexion, tougher in muscle.

There is one thing which the nations of the newer ideologies have taught the rest of the world, and that is the value of discipline and physical fitness. Gradually, our boys and girls in the armed forces have been trained to the pink of condition. How strange that it should take a war to do this. Strange that it became necessary only when a great struggle demands it that the people of the democracies should learn and acknowledge the necessity of discipline.

In the West, the nations have a higher standard of living than that of any other nations in the world. But we were an undisciplined, soft people. We had the possibilities for hardness and discipline. When the test came we had the will to toughen ourselves and to discipline ourselves. And yet, even in war time, self-discipline applies to only certain areas of life. Much is still to be done in disciplining ourselves to eat correctly and to abstain from strong drink.

The Japanese soldier is a sucker. He believes anything and everything, it seems, that his propagandists tell him.

An Army private, Joe Morris, of Lakewood, O., recovering from malaria at Crile General Hospital in Cleveland, Ohio, said one Japanese prisoner told him in tife Solomons that American soldiers "may take Australia, but will never recapture San Francisco."'

"Do you know where you are now?" Pte. Morris asked him.

"Yes," was the answer, "in the Florida Everglades."

V

"I don't like the look of your husband," said the doctor gravely.

"Neither do I," the wife replied, ed: "but he's kind to the children."

Into the cosy cottage of the dear old lady came two billets of soldiers. She greeted them with a friendly smile, showed them to their room, and watched them dump their belongings—tin helmets, gas respirators, packs, kitbags, etc. Then a worried look came into her faded eyes as she asked: "Young men, are you sure you came by all those things honestly?"
